For the UNDERSTANDING

St. P A U L's Epistles, &c.

TO go about to explain any of St. Paul's Epistles, after so great a Train of Expositors and Commentators, might seem an Attempt of Vanity, censurable for its Needlessness, did not the daily and approved Examples of pious and learned Men justify it. This may be some Excuse for me to the Publick, if ever these following Papers should chance to come abroad: But to myself, for whose Use this Work was undertaken, I need make no Apology. Though I had been conversant in these Epistles, as well as in other Parts of Sacred Scripture, yet I found that I understood them not; I mean, the doctrinal and discursive Parts of them: Though the practical Directions, which are usually dropped in the latter Part of each Epistle, appeared to me very plain, intelligible, and instructive.

I did not, when I reflected on it, very much wonder that this Part of Sacred Scripture had Difficulties in it; many Causes of Obscurity did readily occur to me. The Nature of Epistolary Writings, in general, disposes the Writer to pass by the mentioning of many Things, as well known to him to whom his Letter is addressed, which are necessary to be laid open to a Stranger, to make him comprehend what is said: And it not seldom falls out, that a well penned Letter, which is very easy and intelligible to the Receiver, is very obscure to a Stranger, who hardly knows what to make of it. The Matters that St. Paul writ about, were certainly Things well known to those he writ to, and which they had some peculiar

An ESSAY for the Understanding

Concern in; which made them easily apprehend his Meaning, and see the Tendency and Force of his Discourse. But we having now at this Distance no Information of the Occasion of his Writing, little or no Knowledge of the Temper and Circumstances those he writ to were in, but what is to be gathered out of the Epistles themselves, it is not strange that many Things in them lie concealed to us, which, no doubt, they who were concerned in the Letter, understood at first sight. Add to this, that in many Places, 'tis manifest, he answers Letters sent, and Questions proposed to him; which, if we had, would much better clear those Passages that relate to them, than all the learned Notes of Criticks and Commentators, who in After-times fill us with their Conjectures; for very often, as to the Matter in hand, they are nothing else.

The Language wherein these Epistles are writ, are another, and that no small Occasion of their Obscurity to us now. The Words are Greek, a Language dead many Ages since; a Language of a very witty, volatile People, Seekers after Novelty, and abounding with Variety of Notions and Sects, to which they applied the Terms of their common Tongue with great Liberty and Variety: And yet this makes but one small Part of the Difficulty in the Language of these Epistles; there is a Peculiarity in it, that much more obscures and perplexes the Meaning of these Writings, than what can be occasioned by the Looseness and Variety of the Greek Tongue. The Terms are Greek, but the Idiom or Turn of the Phrases may be truly said to be Hebrew, or Syriack: The Custom and Familiarity of which Tongues do sometimes so far influence the Expressions in these Epistles, that one may observe the Force of the Hebrew Conjugations, particularly that of Hiphil, given to Greek Verbs, in a Way unknown to the Grecians themselves. Nor is this all; the Subject treated of in these Epistles is so wholly new, and the Doctrines contained in them so perfectly remote from the Notions that Mankind were acquainted with, that most of the important Terms in it have quite another Signification from what they have in other Discourses: So that putting all together, we may truly say, that the New Testament is a Book written in a Language peculiar to itself.

To these Causes of Obscurity, common to St. Paul with most of the other Penmen of the several Books of the New Testament, we may add those that are peculiarly his, and owing to his Stile and Temper. He was, as 'tis visible, a Man of quick Thought, warm Temper, mighty well versed in the Writings of the Old Testament, and full of the Doctrine of the New : All this put together, suggested Matter to him in abundance, on those Subjects which came in his way ; so that one may consider him, when he was writing, as beset with a Crowd of Thoughts, all striving for Utterance. In this Posture of Mind it was almost impossible for him to keep that flow Pace, and observe minutely that Order and Method of ranging all he said, from which results an easy and obvious Perspicuity. To this Plenty and Vehemence of his, may be imputed those many large Parentheses, which a careful Reader may observe in his Epistles. Upon this Account also it is, that he often breaks off in the middle of an Argument, to let in some new Thought suggested by his own Words ; which having pursued and explained, as far as conduced to his present Purpose, he re-assumes again the Thread of his Discourse, and goes on with it, without taking any Notice that he returns again to what he had been before saying ; though sometimes it be so far off, that it may well have slipt out of his Mind, and requires a very attentive Reader to observe, and so bring the disjointed Members together, as to make up the Connection, and see how the scattered Parts of the Discourse hang together in a coherent, well-agreeing Sense, that makes it all of a Piece.

Besides the Disturbance in perusing St. Paul's Epistles, from the Plenty and Vivacity of his Thoughts, which may obscure his Method, and often hide his Sense from an unwary, or over-hasty Reader ; the frequent changing of the Personage he speaks in, renders the Sense very uncertain, and is apt to mislead one that has not some Clue to guide him : Sometimes by the Pronoun I, he means himself, sometimes any Christian ; sometimes a Jew, and sometimes any Man, &c. If speaking of himself, in the first Person Singular, has so various Meanings, his Use of the first Person Plural is with a far greater Latitude ; sometimes designing himself alone, sometimes those with himself whom he makes Partners to the Epistle ; sometimes with himself comprehending the other Apostles, or Preachers of the Gospel, or Christians : Nay, sometimes he in that way speaks of the Converted Jews, other times of the Converted Gentiles, and sometimes of others, in a more or less extended Sense ; every one of which varies the Meaning of the Place, and makes it to be differently understood. I have forbore to trouble the Reader with Examples of them here : If his own Observation hath not already furnished him with them, the following Paraphrase and Notes, I suppose, will satisfy him in the Point.

In

An ESSAY for the Understanding

In the Current also of his Discourse, he sometimes drops in the Objections of others, and his Answers to them, without any Change in the Scheme of his Language, that might give Notice of any other speaking besides himself. This requires great Attention to observe; and yet, if it be neglected or over-looked, will make the Reader very much mistake, and misunderstand his Meaning, and render the Sense very perplexed:

These are intrinick Difficulties arising from the Text itself, whereof there might be a great many other named; as the Uncertainty, sometimes, who are the Persons he speaks to, or the Opinions or Practices which he has in his Eye; sometimes in alluding to them, sometimes in his Exhortations and Reproofs. But those above mentioned being the chief, it may suffice to have opened our Eyes a little upon them; which, well examined, may contribute towards our Discovery of the rest:

To these we may subjoin two external Causes; that have made no small Increase of the Native and Original Difficulties that keep us from an easy and assured Discovery of St. Paul's Sense, in many Parts of his Epistles; and those are,

First, The dividing of them into Chapters and Verses, as we have done; whereby they are so chopped and minced, and as they are now printed, stand so broken and divided, that not only the common People take the Verses usually for distinct Aphorisms, but even Men of more advanced Knowledge, in reading them, lose very much of the Strength and Force of the Coherence, and the Light that depends on it. Our Minds are so weak and narrow, that they have need of all the Helps and Assistances that can be procured, to lay before them undisturbedly, the Thread and Coherence of any Discourse; by which alone they are truly improved, and led into the genuine Sense of the Author. When the Eye is constantly disturbed with loose Sentences, that by their Standing and Separation, appear as so many distinct Fragments, the Mind will have much ado to take in, and carry on in its Memory, an uniform Discourse of dependent Reasonings; especially having from the Cradle been used to wrong Impressions concerning them, and constantly accustomed to hear them quoted as distinct Sentences, without any Limitation or Explication of their precise Meaning from the Place they stand in, and the Relation they bear to what goes before, or follows. These Divisions also have given Occasion to the Reading these Epistles by Parcels and in Scraps, which has farther confirmed the Evil arising from from such Partitions. And, I doubt not, but every one will confess it to be a very unlikely Way to come to the Understanding of any other Letters, to read them Piece-meal, a Bit to-day, and another Scrap to-morrow, and so on by broken Intervals; especially if the Pause and Cessation should be made, as the Chapters the Apostle's Epistles are divided into, to end sometimes in the Middle of a Discourse, and sometimes in the Middle of a Sentence. It cannot therefore but be wondred at, that that should be permitted to be done to Holy Writ, which would visibly disturb the Sense, and hinder the Understanding of any other Book whatsoever. If Tully's Epistles were so printed, and so used, I ask, whether they would not be much harder to be understood, less easy and less pleasant to be read, by much, than now they are.

How plain soever this Abuse is, and what Prejudice soever it does to the Understanding of the Sacred Scripture; yet if a Bible was printed as it should be, and as the several Parts of it were writ, in continued Discourses where the Argument is continued, I doubt not but the several Parties would complain of it, as an Innovation, and a dangerous Change in the publishing those holy Books. And indeed, those who are for maintaining their Opinions, and the Systems of Parties by Sound of Words, with a Neglect of the true Sense of Scripture, would have reason to make and foment the Outcry: They would most of them be immediately disarmed of their great Magazine of Artillery wherewith they defend themselves, and fall upon others. If the Holy Scripture were but laid before the Eyes of Christians in its due Connection and Consistency, it would not then be so easy to snatch out a few Words, as if they were separate from the rest, to serve a Purpose, to which they do not at all belong, and with which they have nothing to do. But as the Matter now stands, he that has a Mind to it, may at a cheap Rate be a notable Champion for the Truth; that is, for the Doctrines of the Sect, that Chance or Interest has cast him into. He need but be furnished with Verses of Sacred Scripture, containing Words and Expressions that are but flexible (as all general, obscure and doubtful ones are) and his System that has appropriated them to the Orthodoxy of his Church, makes them immediately strong and irrefragable Arguments for his Opinion. This is the Benefit of loose Sentences, and Scripture crumbled into Verses, which quickly turn into independent Aphorisms. But if the Quotation in the Verse produced, were considered as a Part of a continued, coherent Discourse, and so its Sense Sense were limited by the Tenor of the Context, most of these forward and warm Disputants would be quite stripped of those, which they doubt not now to call Spiritual Weapons; and they would have often nothing to say that would not shew their Weakness, and manifestly fly in their Faces. I crave leave to set down a Saying of the Learned and Judicious Mr. Selden. "In interpreting the Scripture, says he, many do as if a Man should see one have ten Pounds, which he reckoned by 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10. meaning four was but four Unites, and five five Unites, &c. and that he had in all but ten Pounds: The other that sees him, takes not the Figures together, as he doth, but picks here and there; and thereupon reports, that he had five Pounds in one Bag, and six Pounds in another Bag, and nine Pounds in another Bag, &c. when as, in truth, he has but ten Pounds in all. So we pick out a Text, here and there, to make it serve our Turn; whereas if we take it all together, and consider what went before, and what followed after, we should find it meant no such Thing." I have heard sober Christians very much admire why ordinary, illiterate People, who were Professors, that shewed a Concern for Religion, seemed much more conversant in St. Paul's Epistles, than in the plainer, and, as it seemed to them, much more intelligible Parts of the New Testament: They confessed, that though they read St. Paul's Epistles with their best Attention, yet they generally found them too hard to be mastered; and they laboured in vain so far to reach the Apostle's Meaning all along in the Train of what he said, as to read them with that Satisfaction that arises from a Feeling that we understand and fully comprehend the Force and Reasoning of an Author; and therefore they could not imagine what those saw in them, whose Eyes they thought not much better than their own. But the Case was plain: These sober, inquisitive Readers, had a mind to see nothing in St. Paul's Epistles but just what he meant; whereas those others of a quicker and gayer Sight, could see in them what they pleased. Nothing is more acceptable to Fancy than pliant Terms and Expressions, that are not obstinate; in such it can find its Account with Delight, and with them be illuminated Orthodox, infallible at pleasure, and in its own way. But where the Sense of the Author goes visibly in its own Train, and the Words, receiving a determined Sense from their Companions and Adjacents, will not consent to give Countenance and Colour to what is agreed to be right, and must be supported at any rate, there Men of established Ortho-

Orthodoxy do not so well find their Satisfaction. And perhaps if it were well examined, it would be no very extravagant Paradox to say, that there are fewer that bring their Opinions to the Sacred Scripture to be tried by that infallible Rule, than bring the Sacred Scripture to their Opinions, to bend it to them, to make it, as they can, a Cover and Guard of them. And to this Purpose, its being divided into Verses, and brought as much as may be into loose and general Aphorisms, makes it most useful and serviceable. And in this lies the other great Cause of Obscurity and Perplexedness, which has been cast upon St. Paul's Epistles from without.

St. Paul's Epistles, as they stand translated in our English Bibles, are now, by long and constant Use, become a Part of the English Language, and common Phraseology, especially in Matters of Religion: This every one uses familiarly, and thinks he understands; but it must be observed, that if he has a distinct Meaning when he uses those Words and Phrases, and knows himself what he intends by them, it is always according to the Sense of his own System, and the Articles or Interpretations of the Society he is engaged in. So that all this Knowledge and Understanding, which he has in the Use of these Passages of Sacred Scripture, reaches no farther than this, that he knows (and that is very well) what he himself says, but thereby knows nothing at all what St. Paul said in them. The Apostle writ not by that Man's System, and so his Meaning cannot be known by it. This being the ordinary Way of understanding the Epistles, and every Sect being perfectly Orthodox in its own Judgment, what a great and invincible Darkeness must this cast upon St. Paul's Meaning to all those of that Way, in all those Places where his Thoughts and Sense run counter to what any Party has espoused for Orthodox; as it must unavoidably to all, but one of the different Systems, in all those Passages that any way relate to the Points in Controversy between them.

This is a Mischief, which, however frequent and almost natural, reaches so far, that it would justly make all those who depend upon them, wholly diffident of Commentators; and let them see, how little Help was to be expected from them in relying on them for the true Sense of the Sacred Scripture, did they not take care to help to cozen themselves, by choosing to use and pin their Faith on such Expositors as explain the Sacred Scripture in favour of those Opinions that they before-hand have voted Orthodox, and bring to the Sacred

Scripture, not for Trial, but Confirmation. No body can think that any Text of St. Paul's Epistles has two contrary Meanings; and yet so it must have to two different Men, who taking two Commentators of different Sects, for their respective Guides into the Sense of any one of the Epistles, shall build upon their respective Expositions. We need go no farther for a Proof of it, than the Notes of the two celebrated Commentators on the New Testament, Dr. Hammond and Beza, both Men of Parts and Learning, and both thought by their Followers Men mighty in the Sacred Scriptures. So that here we see the Hopes of great Benefit and Light from Expositors and Commentators, is in a great part abated; and those who have most need of their Help, can receive but little from them, and can have very little Assurance of reaching the Apostle's Sense by what they find in them, whilst Matters remain in the same State they are in at present. For those who find they need Help, and would borrow Light from Expositors, either consult only those who have the good Luck to be thought sound and Orthodox, avoiding those of different Sentiments from themselves in the great and approved Points of their Systems, as dangerous, and not fit to be meddled with; or else, with Indifferency, look into the Notes of all Commentators promiscuously. The first of these take Pains only to confirm themselves in the Opinions and Tenets they have already; which, whether it be the way to get the true Meaning of what St. Paul delivered, is easy to determine. The others, with much more Fairness to themselves, though with reaping little more Advantage (unless they have something else to guide them into the Apostle's Meaning than the Comments themselves) seek Help on all Hands, and refuse not to be taught by any one, who offers to enlighten them in any of the dark Passages. But here, though they avoid the Mischief which the others fall into, of being confined in their Sense, and seeing nothing but that in St. Paul's Writings, be it right or wrong; yet they run into as great on the other side, and instead of being confirmed in the Meaning, that they thought they saw in the Text, are distracted with an hundred, suggested by those they advised with; and so, instead of that one Sense of the Scripture which they carried with them to their Commentators, return from them with none at all.

This, indeed, seems to make the Case desperate ; for if the Comments and Expositions of pious and learned Men cannot be depended on, whither shall we go for Help? To which I answer, I would not be mistaken, as if I thought the Labours of the Learned in this Case wholly lost, and fruitless. There is great Use and Benefit to be made of them, when we have once got a Rule to know which of their Expositions, in the great Variety there is of them, explains the Words and Phrases according to the Apostle's Meaning. 'Till then, 'tis evident, from what is above said, they serve for the most part to no other Use, but either to make us find our own Sense, and not his, in St. Paul's Words ; or else to find in them no settled Sense at all.

Here it will be ask'd, How shall we come by this Rule you mention? Where is that Touchstone to be had, that will shew us whether the Meaning we ourselves put, or take as put by others upon St. Paul's Words in his Epistles, be truly his Meaning or no? I will not say the Way, which I propose, and have in the following Paraphrase followed, will make us infallible in our Interpretations of the Apostle's Text: But this I will own, that till I took this Way, St. Paul's Epistles to me, in the ordinary Way of reading and studying them, were very obscure Parts of Scripture, that left me almost every where at a Loss ; and I was at a great Uncertainty in which of the contrary Senses, that were to be found in his Commentators, he was to be taken. Whether what I have done, has made it any clearer and more visible now, I must leave others to judge. This I beg Leave to say for myself, that if some very sober, judicious Christians, no Strangers to the Sacred Scriptures, nay, learned Divines of the Church of England, had not professed, that by the Perusal of these following Papers, they understood the Epistles much better than they did before, and had not, with repeated Instances, pressed me to publish them, I should not have consented they should have gone beyond my own private Use, for which they were at first designed, and where they made me not repent my Pains.

If any one be so far pleased with my Endeavours, as to think it worth while to be informed what was the Clue I guided myself by through all the dark Passages of these Epistles, I shall minutely tell him the Steps by which I was brought into this Way, that he may judge whether I proceeded rationally, upon right Grounds or no, if so be any thing in so mean an Example as mine, may be worth his Notice.

An ESSAY for the Understanding

After I had found, by long Experience, that the Reading of the Text and Comments in the ordinary Way, proved not so successful as I wished to the End proposed, I began to suspect, that in reading a Chapter as was usual, and thereupon sometimes consulting Expositors upon some hard Places of it, which at that Time most affected me, as relating to Points then under Consideration in my own Mind, or in Debate amongst others, was not a right Method to get into the true Sense of these Epistles. I saw plainly, after I began once to reflect on it, that if any one now should write me a Letter, as long as St. Paul's to the Romans, concerning such a Matter as that is, in a Stile as foreign, and Expressions as dubious as his seem to be; if I should divide it into fifteen or sixteen Chapters, and read of them one to-day, and another to-morrow, &c. it was ten to one I should never come to a full and clear Comprehension of it. The Way to understand the Mind of him that writ it, every one would agree, was to read the whole Letter through, from one End to the other, all at once, to see what was the main Subject and Tendency of it; or if it had several Views and Purposes in it, not dependent one of another, nor in a Subordination to one chief Aim and End, to discover what those different Matters were, and where the Author concluded one, and began another; and if there were any Necessity of dividing the Epistle into Parts, to make the Boundaries of them.

In Prosecution of this Thought, I concluded it necessary, for the Understanding of any one of St. Paul's Epistles, to read it all through at one Sitting, and to observe, as well as I could, the Drift and Design of his writing it. If the first Reading gave me some Light, the second gave me more; and so I persisted on reading constantly the whole Epistle over at once, till I came to have a good general View of the Apostle's main Purpose in writing the Epistle, the chief Branches of his Discourse wherein he prosecuted it, the Arguments he used, and Disposition of the whole.

This, I confess, is not to be obtained by one or two hasty Readings; it must be repeated again and again, with a close Attention to the Tenour of the Discourse, and a perfect Neglect of the Divisions into Chapters and Verses. On the contrary, the safest Way is to suppose, that the Epistle has but one Business, and one Aim, till by a frequent Perusal of it, you are forced to see there are distinct, independent Matters in it, which will forwardly enough shew themselves.

It requires so much more Pains, Judgment and Application, to find the Coherence of obscure and abstruse Writings, and makes them so much the more unfit to serve Prejudice and Pre-occupation when found, that it is not to be wondred that St. Paul's Epistles have with many passed rather for disjointed, loose pious Discourses, full of Warmth and Zeal, and Overflows of Light, rather than for calm, strong, coherent Reasonings, that carried a Thread of Argument and Consistency all through them.

But this Muttering of lazy, or ill disposed Readers, hindred me not from persisting in the Course I had began: I continued to read the same Epistle over and over, and over again, till I came to discover, as appeared to me, what was the Drift and Aim of it, and by what Steps and Arguments St. Paul prosecuted his Purpose. I remembred that St. Paul was miraculously called to the Ministry of the Gospel, and declared to be a chosen Vessel; that he had the whole Doctrine of the Gospel from God by immediate Revelation, and was appointed to be the Apostle of the Gentiles, for the propagating of it in the Heathen World. This was enough to persuade me, that he was not a Man of loose and shattered Parts, incapable to argue, and unfit to convince those he had to deal with: God knows how to choose fit Instruments for the Business he employs them in. A large Stock of Jewish Learning he had taken in at the Feet of Gamaliel; and for his Information in Christian Knowledge, and the Mysteries and Depths of the Dispensation of Grace by Jesus Christ, God himself had condescended to be his Instructor and Teacher. The Light of the Gospel he had received from the Fountain and Father of Light himself, who, I concluded, had not furnished him in this extraordinary Manner, if all this plentiful Stock of Learning and Illumination had been in danger to have been lost, or proved useles, in a jumbled and confused Head; nor have laid up such a Store of admirable and useful Knowledge in a Man, who, for want of Method and Order, Clearness of Conception, of Pertinency in Discourse, could not draw it out into Use with the greatest Advantages of Force and Coherence. That he knew how to prosecute his Purpose with Strength of Argument and close Reasoning, without incoherent Sallics, or the intermixing of Things foreign to his Business, was evident to me from several Speeches of his recorded in the Acts: And it was hard to think that a Man that could talk with so much Consistency and Clearness of Conviction, should not be able to write without Confusion, inextricable Obscurity, city, and perpetual Rambling. The Force, Order and Perspicuity of those Discourses, could not be denied to be very visible: How then came it that the like was thought much wanting in his Epistles? And of this there appeared to me this plain Reason: The Particularities of the History in which these Speeches are inserted, shew St. Paul's End in speaking; which being seen, casts a Light on the whole, and shews the Pertinency of all that he says. But his Epistles not being so circumstantiated; there being no concurring History that plainly declares the Disposition St. Paul was in; what the Actions, Expectations, or Demands of those to whom he writ, required him to speak to, we are no where told. All this, and a great deal more, necessary to guide us into the true Meaning of the Epistles, is to be had only from the Epistles themselves, and to be gathered from thence with stubborn Attention, and more than common Application.

An ESSAY for the Understanding

This being the only safe Guide (under the Spirit of God, that dictated these Sacred Writings) that can be relied on, I hope I may be excused, if I venture to say, that the utmost ought to be done to observe and trace out St. Paul's Reasonings; to follow the Thread of his Discourse in each of his Epistles; to shew how it goes on still directed with the same View, and pertinently drawing the several Incidents towards the same Point. To understand him right, his Inferences should be strictly observed; and it should be carefully examined from what they are drawn, and what they tend to. He is certainly a coherent, argumentative, pertinent Writer; and Care, I think, should be taken in expounding of him, to shew that he is so. But though I say he has weighty Aims in his Epistles, which he steadily keeps in his Eye, and drives at in all that he says; yet I do not say that he puts his Discourses into an artificial Method; or leads his Reader into a Distinction of his Arguments, or gives them notice of new Matter by rhetorical, or studied Transitions. He has no Ornaments borrowed from the Greek Eloquence; no Notions of their Philosophy mixed with his Doctrine, to set it off. The enticing Words of Man's Wisdom, whereby he means all the studied Rules of the Grecian Schools, which made them such Masters in the Art of Speaking, he, as he says himself, 1 Cor. II. 4. wholly neglected: The Reason whereof he gives in the next Verse, and in other Places. But the Politeness of Language, Delicacy of Stile, Fineness of Expression, laboured Periods, artificial Transitions, and a very methodical Ranging of the Parts, with such other Imbellishments as make a Discourse

Discourse enter the Mind smoothly, and strike the Fancy at first Hearing, have little or no Place in his Stile; yet Coherence of Discourse, and direct Tendency of all the Parts of it, to the Argument in hand, are most eminently to be found in him. This I take to be his Character, and doubt not but he will be found to be so upon diligent Examination. And in this, if it be so, we have a Clue, if we will take the Pains to find it, that will conduct us with Surety thro' those seemingly dark Places, and imagined Intricacies, in which Christians have wandered so far one from another, as to find quite contrary Senses.

Whether a superficial Reading, accompanied with the common Opinion of his invincible Obscurity, has kept off some from seeking in him the Coherence of a Discourse, tending with close, strong Reasoning to a Point; or a seemingly more honourable Opinion of one that had been wrapped up into the Third Heaven, as if from a Man so warmed and illuminated as he had been nothing could be expected but Flashes of Light, and Raptures of Zeal, hindered others to look for a Train of Reasoning, proceeding on regular and cogent Argumentation, from a Man raised above the ordinary Pitch of Humanity to an higher and brighter way of Illumination; or else, whether others were loth to beat their Heads above the Tenour and Coherence in St. Paul's Discourses, which if found out, possibly might set him at a manifest and irreconcilable Difference with their Systems; 'tis certain, that whatever hath been the Cause, this Way of getting the true Sense of St. Paul's Epistles, seems not to have been much made use of, or at least so thoroughly pursued as I am apt to think it deserves.

For, granting that he was full stored with Knowledge of the Things he treated of, for he had Light from Heaven, it was God himself furnished him, and he could not want; allowing also that he had Ability to make use of the Knowledge had been given him for the End for which it was given him, viz. the Information, Conviction, and Conversion of others; and, accordingly, that he knew how to direct his Discourse to the Point in hand, we cannot widely mistake the Parts of his Discourse employed about it, when we have any where found out the Point he drives at: Wherever we have got a View of his Design, and the Aim he proposed to himself in Writing, we may be sure that such or such an Interpretation does not give us his genuine Sense, it being nothing at all to his present Purpose. Nay, among various Meanings given a Text, it fails not to direct us to the best, and very often to assure us of the true: For it is no Presumption, when one sees a Man arguing for this or that Proposition, if he be a sober Man, Master of Reason or common Sense, and takes any Care of what he says, to pronounce, with Confidence in several Cases, that he could not talk thus or thus.

I do not yet so magnify this Method of studying St. Paul's Epistles, as well as other Parts of Sacred Scripture, as to think it will perfectly clear every hard Place, and leave no Doubt unresolved. I know Expressions now out of Use, Opinions of those Times, not heard of in our Days, Allusions to Customs lost to us, and various Circumstances and Particularities of the Parties, which we cannot come at, &c. must needs continue several Passages in the dark now to us at this Distance, which shone with full Light to those they were directed to. But for all that, the studying of St. Paul's Epistles in the Way I have proposed, will, I humbly conceive, carry us a great length in the right understanding of them, and make us rejoice in the Light we receive from those most useful Parts of Divine Revelation, by furnishing us with visible Grounds that we are not mistaken, whilst the Consistency of the Discourse, and the Pertinency of it to the Design he is upon, vouches it worthy of our great Apostle. At least, I hope, it may be my Excuse, for having endeavoured to make St. Paul an Interpreter to me of his own Epistles.

To this may be added another Help, which St. Paul himself affords us, towards the attaining the true Meaning contained in his Epistles. He that reads him with the Attention I propose, will easily observe, that as he was full of the Doctrine of the Gospel, so it lay all clear, and in order, open to his View. When he gave his Thoughts Utterance upon any Point, the Matter flowed like a Torrent: But, 'tis plain, 'twas a Matter he was perfectly Master of; he fully possessed the entire Revelation he had received from God; had thoroughly digested it; all the Parts were formed together in his Mind into one well contracted, harmonious Body: So that he was no way at Uncertainty, nor ever in the least at a loss concerning any Branch of it. One may see his Thoughts were all of a Piece in all his Epistles; his Notions were at all Times uniform, and constantly the same, though his Expressions very various: In them he seems to take great Liberty. This, at least, is certain, that no one seems less tied up to a Form of Words. If then having, by the Method before proposed, got into the Sense of the several Epistles, we will but compare what he says, in the Places where he treats of the same Subject, Subject, we can hardly be mistaken in his Sense, nor doubt what it was, that he believed and taught concerning those Points of the Christian Religion. I know it is not unusual to find a Multitude of Texts heaped up for the maintaining of an espoused Proposition, but in a Sense often so remote from the true Meaning, that one can hardly avoid thinking that those who so used them, either sought not, or valued not the Sense; and were satisfied with the Sound, where they could but get that to favour them. But a verbal Concordance leads not always to Texts of the same Meaning; trusting too much thereto will furnish us but with slight Proofs in many Cases; and any one may observe how apt that is to jumble together Passages of Scripture not relating to the same Matter, and thereby to disturb and unsettle the true Meaning of Holy Scripture. I have therefore said, that we should compare together Places of Scripture treating of the same Point. Thus, indeed, one Part of the Sacred Text could not fail to give light unto another. And since the Providence of God hath so ordered it, that St. Paul has writ a great Number of Epistles, which, though upon different Occasions, and to several Purposes, yet are all confined within the Business of his Apostleship, and so contain nothing but Points of Christian Instruction, amongst which he seldom fails to drop in, and often to enlarge on the great and distinguishing Doctrines of our holy Religion; which, if quitting our own Infallibility in that Analogy of Faith which we have made to ourselves, or have implicitly adopted from some other, we would carefully lay together, and diligently compare and study, I am apt to think would give us St. Paul's System in a clear and indisputable Sense, which every one must acknowledge to be a better Standard to interpret his Meaning by, in any obscure and doubtful Parts of his Epistles, if any such should still remain, than the System, Confession, or Articles of any Church or Society of Christians yet known; which, however pretended to be founded on Scripture, are visibly the Contrivance of Men, (fallible both in their Opinions and Interpretations) and, as is visible in most of them, made with partial Views, and adapted to what the Occasions of that Time, and the present Circumstances they were then in, were thought to require for the Support or Justification of themselves. Their Philosophy also has its Part in misleading Men from the true Sense of the Sacred Scripture. He that shall attentively read the Christian Writers after the Age of the Apostles, will easily find how much the Philosophy they were tinctured with, influenced them in their Understanding of the Books of the Old and New Testament. In the Ages wherein Platonism prevailed, the Converts to Christianity of that School, on all Occasions, interpreted Holy Writ according to the Notions they had imbibed from that Philosophy. Aristotle's Doctrine had the same Effect in its Turn; and when it degenerated into the Peripateticism of the Schools, that too brought its Notions and Distinctions into Divinity, and affixed them to the Terms of the Sacred Scripture. And we may still see how, at this Day, every one's Philosophy regulates every one's Interpretation of the Word of God. Those who are possessed with the Doctrine of Aerial and Ætherial Vehicles, have thence borrowed an Interpretation of the four first Verses of 2 Cor. V. without having any ground to think that St. Paul had the least Notion of any such Vehicles. 'Tis plain, that the teaching of Men Philosophy, was no Part of the Design of Divine Revelation; but that the Expressions of Scripture are commonly suited, in those Matters, to the vulgar Apprehensions and Conceptions of the Place and People where they were delivered. And as to the Doctrine therein, directly taught by the Apostles, that tends wholly to the setting up the Kingdom of Jesus Christ in this World, and the Salvation of Mens Souls; and in this, 'tis plain, their Expressions were conformed to the Ideas and Notions which they had received from Revelation, or were consequent from it. We shall therefore in vain go about to interpret their Words by the Notions of our Philosophy, and the Doctrines of Men delivered in our Schools. This is to explain the Apostle's Meaning by what they never thought of whilst they were writing; which is not the way to find their Sense in what they delivered, but our own, and to take up from their Writings not what they left there for us, but what we bring along with us in ourselves. He that would understand St. Paul right, must understand his Terms in the Sense he uses them; and not as they are appropriated, by each Man's particular Philosophy, to Conceptions that never entered the Mind of the Apostle. For Example; he that shall bring the Philosophy now taught and received, to the explaining of Spirit, Soul, and Body, mentioned 1 Thess. V. 23. will, I fear, hardly reach St. Paul's Sense, or represent to himself the Notions St. Paul then had in his Mind. That is what we should aim at in reading him, or any other Author; and till we, from his Words, paint his very Ideas and Thoughts in our Minds, we do not understand him.

In the Division I have made, I have endeavoured, the best I could, to govern myself by the Diversity of Matter. But, in a Writer like St. Paul, it is not so easy always to find precisely where one Subject ends, and another begins. He is full of the Matter he treats, and writes with Warmth; which usually neglects Method, and those Partitions and Pauses, which Men educated in the Schools of Rhetoricians usually observe. Those Arts of Writing St. Paul, as well out of Design as Temper, wholly laid by: The Subject he had in hand, and the Grounds upon which it stood firm, and by which he enforced it, was what alone he minded; and, without solemnly winding up one Argument, and intimating any way that he began another, let his Thoughts, which were fully possessed of the Matter, run in one continued Train, wherein the Parts of his Discourse were wove one into another. So that it is seldom that the Scheme of his Discourse makes any Gap; and therefore, without breaking in upon the Connection of his Language, 'tis hardly possible to separate his Discourse, and give a distinct View of his several Arguments in distinct Sections.

I am far from pretending Infallibility in the Sense I have any where given in my Paraphrase or Notes; that would be to erect myself into an Apostle, a Presumption of the highest Nature in any one that cannot confirm what he says by Miracles. I have, for my own Information, sought the true Meaning, as far as my poor Abilities would reach: And I have unbiassedly embraced what, upon a fair Enquiry, appeared so to me. This I thought my Duty and Interest, in a Matter of so great Concernment to me. If I must believe for myself, it is unavoidable that I must understand for myself: For if I blindly, and with an implicit Faith, take the Pope's Interpretation of the Sacred Scripture, without examining whether it be Christ's Meaning, 'tis the Pope I believe in, and not in Christ; 'tis his Authority I rest upon; 'tis what he says I embrace; for what 'tis Christ says, I neither know, nor concern myself. 'Tis the same thing when I set up any other Man in Christ's Place, and make him the authentic Interpreter of Sacred Scripture to myself. He may possibly understand the Sacred Scripture as right as any Man, but I shall do well to examine myself, whether that which I do not know, nay which (in the way I take) I can never know, can justify me in making myself his Disciple, instead of Jesus Christ's, who of Right is alone, and ought to be, my only Lord and Master; and it will be no less Sacrilege in me to substitute to myself any other in his room, to be a Prophet to me, than to be my King or Priest.

The same Reasons that put me upon doing what I have in these Papers done, will exempt me from all Suspicion of imposing my Interpretation on others. The Reasons that led me into the Meaning which prevailed on my Mind, are set down with it: As far as they carry Light and Conviction to any other Man's Understanding, so far I hope my Labour may be of some Use to him; beyond the Evidence it carries with it, I advise him not to follow mine, nor any Man's Interpretation. We are all Men, liable to Errors, and infected with them; but have this sure Way to preserve ourselves, every one from Danger by them, if, laying aside Sloth, Carelessness, Prejudice, Party, and a Reverence of Men, we betake ourselves in earnest to the Study of the Way to Salvation, in those holy Writings wherein God has revealed it from Heaven, and proposed it to the World; seeking our Religion where we are sure it is in Truth to be found, comparing spiritual Things with spiritual Things.

PARAPHRASE and NOTES

ON THE

GALATIANS.

*Writ from Ephesus
the Year of our Lord 57. Of

SYNOPSIS.

THE Subject and Design of this Epistle of St. Paul is much the same with that of his Epistle to the Romans, but treated in somewhat a different manner. The Business of it is to dehort and hinder the Galatians from bringing themselves under the Bondage of the Mosaical Law.

St. Paul himself had planted the Churches of Galatia, and therefore referring (as he does, Ch. I. 8, 9.) to what he had before taught them, does not in this Epistle lay down at large to them the Doctrine of the Gospel, as he does in that to the Romans; who having been converted to the Christian Faith by others, he did not know how far they were instructed in all those Particulars, which, on the Occasion whereon he writ to them, it might be necessary for them to understand: And therefore, writing to the Romans, he sets before them a large and comprehensive View of the chief Heads of the Christian Religion.

He also deals more roundly with his Disciples the Galatians, than, we may observe, he does with the Romans, to whom he, being a Stranger, writes not in so familiar a Stile, nor in his Reproofs and Exhortations uses so much the Tone of a Master, as he does to the Galatians.

St. Paul had converted the Galatians to the Faith, and erected several Churches among them in the Year of our Lord 51; between which.

Chap. I. which, and the Year 57, wherein this Epistle was writ, the Disorders following were got into those Churches.

First, Some Zealots for the Jewish Constitution, had very near persuaded them out of their Christian Liberty, and made them willing to submit to Circumcision, and all the Ritual Observances of the Jewish Church, as necessary under the Gospel: Cb. I. 7. III. 3. IV. 9, 10, 21. V. 1, 2, 6, 9, 10.

Secondly, Their Dissentions and Disputes in this matter had raised great Animosities amongst them, to the Disturbance of their Peace, and the setting them at Strife one with another: Cb. V. 6, 13---15.

The reforming them in these two Points seems to be the main Business of this Epistle, wherein he endeavours to establish them in a Resolution to stand firm in the Freedom of the Gospel, which exempts them from the Bondage of the Mosaical Law; and labours to reduce them to a sincere Love and Affection one to another; which he concludes with an Exhortation to Liberality, and general Beneficence, especially to their Teachers; Cb. VI. 6, 10. These being the Matters he had in his Mind to write to them about, he seems here as if he had done: But upon mentioning, v. 11. what a long Letter he had writ to them with his own Hand, the former Argument concerning Circumcision, which filled and warmed his Mind, broke out again into what we find, v. 12---17. of the VIth Chapter.

INTRODUCTION.

C O N T E N T S.

THE general View of this Epistle plainly shews St. Paul's chief Design in it to be, to keep the Galatians from hearkening to those Judaizing Seducers, who had almost persuaded them to be circumcised. These Perverters of the Gospel of Christ, as St. Paul himself calls them, v. 7. had, as may be gathered from v. 8, and 10. and from Cb. V. 11. and other Passages of this Epistle, made the Galatians believe, that St. Paul himself was for Circumcision. Till St. Paul himself had set them right in this Matter, and convinced them of the Falshood hood of this Asperſion, it was in vain for him, by other Arguments, to attempt the re-eſta bliſhing the Galatians in the Chriſtian Liberty, and in that Truth which he had preached to them. The removing therefore of this Calumny was his firſt Enceavour; and to that Purpoſe, this Introduction, different from what we find in any other of his Epiſtles, is marvellouſly well adapted. He declares here at the Entrance, very expreſſly and emphatically, that he was not ſent by Men on their Errands; nay, that Chriſt in ſending him did not ſo much as convey his Apoſtolick Power to him by the Miniſtry, or Intervention of any Man; but that his Commiſſion and Inſtructions were all entirely from God, and Chriſt himſelf, by immediate Revelation. This of itſelf was an Argument ſufficient to induce them to believe, 1. That what he taught them when he firſt preached the Goſpel to them, was the Truth, and they ought to ſtick firm to that. 2. That he changed not his Doctrines, whatever might be reported of him. He was Chriſt's choſen Officer, and had no Dependance on Men's Opinions, nor Regard to their Authority, or Favour, in what he preached; and therefore it was not likely he ſhould preach one thing at one time, and another thing at another.

Thus this Preface is very proper in this Place to introduce what he is going to ſay concerning himſelf, and adds Force to his Diſcourſe, and the Account he gives of himſelf in the next Section.

NOTES.

^a Churches of Galatia. This was an evident Seal of his Apostleship to the Gentiles; since in no bigger a Country than Galatia, a small Province of the Lesser Asia, he had, in no long Stay among them, planted several distinct Churches.

³ Peace. The wishing of Peace in the Scripture-Language, is the wishing of all manner of Good.

⁴ ὅπως ἕλεται ἡμᾶς ἐκ τῆς ἐνεστῆτος αἰῶνος τοῦ κακοῦ. That he might take us out of this present evil World, or Age, so the Greek Words signify: Whereby it cannot be thought, that St. Paul meant, that Christians were to be immediately removed into the other World. Therefore ἐνεστῆτος αἰῶνος must signify something else than present World, in the ordinary Import of those Words in English. Ἁὶν ἔτις, 1 Cor. II. 6, 8. and in other Places, plainly signifies the Jewish Nation, under the Mosaical Constitution; and it suits very well with the Apostle's Design in this Epistle, that it should do so here. God has in this World but one Kingdom and one People. The Nation of the Jews were the Kingdom and People of God, whilst the Law stood. And this Kingdom of God, under the Mosaical Constitution, was called αἰῶν ἔτις, this Age, or as it is commonly translated, this World, to which αἰῶν ἐνεστῆτος, the present World, or Age, here answers. But the Kingdom of God, which was to be under the Messiah, wherein the Oeconomy and Constitution of the Jewish Church, and the Nation itself, that in opposition to Christ adhered to it, was to be laid aside, is in the New Testament called αἰῶν μέλλων, the World, or Age to come; so that Christ's taking them out of the present World, may, without any Violence to the Words, be understood to signify his setting them free from the Mosaical Constitution. This is suitable to the Design of this Epistle, and what St. Paul has declared in many other Places. See Col. II. 14—17, and 20. which agrees to this Place, and Rom. VII. 4, 6. The Law is said to be contrary to us. Col. II. 14. and to work Wrath, Rom. IV. 15. and St. Paul speaks very diminishingly of the Ritual Parts of it in many Places: But yet, if all this may not be thought sufficient to justify the applying of the Epithet κακοῦ, Evil, to it, that Scruple will be removed, if we take ἐνεστῆτος αἰῶνος, this present World, here, for the Jewish Constitution and Nation together, in which Sense it may very well be called Evil, though the Apostle, out of his wonted Tenderness to his Nation, forbears to name them openly, and uses a doubtful Expression, which might comprehend the Heathen World also, though he chiefly pointed at the Jews.

SECT. II.

CHAP. I. 6.—II. 21.

CONTENTS.

WE have above observed, that St. Paul's first Endeavour in this Epistle, was to satisfy the Galatians, that the Report spread of him, that he preach'd Circumcision, was false. Till this Obstruction, that lay in his way, was removed, it was to no purpose for him to go about to dissuade them from Circumcision, though that be what he principally aims at in this Epistle. To shew them, that he promoted not Circumcision, he calls their hearkening to those who persuaded them to be circumcised, their being removed from him; and those that so persuaded them, Perverters of the Gospel of Christ, v. 6, 7. He farther assures them, that the Gospel which he preached every where was that, and that only, which he had received by immediate Revelation from Christ, and no Contrivance of Man, nor did he vary it to please Men: That would not consist with his being a Servant of Christ, v. 10. And he expresses such a firm Adherence to what he had received from Christ, and had preached to them, that he pronounces an Anathema upon himself, v. 8, 9. or any other Man or Angel, that should preach any thing else to them. To make out this to have been all along his Conduct, he gives an Account of himself for many Years backwards, even from the Time before his Conversion: Wherein he shews, that from a zealous persecuting Jew, he was made a Christian, and an Apostle, by immediate Revelation; and that having no Communication with the Apostles, or with the Churches of Judea, or any Man for some Years, he had nothing to preach, but what he had receiv'd by immediate Revelation. Nay, when fourteen Years after he went up to Jerusalem, it was by Revelation, and when he there communicated the Gospel, which he preach'd among the Gentiles, Peter, James, and John approved of it, without adding any thing, but admitted him as their Fellow-Apostle. So that in all this he was guided by nothing but Divine Revelation, which he inflexibly stuck to, so far, that he openly opposed St. Peter, for his Judaizing at Antioch. All which Account of himself tends clearly to shew, that St. Paul made not the least Step towards complying with the Jews in favour of the Law, nor Chap. I. did, out of Regard to Man, deviate from the Doctrine he had received by Revelation from God.

All the Parts of this Section, and the Narrative contain'd in it, manifestly concenter in this, as will more fully appear, as we go through them, and take a closer View of them; which will shew us, that the whole is so skilfully managed, and the Parts so gently slid into, that it is a strong, but not seemingly laboured Justification of himself, from the Imputation of Preaching up Circumcision.

6. I Cannot but wonder that you are so soon^f removed from me^g, (who called you unto the Covenant of Grace which is in Christ) unto another Sort of Gospel; which is not owing to any thing else^h, but only this, that you are troubled by a certain Sort of Men, who would overturn the Gospel of Christ, by making Circumcision, and the keeping of the Law necessaryⁱ under the

I Marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel: Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

N O T E S.

6^f So soon. The first Place we find Galatia mentioned is Acts XVI. 6. And therefore St. Paul may be supposed to have planted these Churches there, in his Journey mentioned, Acts XVI. which was Anno Domini 51. He visited them again, after he had been at Jerusalem. Acts XVIII. 21——23. Anno Domini 54. From thence he returned to Ephesus, and staid there about two Years, during which Time this Epistle was writ: So that counting from his last Visit, this Letter was writ to them within two or three Years from the Time he was last with them, and had left them confirmed in the Doctrine he had taught them; and therefore he might with reason wonder at their forsaking him so soon, and that Gospel he had converted them to.

^g From him that called you. These Words plainly point out himself. But then one might wonder how St. Paul came to use them; since it would have sounded better to have said, Removed from the Gospel I preach'd to you, to another Gospel, than removed from me that preach'd to you, to another Gospel. But if it be remembered that St. Paul's Design here is to vindicate himself from the Aspersions cast on him, that he preached Circumcision, nothing could be more suitable to that Purpose, than this Way of expressing himself.

7^h Ὅτι ἄλλο ἔστιν ἄλλο. I take to signify, which is not any thing else. The Words themselves, the Context, and the Business the Apostle is upon here, do all concur to give these Words the Sense I have taken them in. For, 1. If Ὅτι had referred to ἐλάττω, it would have been more natural to have kept the Word ἔτερον, and not have changed it into ἄλλο. 2. It can scarce be supposed by any one who reads what St. Paul says, in the following Words of this Verse, and the two adjoining; and also Chap. III. 4. and Ver. 2——4. and 7. that St. Paul should tell them, that what he would keep them from is not another Gospel. 3. It is suitable to St. Paul's Design here to tell them, that to their being removed to another Gospel, no body else had contributed, but it was wholly owing to those Judaizing Seducers.

NOTES.

9^k Accursed. Tho' we may look upon the Repetition of the Anathema here to be for the adding of Force to what he says, yet we may observe, that by joining himself with an Angel in the foregoing Verse, he does as good as tell them, that he is not guilty of what deserves it, by skilfully insinuating to the Galatians, that they might as well suspect an Angel might preach to them a Gospel different from his, i. e. a false Gospel, as that he himself should; and then in this Verse lays the Anathema wholly and solely upon the Judaizing Seducers.

10^l Απει Νουν, and Υπει yet, cannot be understood without a Reference to something in St. Paul's past Life; what that was, which he had particularly then in his Mind, we may see by the Account he gives of himself in what immediately follows, (viz.) That before his Conversion he was employ'd by Men in their Designs, and made it his Business to please them, as may be seen, Acts IX. 1, 2. But when God called him, he received his Commission and Instructions from him alone, and set immediately about it without consulting any Man whatsoever, preaching that, and that only, which he had received from Christ. So that it would be senseless Folly in him, and no less than the forsaking his Master Jesus Christ, if he should now, as was reported of him, mix any thing of Men's with the pure Doctrine of the Gospel, which he had received immediately by Revelation from Jesus Christ, to please the Jews, after he had so long preach'd only that; and had, to avoid all Appearance or Pretence to the contrary, so carefully shunn'd all Communication with the Churches of Judea; and had not till a good while after, and that very sparingly, conversed with any, and those but a few, of the Apostles themselves, some of whom he openly reprov'd for their Judaizing. Thus the Narrative subjoined to this Verse explains the now and yet in it, and tends to the same Purpose.

^m Πειθε, translated persuade, is sometimes used for making application to any one to obtain his good Will or Friendship; and hence Acts XII. 20. πεπειθε Βλασίου is translated, having made Blasius their Friend: The Sense here is the same which in 1 Thess. II. 4. he expresses in these Words, εμ ε, εδουλου; απουνη, εμε ε εμ Ουμ, not as pleasing Men, but God.

 it from Man, nor was I taught it by any one as his Scholar) but it is the pure and unmixed im-satisfy you of this, my Behaviour, whilst I was of the Jewish Religion, is so well known, that I need not tell you, how excessive violent I was in per-

 I could; and that being carried on by an extraordinary Zeal for the Traditions of my Forefathers, I out-stripp'd many Students of my own ed God (who separated^o me from my Mother's Womb, and by his especial Favour called^p me to be a Christian, and a Preacher of the Gospel)

 among the Gentiles, I thereupon applied not myself to any Man^a for Advice what to do^r: Nei-

 Apostles before me, to see whether they approved my Doctrine, or to have farther Instructions from me, is not after man.

For I neither received¹² it of man, neither was I velation of Jesus Christ.

For ye have heard of¹³
 my conversation in time past, in the Jews religion, how that beyond measure
 I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it;

And profited in the¹⁴

But when it pleased¹⁵
 God, who separated me and called me by his grace,

To reveal his Son in¹⁶ me, that I might preach him among the Heathen; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:

Neither went I up to¹⁷

 were Apostles before me, but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

For Advice: This, and what he says in the following Verse, is to evidence to the Galatians the full Assurance he had of the Truth and Perfection of the Gospel, which he had received from Christ by immediate Revelation; and how little he was disposed to have any Regard to the pleasing of Men in preaching it: that he did not so much as communicate or advise with any of the Apostles about it, to see whether they approved of it.

18 Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

 20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.
 21 Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia:

But other of the Apostles saw I none, but James 19. the Brother of our Lord. These things that I write 20. to you, I call God to witnesses, are all true; there is no Falshood in them. Afterwards I came into 21. the Regions of Syria, and Cilicia. But with the 22. Churches of Christ^u in Judea, I had had no Communication, they had not so much as seen my Face^w; only they had heard that I, who 23. formerly persecuted the Churches of Christ, did now preach the Gospel, which I once endeavoured to suppress and extirpate. And they glorified 24. God upon my Account.

NOTES.

17^s Εἰδίως, immediately, tho' placed just before ἄ and προσεβήαυον, I confessed not, yet it is plain by the Sense and Design of St. Paul here, that it principally relates to, I went into Arabia; his Departure into Arabia, presently upon his Conversion, before he had consulted with any body, being made use of, to shew that the Gospel he had received by immediate Revelation from Jesus Christ, was compleat, and sufficiently instructed and enabled him to be a Preacher and an Apostle to the Gentiles, without borrowing any thing from any Man, in order thereunto, no not from any of the Apostles, no one of whom he saw till three Years after.

22^u In Christ, i. e. Believing in Christ, see Rom. XVI. 7.

^w This which he so particularly takes notice of, does nothing to the proving that he was a true Apostle, but serves very well to shew, that in what he preached, he had no Communication with those of his own Nation, nor took any Care to please the Jews.

NOTES.

² * I communicated. The Conference he had in private with the chief of the Church of Jerusalem, concerning the Gospel which he preached among the Gentiles, seems not to have been barely concerning the Doctrine of their being free from the Law of Moses: That had been openly and hotly disputed at Antioch, and was known to be the Business they came about to Jerusalem; but it is probable it was to explain to them the whole Doctrine he had received by Revelation, by the Fulness and Perfection whereof, (for it is said, ver. 6, that in that Conference they added nothing to it) and by the Miracles he had done in Confirmation of it (see ver. 8.) they might see and own what he preached to be the Truth, and him to be one of themselves both by Commission and Doctrine, as indeed they did. ἄνωγες, them, signifies those at Jerusalem: ἀπὸ τῶν ἐκ τῆς ἱερουσαλῆμ, are exegetical, and shew the particular Manner and Persons, and import nempe privatim eminentioribus. 'Twas enough to his Purpose to be owned by those of greatest Authority, and so we see he was by James, Peter and John, ver. 9. and therefore it was safest and best to give an Account of the Gospel he preach'd in private to them, and not publicly to the whole Church.

^y Running, St. Paul uses for taking Pains in the Gospel, see Col. II. 16. A Metaphor, I suppose, taken from the Olympick Games, to express his utmost Endeavours to prevail in propagating the Gospel.

^z In vain. He seems here to give two Reasons why at last, after 14 Years, he communicated to the chief of the Apostles at Jerusalem, the Gospel that he preach'd to the Gentiles, when, as he shews to the Galatians, he had formerly declined all Communication with the convert Jews. 1. He seems to intimate, That he did it by Revelation. 2. He gives another Reason, viz. That if he had not communicated, as he did, with the leading Men there, and satisfied them of his Doctrine and Mission, his Opposers might unsettle the Churches he had, or should plant, by urging that the Apostles knew not what it was that he preached, nor had ever owned it for the Gospel, or him for an Apostle. Of the Readiness of the Judaizing Seducers to take any such Advantage against him, he had lately an Example in the Church of Corinth.

NOTES.

³ ἢ δὲ ἀναγκάσθη is rightly translated, was not compelled, a plain Evidence to the Galatians that the Circumcising of the convert Gentiles was no Part of the Gospel which he laid before these Men of Note, as what he preach'd to the Gentiles. For if it had, Titus must have been circumcised; for no Part of his Gospel was blamed or altered by them, ver. 6. Of what other Use his mentioning this of Titus here can be, but to shew to the Galatians that what he preach'd contain'd nothing of circumcising the convert Gentiles, it is hard to find. If it were to shew that the other Apostles, and Church at Jerusalem, dispensed with Circumcision, and other ritual Observances of the Mosaical Law, that was needless; for that was sufficiently declared by their Decree, Acts XV. which was made and communicated to the Churches before this Epistle was writ, as may be seen, Acts XVI. 4 much less was this of Titus of any Force to prove that St. Paul was a true Apostle, if that were what he was here labouring to justify. But considering his Aim here to be the clearing himself from a Report that he preach'd up Circumcision, there could be nothing more to his Purpose than this Instance of Titus, whom, uncircumcised as he was, he took with him to Jerusalem; uncircumcised he kept with him there, and uncircumcised he took back with him when he returned. This was a strong and pertinent Instance to persuade the Galatians, that the Report of his preaching Circumcision was a mere Aspersion.

Τῇ ὑποτάξει, by Subjection. The Point these false Brethren contended for, was, That the Law of Moses was to be kept, see Acts XV. 5. St. Paul, who on other Occasions was so complaisant, that to the Jerus he became a Jerus, to those under the Law as under the Law, (see 1 Cor. IX. 19 — 22.) yet when Subjection to the Law was claim'd as due in any Case, would not yield the least Matter; this I take to be his Meaning of ἢ δὲ ἐτάξαμεν τῇ ὑποτάξει, for where Compliance was desired of him upon the Account of Expedience, and not of Subjection to the Law, we do not find him stiff and inflexible, as may be seen, Acts XXI. 18 — 26. which was after the Writing of this Epistle.

⁴ Bondage. What this Bondage was, see Acts XV. 1, 5, 10.

6. Truth^e of the Gospel might remain^f among you. But as for those^s who were really Men^h of Eminency and Value, what they were heretofore it matters not at all to me : God accepts not the Person of any Man, but communifor an hour; that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

But of these, who⁶ seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to

NOTES.

⁵ The Truth of the Gospel. By it he means here the Doctrine of Freedom from the Law; and so he calls it again, ver. 14. and chap. III. 1. and IV. 19.

^f Might remain among you. Here he tells the Reason himself why he yielded not to those Judaizing false Brethren : It was, that the true Doctrine which he had preach'd to the Gentiles, of their Freedom from the Law, might stand firm. A convincing Argument to the Galatians, that he preach'd not Circumcision.

^{4.} And that, — to whom. There appears a manifest Difficulty in these two Verses, which has been observed by most Interpreters, and is by several ascribed to a Redundancy, which some place in $\delta\delta\iota$, in the Beginning of ver. 4. and others to $\alpha\iota\varsigma$, in the Beginning of ver. 5. The Relation between $\delta\delta\iota$ ver. 3. and $\delta\delta\delta\iota$ ver. 5. methinks, puts an easy End to the Doubt, by the shewing St. Paul's Sense to be, that he neither circumcised Titus, nor yielded in the least to the false Brethren : He having told the Galatians, that upon his laying before the Men of most Authority in the Church at Jerusalem, the Doctrine which he preach'd, Titus was not circumcised ; he, as a farther Proof of his not preaching Circumcision, tells them how he carried it towards the false Brethren, whose Design it was to bring the convert Gentiles into Subjection to the Law. And, or Morocorer (for so $\delta\delta\iota$ often signifies) says he, in regard to the false Brethren, &c. Which Way of Entrance on the Matter would not admit of $\delta\delta\delta\iota$ after it to answer $\delta\delta\iota$, ver. 3. which was already writ ; but without $\alpha\iota\varsigma$ the Negation must have been expressed by $\gamma\upsilon$, as any one will perceive, who attentively reads the Greek Original. And thus $\alpha\iota\varsigma$ may be allowed for an Hebrew Pleonasm, and the Reason of it to be the preventing the former $\delta\delta\iota$ to stand alone to the Disturbance of the Sense.

⁶ He that considers the Beginning of this Verse, $\alpha\iota\tau\theta\ \delta\delta\iota\ \tau\omega\upsilon\ \delta\omicron\upsilon\kappa\epsilon\upsilon\tau\omega\upsilon$, with regard to the Greek Idiom to conclude, that the Author, by these Beginnings, intimates a plain Distinction of the Matter separately treated of, in what follows each of them, (viz.) what passed between the false Brethren and him, contained ver. 6 — 10. And therefore some (and I think with Reason) introduce this Verse with these Words, Thus we behaved ourselves towards the false Brethren : But, &c.

^h $\tau\epsilon\upsilon\ \delta\omicron\upsilon\kappa\epsilon\upsilon\tau\omega\upsilon\ \epsilon\upsilon\upsilon\alpha\iota\ \tau\iota$, our Translation renders, who seemed to be somewhat, which however it may answer the Words, yet to an English Ear it carries a diminishing and ironical Sense, contrary to the Meaning of the Apostle, who speaks here of those for whom he had a real Esteem, and were truly of the first Rank ; for it is plain by what follows, that he means Peter, James and John. Besides, $\delta\iota\ \delta\omicron\upsilon\kappa\epsilon\upsilon\tau\epsilon\varsigma$ being taken in a good Sense, ver. 2. and translated those of Reputation, the same Expression should have been kept to in rendering ver. 6. and 3. where the same Term occurs again three times, and may be presumed in the same Sense that it was at first used in ver. 2.

But on the contrary, ^{7.} ^k James, Peter and John, who were of Reputation, and justly esteemed to be Pillars, perceiving that the Gospel which was to be preached to the Gentiles, was committed to me, as that which was to be preached to the Jews, was com-

ⁱ Every body sees that there is something to be supplied to make up the Sense; most Commentators that I have seen, add these Words, I learned nothing. But then that enervates the Reason that follows: For in Conference they added nothing to me; giving the same thing as a Reason for itself, and making St. Paul talk thus, I learnt nothing of them, for they taught me nothing. But it is very good Reasoning, and suited to his Purpose, that it was nothing at all to him, how much those great Men were formerly in Christ's Favour; this hindered not but that God, who was no Respector of Persons, might reveal the Gospel to him also, as 'twas evident he had done, and that in its full Perfection. For those great Men, the most eminent of the Apostles, had nothing to add to it, or except against it. This was proper to persuade the Galatians, that he no where in his Preaching receded from that Doctrine of Freedom from the Law, which he had preached to them, and was satisfied it was the Truth, even before he had conferred with these Apostles. The bare Supplying of it in the Beginning of the Verse, takes away the Necessity of any such Addition. Examples of the like Ellipses we have, Mat. XXVII. 9. where we read ἀπὸ τῶν for ἐκ ἀπὸ τῶν; and John XVI. 17. ἐκ τῶν μαθητῶν, for ἐκ ἐκ τῶν μαθητῶν; and so here taking ἀπὸ τῶν ἀποστόλων, to be for ἐκ ἀπὸ τῶν ἀποστόλων, all the Difficulty is removed; and St. Paul having in the foregoing Verse ended the Narrative of his Department towards the false Brethren, he here begins an Account of what passed between him and the chief of the Apostles.

⁷ Peter, James and John, who 'tis manifest by ver. 9. are the Persons here spoken of, seem of all the Apostles to have been most in Esteem and Favour with their Master during his Conversation with them on Earth. See Mark V. 37. and IX. 2. and XIV. 33. "But yet that," says St. Paul, "is of no Moment now to me. The Gospel which I preach, and which God, who is no Respector of Persons, has been pleased to commit to me, by immediate Revelation, is not the less true, nor is there any Reason for me to recede from it in the least; for these Men of the first Rank could find nothing to add, alter, or give in it." This is suitable to St. Paul's Design here, to let the Galatians see that as he, in his Calling, had never favoured Circumcision, so neither had he any Reason, by preaching Circumcision, to forsake the Doctrine of Liberty from the Law, which he had preached to them as a Part of that Gospel which he had received by Revelation.

NOTES.

8 ¹ ἔργα ἐλάττω, working in, may be understood here to signify, both the Operation of the Spirit upon the Mind of St. Peter and St. Paul, in sending them, the one to the Jews, the other to the Gentiles; and also the Holy Ghost bestowed on them, whereby they were enabled to do Miracles for the Confirmation of their Doctrine. In neither of which St. Paul, as he shews, was inferior, and so had as authentic a Seal of his Mission and Doctrine.

9 ^m Καὶ, and, copulates γινώσκων, knowing, in this Verse, with ἰδοὺς, seeing, ver. 7. and makes both of them to agree with the Nominative Case to the Verb ἔδωκεν, gave, which is no other but James, Cephas and John, and so justifies my transferring those Names to ver. 7. for the more easy Construction and Understanding of the Text, though St. Paul defers the Naming of them, till he is, as it were against his Will, forced to it before the End of his Discourse.

ⁿ The giving the Right Hand was a Symbol amongst the Jews, as well as other Nations, of Accord, and admitting Men into Fellowship.

11 ^o Ἐπέστη him. From this Opposition to St. Peter, which they suppose to be before the Council at Jerusalem, some would have it, that this Epistle to the Galatians was writ before that Council; as if what was done before the Council could not be mentioned in a Letter writ after the Council. They also contend, that this Journey mentioned here by St. Paul, was not that wherein he and Barnabas went up to that Council to Jerusalem, but that mentioned Act. XI. 30. but this with as little ground as the former. The strongest Reason they bring is, that, if this Journey had been to the Council, and this Letter, after that Council, St. Paul would not certainly have omitted to have mentioned to the Galatians that Decree. To which I answer, 1^o, The Mention of it was superfluous, for they had it already, see Act. XVI. 4. 2^{do}, The Mentioning of it was impertinent to the Design of St. Paul's Narrative here. For it is plain that his Aim in what he relates here of himself, and his past Actions, is to shew, that having received the Gospel from Christ by immediate Revelation, he had all along preached Circumcision, or by his Carriage to have shewn any Subjection to the Law; all the whole Narrative following being to make good what he says, Chap. I. 11. That the Gospel which he preached was not accommodated to the Humouring of Men; nor did he seek to please please the Jews (who are the Men here meant) in what he taught. Taking this to be his Aim, we shall find the whole Account he gives of himself, from that 11th ver. of Chap. I. to the End of this Id. to be very clear and easy, and very proper to invalidate the Report of his preaching Circumcision.

14 ^p Ἀντιφεύει τῆ βουλήσιν. The truth of the Gospel, is put here for that Freedom from the Law of Moses which was a Part of the true Doctrine of the Gospel: For it was, in nothing else but their undue and timorous observing some of the Mofical Rites, that St. Paul here blames St. Peter, and the other Judaizing Converts at Antioch. In this sense he uses the Word Truth, all along through this Epistle, as Chap. II. 5, 14. and III. 1. and V. 7. insisting on it, that this Doctrine of Freedom from the Law was the true Gospel.

15 ^q φύσει Ἰουδαῖοι, Jews by Nature. What the Jews thought of themselves in contradistinction to the Gentiles, see Rom. II. 17, 23.

17. by Faith in Christ, and not by the Works of the Law: But if we seek to be justified in Christ, even we ourselves also are found unjustified Sinners^r, (for such are all those who are under the Law, which admits of no Remission nor Justification) is Christ therefore the Minister of Sin? Is the Dispensation by him a Dispensation of Sin, and not of Righteousness? Did he come into the World, that those who believe in him should still remain Sinners, i. e. under the Guilt of their Sins, without the Benefit of Justification?
18. By no means. And yet certain it is, if I^s who quitted the Law, to put myself under the Gospel, put myself again under the Law, I make myself a Transgressor, I re-assume again the Guilt of all my Transgressions; which by the Terms of that Covenant of Works, I cannot be justified from. For by the^t Tenor of the Law itself I by Faith in Christ am discharged^u in Jesus Christ; that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

But if while we seek¹⁷ to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

For if I build again¹⁸ the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

For I through the law¹⁹ am dead to the law, that

NOTES.

17^r Sinners. Those who are under the Law, having once transgressed, remain always Sinners unalterably so in the Eye of the Law; which excludes all from Justification. The Apostle, in this Place, argues thus; "We Jews, who are by Birth God's holy People, and "not as the profligate Gentiles, abandoned to all Manner of Pollution and Uncleanness, not "being nevertheless able to attain Righteousness by the Deeds of the Law, have believed in "Christ, that we might be justified by Faith in him. But if even we, who have betaken "ourselves to Christ for Justification, are ourselves found to be unjustified Sinners, liable "still to Wrath, as also under the Law, to which we subject ourselves; what Deliverance have we from Sin by Christ? None at all: We are as much concluded under Sin "and Guilt, as if we did not believe in him. So that by joining him and the Law together "for Justification, we shut ourselves out from Justification, which cannot be had under "the Law; and make Christ the Minister of Sin, and not of Justification; which God forbid."

18^s Whether this be a Part of what St. Paul said to St. Peter, or whether it be addressed to the Galatians, St. Paul, by speaking in his own Name, plainly declares, that if he sets up the Law again, he must necessarily be an Offender; whereby he strongly insinuates to the Galatians, that he was no Promoter of Circumcision, especially when what he says, Chap. V. 2-4. is added to it

19^t By the Tenor of the Law itself. See Rom. III. 21. Gal. III. 24, 25. & IV. 21. &c.

^u Being discharged from the Law, St. Paul expresses by Dead to the Law; compare Rom. VI. 14. with VII. 4.

I might live unto God.
 20 I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

from the Law that I might be appropriated * to God, and live acceptably to him in his Kingdom, which he has now set up under his Son. I, 20.
 a Member of Christ's Body, am crucified * with him: But tho' I am thereby dead to the Law, I nevertheless live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; i. e. the Life which I now live in the Flesh, is upon no other Principle, nor under any other Law, but that of Faith in the Son of God †, who loved me, and gave himself for me. And 21.
 in so doing I avoid frustrating the Grace of God;
 I accept of the Grace ‡ and Forgiveness of God, as it is offered through Faith in Christ in the Gospel: But if I subject myself to the Law, as still in force under the Gospel, I do in effect frustrate Grace. For if Righteousness be to be had by the Law, then Christ died to no Purpose, there was no need of it †.

NOTES.

* Live to God. What St. Paul says here, seems to imply, that living under the Law, was to live not acceptably to God; a strange Doctrine certainly to the Jews, and yet it was true now under the Gospel: For God having put his Kingdom in this World wholly under his Son, when he raised him from the Dead, all who after that would be his People in his Kingdom, were to live by no other Law but the Gospel, which was now the Law of his Kingdom. And hence we see God cast off the Jews, because sticking to their old Constitution, they would not have this Man reign over them: so that what St. Paul says here, is in effect this; "By believing in Christ, I am discharged from the Mosaical Law, that I may wholly conform myself to the Rule of the Gospel, which is now the Law, which must be owned and observed by all those who, as God's People, will live acceptably to him." This, I think, is visibly his Meaning, though the accustoming himself to Antitheses may possibly be the Reason why, after having said, I am dead to the Law, he expresses his putting himself under the Gospel, by living to God.

20 * Crucified with Christ: See this explained, Rom. VII. 4. and VI. 2—14.

† i. e. The whole Management of myself is conformable to the Doctrine of the Gospel of Justification in Christ alone, and not by the Deeds of the Law. This and the former Verse seems to be spoken in opposition to St. Peter's owning a Subjection to the Law of Moses, by his Walking, mentioned ver. 14.

21 † Grace of God, see Chap. I. 6, 7. to which this seems here opposed.

CONTENTS.

BY the Account St. Paul has given of himself in the foregoing Section, the Galatians being furnished with Evidence sufficient to clear him in their Minds from the Report of his preaching Circumcision, he comes now, the Way being thus opened, directly to oppose their being circumcised, and subjecting themselves to the Law. The first Argument he uses is, that they received the Holy Ghost, and the Gifts of Miracles, by the Gospel, and not by the Law.

1. O Ye foolish Galatians, who hath cast a Mist before your Eyes, that you should not keep to the Truth^b of the Gospel; you to whom the Sufferings and Death of Christ^c upon the Cross, had been by me so lively represented, as if it had been actually done in your Sight? ^c St. Paul mentions nothing to them here but Christ crucified, as knowing, that when formerly he had preached Christ crucified to them, he had shewn them, that by Christ's Death on the Cross, Believers were set free from the Law, and the Covenant of Works was removed, to make way for that of Grace. This we may find him inculcating to his other Gentile Converts. See Eph. II. 15, 16. Col. II. 14, 20. And accordingly he tells the Galatians, Chap. V. 2, 4. that if by Circumcision they put themselves under the Law, they were fallen from Grace, and Christ should profit them nothing at all: Things which they are supposed to understand at his writing to them.

of Perfection, and to be completed, by the Law^d? Have you suffered so many Things in vain; if at least you will render it in vain, by falling off from the Profession of the pure and uncorrupted Doctrine of the Gospel, and apostatizing to Judaism? The Gifts of the Holy Ghost that have been conferred upon you, have they not been conferred on you as Christians, professing Faith in Jesus Christ, and not as Observers of the Law? And hath not he^e, who hath conveyed these Gifts to you, and done Miracles amongst you, done it as a Preacher and Professor of the Gospel; the Jews, who stick to the Law of Moses, being not able by Virtue of that to do any such Thing?

NOTES.

³ ^d It is a Way of speaking, very familiar to St. Paul, in opposing the Law to the Gospel, to call the Law Flesh, and the Gospel Spirit: The Reason whereof is very plain to any one conversant in his Epistles.

⁵ ^e He. The Person meant here by ὁ ἐπιχορηγῶν, he that ministereth, and Chap. I. 6. by ὁ καλέσας, he that called, is plainly St. Paul himself, though out of Modesty he declines naming himself.

SECT. IV.

CHAP. III. 6—17.

CONTENTS.

HIS next Argument against Circumcision and Subjection to the Law, is, that the Children of Abraham, entitled to the Inheritance and Blessing promised to Abraham and his Seed, are so by Faith, and not by being under the Law, which brings a Curse upon those who are under it.

But

6. But to proceed. As Abraham believed in God,
 7. and it was accounted to him for Righteousness; so know ye, that those who are of Faith, i. e. who rely upon God and his Promises of Grace, and not upon their own Performances, they are the Children of Abraham who shall inherit. And this is
 8. plain in the Scripture; for it being in the Purpose of God to justify the Gentiles by Faith, he gave Abraham a Fore-knowledge of the Gospel in these Words: ^f In thee all the Nations of the Earth
 9. shall be blessed. So that they who are of ^g Faith are 10. blessed with Abraham, who believed. But as many as are of the Works of the Law, are under the ^h Curse: For it is written, ⁱ Cursed is every one 11. who remaineth not in all things which are written in the Book of the Law, to do them. But that no Man is justified by the Law in the sight of God, is evi-12. dent, for the Just shall live by Faith ^k. But the Law says not so, the Law gives not Life to those who believe ^l; but the Rule of the Law is, He that doth
 13. them, shall live in them ^m. Christ hath redeemed us from the Curse of the Law, being made a Curse for us: For it is written, ⁿ Cursed is every one that
 14. hangeeth on a Tree. That the Blessing ^o promised

Even as Abraham be- 6 lieved God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.

Know ye therefore, 7 that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

And the scripture fore- 8 seeing that God would justify the Heathen thro' faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, ⁿ thee shall all nations be blessed.

So then they which be 9 of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

For as many as are of 10 the works of the law, are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

But that no man is ju- 11
 stified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.

And the law is not of 12 faith: but, The man that doth them, shall live in them.

Inheritance, ver. 18. being the Children of God, ver. 26. are in effect all the same on the one Side; and the Curse, ver. 13. the direct contrary on the other Side, is so plain in t. Paul's Discourse here, that no body who reads it with the least Attention will be in any Doubt about it.

- 13 Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:
- 14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.
- 15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; tho' it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth or addeth thereto.
- 16 Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.
- 17 And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law which to Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we who are Christians might, believing, receive the Spirit that was promised^p. Brethren, this is a known and allowed Rule in human Affairs, that a Promise or Compact, tho' it be barely a Man's Covenant, yet if it be once ratified, so it must stand; no body can render it void, or make any Alteration in it. Now to Abraham and his Seed were the Promises made. God doth not say, and to Seeds^q, as if he spoke of more Seeds than one, that were entitled to the Promise upon different Accounts, but only of one Sort of Men, who upon one sole Account were that Seed of Abraham which was alone meant and concerned in the Promise: So that unto thy Seed^r, designed Christ, and his mystical Body^s, i. e. those that become Members of him by Faith. This therefore I say, that the Law, which was not till 430 Years after, cannot disannul the Covenant that was long before made and ratified to Christ by God, so as

NOTES.

^p Promised. St. Paul's Argument to convince the Galatians, that they ought not to be circumcised, or submit to the Law, from having received the Spirit from him, upon their having received the Gospel which he preached to them. ver. 2, and 5. stands thus: The Blessing promised to Abraham, and to his Seed, was wholly upon the Account of Faith, ver. 7. There were not different Seeds, who should inherit the Promise, the one by the Works of the Law, and the other by Faith; for there was but one Seed, which was Christ, ver. 16. and those who should claim in and under him by Faith. Among those there was no Distinction of Jew and Gentile. They, and they only, who believed, were all one and the same true Seed of Abraham, and Heirs according to the Promise, ver. 28, 29. And therefore the Promise made to the People of God, of giving them the Spirit under the Gospel, was performed only to those who believed in Christ: A clear Evidence that it was not by putting themselves under the Law, but by Faith in Jesus Christ, that they were the People of God, and Heirs of the Promise.

to set aside the Promise. For if the Right to the Inheritance be from the Works of the Law, it is plain that it is not founded in the Promise to Abraham, as certainly it is: For the Inheritance was a Donation and free Gift of God, settled on Abraham and his Seed by Promise.

was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

CHAP. III. 18—25.

IN Answer to this Objection, To what then serveth the Law? he shews that the Law was not contrary to the Promise: But since all Men were guilty of Transgression, ver. 22. the Law was added to shew the Israelites the Fruit and inevitable Consequence of their Sin, and thereby the Necessity of betaking themselves to Christ; but as soon as Men have received Christ, they have attained the End of the Law, and so are no longer under it. This is a farther Argument against Circumcision.

And the Law was ordained by Angels in the Hand of a Mediator^u, whereby it is manifest, that the Law could not disannul the Promise; because a Mediator is a Mediator between two Parties concerned, but God is but one^w of those concerned in the Promise. If then the promised Inheritance come not to the Seed of Abraham by the Law, is the Law opposite, by the Curse it denounces against Transgressors, to the Promise that God made of the Blessing to Abraham? No by no means. For if there had been a Law given which could have put ^u Mediator, see Deut. V. 5. Lev. XXVI. 46. where it is said, the Law was made between God and the Children of Israel by the Hand of Moses.

^w But God is one. To understand this Verse, we must carry in our Minds what St. Paul is here doing, and that from ver. 17. is manifest, that he is proving that the Law could not disannul the Promise; and he does it upon this known Rule, that a Covenant of Promise, once ratified, cannot be altered or disannulled by any other, but by both the Parties concerned. Now, says he, God is but one of the Parties concerned in the Promise; the Gentiles and Israelites together made up the other, ver. 14. But Moses at the giving of the Law was a Mediator only between the Israelites and God, and therefore could not transact any thing to the disannulling the Promise which was between God and the Israelites and Gentiles together, because God was but one of the Parties to that Covenant; the other, which was the Gentiles as well as Israelites, Moses appeared or transacted not for. And so what was done at Mount Sinai, by the Mediation of Moses, could not affect a Covenant made between Parties, whereof one only was there. How necessary it was for St. Paul to add this, we shall see, if we consider, that without it, his Argument of 430 Years Distance would have been deficient and hardly conclusive. For if both the Parties concerned in the Promise had transacted by Moses the Mediator (as they might, if none but the Nation of the Israelites had been concerned in the Promise made by God to Abraham) they might by mutual Consent have altered or set aside the former Promise, as well four Hundred Years as four Days after. That which hindered it was, that at Moses's Mediation at Mount Sinai, God, who was but one of the Parties to the Promise, was present; but the other Party, Abraham's Seed, consisting of Israelites and Gentiles together, was not there; Moses transacted for the Nation of the Israelites alone: The other Nations were not concerned in the Covenant made at Mount Sinai, as they were in the Promise made to Abraham and his Seed, which therefore could not be disannulled without their Consent; for that both the Promise to Abraham and his Seed, and the Covenant with Israel at Mount Sinai, was National, is in itself evident.

us in a State of Life^x, certainly Righteousness 22. should have been by Law^y. But we find the quite contrary by the Scripture, which makes no Distinction betwixt Jew and Gentile in this Respect, but has shut up together all Mankind^z, Jews and Gentiles, under^a Sin and Guilt, that the Blessing which was promised to that which is Abraham's true and intended Seed by Faith^b in Christ, might 23. be given to those who believe. But before Christ, and the Doctrine of Justification by Faith^c in him, came, we Jews were shut up as a Company of Prisoners, together, under the Custody and inflexible Rigor of the Law, unto the Coming of the Messiah, when the Doctrine of Justification by Faith^d in 24. him should be revealed. So that the Law by its Severity served as a School-master, to bring us to should have been by the law.

But the scripture hath 22 concluded all under sm, that the promise by Faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

But before faith came, 23 we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

Wherefore the law 24 was our school-master to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

But after that faith is 25 come, we are no longer under a school-master.

NOTES.

21 ^x Ἰσχυρισμοῖς, Put into a State of Life. The Greek word signifies to make alive. St. Paul consider^s all Men here as in a mortal State; and to be put out of that mortal State into a State of Life, he calls being made alive. This he says the Law could not do, because it could not confer Righteousness.

^y Ἐν νόμῳ, by Law, i. e. by Works or Obedience to that Law, which tended towards Righteousness as well as the Promise, but was not able to reach or confer it; see Rom. VII. 3. i. e. Frail Men were not able to attain Righteousness by any exact Conformity of their Actions to the Law of Righteousness.

22 ^z Τῶ πάντων, all, is used here for all Men: The Apostle, Rom. III. 9, and 19. expresses the same Thing by πάντας, all Men; and πάντες ὁ κόσμος, all the World. But speaking in the Text here of the Jews in particular, he says, We; meaning those of his own Nation, as is evident from ver. 24, 25.

^a Under Sin, i. e. rank them all together, as one guilty Race of Sinners. See this proved Rom. III. 9. 1. 18, &c. To the same Purpose of putting both Jews and Gentiles into one State, St. Paul λέγει συνέκλεισε πάντας, hath shut them up all together, Rom. XI. 32.

^b The Thing promised in this Chapter, sometimes called Blessing, ver. 9, 14. sometimes Inheritance, ver. 13. sometimes justification, ver. 11, 24. sometimes Righteousness, ver. 21. and sometimes Life, ver. 11, 21.

27 ^f Put on Christ. This, which, at first Sight, may seem a very bold Metaphor, if we consider what St. Paul has said, v. 16, and 26. is admirably adapted to express his Thoughts in few Words, and has a great Grace in it. He says, v. 16, that the Seed to which the Promise was made, was but one, and that one was Christ. And v. 26. he declares, that by Faith in Christ they all become the Sons of God. To lead them into an easy Conception how this is done, he here tells them, that by taking on them the Profession of the Gospel, they have, as it were, put on Christ; so that to God, now looking on them, there appears nothing but Christ. They are, as we were, covered all over with him, as a Man is with the Clothes he hath put on. And hence he says, in the next Verse, that they are all one in Christ Jesus, as if there were but that one Person.

29 ^g The Clement Copy reads ἐὶς ἐστὶν ἐν Χριστῷ ἡμεῖς, And if ye are one in Christ Jesus, more suitable, as it seems, to the Apostle's Argument. For v. 28. he says, They are all one in Christ Jesus; from whence the Inference in the following Words of the Clement Copy is natural; And if ye be one in Christ Jesus, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and Heirs according to Promise.

IN the first Part of this Section, he farther shews, that the Law was not against the Promise, in that the Child is not disinherited by being under Tutors. But the chief Design of this Section is to shew, that though both Jews and Gentiles were intended to be the Children of God, and Heirs of the Promise by Faith in Christ, yet they both of them were left in Bondage, the Jews to the Law, v. 3. and the Gentiles to false Gods, v. 8. till Christ, in due Time, came to redeem them both; and therefore it was Folly in the Galatians, being redeemed from one Bondage, to go backwards, and put themselves again in a State of Bondage, though under a new Master.

^k The Law he calls here στοιχίωτα τῆς νόμου, Elements, or Rudiments of the World; because the Observances and Discipline of the Law, which had Restraint and Bondage enough in it, led them not beyond the Things of this World, into the Possession or State of their spiritual and heavenly Inheritance.

NOTES.

6¹ The same Argument of proving their Sonship from their having the Spirit, St. Paul uses to the Romans, Rom. VIII. 16. And he that will read 2 Cor. IV. 17.—V. 6. and Eph. I. 11—14. will find, that the Spirit is looked on as the Seal and Assurance of the Inheritance of Life to those who have received the Adoption of Sons, as St. Paul speaks here, v. 5. The Force of the Argument seems to lie in this, that as he that has the Spirit of a Man in him, has an Evidence that he is the Son of Man, so he that hath the Spirit of God, has thereby an Assurance that he is the Son of God. Conformable hereunto, the Opinion of the Jews was, that the Spirit of God was given to none but themselves, they alone being the People, or Children of God; for God calls the People of Israel his Son, Exod. IV. 22, 23. And hence we see, that when, to the Astonishment of the Jews, the Spirit was given to the Gentiles, the Jews no longer doubted that the Inheritance of eternal Life was also conferred on the Gentiles. Compare Acts X. 44—48. with Acts XI. 15—18.

7^m St. Paul, from the Galatians having received the Spirit, (as appears, Ch. III. 2.) argues, that they are the Sons of God without the Law, and consequently Heirs of the Promise without the Law: For, says he, v. 1—6. the Jews themselves were fain to be redeemed from the Bondage of the Law by Jesus Christ, that as Sons they might attain to the Inheritance. But you Galatians, says he, have, by the Spirit that is given you by the Ministry of the Gospel, an Evidence that God is your Father; and, being Sons, are free from the Bondage of the Law, and Heirs without it. The same Sort of Reasoning St. Paul uses to the Romans, Ch. VIII. 14—17.

9ⁿ Known. It has been before observed how apt St. Paul is to repeat his Words, though something varied in their Signification. We have here another Instance of it; having said, Ye have known God, he subjoins, or rather are known of him, in the Hebrew Language of the Word known, in which Language it sometimes signifies knowing with Choice and Approbation. See Amos III. 2. 1 Cor. VIII. 3.

- can it be that you, who have been put out of a State of Bondage, into the Freedom of Sons, should go backwards, and be willing to put yourselves under the ° weak and beggarly Elements^p of the
10. World, into a State of Bondage again? Ye observe Days, and Months, and Times, and Years, in Compliance with the Mosaical Institution. I
11. begin to be afraid of you, and to be in doubt, whether all the Pains I have taken about you, to set you at Liberty in the Freedom of the Gospel, will not prove lost Labour.

ther are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements. whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

Ye observe days, and to months, and times, and years.

I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

NOTES.

° The Law is here called weak, because it was not able to deliver a Man from Bondage and Death, into the glorious Liberty of the Sons of God, Rom VIII. 1-3. And it is called beggarly, because it kept Men in the poor Estate of Pupils, from the full Possession and Enjoyment of the Inheritance, v. 1-3.

^p The Apostle makes it Matter of Astonishment, how they, who had been in Bondage to false Gods, having been once set free, could endure the Thoughts of parting with their Liberty, and of returning into any Sort of Bondage again, even under the mean and beggarly Rudiments of the Mosaical Institution, which was not able to make them Sons, and initial them in the Inheritance. For St. Paul, v. 7. expressly opposes Bondage to Sonship; so that all who are not in the State of Sons, are in the State of Bondage. Πάντιν, again, cannot here refer to στοιχεῖα, Elements, which the Galatians had never been under hitherto; but to Bondage, which he tells them, v. 8. they had been in to false Gods.

PARAPHRASE.

- 12 Brethren, I beseech you be as I am; for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.
- 13 Ye know how, through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the Gospel unto you at the first.
- 14 And my temptation, which was in my flesh, ye despised not, nor rejected: but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.
- 15 Where is then the blessedness you spake of? for I bear you record, that if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.
- 16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?
- 17 They zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude us, that you might affect them.
- 18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

I beseech you, Brethren, let you and I be as if we were all one. Think yourselves to be very me; as I in my own Mind put no Difference at all between you and myself, you have done me no Manner of Injury: On the contrary, ye know, that through Infirmity of the Flesh, I heretofore preached the Gospel to you, and yet ye despised me not for the Trial I underwent in the Flesh⁹, you treated me not with Contempt and Scorn; but you received me as an Angel of God, yea, as Jesus Christ himself. What Benedictions^r did you then pour out upon me? For I bear you Witness, had it been practicable, you would have pulled out your very Eyes, and given them me. But is it so that I am become your Enemy^s in continuing to tell you the Truth? They who would make you of that Mind, shew a Warmth of Affection to you: But it is not well; for their Business is to exclude me, that they may get into your Affection. It is good to be well and warmly affected towards a good Man^t at all times, and not barely when I am present with you.

My

NOTES.

14⁹ What this Weakness and Trial in the Flesh was, since it has not pleased the Apostle to mention it, is impossible for us to know: But may be remarked here as an Instance, once for all, of that unavoidable Obscurity of some Passages in epistolary Writings, without any Fault in the Author. For some Things, necessary to the understanding of what is writ, are usually, of course, and justly omitted, because already known to him the Letter is writ to; and it would be sometimes ungraceful, oftentimes superfluous, particularly to mention them.

15^r The Context makes this Sense of the Words so necessary and visible, that it is to be wondered how any one could over-look it.

16^s Your Enemy. See Ch. I. 6.

18^t That by καλῶς, he here means a Person, and himself, the Scope of the Context evinces. In the preceding Verses he speaks only of himself, and the Change of their Affection to him since he left them. There is no other Thing mentioned, as peculiarly deserving their Affection, to which the Rule given in this Versé could refer. He had said, τ. 17. ἐκδέχου ἑμᾶς, they affect you; and ἵνα ἂν ἡμεῖς ἐκδέξῃτε, that you might affect them; this is only of Persons, and therefore ἐκδέξῃτε ἐν καλῶς, which immediately follows, may best be understood of a Person, else the following Part of the Versé, though joined by the Copulative καί, and, will make but a dis-jointed

19. My little Children, for whom I have again the Pains of a Woman in Child-birth till Christ be formed in you", i. e. till the true Doctrine of Christianity be settled in your Minds. But I would willingly be this very Moment with you, and change ^w my Discourse as I should find Occasion; for I am at a Stand about you, and know not what to think of you.

My little children, of 19 whom I travel in birth again until Christ be formed in you:

Sense with the preceding. But there can be nothing plainer, nor more coherent than this, which seems to be St. Paul's Sense here. You were very affectionate to me when I was with you. You are since estranged from me; it is the Artifice of the Seducers that hath cooled you to me. But if I am the good Man you took me to be, you will do well to continue the Warmth of your Affection to me, when I am absent; and not to be well affected towards me, only when I am present among you. Though this be his Meaning, yet the Way he has taken to express it, is much more elegant, modest and graceful. Let any one read the Original, and see whether it be not so.

19 If this Verſe be taken for an entire Sentence by itself, it will be a Parenthesis, and that not the most necessary or congruous that is to be found in St. Paul's Epistles; or de, but, must be left out, as we see it is in our Translation. But if τὸν ἐμὸν υἱόν, my little Children, be joined on by Apposition to ἐσὺν, you, the last Word of the foregoing Verſe, and so the two Verſes 18 and 19, be read as one Sentence, the 20th ver. with de, but, in it, follows very naturally. But as we now read in our English Bible, de, but, is forced to be left out, and the 20th ver. stands alone by itself, without any Connection with what goes before, or follows.

20 Ἀλλὰ ἐπεὶ ἔβην, to change the Voice, seems to signify the speaking higher or lower; changing the Tone of the Voice suitably to the Matter one delivers, e. g. whether it be Advice, or Commendation, or Reproof, &c. for each of these have their distinct Voices. St. Paul wishes himself with them, that he might accommodate himself to their present Condition and Circumstances, which he confesses himself to be ignorant of, and in doubt about.

HE exhorts them to stand fast in the Liberty with which Christ hath made them free, shewing those who are so zealous for the Law, that if they mind what they read in the Law, they will there there find, that the Children of the Promise, or of the New Jerusalem, were to be free; but the Children after the Flesh, of the earthly Jerusalem, were to be in Bondage, and to be cast out, and not to have the Inheritance.

TEXT.

PARAPHRASE.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?
 22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons; the one by a bond-maid, the other by a free-woman.
 23 But he who was of the bond-woman, was born after the flesh; but he of the free-woman was by promise.
 24 Which things are an allegory; for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.
 25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.
 26 But Jerusalem, which is above, is free, which is the mother of us all.
 27 For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and, cry thou that travailest not; for the desolate hath many more children than the which hath an husband.
 28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

Tell me, you that would so fain be under the Law, do you not acquaint yourselves with what is in the Law, either by reading it^x, or having it read in your Assemblies? For it is there written^y, Abraham had two Sons; one by a Bond-Maid, the other by a Free-Woman: But he that was of the Bond-Woman, was born according to the Flesh, in the ordinary Course of Nature; but he that was of the Free-Woman, Abraham had by Virtue of the Promise, after he and his Wife were past the Hopes of another Child. These Things have an allegorical Meaning; for the two Women are the two Covenants; the one of them delivered from Mount Sinai, and is represented by Agar, who produces her Issue into Bondage. (For Agar is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and answers to Jerusalem that now is, and is in Bondage with her Children.) But the heavenly Jerusalem, which is above, and answers to Sarah, the Mother of the promised Seed, is free, the Mother of us all, both Jews and Gentiles, who believe. For it was of her that it is written^z, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break out into loud Acclamations of Joy, thou that hast not the Travails of Child-birth; for more are the Children of the Desolate than of her that hath an Husband. And it is we, my Brethren, who, as Isaac was,

NOTES.

21^x The Vulgar has, after some Greek Manuscripts, Read.
 22^y Written there, (viz.) Gen. XVI. 15. and XXI. 1. The Term Law, in the foregoing Verse, comprehends the five Books of Moses.

29. are the Children of Promise. But as then Ishmael, who was born in the ordinary Course of Nature, persecuted Isaac, who was born by an extraordinary Power from Heaven, working miraculously; so is it now. But what saith the Scripture^b? Cast out the Bond-Woman and her Son; for the Son of the Bond-Woman shall not share the Inheritance with the Son of the Free-Woman.

30. So then, Brethren, we, who believe in Christ, are not the Children of the Bond-Woman, but

31. of the Free^c. Stand fast therefore in the Liberty wherewith Christ hath made you free, and do not put on again a Yoke of Bondage, by putting yourselves under the Law.

But as then he that was 29 born after the flesh, persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

Nevertheless, what saith 30 the scripture? Cast out the bond-woman and her son; for the son of the bond-woman, shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

So then, brethren, we 31 are not children of the bond-woman, but of the free.

Stand fast therefore in 1
the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not intangled again with the yoke of bondage.

29 ¹ Ο υἱὸς σαρκὸς γεννηθείς, Born after the Flesh; and τὸν υἱὸν πνεύματος, Born after the Spirit. These Expressions have, in their Original Brevity, with regard to the whole View wherein St. Paul uses them, an admirable Beauty and Force, which cannot be retained in a Paraphrase.

30 ^b Scripture, (viz.) Gen. XX. 10.

31 ^c The Apostle, by this allegorical History, shews the Galatians, that they who are Sons of Agar, i. e. under the Law given at Mount Sinai, are in Bondage, and intended to be cast out, the Inheritance being designed for those only, who are the free-born Sons of God under the spiritual Covenant of the Gospel. And thereupon he exhorts them, in the following Words, to preserve themselves in that State of Freedom.

C H A P. V. 2—13.

C O N T E N T S.

IT is evident, from Ver. 11. that, the better to prevail with the Galatians to be circumcised, it had been reported, that St. Paul himself preached up Circumcision. St. Paul, without taking express

Notice of this Calumny, Ch. I. 6. and II. 21. gives an Account of his past Life in a large Train of Particulars, which all concur to make such a Character of him, as renders it very incredible, that he should ever declare for the Circumcision of the Gentile Converts, or for their Submission to the Law. Having thus prepared the Minds of the Galatians, to give him a fair Hearing, as a fair Man, ζηλωσθασι ἐν καλω he goes on to argue against their subjecting themselves to the Law. And having established their Freedom from the Law by many strong Arguments, he comes here at last openly to take Notice of the Report which had been raised of him, that he preached Circumcision, and directly confutes it.

1. By positively denouncing to them himself, very solemnly, that they who suffered themselves to be circumcised, put themselves into a perfect legal State, out of the Covenant of Grace, and could receive no Benefit by Jesus Christ, ver. 2—4.

2. By assuring them, that he, and those that followed him, expected Justification only by Faith, v. 5, 6.

3. By telling them, that he had put them in the right Way, and that this new Persuasion came not from him that converted them to Christianity, v. 7, 8.

3. By insinuating to them, that they should agree to pass Judgment on him that troubled them with this Doctrine, 9, 10.

5. By his being persecuted, for opposing the Circumcision of the Christians. For this was the great Offence which stuck with the Jews, even after their Conversion, v. 11.

6. By wishing those cut off that trouble them with this Doctrine, v. 12.

This will, I doubt not, by whoever weighs it, be found a very skilful Management of the argumentative Part of this Epistle, which ends here: For though he begins with sapping the Foundation, on which the Judaizing Seducers seemed to have laid their main Stress, (viz.) the Report of his preaching Circumcision, yet he reserves the direct and open Confutation of it to the End, and so leaves it with them, that it may have the more forcible and lasting Impression on their Minds.

2. TAKE Notice that I Paul^d, who am falsely reported to preach up Circumcision in other Places, say unto you, that if you are circumcised, Christ shall be of no Advantage to you.
3. For I repeat here again what I have always preached, and solemnly testify to every one who yields to be circumcised, in Compliance with those who say, that now under the Gospel he cannot be saved without it^e, that he is under an Obligation to the whole Law, and bound to observe and perform every Tittle of it. Christ is of no Use to you, who seek Justification by the Law: Who-soever do so, be ye what you will, ye are fallen from the Covenant of Grace. But I^f, and those who with me are true Christians, we who follow the Truth of the Gospel^g, and the Doctrine of the Spirit of God, have no other Hope of Justification but by Faith in Christ. For in the State of the Gospel under Jesus the Messiah, 'tis neither Circumcision nor Uncircumcision, that is of any Moment; all that is available, is Faith alone, working by Love^h. When you first entered into the Profession of the Gospel, you were in a good Way, and went on well: Who has Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; ye are fallen from grace.

For we, through the Spirit, wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

For in Jesus Christ, neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but faith which worketh by love.

Ye did run well, who did hinder you, that

This, so emphatical Way of Speaking, may very well be understood to have Regard to what he takes Notice, v. 11. to be cast upon him, (viz.) his preaching Circumcision, and is a very significant Vindication of himself.

³ Cannot be saved. This was the Ground upon which the Jews and Judaizing Christians urged Circumcision. See Acts XV. 1.

^g Spirit. The Law and the Gospel opposed under the Titles of Flesh and Spirit, we may see, Ch. III. 3. of this Epistle. The same Opposition it stands in here to the Law, in the foregoing Verse, points out the same Signification.

^h Which worketh by Love. This is added, to express the Animosities which were amongst them, probably raised by this Question about Circumcision. See v. 15—19.

- 11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the put a Stop to you, and hindered you, that you keep no longer to the Truth of the Christian Doctrine? This Persuasion, that it is necessary for you to be circumcised, cometh not from himⁱ, by whose Preaching you were called to the Profession of the Gospel. Remember that a little Leaven leaveneth the whole Lump; the Influence of one Man^k entertained among you, may mislead you all. I have Confidence in you, that, by the Help of the Lord, you will be all of this same Mind^l with me; and consequently he that troubles you shall fall under the Censure he deserves for it^m, whoever he be. But as for me, Brethren, if I at last am become a Preacher of Circumcision, why am I yet persecutedⁿ? If it be so that the Gentile Converts are to be circumcised, and so subjected to the Law, the great 11.

NOTES.

8ⁱ This Expression, of him that called or calleth you, he used before, Ch. I. 6. and in both Places means himself; and here declares, that this πειρασμός (whether taken for Persuasion or for Subjection, as it may be in St. Paul's Style, considering παθητέα, in the End of the foregoing Verse) came not from him; for he called them to Liberty from the Law, and not Subjection to it. See v. 13. You were going on well in the Liberty of the Gospel, who stepped you? I, you may be sure, had no Hand in it; I, you know, called you to Liberty, and not to Subjection to the Law; and therefore you can by no means suppose that I should preach up Circumcision. Thus St. Paul argues here.

9^k By this and the next Verse, it looks as if all this Disorder arose from one Man.

10^l Will not be otherwise minded, will beware of this Leaven, so as not to be put into a Ferment, nor shaken in your Liberty, which you ought to stand fast in; and to secure it, I doubt not (such Confidence I have in you) will, with one Accord, cast out him that troubles you. For, as for me, you may be sure I am not for Circumcision, in that the Jews continue to persecute me. This is evidently his Meaning, though not spoken out, but managed warily, with a very skillful and moving Insinuation: For, as he says himself, Ch. IV. 20. he knew not, at that Distance, what Temper they were in.

^m Κεῖνα, Judgment, seems here to mean Expulsion by a Church-censure: See v. 12. We shall be the more inclined to this, if we consider, that the Apostle uses the same Argument of a little Leaven leaveneth the whole Lump, 1 Cor. V. 6. where he would persuade the Corinthians to purge out the Fornicator.

11ⁿ Persecution. The Persecution St. Paul was still under, was a convincing Argument, that he was not for Circumcision and Subjection to the Law; for it was from the Jews, upon that Account, that at this Time rose all the Persecution which the Christians suffered, as may be seen through all the History of the Acts. Nor are there wanting clear Footsteps of it in several Places of this Epistle, besides this here, as Ch. III. 4. and VI. 12.

14^a Lev. XIX. 18.

16^c That which he here and in the next Verse calls Spirit, he calls, Rom. VII. 22. the inward Man, ver. 23. the Law of the Mind ; ver. 25. the Mind.

17^d Do not : So it is in the Greek ; and ours is the only Translation that I know which renders it cannot.

16, 17. There can be nothing plainer, than that the State St. Paul describes here in these two Verses, he points out more at large, Rom. VII. 17, &c. speaking there in the Person of a Jew. This is evident, that St. Paul supposes two Principles in every Man, which draw him different Ways ; the one he calls Flesh, the other Spirit. These, though there be other Appellations given them, are the most common and usual Names given them in the New Testament. By Flesh is meant all those vicious and irregular Appetites, Inclinations and Habitudes, whereby a Man is turned from his Obedience to that eternal Law of Right, the Observance whereof God always requires, and is pleased with : This is very properly called Flesh, this bodily State being the Source of which all our Deviations from the strait Rule of Rectitude, do for the most part take their Rise, or else do ultimately terminate in. On the other side, Spirit is the Part of a Man which is endowed with Light from God, to know and see what is righteous, just and good ; and which, being consulted and hearkened to, is always ready to direct and prompt us to that which is good. The Flesh then, in the Gospel-Language, is that Principle which inclines and carries Men to Ill ; the Spirit, that Principle which dictates what is right, and inclines to Good. But because, by prevailing Custom and contrary Habits, this Principle was very much weakened, and almost extinct in the Gentiles, see Eph. IV. 17——21. he exhorts them to be renewed in the Spirit of their Minds, ver. 23. and to put off the Old Man, i. e. fleshly corrupt Habits, and to put on the New Man, which he tells them, ver. 24. is created in Righteousness and true Holiness. This is also called renewing of the Mind, Rom. XII. 2. renewing of the inward Man, 2 Cor. IV. 16. which is done by the Assistance of the Spirit of God, Eph. III. 16.

19. duct of the Gospel^t by Faith in Christ, ye are not under the Law^u. Now the Works of the Flesh as is manifest are these, Adultery, Fornication, 20. Uncleanness, Lasciviousness, Idolatry, Witchcraft^w, Enmities, Quarrels, Emulations, Animofities, Strife, Seditious, Sects, Envyings, Murders, 21. Drunkenness, Revellings^x, and such like; concerning which I forewarn you now, as heretofore I have done, that they who do such Things shall 22. not inherit the Kingdom of God. But on the other Side, the Fruit of the Spirit is Love, Joy, Peace, Long-suffering, Sweetness of Disposition, 23. Beneficence, Faithfulness, Meekness, Temperance: 24. Against these and the like there is no Law. Now they who belong^y to Christ, and are his Mem-

Spirit, ye are not under the Law.

Now the works of the 19 flesh are manifest, which are these, adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

Idolatry, witchcraft, ha- 20 tred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditious, heresies, Envyings, murders, 21 drunkenness, revellings, and such like, of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

But the fruit of the 22 Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.

NOTES.

18^t The Reason of this Assertion we may find, Rom. VIII. 14. viz. because, they who are led by the Spirit of God, are the Sons of God; and so Heirs, and free without the Law, as he argues here, Chap. III. and IV.

^u This is plainly the Sense of the Apostle, who teaches all along in the former Part of this Epistle, and also that to the Romans, that those that put themselves under the Gospel, are not under the Law. The Question then that remains, is only about the Phrase, led by the Spirit: And as to that, it is easy to observe how natural it is for St. Paul, having in the foregoing Verses more than once mentioned the Spirit, to continue the same Word, though somewhat varied in the Sense. In St. Paul's Phraseology, as the Irregularities of Appetite, and the Dictates of right Reason, are opposed under the Titles of Flesh and Spirit, as we have seen; so the Covenant of Works, and the Covenant of Grace, Law and Gospel, are opposed under the Titles of Flesh and Spirit. 2 Cor. III. 6, 8. he calls the Gospel Spirit; and Rom. VII. 5. In the Flesh, signifies in the legal State. But we need go no farther than Chap. III. 3. of this very Epistle, to see the Law and the Gospel opposed by St. Paul under the Titles of Flesh and Spirit. The Reason of thus using the Word Spirit is very apparent in the Doctrine of the New Testament, which teaches, that those who received Christ by Faith, with him receive his Spirit, and its Assistance against the Flesh, see Rom. VIII. 9 — 11. Accordingly, for the attaining of Salvation, St. Paul joins together Belief of the Truth and Sanctification of the Spirit, 1 Thess. II. 13. And so Spirit here may be taken for the Spirit of the Mind, but renewed and strengthened by the Spirit of God; see Eph. III. 16. and IV. 23.

20^w Φαρμακεία signifies Witchcraft, or Poisoning.

21^x Κῶμοι, Revellings, were, amongst the Greeks, disorderly spending of the Night in Feasting, with a licentious indulging to Wine, good Cheer, Musick, Dancing, &c.

24^y Ὁι τῷ Χριστῷ, those who are of Christ, are the same with those who are led by the Spirit, ver. 18. and are opposed to those who live after the Flesh, Rom. VIII. 13. where it is said, conformably to what we find here, they, through the Spirit, mortify the Deeds of the Body.

² Crucified the Flesh. That Principle in us, from whence spring vicious Inclinations and Actions, is, as we have observed above, called sometimes the Flesh, sometimes the Old Man. The subduing and mortifying of this evil Principle, so that the Force and Power wherewith it used to rule in us is extinguished, the Apostle, by a very engaging Accommodation to the Death of our Saviour, calls, crucifying the Old Man, Rom. VI. 6. crucifying the Flesh here; putting off the Body of the Sins of the Flesh, Col. II. 11. putting off the Old Man, Eph. IV. 2. Col. III. 8, 9. It is also called, Mortifying the Members which are on the Earth, Col. III. 5. Mortifying the Deeds of the Body, Rom. VIII. 13.

²⁶ ^a Whether the Vain-glory and Envy here were about their spiritual Gifts, a Fault which the Corinthians were guilty of, as we may see at large, 1 Cor. XII. 13, 14. or upon any other Occasion, and so contained in ver. 15. of this Chapter, I shall not curiously examine: Either Way the Sense of the Words will be much the same; and accordingly this Verse must end the 5th, or begin the 6th Chapter.

^d See John XIII. 34, 35. and XIV. 2. There were some among them very zealous for the Observation of the Law of Moses; St. Paul here puts them in mind of a Law, which they were under, and were obliged to observe, viz. the Law of Christ. And he shews them how to do it, (viz.) by helping to bear one another's Burdens, and not increasing their Burdens by the Observances of the Levitical Law. Though the Gospel contain the Law of the Kingdom of Christ, yet I do not remember that St. Paul any where calls it the Law of Christ, but in this Place, where he mentions it in opposition to those who thought a Law so necessary, that they would retain that of Moses under the Gospel.

^e Καύχημα, I think, should have been translated here Glorying, as Καυχῶνται is, ver. 13. the Apostle in both Places meaning the same Thing, (viz.) Glorying in another, in having brought him to Circumcision, and other ritual Observances of the Mosaical Law. For thus St. Paul seems to me to discourse in this Section: "Brethren, there be some among you that would bring others under the ritual Observances of the Mosaical Law, a Yoke which was too heavy for us and our Fathers to bear. They would do much better to ease the Burdens of the Weak; this is suitable to the Law of Christ, which they are under, and is the Law which they ought strictly to obey. If they think, because of their spiritual Gifts, that they have Power to prescribe in such Matters, I tell them, that they have not, but do deceive themselves. Let them rather take care of their own particular Actions, that they be right, and such as they ought to be. This will give them Matter of glorying in themselves, and not vainly in others, as they do when they prevail with them to be circumcised: For every Man shall be answerable for his own Actions." Let the Reader judge whether this does not seem to be St. Paul's View here, and suit with his Way of Writing?

^e Εὐχέτω καύχημα, is a Phrase whereby St. Paul signifies to have Matter of Glorying; and to that sense it is rendered, Rom. IV. 2.

| 6 | Let him that is taught in the word, communicate unto him that teacheth, in all good things. | Let him that is taught the Doctrine of the Gospel, freely communicate the good Things of this World to him that teaches him: Be not deceived, God will not be mocked: For as a Man soweth ^f , so also shall he reap. He that lays out the Stock of good Things he has, only for the Satisfaction of his own bodily Necessities, Conveniencies or Pleasures, shall at the Harvest find the Fruit and Product of such Husbandry to be Corruption and Perishing ^g . But he that lays out his worldly Substance according to the Rules dictated by the Spirit of God in the Gospel, shall of the Spirit reap Life everlasting. In doing thus what is good and right, let us not wax weary; for in due Season, when the Time of Harvest comes, we shall reap, if we continue on to do good, and flag not. Therefore, as we have Opportunities, let us do good unto all Men, especially to those who profess Faith in Jesus Christ, i. e. the Christian Religion. | 6. |

For even they themselves who are circumcised do not keep the Law; but they will have you to be circumcised, that this Mark in your Flesh may afford them Matter of glorying, and of recommending themselves to the good Opinion of the Jews^k. For as to the obtaining a Share in the Kingdom of Jesus Christ, and the Privileges and Advantages of it, neither Circumcision nor Uncircumcision, such outward Differences in the Flesh, avail any thing, but the New Creation, wherein, by a thorough Change, a Man is disposed to Righteousness and true Holiness in good Works^m. And on all those who walk by this Rule, viz. that it is the New Creation alone, and not Circumcision, that availeth under the Gospel, Peace and Mercy shall be on them, they being that Israel which are truly the People of Godⁿ. From henceforth let no Man give me Trouble by Questions, or Doubt, whether I preach Circumcision or no. It is true, I am circumcised: But yet the Marks I now bear in my Body, are the Marks of Jesus Christ, that I am his: The Marks of the Stripes which I have received from the Jews, and which I still bear in my Body for preaching Jesus Christ, are an Evidence that I am not for Circumcision. Brethren, the Favour of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your Spirit, Amen.

NOTES.

- 16ⁿ St. Paul having in the foregoing Verse asserted, that it is the New Creation alone that puts Men into the Kingdom of Christ, and into the Possession of the Privileges thereof, this Verse may be understood also as assertory, rather than as a Prayer, unless there were a Verb that expressed it; especially considering that he writes this Epistle to encourage them to refuse Circumcision. To which End, the assuring them, that those who do so shall have Peace and Mercy from God, is of more Force than to tell them, that he prays that they may have Peace and Mercy. And for the same Reason I understand the Israel of God to be the same with those who walk by this Rule, though joined with them by the Copulative καὶ, And; no very unusual Way of Speaking.

ON THE

CORINTHIANS.

 SYNOPSIS.

Saint Paul's first coming to Corinth was Anno Christi 52. where he first applied himself to the Synagogue, Acts XVIII. 4. But finding them obstinate in their Opposition to the Gospel, he turned to the Gentiles, ver. 6. out of whom this Church at Corinth seems chiefly to be gathered, as appears, Acts XVIII. and 1 Cor. XII. 2.

His Stay here was about two Years, as appears from Acts XVIII. 11, 18. compared: In which Time it may be concluded he made many Converts, for he was not idle there, nor did he use to stay long in a Place where he was not encouraged by the Success of his Ministry. Besides what his so long Abode in this one City, and his indefatigable Labour every where, might induce one to presume of the Number of Converts he made in that City, the Scripture itself, Acts XVIII. 10. gives sufficient Evidence of a numerous Church gathered there.

Corinth itself was a rich Merchant-Town, the Inhabitants Greeks, a People of quick Parts, and inquisitive, 1 Cor. I. 22. but naturally vain and conceited of themselves.

These Things considered, may help us in some Measure the better to understand St. Paul's Epistles to this Church, which seems to be in greater Disorder than any other of the Churches which he writ to.

This

This Epistle was writ to the Corinthians Anno Christi 57, between two and three Years after St. Paul had left them. In this Interval there was got in amongst them a new Instructor, a Jew by Nation, who had raised a Faction against St. Paul. With this Party, whereof he was the Leader, this false Apostle had gained great Authority; so that they admired, and gloried in him, with an apparent Disesteem and Diminishing of St. Paul.

Why I suppose the Opposition to be made to St. Paul in this Church by one Party under one Leader, I shall give the Reasons that make it probable to me, as they come in my Way, going through these two Epistles; which I shall leave to the Reader to judge, without positively determining on either Side: And therefore shall, as it happens, speak of these Opposers of St. Paul sometimes in the singular, and sometimes in the plural Number.

This at least is evident, that the main Design of St. Paul in this Epistle, is to support his own Authority, Dignity, and Credit, with that Part of the Church which stuck to him; to vindicate himself from the Aspersions and Calumnies of the opposite Party; to lessen the Credit of the chief and leading Men in it, by intimating their Miscarriages, and shewing their no Cause of glorying, or being gloried in; that so withdrawing their Party from the Admiration and Esteem of those their Leaders, he might break the Faction; and putting an end to the Division might re-unite them with the uncorrupted Part of the Church, that they might all unanimously submit to the Authority of his Divine Mission, and with one Accord receive and keep the Doctrine and Directions he had delivered to them.

This is the whole Subject from Cb. I. 10. to the End of Cb. VI. In the remaining Part of this Epistle he answers some Questions they had proposed to him; and resolves some Doubts, not without a Mixture, on all Occasions, of Reflections on his Opposers, and of other Things that might tend to the breaking of their Faction.

NOTES.

^a St. Paul in most of his Epistles mentions his being called to be an Apostle by the Will of God, which Way of Speaking being peculiar to him, we may suppose him therein to intimate his extraordinary and miraculous Call, Acts IX. and his receiving the Gospel by immediate Revelation, Gal. I. 11, 12. for he doubted not of the Will and Providence of God governing all Things.

^c ἁγιασμένοι ἐν Χριστῷ Ἰησοῦ, Sanctified in Christ Jesus, does not signify here, whose Lives are pure and holy, for there were many amongst those he writ to, who were quite otherwise; but sanctified signifies separate from the common State of Mankind, to be the People of God, and to serve him. The heathen World had revolted from the true God, to the Service of idols and false Gods, Rom. I. 18—25. The Jews being separated from this corrupted Mass, to be the peculiar People of God, were called holy, Exod. XIX. 5, 6. Numb. XV. 40. They being cast off, the Professors of Christianity were separated to be the People of God, and so became holy, 1 Pet. II. 9. 10.

^d Ἐπιστάλλομενοι ὀνόματι Χριστοῦ, that are called Christians; these Greek Words being a Periphrasis for Christians, as is plain from the Design of this Verse. But he that is not satisfied with that, may see more Proofs of it in Dr. Hammond upon the Place.

THERE were great Disorders in the Church of Corinth, caused chiefly by a Faction raised there against St. Paul: The Partisan of the Faction mightily cried up and gloried in their Leaders, who did all they could to disparage St. Paul, and lessen him in the Esteem of the Corinthians. St. Paul makes it his Business in this Section, to take off the Corinthians from siding with, and glorying in this pretended Apostle, whose Followers and Scholars they professed themselves to be; and to reduce them into one Body, as the Scholars of Christ united in a Belief of the Gospel, which he had preached to them, and in an Obedience to it, without any such Distinction of Masters or Leaders, from whom they denominated themselves. He also here and there intermixes a Justification of himself against the Aspersions which were cast upon him by his Opposers. How much St. Paul was set against their Leaders, may be seen, 2 Cor. XI. 13—15.

Chap. I. The Arguments used by St. Paul to break the opposite Faction, and put an end to all Divisions amongst them, being various, we shall take notice of them under their several Heads, as they come in the Order of his Discourse.

Saint Paul's first Argument is, That in Christianity, they all had but one Maker, viz. Christ; and therefore were not to fall into Parties denominated from distinct Teachers, as they did in their Schools of Philosophy.

Now I beseech you, Brethren, by the Name^s of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye hold the same Doctrine, and that there be no Divisions amongst you; but that ye be framed together into one intire Body, with one Mind, and one Affection. For I understand, my Brethren^h, by some of the House of Chloe, that there are Quarrels and Dissentions amongst you:

Now I beseech you, 10^r brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, and in the same judgment.

For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

10^s Of whom the whole Family in Heaven and Earth, is, and ought to be named. If any one has thought St. Paul a loose Writer, it is only because he was a looser Reader. He that takes notice of St. Paul's Design, shall find that there is not a Word, scarce, or Expression that he makes use of, but with relation and tendency to his present main Purpose; as here, intending to abolish the Names of Leaders they distinguished themselves by, he beseeches them by the Name of Christ, a Form that I do not remember he elsewhere use.

11^r Brethren, a Name of Union and Friendship used here twice together by St. Paul, in the entrance of his Persuasion to them, to put an end to their Divisions.

13 ⁱ Etc properly signifies into: So the French translate it here. The Phrase βαπτίζωμαι εἰς, to be baptized into any one's Name, or into any one, is solemnly, by that Ceremony, to enter himself a Disciple of him into whose Name he was baptized, with Profession to receive his Doctrine and Rules, and submit to his Authority: A very good Argument here why they should be called by no one's Name but Christ's.

TH E next Argument of St. Paul, to stop their Followers from glorying in these false Apostles, is, that neither any Advantage of Extraction, nor Skill in the Learning of the Jews, nor in the Philosophy and Eloquence of the Greeks, was that for which God chose Men to be Preachers of the Gospel. Those whom he made choice of for overturning the Mighty and the Learned, were mean, plain, illiterate Men.

18. Quaintness of our Preaching. For the plain insisting on the Death of a crucified Saviour, is, by those who perish, received as a foolish, contemptible Thing; though to us, who are saved, it be the Power of God, conformable to what
19. is prophesied by Isaiab: I will destroy the Wisdom of the Wise, and I will bring to nothing
20. the Understanding of the Prudent. Where is the Philosopher skilled in the Wisdom of the Greeks? Where the Scribe ^k studied in the Learning of the Jews? Where the Professor of Human Arts and Sciences? Hath not God rendered all the Learning and Wisdom of this World foolish and useless, for the Discovery
21. of the Truths of the Gospel? For since the World, by their natural Parts and Improvements in what with them passed for Wisdom, acknowledged not the one only true God, though he had manifested himself to them in the wise Contrivance and admirable Frame of the visible Works of the Creation, it pleased God by the plain, and (as the World esteems 'it) foolish Doctrine of the Gospel, to save those who

For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel; not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

For the preaching of ¹⁸ the cross is to them that perish, foolishness: but unto us which are saved, it is the power of God.

For it is written, I will ¹⁹ destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

Where is the wise? ²⁰ where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

For after that, in the ²¹ wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

NOTES.

²⁰ ^k Scribe was the Title of a learned Man amongst the Jews; one versed in their Law and Rites, which was the Study of their Doctors and Rabbies. It is likely the false Apostle, so much concerned in these two Epistles to the Corinthians, who was a Jew, pretended to something of this Kind, and magnified himself thereupon; otherwise it is not probable that Saint Paul should name to the Corinthians a Sort of Men not much known or valued amongst the Greeks. This therefore may be supposed to be said to take off their glorying in their false Apostle.

22 ¹ Ἐπειδὴ ἵ, since both. The Words used here by St. Paul, are not certainly idle and insignificant, and therefore I see not how they can be omitted in the Translation.

Ἐπειδὴ ἵ is a Word of Reasoning, and, if minded, will lead us into one of St. Paul's Reasonings here, which the Neglect of this Word makes the Reader overlook. St. Paul, in v. 21. argues thus in general : “ Since the World, by their natural Parts and Improvements, did not attain to a right and saving Knowledge of God, God by the Preaching of the Gospel, which seems Foolishness to them, was pleased to communicate that Knowledge to those who believed.”

In the three following Verses he repeats the same Reasoning, a little more expressly applied to the People he had here in his View, viz. Jews and Greeks ; and his Sense seems to be this. “ Since the Jews, to make any Doctrine go down with them, require extraordinary Signs of the Power of God to accompany it, and nothing will please the nice Palates of the learned Greeks but Wisdom, and though our preaching of a crucified Messiah be a Scandal to the Jews, and Foolishness to the Greeks, yet we have what they both seek ; for both Jew and Gentile, when they are called, find the Messiah, whom we preach, to be the Power of God, and Wisdom of God.”

28. the Mighty : The mean Men of the World, and contemptible, has God chosen ; and those that are of no account, are nothing^m, to displace those that are : That so there might be no Room or Pretence for any one to glory in his Presence.
29. Natural Human Abilities, Parts or Wisdom, could never have reached this Way to Happiness : 'Tis to his Wisdom alone that ye owe the Contrivance of it : To his revealing of it that ye owe the Knowledge of it ; and 'tis from him alone that you are in Christ Jesus, whom God has made to us Christians Wisdom, and Righteousness, and Sanctification, and Redemption, which is all the Dignity and Pre-eminence, all that is of any Value amongst us Christians : That as it is written,
31. He that glorieth, should glory only in the Lord.

And base things of the 23 world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen ; yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are :

That no flesh should 29 glory in his presence.

But of him are ye in 30 Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption :

That, according as it is 31 written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

NOTES.

25, 27, 28. He that will read the Context, cannot doubt but that St. Paul, by what he expresses in these Verses in the Neuter Gender, means Persons ; the whole Argument of the Place being about Persons, and their glorying, and not about Things.

28^m Τὰ μὴ ὄντα, Things that are not, I think may well be understood of the Gentiles, who were not the People of God, and were counted as nothing by the Jews ; and we are pointed to this Meaning by the Words καταισχύνει ἔ κατάρχην. By the foolish and weak Things, i. e. by simple, illiterate and mean Men, God would make ashamed the learned Philosophers and great Men of the Nation : But by the μὴ ὄντα, the Things that are not, he would abolish the Things that are, as in effect he did abolish the Jewish Church by the Christian, taking in the Gentiles to be his People, in the Place of the rejected Jews, who till then were his People. This St. Paul mentions here not by chance, but pursuant to his main Design, to stay their glorying in their false Apostle, who was a Jew ; by shewing that whatever that Head of the Faction might claim under that Pretence, as it is plain he did stand upon it (see 2 Cor. XI. 21, 22.) he had not any the least Title to any Esteem or Respect upon that Account, since the Jewish Nation was laid aside, and God had chosen the Gentiles to take their Place, and to be his Church and People instead of them. Vid. Note on Chap. II. v. 6. there one may see, who are the κατάρχην, the Abolished, whom God says here, κατάρχην, he will abolish.

FArther, to keep them from glorying in their Leaders, he tells them, that as the Preachers of the Gospel of God's choosing were mean and illiterate Men, so the Gospel was not to be propagated, nor Men to be established in the Faith by human Learning and Eloquence, but by the Evidence it had from the Revelation contained in the Old Testament, and from the Power of God accompanying and confirming it with Miracles.

1ⁿ τὸ μαρτύριον τοῦ Θεοῦ, The Testimony of God, i. e. what God hath revealed and testifies in the Old Testament. The Apostle here declares to the Corinthians, that when he brought the Gospel to them, he made no use of any human Science, Improvement, or Skill; no Insinuations of Eloquence, no philosophical Speculations, or Ornaments of human Learning appeared in any thing he said to persuade them: All his Arguments were, as he tells them, ver. 4. from the Revelation of the Spirit of God in the Predictions of the Old Testament, and the Miracles which he, Paul, did among them, that their Faith might be built wholly upon the Spirit of God, and not upon the Abilities and Wisdom of Man. Tho' μαρτύριον τοῦ Θεοῦ, the Testimony of God, agrees very well with so much of St. Paul's Meaning, as relates to his founding his Preaching on the Testimony of God, yet those Copies which read μυστήριον, Mystery, for μαρτύριον, Testimony, seem more perfectly to correspond with St. Paul's Sense in the whole Latitude of it. For tho' he owns the Doctrine of the Gospel dictated by the Spirit of God, to be contained in the Scriptures of the Old Testament, and builds upon Revelation; yet he every where teaches, that it remained a Secret there, not understood till they were led into the hidden Evangelical Meaning of those Passages by the Coming of Jesus Christ, and by the Assistance of the Spirit in the Times of the Messiah, and then published to the World by the Preachers of the Gospel: And therefore he calls it, especially that Part of it which relates to the Gentiles, almost every where, μυστήριον, Mystery. NOTES.

³ St. Paul, by thus setting forth his own modest and humble Behaviour amongst them, reflects on the contrary Carriage of their false Apostle, which he describes in the Words at length, 2 Cor. XI. 20.

⁴ There were two Sorts of Arguments wherewith the Apostle confirmed the Gospel: The one was the Revelations made concerning our Saviour by Types and Figures, and Prophecies of him under the Law: The other, Miracles and miraculous Gifts accompanying the first Preachers of the Gospel, in the publishing and propagating of it. The latter of these St. Paul here calls Power; the former in this Chapter he terms Spirit: So ver. 12, 14. Things of the Spirit of God, and spiritual Things, are Things which are revealed by the Spirit of God, and not discoverable by our natural Faculties.

⁵ Their Faith being built wholly on Divine Revelation and Miracle, whereby all human Abilities were shut out, there could be no Reason for any of them to boast themselves of their Teachers, or value themselves upon their being the Followers of this or that Preacher; which St. Paul hereby obviates.

And thus perfect is opposed to carnal, Chap. NOTES.

^u Tho' by ἀρχόντες τῆς αἰῶνος τούτου, may here be understood the Princes or Great Men of this World, in the ordinary Sense of these Words; yet he that well considers ver. 28. of the foregoing Chapter, and ver. 8. of this Chapter, may find reason to think that the Apostle here principally designs the Rulers and Great Men of the Jewish Nation. If it be objected, that there is little ground to think that St. Paul, by the Wisdom he disowns, should mean that of his own Nation, which the Greeks of Corinth (whom he was writing to) had little Acquaintance with, and had very little Esteem for; I reply, that to understand this right, and the Pertinency of it, we must remember, that the great Design of St. Paul, in writing to the Corinthians, was to take them off from the Respect and Esteem that many of them had for a false Apostle that was got in among them, and had there raised a Faction against St. Paul. This pretended Apostle, it is plain from 2 Cor. XI. 22. was a Jew; and, as it seems, 2 Cor. V. 16. 17. valued himself upon that Account, and possibly boasted himself to be a Man of Note, either by Birth, or Alliance, or Place, or Learning, among that People, who counted themselves the holy and illuminated People of God, and therefore to have a right to sway among these new Heathen Converts. To obviate this Claim of his to any Authority, St. Paul here tells the Corinthians, that the Wisdom and Learning of the Jewish Nation led them not into the Knowledge of the Wisdom of God, i. e. the Gospel revealed in the Old Testament, evident in this, that it was their Rulers and Rabbies, who stiffly adhering to the Notions and Prejudices of their Nation, had crucified Jesus the Lord of Glory, and were now themselves, with their State and Religion, upon the point to be swept away and abolished. It is to the same Purpose that, 2 Cor. V. 16—19. he tells the Corinthians, that he knows no Man after the Flesh, i. e. that he acknowledges no Dignity of Birth, or Descent, or outward national Privileges. The old Things of the Jewish Constitution are past and gone; whoever is in Christ, and entered into his Kingdom, is in a new Creation, wherein all Things are new, all Things are from God; no Right, no Claim or Preference derived to any one from any former Institution, but every one's Dignity consists solely in this, that God hath reconciled him to himself, not imputing his former Trespasses to him.

^w αἰὶν τούτου, which we translate this World, seems to me to signify commonly, if not constantly, in the New Testament, that State which, during the Mosaic Constitution, Men, either Jews, or Gentiles, were in, as contra-distinguished to the Evangelical State or Constitution, which is commonly called ἡ αἰὼν μέλλον ἐρχόμενος, The World to come.

^x τὸν καταργητέον, Who are brought to nought, i. e. who are vanishing. If the Wisdom of this World, and of the Princes of this World, be to be understood of the Wisdom and Learning of the World in general, as contra-distinguished to the Doctrine of the Gospel, then the Words are added, to shew what Folly it is for them to glory as they do in their Teachers, when all that worldly Wisdom and Learning, and the Great Men, the Supporters of it, would quickly be gone; whereas all true and lasting Glory came only from Jesus Christ, the Lord of Glory. But if these Words are to be understood of the Jews, as seems most convenient both to the main Design of the Epistle, and to St. Paul's Expressions here; then his telling them that the Princes of the Jewish Nation are brought to nought, is to take them off from glorying in their Judaizing false Apostle, since the Authority of the Rulers of that Nation, in Matters of Religion, was now at an end, and they with all their Pretences, and their very Constitution itself, were upon the point of being abolished and swept away, for having rejected and crucified the Lord of Glory.

NOTES.

^z Wisdom of God, is used here for the Doctrine of the Gospel coming immediately from God by the Revelation of his Spirit, and in this Chapter is set in opposition to all Knowledge, Discoveries and Improvements whatsoever, attainable by human Industry, Parts, and Study; all which he calls the Wisdom of the World, and Man's Wisdom; thus distinguishing the Knowledge of the Gospel which was derived wholly from Revelation, and could be had no other Way, from all other Knowledge whatsoever.

^a What the Spirit of God had revealed of the Gospel, during the Times of the Law, was so little understood by the Jews, in whose sacred Writings it was contained, that it might well be called the Wisdom of God in a Mystery, i. e. declared in obscure Prophecies, and mysterious Expressions and Types. Tho' this be undoubtedly so, as appears by what the Jews both thought and did when Jesus the Messiah, exactly answering what was foretold of him, came amongst them; yet by the Wisdom of God in Mystery wherein it was hid, though purposed by God before the settling of the Jewish Oeconomy, St. Paul seems more particularly to mean what the Gentiles, and consequently the Corinthians, were more peculiarly concerned in, (viz.) God's Purpose of calling the Gentiles to be his People under the Messiah, which, tho' revealed in the Old Testament, yet was not in the least understood till the Times of the Gospel, and the Preaching of St. Paul the Apostle of the Gentiles, which therefore he so frequently calls a Mystery. The reading and comparing Rom. XVI. 25, 26. Eph. III. 3—9. Chap. VI. 19, 20. Col. I. 26, 27. & II. 1—8. & IV. 3, 4. will give light to this. To which give me leave to observe upon the Use of the Word Wisdom here, that St. Paul speaking of God's calling the Gentiles, cannot in mentioning it forbear Expressions of his Admiration of the great and incomprehensible Wisdom of God therein. See Eph. III. 8, 10. Rom. XI. 33.

^b πρὸ τῶν αἰώνων signifies properly, before the Ages; and I think it may be doubted whether these Words, before the World, do exactly render the Sense of the Place. That αἰών or ζῆν, should not be translated the World, as in many Places they are. I shall give one convincing Instance among many that might be brought, viz. Eph. III. 9. compared with Col. I. 26. The Words in Colossians are, τὸ μυστήριον τὸ ἀκρυβητούμενον ἀπὸ τῶν αἰώνων; thus rendered in the English Translation, which hath been hidden from Ages; but in Eph. III. 9. a parallel Place, the same Words, τὸ μυστήριον τὸ ἀκρυβητούμενον ἀπὸ τῶν αἰώνων, are translated, the Mystery which from the Beginning of the World hath been hid: Whereas it is plain, from Col. I. 26. απὸ τῶν αἰώνων does not signify the Epoch or Commencement of the Concealment, but those from whom it was concealed. 'Tis plain, the Apostle in the Verse immediately preceding, and that following this which we have before us, speaks of the Jews; and therefore πρὸ τῶν αἰώνων here, may be well understood to mean, before our Ages of the Jews; and so πρὸ αἰώνων from the Ages of the Jews, in the other two mentioned Texts. Why αἰών in these, and other Places, as Luke I. 70. and Acts III. 21. and else where, should be appropriated to the Ages of the Jews, may be owing to their counting by Ages or Jubilees: See Dr. Bunsiegg's in his Judicious Treatise, Christianity a revealed Mystery, c. 2. p. 17.

NOTES.

^c St. Paul opposes here the true Glory of a Christian to the Glorifying which was amongst the Corinthians, in the Eloquence, Learning, or any other Quality of their factious Leaders; for St. Paul, in all his Expressions, has an Eye on his main Purpose: As if he should have said; "Why do you make Divisions, by glorying, as you do, in your distinct Teachers? The Glory that God has ordained us Christian Teachers and Professors to, is to be Expounders, Preachers, and Believers of those revealed Truths and Purposes of God, which, though contained in the sacred Scriptures of the Old Testament, were not understood in former Ages. This is all the Glory that belongs to us the Disciples of Christ, who is the Lord of all Power and Glory, and herein has given us what far excels all that either Jews or Gentiles had any Expectation of from what they gloried in; vid. ver. 9." Thus St. Paul takes away all Matter of Glorying from the false Apostle, and his factious Followers among the Corinthians. And that he speaks of himself, is plain from the next Verse, where he saith, We speak not in the Words which Man's Wisdom teacheth; the same which he says of himself, *Ch. I. 17. C O N T E N T S.

THE next Matter of Boasting which the Faction made use of to give the Pre-eminence and Preference to their Leader above St. Paul, seems to have been this, that their new Teacher had led them farther, and given them a deeper Insight into the Mysteries of the Gospel than St. Paul had done. To take away their Glorifying glorying on this Account, St. Paul tells them, that they were carnal, ^{Chap. III.} and not capable of those more advanced Truths, or any thing beyond the first Principles of Christianity which he had taught them; and though another had come and watered what he had planted, yet neither Planter, nor Waterer, could assume to himself any Glory from thence, because it was God alone that gave the Increase. But whatever new Doctrines they might pretend to receive from their magnified new Apostle, yet no Man could lay any other Foundation in a Christian Church, but what he, St. Paul, had laid, viz. that Jesus is the Christ; and therefore there was no Reason to glory in their Teachers, because, upon this Foundation, they possibly might build false or unsound Doctrines, for which they should receive no Thanks from God, though continuing in the Faith, they might be saved. Some of the particular Hay and Stubble which this Leader brought into the Church at Corinth, he seems particularly to point at, Chap. III. 16, 17. viz. their defiling the Church by retaining, and, as it may be supposed, patronizing the Fornicator, who should have been turned out, Ch. V. 7—13. He further adds, that these extolled Heads of their Party were at best but Men; and none of the Church ought to glory in Men: For even Paul, and Apollos, and Peter, and all the other Preachers of the Gospel, were for the Use and Benefit, and Glory of the Church, as the Church was for the Glory of Christ.

Moreover, he shews them, that they ought not to be puffed up upon the Account of these their new Teachers, to the undervaluing of him, though it should be true, that they had learned more from them, than from himself; for these Reasons:

1. Because all the Preachers of the Gospel are but Stewards of the Mysteries of God; and whether they have been faithful in their Stewardship cannot be now known; and therefore they ought not to be some of them magnified and extolled, and others depressed and blamed by their Hearers here, till Christ their Lord came, and then he, knowing how they have behaved themselves in their Ministry, will give them their due Praises. Besides, these Stewards have nothing but what they have received, and therefore no Glory belongs to them for it.

2. Because, if these Leaders were (as was pretended) Apostles, Glory, and Honour, and outward Affluence here, was not their Portion, the Apostles being destined to Want, Contempt, and Persecution.

II. 14. it is to φυσικός, Natural, or rather Animal; so that here we have three Sorts of Men: 1. Carnal, i. e. such as are swayed by fleshly Passions and Interests; 2. Animal, i. e. such as seek Wisdom, or a Way to Happiness only by the Strength and Guidance of their own natural Parts, without any supernatural Light coming from the Spirit of God, i. e. by Reason without Revelation, by Philosophy without Scripture; 3. Spiritual, i. e. such as seek their Direction to Happiness, not in the Dictates of natural Reason and Philosophy, but in the Revelations of the Spirit of God in the Holy Scriptures.

^l Here σαρκινός, carnal, is opposed to πνευματικός, spiritual, in the same Sense that φυσικός, natural or animal, is opposed to πνευματικός, spiritual, Chap. II. 14. as appears by the Explanation which St. Paul himself gives here to σαρκινός, carnal: For he makes the Carnal to be all one with Babes in Christ, ver. 1. i. e. such as had not their Understandings yet fully opened to the true Grounds of the Christian Religion, but retained a great many childish Thoughts about it, as appeared by their Divisions, one for the Doctrine of his Master Paul, another for that of his Master Apollos; which, if they had been spiritual, i. e. had looked upon the Doctrine of the Gospel to have come solely from the Spirit of God, and to be had only from Revelation, they could not have done; for then all human Mixtures of anything, derived either from Paul or Apollos, or any other Man, had been wholly excluded. But they in these Divisions professed to hold their Religion, one from one Man, and another from another; and were thereupon divided into Parties. This he tells them was to be carnal, and περιπατεῖν κατὰ ἄνθρωπον, to be led by Principles purely human, i. e. to found their Religion upon Mens natural Parts and Discoveries; wh. was the Gospel was wholly built upon Divine Revelation, and nothing else, and from thence alone those who were πνευματικοὶ took it.

^q From this 4th Verse, compared with Chap. V. 6. it may be no improbable Conjecture that the Division in this Church was only into two opposite Parties ; whereof the one adhered to St. Paul, the other stood up for their Head, a false Apostle, who opposed St. Paul : For the Apollon whom St. Paul mentions here, was one (as he tells us, ver. 6.) who came in and watered what he had planted, i. e. when St. Paul had planted a Church at Corinth, this Apollon got into it, and pretended to instruct them farther, and boasted in his Performances amongst them, which St. Paul takes notice of again, 2 Cor. X. 15, 16. Now the Apollon that he here speaks of, he himself tells us, Chap. IV. 6. was another Man under that borrowed Name. 'Tis true, St. Paul, in his Epistles to the Corinthians, generally speaks of these his Opposers in the Plural Number ; but it is to be remembered, that he speaks so of himself too, which as it was the less invidious Way in regard to himself, so it was the softer Way towards his Opposer, though he seems to intimate plainly, that it was one Leader that was set up against him.

What are they else but bare Ministers, by whose Ministry, according to those several Abilities and Gifts which God has bestowed upon each of them, ye have received the Gospel? They are only Servants, employed to bring unto you a Religion derived entirely from Divine Revelation, wherein human Abilities, or Wisdom, had nothing to do. The Preachers of it are only Instruments by whom this Doctrine is conveyed to you; which, whether you look on it in its Original, is not a Thing of human Invention or Discovery; or whether you look upon the Gifts of the Teachers who instruct you in it, all is intirely from God alone, and affords you not the least Ground to attribute any thing to your Teachers. V. 9. & VI. 13—20.* Most of the Disorders in this Church we may look on as owing to this false Apostle, which is the Reason why St. Paul sets himself so much against him in both these Epistles, and makes almost the whole Business of them to draw the Corinthians off from this Leader; judging, as 'tis like, that this Church could not be reformed as long as that Person was in Credit, and had a Party among them.

18^w What it was wherein the Craftiness of the Person mentioned had appeared, it was not necessary for St. Paul, writing to the Corinthians, who knew the Matter of Fact, to particularize to us, therefore it is left to guess; and possibly we shall not be much out, if we take it to be the keeping the Fornicator from Censure, so much insisted on by St. Paul, *Chap. For all other Wisdom, all the Wisdom of the World, is Foolishness with God: For it is written, He taketh the Wife in their own Craftiness. And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wife, that they are vain. Therefore let none of you glory in any of your Teachers, for they are but Men. For all your Teachers, whether Paul, or Apollos, or Peter, even the Apostles themselves, nay, all the World, and even the World to come, all Things are yours, for your Sake and Use; as you are Christ's Subjects, of his Kingdom, for his Glory, and Christ and his Kingdom for the Glory of God. Therefore if all your Teachers, and so many other greater Things are for you, and for your Sakes, you can have no reason to make it a Glory to you, that you belong to this or that particular Teacher amongst you; your true Glory is, that you are Christ's, and Christ and all his are God's, and not that you are this or that Man's Scholar or Follower.

Then judge not either me or others before the Time, until the Lord come, who will bring to light the dark and secret Counsels of Men's Hearts, in preaching the Gospel; and then shall every one have that Praise, that Estimate set upon him by God himself, which he truly deserves. But Praise ought not to be given them before the Time by their Hearers, who are ignorant,

On this Occasion, I have named Apollos and myself^y, as the magnified and opposed Heads of distinct Factions amongst you, not that we are so, but out of respect to you, that I might offend no body by naming them; and that you may learn by us, of whom I have written^z, that we are but Planters,

Moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. 2

But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self. 3

For I know nothing by myself, yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord. 4

Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God. 5

And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself, and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learn in us, not to think of men 6

¹⁶ ^d This he presses again, Chap. XI. 1. and 'tis not likely he would have proposed himself over and over again to them, to be followed by them, had the Question and Contest amongst them been only whose Name they should have borne, his or their new Teacher's. His proposing himself therefore thus to be followed, must be understood in direct Opposition to the false Apostle, who misled them, and was not to be suffered to have any Credit or Followers amongst them.

¹⁷ ^e This he does to shew that what he taught them, and pressed them to, was not in a Pique against his Opposer, but to convince them, that all he did at Corinth was the very same, and no other than what he did every where, as a faithful Steward and Minister of the Gospel.

S E C T. II. N. 6.

C O N T E N T S.

A Nother Means which St. Paul makes use of to bring off the Corinthians from their false Apostle, and to stop their Veneration of him, and their glorying in him, is by representing to them the Fault and Disorder which was committed in that Church, by not judging and expelling the Fornicator; which Neglect, as may be guessed, was owing to that Faction:

1. Because it is natural for a Faction to support and protect an Offender that is of their Side.

2. From the great Fear St. Paul was in, whether they would obey him in censuring the Offender, as appears by the second Epistle; which he could not fear, but from the opposite Faction: they who had preserved their Respect to him, being sure to follow his Orders.

3. From what he says, Chap. IV. 16. after he had told them, ver. 6. of that Chapter, that they should not be puffed up for any other against him, for so the whole Scope of his Discourse here imports; he beseeches them to be his Followers, i. e. leaving their other

Chap. IV. Guides to follow him in punishing the Offender. For that we may conclude, from his immediately insisting on it so earnestly, he had in his View, when he beseeches them to be Followers of him; and consequently, that they might join with him, and take him for their Leader, Chap. V. 3, 4. he makes himself by his Spirit, as his Proxy, the President of their Assembly, to be convened for the punishing that Criminal.

4. It may further be suspected, from what St. Paul says, Cb. VI. 1. that the opposite Party, to stop the Church-Censure, pretended that this was a Matter to be judged by the Civil Magistrate: Nay, possibly from what is said, ver. 6. of that Chapter, it may be gathered, that they had got it brought before the Heathen Judge; or at least, from ver. 12. that they pleaded, that what he had done was lawful, and might be justified before the Magistrate: For the Judging spoken of, Cb. VI. must be understood to relate to the same Matter it does Cb. V. it being a Continuation of the same Discourse and Argument; as is easy to be observed by any one who will read it without regarding the Divisions into Chapters and Verses, whereby ordinary People (not to say others) are often disturbed in reading the Holy Scripture, and hindered from observing the true Sense and Coherence of it. The whole VIth Chapter is spent in prosecuting the Business of the Fornicator, began in the Vth. That this is so, is evident from the latter End, as well as Beginning of the VIth Chapter. And therefore what St. Paul says of lawful, Chapter VI. 12. may, without any Violence, be supposed to be said in answer to some, who might have alledged in favour of the Fornicator, that what he had done was lawful, and might be justified by the Laws of the Country, which he was under; why else should St. Paul subjoin so many Arguments (wherewith he concludes this VIth Chapter, and this Subject) to prove the Fornication in Question to be, by the Law of the Gospel, a great Sin, and consequently fit for a Christian Church to censure in one of its Members, however it might pass for lawful in the Esteem, and by the Laws, of Gentiles?

There is one Objection, which, at first sight, seems to be a strong Argument against this Supposition, that the Fornication here spoken of, was held lawful by the Gentiles of Corinth, and that possibly this very Case had been brought before the Magistrate there and not condemned. The Objection seems to lie in these Words; Chap. V. 1. There is Fornication heard of amongst you, and such Fornication as is not heard of amongst the Gentiles, that one should have his Father's

Father's Wife. But yet I conceive the Words, duly considered, have nothing in them contrary to my Supposition. Chap. IV.

To clear this, I take liberty to say, it cannot be thought that this Man had his Father's Wife, whilst by the Laws of the Place she actually was his Father's Wife; for then it had been μοιχεῖα and Adultery, and so the Apostle would have called it, which was a Crime in Greece; nor could it be tolerated in any Civil Society, that one Man should have the Use of a Woman, whilst she was another Man's Wife, i. e. another Man's Right and Possession.

The Case therefore here seems to be this: The Woman had parted from her Husband; which it is plain, from Cb. VII. 10, 11, 13. at Corinth Women could do: For if by the Law of that Country a Woman could not divorce herself from her Husband, the Apostle had there in vain bid her not leave her Husband.

But however known and allowed a Practice it might be amongst the Corinthians, for a Woman to part from her Husband, yet this was the first Time it was ever known that her Husband's own Son should marry her. This is that which the Apostle takes notice of in these Words, Such a Fornication as is not named amongst the Gentiles. Such a Fornication this was, so little known in Practice amongst them, that it was not so much as heard named, or spoken of by any of them: But whether they held it unlawful that a Woman, so separated, should marry her Husband's Son, when she was looked upon to be at liberty from her former Husband, and free to marry whom she pleased, that the Apostle says not. This indeed he declares, that by the Law of Christ a Woman's leaving her Husband, and marrying another, is unlawful, Cb. VII. 11. and this Woman's marrying her Husband's Son, he declares, Cb. V. 1. (the Place before us) to be Fornication; a peculiar Sort of Fornication, whatever the Corinthians, or their Law, might determine in the Case: And therefore a Christian Church might and ought to have censured it within themselves, it being an Offence against the Rule of the Gospel; which is the Law of their Society: And they might and should have expelled this Fornicator out of their Society, for not submitting to the Laws of it; notwithstanding that the Civil Laws of the Country, and the Judgment of the Heathen Magistrate, might acquit him. Suitably hereunto, it is very remarkable, that the Arguments that St. Paul uses, in the Close of this Discourse, Cb. VI. 13—20. to prove Fornication unlawful, are all drawn solely from the Christian Institution, ver. 9. That our Bodies are made for the Lord, ver. 13. That our Bodies

Chap. IV. are Members of Christ, ver. 15. That our Bodies are the Temples of the Holy Ghost, ver. 19. That we are not our own, but bought with a Price, ver. 20. All which Arguments concern Christians only; and there is not in all this Discourse against Fornication, one Word to declare it to be unlawful by the Law of Nature to Mankind in general: That was altogether needless, and besides the Apostle's Purpose here, where he was teaching and exhorting Christians what they were to do as Christians, within their own Society, by the Law of Christ, which was to be their Rule, and was sufficient to oblige them; whatever other Laws the rest of Mankind observed, or were under, those he professes, Chap. V. 12, 13. not to meddle with, nor to judge: For having no Authority amongst them, he leaves them to the Judgment of God, under whose Government they are.

These Considerations afford Ground to conjecture, that the Faction which opposed St. Paul, had hindered the Church of Corinth from censuring the Fornicator; and that St. Paul, shewing them their Miscarriage herein, aims thereby to lessen the Credit of their Leader, by whose Influence they were drawn into it: For as soon as they had unanimously shewn their Obedience to St. Paul in this Matter, we see his Severity ceases, and he is all Softness and Gentleness to the Offender, 2 Cor. II. 5—8. and he tells them, in express Words, ver. 9. that his End, in writing to them of it, was to try their Obedience. To which let me add, that this Supposition, though it had not all the Evidence for it which it has, yet being suited to St. Paul's principal Design in this Epistle, and helping us the better to understand these two Chapters, may deserve to be mentioned.

21 WHat will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?
 1 It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named amongst the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.
 2 And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.

 In short, it is commonly reported, that there is Fornication among you, and such Fornication as is not known ordinarily among the Heathen, that one should have his Father's Wife; and yet ye remain puffed up, though it would better have become you to have been dejected for this scandalous Fact amongst you, and, in a mournful Sense of it, to have removed the Offender out of the Church. For I truly, though absent in Body, yet, as present in Spirit, have thus already judged, as if I were personally with you, him that committed this Fact. When in the Name of the Lord Jesus ye are assembled, and my Spirit, i. e. my Vote, as if I were present, making one by the Power of our Lord Jesus Christ, deliver the Offender up to Satan, that being put thus into 21 ^f He that shall carefully read 2 Cor. I. 20—II. 11. will easily perceive that this last Verse here of this IVth Chapter is an Introduction to the severe Act or Discipline which St. Paul was going to exercise amongst them, tho' absent, as if he had been present; and therefore this Verse ought not to have been separated from the following Chapter, as if it belonged not to that Discourse.

1 ^z Vid. Chap. IV. 8, 10. The Writers of the New Testament seem to use the Greek Word πορνεία, which we translate Fornication, in the same Sense that the Hebrews used פְּדָוָה, which we also translate Fornication; tho' it be certain both these Words, in sacred Scripture, have a larger Sense than the Word Fornication has in our Language: For פְּדָוָה, amongst the Hebrews, signified, Turpitudinem, or Rem turpem, Uncleaness, or any flagitious scandalous Crime; but more especially the Uncleaness of unlawful Copulation and Idolatry, and not precisely Fornication in our Sense of the Word, i. e. the unlawful Mixture of an unmarried Couple.

^h Not known. That the marrying of a Son-in-law and a Mother-in-law, was not prohibited by the Laws of the Roman Empire, may be seen in Tully; but yet it was looked on as to scandalous and infamous, that it never had any Countenance from Præice. His Words in his Oration pro Cluentio, § 4. are so agreeable to the present Case, that it may not be amiss to set them down: Nubit genero, socius, nullis auspiciis, nullis auctoribus. O scelus incredibile, & præter hanc unam in omni vita inauditum!

6. to judge the World. Your gloryingⁱ, as you do in a Leader, who drew you into this scandalous Indulgence^k in this Cafe, is a Fault in you; ye that are knowing, know you not that a little Leaven leaveneth the whole^l Lump?
7. Therefore laying by that Deference and Veneration ye had for those Leaders you gloried in, turn out from among you that Fornicator, that the Church may receive no Taint from him; that you may be a pure new Lump, or Society, free from such a dangerous Mixture, which may corrupt you. For Christ, our Pass-
8. over, is slain for us; therefore let us, in commemoration of his Death, and our Deliverance
9. by him, be a holy People to him^m. I wrote to you before, that you should not keep com-
10. pany with Fornicators. You are not to understand by it, as if I meant, that you are to avoid all unconverted Heathens, that are Fornicators, or Covetous, or Rapacious, or Idolaters; for then you must go out of the 11. World. But that which I now write unto you, is, that you should not keep company, no, nor eat with a Christian by Profession, who is lascivious, covetous, idolatrous, a Raiunto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

Your glorying is not good: know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

Purge out therefore the 7 old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened: for even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us.

Therefore let us keep 8 the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

I wrote unto you in an 9 epistle, not to company with fornicators.

Yet not altogether with 10 the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world.

But now I have written 11 unto you, not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one, no not to eat.

NOTES.

6ⁱ Glorying is all along in the Beginning of this Epistle spoken of the Preference they gave to their new Leader, in opposition to St. Paul.

^k If their Leader had not been guilty of this Miscarriage, it had been out of St. Paul's Way, here to have reproved them for their glorying in him. But St. Paul is a close Writer, and uses not to mention Things, where they are impertinent to his Subject.

^l What reason he had to say this, vid. 2 Cor. XII. 21. — Grex totus in agris

There was another concessus triumviralis, which were chosen by the Parties; these, though they were not authentick, yet could judge and determine the Causes referred to them; these were those whom St. Paul calls here ἑξουθενούμενοι, Judices non Authenticos, i. e. Referees chosen by the Parties: See de Dieu. That St. Paul does not mean by ἑξουθενούμενοι, those who are least esteemed, as our English Translation reads it, is plain from the next Verse.

NOTES.

⁸ That the Wrong here spoken of, was the Fornicator's taking and keeping his Father's Wife, the Words of St. Paul, 2 Cor. VII. 12. instancing this very Wrong, are a sufficient Evidence. And it is not wholly improbable there had been some Hearing of this Matter before a Heathen Judge, or at least talked of ; which, if supposed, will give a great Light to this whole Passage, and several others in these Chapters. For thus visibly runs St. Paul's Argument, Chap. V. 12, 13. Chap. VI. 1, 2, 3. &c. coherent and easy to be understood, if it stood together, as it should, and were not chopped in pieces, by a Division into two Chapters. Ye have a Power to judge those who are of your Church, therefore put away from among you that Fornicator : You do ill to let it come before a Heathen Magistrate. Are you, who are to judge the World and Angels, not worthy to judge such a Matter as this?

But ¹ supposing Fornication were in itself as lawful as eating promiscuously all Sorts of Meat that are made for the Belly, on purpose to be eaten; yet I would not so far indulge either Custom, or my Appetite, as to bring my Body thereby into any disadvantageous State of Subjection: As in Eating and Drinking, though Meat be made purposely for the Belly, and the Belly for Meat; yet because it may not be expedient^u for me, I will not, in so evidently a lawful Thing as that, go to the utmost Bounds of

NOTES.

^s Ἐδικαίωσθε, ye are become just, i. e. are reformed in your Lives. See it so used, Rev. XXII. 11.

¹² ¹ St. Paul having, upon occasion of Injustice amongst them, particularly in the Matter of the Fornicator, warned them against that and other Sins that exclude Men from Salvation, he here re-assumes his former Argument about Fornication; and by his Reasoning here, it looks as if some among them had pleaded that Fornication was lawful. To which he answers, that granting it to be so, yet the Lawfulness of all wholesome Food reached not the Case of Fornication; and shews, by several Instances (as particularly the degrading the Body, and making what in a Christian is the Member of Christ, the Member of an Harlot) that Fornicator, upon several Accounts, might be so unsuitable to the State of a Christian Man, that a Christian Society might have Reason to animadvert upon a Fornicator, though Fornication might pass for an indifferent Action in another Man.

^u Expedient, and brought under Power, in this Verse seems to refer to the two Parts of the following Verse; the first of them to Eating, in the first Part of the 13th Verse, and the latter of them to Fornication, in the latter Part of the 13th Verse. To make this the more intelligible, it may be fit to remark, that St. Paul here seems to obviate such a Sort of Reasoning as this, in behalf of the Fornicator. "All Sorts of Meats are lawful to Christians who are set free from the Law of Moses, and why are they not so in regard of Women who are at their own Disposals? To which St. Paul replies: Though my Belly was made only for eating, and all Sorts of Meat were made to be eaten, and so are lawful for me; yet I will abstain from what is lawful, if it be not convenient for me, though my Belly will be certain to receive no Prejudice by it, which will affect it in the other World, since God will there put an end to the Belly, and all Use of Food. But as to the Body of a Christian, the Case is quite otherwise; that was not made for the Enjoyment of Women, but for a much nobler End, to be a Member of Christ's Body, and so shall last for ever, and not be destroyed as the Belly shall be. Therefore supposing Fornication to be lawful in itself, I will not so debase and subject my Body, and do it that Prejudice, as to take that which is a Member of Christ, and make it the Member of an Harlot; this ought to be had in detestation by all Christians." The

13. of my Liberty, though there be no Danger that I should thereby bring any lasting Damage upon my Belly, since God will speedily put an end both to Belly and Food. But the Case of the Body, in reference to Women, is far different from that of the Belly, in reference to Meats. For the Body is not made to be joined to a Woman^w, much less to be joined to an Harlot in Fornication; as the Belly is made for Meat, and then to be put an end to when that Use ceases. But the Body is for a much nobler Purpose, and shall subsist when the Belly and Food shall be destroyed. The Body is for our Lord Christ, to be a Member of him; as our Lord Christ has taken a Body^x, that he might partake of our Nature, and be our 14. Head. So that as God has already raised him up, and given him all Power, so he will raise us up likewise, who are his Members, to^y the partaking in the Nature of his glorious Body, and
- Meats for the belly, and 13 the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord; and the Lord for the body.
- And God hath both 14 raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

NOTES.

Context is so plain in the Case, Interpreters allow St. Paul to discourse here upon a Supposition of the Lawfulness of Fornication. Nor will it appear at all strange that he does so, if we consider the Argument he is upon. He is here convincing the Corinthians, that though Fornication were to them an indifferent Thing, and were not condemned in their Country more than eating any Sort of Meat, yet there might be Reasons why a Christian Society might punish it in their own Members by Church-Censures, and Expulsion of the Guilty. Conformably hereunto we see, in what follows here, that all the Arguments used by St. Paul against Fornication, are brought from the Incongruity it hath with the State of a Christian as a Christian; but nothing is said against it as a Fault in a Man as a Man, no Plea used that it is a Sin in all Men by the Law of Nature. A Christian Society, without entering into that Enquiry, or going so far as that, had reason to condemn and censure it, as not comporting with the Dignity and Principles of that Religion which was the Foundation of their Society.

13 Woman. I have put in this to make the Apostle's Sense understood the easier; for he arguing here as he does, upon the Supposition that Fornication is in itself lawful. Fornication in these Words must mean the supposed lawful Enjoyment of a Woman, otherwise it will not answer the foregoing Instance of the Belly and Eating.

^w And the Lord for the Body, see Heb. II. 5—18.

14 ^y ὡς τῆς; δυνατέων ἑαυτοῦ, To his Power. The Context and Design of St. Paul here, strongly incline one to take εἰς here to signify as it does, 2 Pet. I. 3. to, and not by. St. Paul is is here making out to the Corinthian Converts, that they have a Power to judge. He tells them that they shall judge the World, ver. 2. And that they shall judge Angels, much more then Things of this Life, ver. 3. And for their not judging he blames them, and tells them it is a lessening to them, not to exercise this Power, ver. 7. And for it he gives a Reason in this Verse, viz. That Christ is raised up into the Power of God, and so shall they be. Unless it be taken in this Sense, this Verse seems to stand alone here: For what Connection has the Mention of the Resurrection, in the ordinary Sense of this Verse, with what the Apostle is saying here, but raising us up with Bodies to be Members of his glorious Body, and to partake in his Power in judging the World? This adds a great Honour and Dignity to our Bodies, and is a Reason why we should not debase them into the Members of an Harlot. These Words also give a Reason of his saying, he would not be brought under the Power of any Thing, ver. 12. (viz.) " Shall I, whose Body is a Member of Christ, and shall be raised to the Power he has now in Heaven, suffer my Body to be a Member, and under the Power of an Harlot? That I will never do, let Fornication in itself be never so lawful." If this be not the Meaning of St. Paul here, I desire to know to what purpose it is that he so expressly declares that the Belly and Meat shall be destroyed, and does so manifestly put an Opposition between the Body and the Belly, ver. 13.

THE chief Business of the foregoing Chapters we have seen to be the lessening the false Apostle's Credit, and the extinguishing that Faction. What follows, is in answer to some Questions they had proposed to St. Paul. This Section contains conjugal Matters, wherein he dissuades from Marriage those who have the Gift of Continence. But Marriage being appointed as a Remedy against Fornication, those who cannot forbear, should marry, and render to each other due Benevolence. Next he teaches that Converts ought not to forsake their unconverted Mates, insomuch as Christianity changes nothing in Mens civil Estate, but leaves them under the same Obligations they were tied by before. And last of all, he gives Directions about marrying, or not marrying their Daughters.

PARAPHRASE.

1 NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: it is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

5 Defraud you not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

C Concerning those Things that ye have written to me about, I answer, it is most convenient not to have to do with a Woman. But because every one cannot forbear, therefore they that cannot contain, should, both Men and Women, each have their own peculiar Husband and Wife, to avoid Fornication. And those that are married, for the same Reason, are to regulate themselves by the Disposition and Exigency of their respective Mates; and therefore let the Husband render to the Wife that Benevolence^a which is her due, and so likewise the Wife to the Husband, vice versa. For the Wife has not Power or Dominion over her own Body, to refuse the Husband when he desires; but this Power and Right to her Body is in the Husband: And, on the other Side, the Husband has not the Power and Dominion over his own Body, to refuse his Wife when she shews an Inclination; but this Power and Right to his Body, when she has Occasion, is in the Wife^b. Do not, in this Matter, be wanting one to another, unless it be by mutual Consent for a short Time, that you may wholly attend to Acts of Devotion, when ye fast upon some solemn Occasion; and when this Time of solemn Devotion is over, return to your former Freedom and Conjugal Society, lest the Devil, taking advantage of your Inability to con-were Christian: For in this Case the unbelieving Husband is sanctified^d, or made a Christian, as to his Issue, in his Wife, and the Wife sanctified in her Husband. If it were not so, the Children of such Parents would be unclean^d, i. e. in the State of Heathens; but now are they holy^d, i. e. born Members of the Christian Church.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.

But if the unbelieving Party will separate, let them separate. A Christian Man or Woman is not enslaved in such a Case; only it is to be remembered, that it is incumbent on us, whom God in the Gospel has called to be Christians, to live peaceably with all Men, as much as in us lieth; and therefore the Christian Husband or Wife is not to make a Breach in the Family, by leaving the unbelieving Party, who is content to stay.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

For what knowest thou, O Woman, but thou mayest be the Means of converting, and so saving thy unbelieving Husband, if thou continuest peaceably as a loving Wife with him? Or what knowest thou, O Man, but after the same Manner thou mayest save thy Wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk: and so ordain I in all churches.

On this Occasion let me give you this general Rule; whatever Condition God has allotted to any of you, let him continue and go on contentedly in the same^e State wherein he was called, not look-

14^d Ἱγιαζαι, sanctified, ἁγια, holy, and ἀκάθαρτα, unclean, are used here by the Apostle in the Jewish Sense. The Jews called all that were Jews, holy; and all others they called unclean. Thus proles genita extra sanctitatem, was a Child begot by Parents whilst they were yet Heathens; genita intra sanctitatem, was a Child begot by Parents after they were Profelytes. This Way of Speaking St. Paul transfers from the Jewish into the Christian Church, calling all that are of the Christian Church Saints, or holy; by which Reason all that were out of it were unclean. See Note, Chap. I. 2.

17^e ὡς signifies here not the Manner of his Calling, but the State and Condition of Life he was in when called; and therefore ἕτως must signify the same too, as the next Verse shews.

- ing on himself as set free from it by his Conversion to Christianity. And this is no more than what I order in all the Churches. For example, was any one converted to Christianity, being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised: Was any one called, being uncircumcised? let him not be circumcised. Circumcision or Uncircumcision are nothing in the Sight of God; but that which he has a Regard to, is an Obedience to his Commands. Christianity gives not any one any new Privilege to change the State, or put off ^f the Obligations of Civil Life, which he was in before.
21. Wert thou called, being a Slave? think thyself not the less a Christian for being a Slave; but yet prefer Freedom to Slavery, if thou canst obtain it. For he that is converted to Christianity, being a Bond-man, is Christ's Freed-man ^g: And he that is converted, being a Free-man, is Christ's Bond-man, under his Com-

Is any man called being ¹⁸ circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised: is any called in uncircumcision? let him not become circumcised.

Circumcision is nothing, ¹⁹ and uncircumcision is nothing; but the keeping of the commandments of God.

Let every man abide in ²⁰ the same calling wherein he was called.

Art thou called being ²¹ a servant? care not for it; but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

For he that is called in ²² the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's free-man: likewise also he that is called being free, is Christ's servant.

NOTES.

²⁰ ^f Μενέτω, Let him abide. 'Tis plain from what immediately follows, that this is not an absolute Command; but only signifies, that a Man should not think himself discharged by the Privilege of his Christian State, and the Franchises of the Kingdom of Christ, which he was entered into, from any Ties or Obligations he was in as a Member of the Civil Society. And therefore, for the settling a true Notion thereof in the Mind of the Reader, it has been thought convenient to give that which is the Apostle's Sense to ver. 17, 20, & 24. of this Chapter, in Words somewhat different from the Apostle's. The thinking themselves freed by Christianity from the Ties of Civil Society and Government, was a Fault, it seems, that those Christians were very apt to run into. For St. Paul, for the preventing their Thoughts of any Change of any thing of their Civil State upon their embracing Christianity, thinks it necessary to warn them against it three Times in the Compass of seven Verses, and that in the Form of a direct Command not to change their Condition or State of Life: Whereby he intends that they should not change upon a Presumption that Christianity gave them a new or peculiar Liberty so to do. For, notwithstanding the Apostle's positively bidding them remain in the same Condition in which they were at their Conversion; yet it is certain it was lawful for them, as well as the others, to change, where it was lawful for them to change without being Christians.

23^h Slaves were bought and sold in the Market, as Cattle are; and so by the Price paid, there was a Propriety acquired in them. This therefore here, is a Reason for what he advised, ver. 21. that they should not be Slaves to Men, because Christ had paid a Price for them, and they belonged to him. The Slavery he speaks of, is Civil Slavery; which he makes use of here to convince the Corinthians, that the Civil Ties of Marriage were not to be dissolved by a Man's becoming a Christian, since Slavery itself was not: and in general, in the next Verse he tells them, that nothing in any Man's Civil Estate or Rights, is altered by his becoming a Christian.

25ⁱ By Virgins, 'tis plain St. Paul here means those of both Sexes, who are in a celibate State. 'Tis probable he had formerly dissuaded them from Marriage in the present State of the Church. This, it seems, they were uneasy under, ver. 28, & 35. and therefore sent some Questions to St. Paul about it; and particularly, What then should Men do with their Daughters? Upon which Occasion, ver. 27—37. he gives Directions to the Unmarried about their marrying or not marrying; and, in the close, ver. 38. answers to the Parents about marrying their Daughters; and then, ver. 39, & 40. he speaks of Widows.

ment Christians are like to have from a married Life in the present State of Things; and so I leave
 29. you the liberty of marrying. But give me leave to tell you, that the Time for enjoying Husbands and Wives, is but short¹: But be that as it will, this is certain, that those who have Wives, should be as if they had them not, and not set their 30. Hearts upon them: And they that weep, as if they wept not; and they that rejoice, as if they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as if they possessed not: All these Things should be done with 31. Resignation, and a Christian Indifferency. And those who use this World, should use it without an Over-relish of it^m, without giving themselves up to the Enjoyment of it; for the Scene of Things is always changing in this World, 32. and nothing can be relied on in itⁿ. All the Reason why I dissuade you from Marriage, is, that I would have you free from anxious Cares:
 He that is unmarried, has Time and Liberty to 33. mind Things of Religion, how he may please the Lord: But he that is married, is taken up with the Cares of the World, how he may 34. please his Wife. The like Difference there is between a married Woman and a Maid: She that is unmarried, has Opportunity to mind the Things of Religion, that she may be holy in Mind and Body; but the married Woman is taken up with the Cares of the World, how to such shall have trouble in the flesh; but I spare you.

But this I say, bre- 29
 thren, the time is short:
 It remaineth, that both they that have wives, be as though they had none;

And they that weep, 30
 as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

And they that use this 31
 world, as not abusing it:
 for the fashion of this world passeth away.

But I would have you 32 without carefulness. He that is unmarried, careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord.

But he that is married, 33 careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

There is difference also 34 between a wife and a virgin: the unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit, not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely towards his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that please her Husband. This I say to you for your particular Advantage, not to lay any Constraint upon you°, but to put you in a Way wherein you may most suitably, and as best becomes Christianity, apply yourselves to the Study and Duties of the Gospel, without Distraction. But if any one thinks that he carries not himself as becomes him to his Virgin, if he lets her pass the Flower of her Age unmarried, and need so requires, let him do as he thinks fit; he sins not, if he marry her. But whoever is settled in a firm Resolution of Mind, and finds himself under no Necessity of marrying, and is Master of his own Will, or is at his own Disposal, and has so determined in his Thoughts, that he will keep his Virginity^p, he chooses

NOTES.

35 ° Ερῶχθ, which we translate a Snare, signifies a Cord; which possibly the Apostle might, according to the Language of the Hebrew School, use here for Binding; and then his Discourse runs thus: Though I have declared it my Opinion, that it is best for a Virgin to remain unmarried, yet I bind it not; i. e. I do not declare it to be unlawful to marry.

37 ° Παρῆεν seems used here for the Virgin-State, and not the Person of a Virgin; whether there be Examples of the like Use of it, I know not, and therefore I propose it as my Conjecture, upon these Grounds. 1. Because the Resolution of Mind here spoken of, must be in the Person to be married, and not in the Father that has the Power over the Person concerned; for how will the Firmness of Mind of the Father hinder Fornication in the Child, who has not that Firmness? 2. The Necessity of Marriage can only be judged of by the Persons themselves. A Father cannot feel the Child's Flames which make the Need of Marriage: The Persons themselves only know whether they burn, or have the Gift of Continence. 3. Ἐξουσίαν ἔχει περὶ τῆ ἑαυτοῦ βουλή, hath the Power over his own Will, must either signify, can govern his own Desires, is Master of his own Will: But this cannot be meant here, because it is sufficiently expressed before by ἰσχυρὸς τῇ καρδίᾳ, stedfast in Heart; and afterwards too by κρείων ἐν τῇ καρδίᾳ, decreed in Heart: Or must signify, has the Disposal of himself, i. e. is free from the Father's Power of disposing their Children in Marriage; for I think the Words should be translated, hath a Power concerning his own Will, i. e. concerning what he willeth: For if by it St. Paul meant a Power over his own Will, one might think he would have expressed that Thought, as he does Chap. IX. 12. and Rom. IX. 21. without περὶ: or by the Preposition ἐν, as it is, Luke IX. 1. 4. Because, if keep his Virgin, had here signified keep his Children from marrying, the Expression had been more natural to have used the Word τήρα, which signifies both Sexes, than παρῆεν, which belongs only to the Female. If therefore παρῆεν be taken abstractly for Virginity, the precedent Verse must be understood thus: But if any one think it a Shame to pass the Flower of his Age unmarried, and he finds it necessary to marry, let him do as he pleases, he fins not; let such marry. I confess it is hard to bring these two Verses to the same Sense, and both of them to the Design of the Apostle here, without taking the Words in one or both of them very figuratively. St. Paul here seems to obviate an Objection that might be made against his Dissuasion from Marriage, viz. that it might be an Indecency one should be guilty of, if one should live unmarried past one's Prime, and afterwards be forced to marry. To which he answers, that no body should abstain upon the account of being a Christian; but those who are of steady Resolutions, are at their own Disposal, and have fully determined it in their own Minds.

Καλῶς; here, as in ver. 1, 8, and 26. signifies not simply good, but preferable.

³⁸ ἢ Παρθένος; being taken in the Sense before-mentioned, it is necessary in this Verse to follow the Copies which read γαμίζων, marrying, for ἐγαμίζων, giving in Marriage.

THIS Section is concerning the eating Things offered to Idols; wherein one may guess, by St. Paul's Answer, that they had writ to him, that they knew their Christian Liberty herein, that they knew that an Idol was nothing, and therefore that they did well to shew their Knowledge of the Nullity of the Heathen Gods, and their Disregard of them, by eating promiscuously, and without Scruple, Things offered to them. Upon which the Design of the Apostle here seems to be, to take down their Opinion of their Knowledge, by shewing them, that notwithstanding all the Knowledge they presumed on, and were puffed up with, yet the eating of those Sacrifices did not recommend them to God; vid. ver. 8. and that they might sin, in their Want of Charity, by offending their weak Brother. This seems plainly, from ver. 1—3. and 11, 12. to be the Design of the Apostle's Answer here, and not to resolve the Case of eating Things offered to Idols in its full Latitude; for then he would have prosecuted it more at large here, and not have deferred the doing of it to Chap. X. where, under another Head, he treats of it more particularly.

To the Question then, of eating Things offered to Idols: I know, as well as you, that an Idol, i. e. that the fictitious Gods, whose Images are in the Heathen Temples, are no real Beings in the World; and there is, in truth, no other but one God. For tho' there be many imaginary nominal Gods, both in Heaven and Earth^u, as are indeed all their many Gods, and many Lords, which are merely titular; yet to us Christians, there is but one God, the Father and Author of all Things, to whom alone we address all our Worship and Service; and but one Lord, viz. Jesus Christ, by whom all Things come from God to us, and by whom

³ ^t ἔγινωσκαι, is made to know, or is taught. The Apostle, though writing in Greek, yet often uses the Greek Verbs according to the Hebrew Conjugation. So Chap. XIII. 12. ἐπίγνωσκαί, which, according to the Greek Propriety, signifies I shall be known, is used for I shall be made to know; and so Gal. IV. 9. γινώσκόμεναι, is put to signify being taught.

⁵ ^u In Heaven and Earth. The Heathens had supreme Sovereign Gods, whom they supposed eternal, remaining always in the Heavens; these were called θεοί, Gods. They had besides another Order of inferior Gods, Gods upon Earth; who, by the Will and Direction of the heavenly Gods, governed terrestrial Things, and were the Mediators between the Supreme heavenly Gods and Men, without whom there could be no Communication between them. These were called in Scripture Baalim, i. e. Lords; and by the Greeks, δαίμονες. To this the Apostle alludes here, saying, Though there be, in the Opinion of the Heathens, Gods many, i. e. many celestial Sovereign Gods in Heaven, and Lords many, i. e. many Baalims, or Lord's Agents, and Presidents over earthly Things; yet to us Christians there is but one Sovereign God, the Father, of whom are all Things, and to whom, as Supreme, we are to direct all our Services; and but one Lord-Agent, Jesus Christ, by whom are all Things that come from the Father to us, and through whom alone we find Access unto him, Mede Disc. on 2 Pet. For, notwithstanding all the great Pretences to Knowledge that are amongst you, every one doth not know that the Gods of the Heathens are but Imaginations of the Fancy, mere nothing. Some, to this Day, conscious to themselves that they think those Idols to be real Deities, eat Things sacrificed to them, as sacrificed to real Deities, whereby doing that, which they in their Consciences, not yet sufficiently enlightened, think to be unlawful, they are guilty of Sin. Food, of what kind soever, makes not God regard us^w: For neither if in Knowledge and full Persuasion, that an Idol is nothing, we eat Things offered to Idols, do we thereby add any thing to Christianity; or, if not being so well informed, we are scrupulous and forbear, are we the worse Christians, or are lessened by it^x. But this you knowing Men ought to take especial Care of, that the Power or Freedom you have to eat, be not made such an Use of, as to become a Stumbling-block to weaker Christians, who are not convinced of that Liberty. ST. Paul had preached the Gospel at Corinth about two Years, in all which Time he had taken nothing of them, 2 Cor. XI. 7—9. This by some of the opposite Faction, and particularly, as we may suppose, by their Leader, was made use of to call in question his Apostleship, 2 Cor. XI. 5, 6. For why, if he were an Apostle, should he not use the Power of an Apostle, to demand Maintenance where he preached? In this Section St. Paul vindicates his Apostleship; and in answer to these Enquiries, gives the Reason why, though he had a Right to Maintenance, yet he preached gratis to the Corinthians. My Answer, says he, to these Inquisitors, is, That tho', as being an Apostle, I know that I have a Right to Maintenance, as well as Peter, or any other of the Apostles, who all have a Right, as is evident from Reason and from Scripture; yet I neither have, nor shall make use of my Privilege amongst you, for fear that, if it cost you any thing, that should hinder the Effect of my Preaching: I would neglect nothing that might promote the Gospel. For I do not content myself with doing barely what is my Duty; for by my extraordinary Call and Commission, it is now incumbent on me to preach the the Gospel; but I endeavour to excel in my Ministry, and not to execute my Commission overtly, and just enough to serve the Turn: For if those, who in the Agonistick Games aiming at Victory, to obtain only a corruptible Crown, deny themselves in eating and drinking, and other Pleasures, how much more does the eternal Crown of Glory deserve, that we should do our utmost to obtain it? to be as careful in not indulging our Bodies, in denying our Pleasures, in doing every thing we could in order to get it, as if there were but one that should have it? Wonder not therefore if I, having this in view, neglect my Body, and those outward Conveniencies that I, as an Apostle, sent to preach the Gospel, might claim, and make use of: Wonder not that I prefer the propagating of the Gospel, and making of Converts, to all Care and Regard of myself. This seems the Design of the Apostle, and will give light to the following Discourse; which we shall now take in the Order St. Paul writ it.

Or is it I only and Barnabas, who are excluded from the Privilege of being maintained without Working? Who goes to the War any where, and serves as a Soldier at his own Charges? Who planteth a Vineyard, and eateth not of the Fruit thereof? Who feedeth a Flock, and eateth not of the Milk? This is allowed to be Reason, that those who are so employed, should be maintained by their Employments; and so likewise a Preacher of the Gospel. But I say not this barely upon the Principles of human Reason, Revelation teaches the same Thing in the Law of Moses; where it is said, Thou shalt not muzzle the Mouth of the Ox, that treadeth out the Corn. Doth God take care to provide so particularly for Oxen by a Law? No; certainly; it is said particularly for our Sakes, and not for Oxen, that he who sows, may sow in hope of enjoying the Fruits of his Labour at Harvest, and may then thresh out and eat the Corn he hoped for. If we have sowed to you spiritual Things, in preaching the Gospel to you, is it unreasonable that we should expect a little Meat and Drink from you, a little Share of your carnal Things? Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?

For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth, should plow in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

- 13 Do ye not know, that they which minister about holy things, live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar? 13.
- 14 Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel, should live of the gospel. 14.
- 15 But I have used none of these things. Neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void. 15.
- 16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me; yea, wo is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. 16.
- 17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me. 17.
- 18 What is my reward then? verily that when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel. 18.
- Power over you^c, why not we much rather? But I made no use of it, but bear with any thing, that I may avoid all Hindrance to the Progress of the Gospel. Do ye not know, that they who in the Temple serve about holy Things, live upon those holy Things? And they who wait at the Altar, are Partakers with the Altar? So has the Lord ordained, that they who preach the Gospel, should live of the Gospel. But though, as an Apostle and Preacher of the Gospel, I have, as you see, a Right to Maintenance, yet I have not taken it, neither have I written this to demand it; for I had rather perish for Want, than be deprived of what I glory in, viz. preaching the Gospel freely. For if I preach the Gospel, I do barely my Duty; but have nothing to glory in, for I am under an Obligation and Command to preach^d: And wo be to me, if I preach not the Gospel; which if I do willingly, I shall have a Reward; if unwillingly, the Dispensation is nevertheless intrusted to me, and ye ought to hear me as an Apostle. How therefore do I make it turn to account to myself? Even thus: If I preach the Gospel of Christ of Free-cost, so that I exact not the Maintenance I have a Right to by the Gospel.

Besides, in these Words St. Paul seems to glance at what they suffered from the false Apostle, who did not only pretend to Power of Maintenance, but did actually devour them: Vid. 2 Cor. XI. 20.

IT seems, by what he here says, as if the Corinthians had told St. Paul, that the Temptations and Constraints they were under, of going to their Heathen Neighbours Feasts upon their Sacrifices, were so many and so great, that there was no avoiding it: And therefore they thought they might go to them without any Offence to God, or Danger to themselves; since they were the People of God, purged from Sin by Baptism, and fenced against it, by partaking of the Body and Blood of Christ in the Lord's Supper. To which St. Paul answers, that notwithstanding their Baptism, and partaking of that spiritual Meat and Drink, yet they, as well as the Jews of old did, might sin, and draw on themselves Destruction from the Hand of God; that eating of Things that were known and owned to be offered to Idols, was partaking in the idolatrous Worship; and therefore they were to prefer even the Danger of Persecution before such a Compliance, for God would find a Way for them to escape.

and followed them ; which Rock typified Christ :
All which were typical Representations of Christ,

² * The Apostle calls it Baptism, which is the initiating Ceremony into both the Jewish and Christian Church : And the Cloud and Sea both being nothing but Water, are well suited to that typical Representation ; and that the Children of Israel were washed with Rain from the Cloud, may be collected from Psal. LXVIII. 9.

⁵ ^f It may be observed here, that St. Paul speaking of the Israelites, uses the Word πάντες, all, five times in the four foregoing Verses ; besides that, he carefully says, τὸ αὐτὸ βρώμα, the same Meat, and τὸ αὐτὸ ποῦμα, the same Drink ; which we cannot suppose to be done by chance, but emphatically, to signify to the Corinthians, who probably presumed too much upon their Baptism, and eating the Lord's Supper, as if that were enough to keep them right in the Sight of God ; that tho' the Israelites, all to a Man, eat the very same spiritual Food, and all to a Man drank the very same spiritual Drink, yet they were not all to a Man preserved, but many of them, for all that, sinned and fell under the avenging Hand of God in the Wilderness.

6 ^a Κακῶν, evil Things. The Fault of the Israelites, which this Place refers to, seems to be their longing for Flesh, Num. XI. which cost many of them their Lives: And that which he warns the Corinthians of here, is their great Propension to the Pagan Sacrifice-Fests.

7 ^b Play, i. e. Dance: Feasting and Dancing usually accompanied the Heathen Sacrifices.

10 ^c Ὁ καταστρέφων Destroyer, was an Angel that had the Power to destroy, mentioned Exod. XII. 23. Job. XI. 28.

11 ^k It is to be observed, that all these Instances, mentioned by the Apostle, of Destruction, which came upon the Israelites, who were in Covenant with God, and Partakers in those typical Sacraments above-mentioned, were occasioned by their luxurious Appetites about Meat and Drink, by Fornication, and by Idolatry; Sins which the Corinthians were inclined to, and which he here warns them against.

^l So I think τὰ τέλη τῶν αἰώνων should be rendered, and not, contrary to Grammar, the End of the World; because it is certain that τέλη and συνέλευσις τῶν αἰώνων, or τῶν αἰώνων, cannot signify every where, as we render it, the End of the World, which denotes but one certain Period of Time, for the World can have but one End; whereas these Words signify, in different Places, different Periods of Time, as will be manifest to any one who will compare these Texts where they occur, viz. Mat. XIII. 39, 40. & XXIV. 3. & XXVIII. 20. 1 Cor. X. 11. Heb. IX. 26. It may be worth while therefore to consider whether αἰών hath not ordinarily a more natural Signification in the New Testament, by standing for a considerable Length of Time, passing under some one remarkable Dispensation.

12. the End of the Ages are come. Wherefore, taught by these Examples, let him that thinks himself safe, by being in the Church, and partaking of the Christian Sacraments, take heed lest he fall into Sin, and so Destruction from
13. God overtake him. Hitherto the Temptations you have met with, have been but light and ordinary: If you should come to be pressed harder, God, who is faithful, and never forsakes those who forsake not him, will not suffer you to be tempted above your Strength; but will either enable you to bear the Persecution, or open you a Way out of it. Therefore, my Beloved, take care to keep off from Idolatry; and be not drawn to any Approaches near it, by any Temptation or Persecution whatsoever. You are satisfied that you want not
15. Knowledge. ^m And therefore, as to knowing Men, I appeal to you; and make you Judges of what I am going to say in the Case.
16. They who drink of the Cup of Blessing ⁿ, which we bless in the Lord's Supper, do they not thereby partake of the Benefits purchased by Christ's Blood shed for them upon the Cross, which they here symbolically drink? And they who eat of the Bread broken ^o there, do they not partake in the Sacrifice of the Body of Christ, and profess to be Members of him? For by eating of that Bread, we, though many in Number, are all united, and make but one Body; as many Grains of Corn are united

Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. 12

There hath no temptation taken you, but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry. 14

I speak as to wise men: 15 judge ye what I say.

The cup of blessing 16 which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

For we being many, 17 are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

WE have here another of his Arguments against Things offered to Idols; wherein he shews the Danger might be in it, from the Scandal it might give, supposing it a Thing lawful in itself. He had formerly treated of this Subject, Chap. VIII. so far as to let them see, that there was no Good nor Virtue in eating Things offered to Idols, notwithstanding they knew that Idols were nothing, and they might think that their free eating without Scruple, shewed that they knew their Freedom in the Gospel, that they knew that Idols were in reality nothing, and therefore they slighted and disregarded them and their Worship, as nothing; but that there might be Evil in Eating, by the Offence it might give to weak Christians, who had not that Knowledge: He here takes up the Argument of Scandal again, and extends it to Jews and Gentiles, vid. ver. 32. and shews, that it is not enough to justify them in any Action, that the Things they do is in itself lawful, unless we seek in it the Glory of God, and the Good of others.

Farther, supposing it lawful to eat Things offered to Idols ; yet all Things that are lawful, are not expedient : Things that in themselves are lawful for me, may not tend to the Edification of others, and so may be fit to be forboren. No one must seek barely his own private, particular Interest alone ; but let every one seek the Good of others also. Eat whatever is sold in the Shambles, without any Enquiry or Scruple, whether it had been offered to any Idol or no : For the Earth, and all therein, are the good Creatures of the true God, given by him to Men for their Use. If an Heathen invite you to an Entertainment, and you go, eat whatever is set before you, without making any Question or Scruple about it, whether it had been offered in Sacrifice or no : But if any one say to you, This was offered in Sacrifice to an Idol, eat it not, for his sake that mentioned it, and for Conscience-sake'. Conscience, I say, not thine own (for thou knowest thy Liberty, and that an Idol is nothing) but the Conscience of the other : For why should I use my Liberty, so that another Man should in Conscience think I offended ? And if I, with Thanksgiving, partake of what is lawful for me to eat, why do I order the Matter so, that I am ill spoken of for that which I bless God for ? In what St. Paul says in this and the preceding Verse, taken together, we may suppose he makes some Reflection on the false Apostle, whom many of the Corinthians followed as their Leader. At least it is for St. Paul's Justification, that he proposes himself to be followed no farther than as he sought the Good of others, and not his own, and had Christ for his Pattern, vid. Chap. N O T E S.

3^t This about Women seeming as difficult a Passage as most in St. Paul's Epistles, I crave leave to premise some few Considerations, which I hope may conduce to the clearing of it.

(1.) It is to be observed, that it was the Custom for Women who appeared in public, to be veiled, ver. 13—16. Therefore it could be no Question at all, whether they ought to be veiled when they assisted at the Prayers and Praises in the publick Assemblies; or if that were the Thing intended by the Apostle, it had been much easier, shorter and plainer, for him to have said, that Women should be covered in the Assemblies.

(2.) It is plain that this covering the Head in Women, is restrained to some particular Actions which they performed in the Assembly, expressed by the Words, Praying and Prophefying, ver. 4, and 5. which, whatever they signify, must have the same Meaning, when applied to the Women, in the 5th Verse, that they have when applied to the Men, in the 4th Verse.

It will possibly be objected, If Women were to be veiled in the Assemblies, let those Actions be what they will, the Women joining in them were still to be veiled.

Answer. This would be plainly so, if their Interpretation were to be followed, who are of opinion, that by Praying and Prophefying here, was meant to be present in the Assembly, and joining with the Congregation in the Prayers that were made, or Hymns that were sung; or in hearing the Reading and Exposition of the Holy Scriptures there. But against this, that the hearing of Preaching or Prophefying was never called Preaching or Prophefying, is so unanswerable an Objection, that I think there can be no Reply to it.

The Case, in short, seems to be this: The Men prayed and prophesied in the Assemblies, and did it with their Heads uncovered: The Women also sometimes prayed and prophesied too in the Assemblies; which when they did, though, during their performing that Action, they were to take notice, that Christ is the Head to which every Man is subjected; and the Man is the Head were excused from being veiled, and might be bare-headed, or at least open-faced, as well as the Men. This was that which the Apostle refrains in them, and directs, that tho' they prayed or prophesied, they were still to remain veiled.

(3.) The next Thing to be considered, is, what is here to be understood by Praying and Prophecy. And that seems to me to be the performing of some particular publick Action in the Assembly by some one Person, which was for that Time peculiar to that Person, and whilst it lasted the rest of the Assembly silently assisted. For it cannot be supposed, that when the Apostle says, a Man praying or prophesying, that he means an Action performed in common by the whole Congregation; or if he did, what Pretence could that give the Woman to be unveiled more during the Performance of such an Action, than at any other Time? A Woman must be veiled in the Assembly; what Pretence then or Claim could it give her to be unveiled, that she joined with the rest of the Assembly, in the Prayer that some one Person made? Such a Praying as this could give no more Ground for her being unveiled, than her being in the Assembly could be thought a Reason for her being unveiled. The same may be said of Prophecy, when understood to signify a Woman's joining with the Congregation in singing the Praises of God. But if the Woman prayed as the Mouth of the Assembly, &c. then it was like she might think she might have the Privilege to be unveiled.

Praying and Prophecy, as has been shewn, signifying here the doing some peculiar Action in the Assembly, whilst the rest of the Congregation only assisted; let us, in the next Place, examine what that Action was. As to Prophecy, the Apostle in express Words tells us, Ch. XIV. 3, & 12. that it was speaking in the Assembly. The same is evident as to Praying; that the Apostle means by it praying publickly with an audible Voice in the Congregation, vid. Ch. XIV. 14—19.

(4.) It is to be observed that whether any one prayed or prophesied, they did it alone, the rest remaining silent, Ch. XIV. 27—33. So that even in these extraordinary Praises, which any one sang to God by the immediate Motion and Impulse of the Holy Ghost, which was one of the Actions called Prophecy, they sung alone. And indeed how could it be otherwise? For who could join with the Person so prophesying, in Things dictated to him alone by the Holy Ghost, which the others could not know, till the Person prophesying uttered them?

(5.) Prophecy, as St. Paul tells, Chap. XIV. 3. was speaking unto others to Edification, Exhortation and Comfort: But every Speaking to others to any of these Ends, was not Prophecy, but only then when such Speaking was a spiritual Gift, performed by the immediate and extraordinary Motion of the Holy Ghost, vid. Ch. XIV. 1, 12, 24, 30. For example, singing Praises to God was called Prophecy; but we see when Saul prophesied, the Spirit of God fell upon him, and he was turned into another Man, 1 Sam. X. 6. Nor do I think any Place in the New Testament can be produced, wherein Prophecy signifies bare reading of the Scripture, or any other Action performed without a supernatural Impulse and Assistance of the Spirit of God. This we are sure, that the Prophecy which St. Paul here speaks of, is one of the extraordinary Gifts given by the Spirit of God, vid. Ch. XII. 10. Now that the Spirit of God, and the Gift of Prophecy should be poured out upon Women as well as Men, in the Time of the Gospel, is plain from Acts II. 17. and then where could be a fitter Place for them to utter their Prophecies in, than the Assemblies?

Mr. Mede It is not unlikely, what one of the most learned and sagacious of our Interpreters of Scripture D. c. 16. suggests upon this Place, viz. That Christian Women might, out of a Vanity incident to that Sex, propose to themselves, and affect an Imitation of the Priests and Prophetesses of the Gentiles, who had had their Faces uncovered when they uttered their Oracles, or officiated in their Sacrifices: But I cannot but wonder that that very acute Writer should not see that the bare being in the Assembly could not give a Christian Woman any Pretence to that Freedom. None of the Bacchai or Pythias quitted their ordinary modest Guise, but when she was, as the Poets express it, rapta or plena Deo, possessed and hurried by the Spirit she served. And so, possibly, a Christian Woman, when she found the Spirit of God poured out upon her, as Joel expresses it, exciting her to pray or sing Praises to God, or discover any Truth immediately revealed to her, might think it convenient, for her better uttering of it, to be uncovered, or, at least, to be no more restrained in her Liberty of shewing herself, than the Female Priests of the Heathens were when they delivered their Oracles: But yet even in these Actions the Apostle forbids the Women to unvail themselves.

St. Paul's forbidding Women to speak in the Assemblies, will, probably, seem a strong Argument against this; but when well considered, will perhaps prove none. There be two Places wherein the Apostle forbids Women to speak in the Church, 1 Cor. XIV. 34, 35. & 1 Tim. II. 11, 12. He that shall attentively read and compare these together, may observe that the Silence enjoined the Woman is for a Mark of their Subjection to the Male Sex: And therefore what in the one is expressed by keeping Silence, and not speaking, but being under Obedience, in the other is called, being in Silence with all Subjection, not teaching nor usurping Authority over the Man. The Women in the Churches were not to assume the Personage of Doctors, or speak there as Teachers; this carried with it the Appearance of Superiority, and was forbidden. Nay, they were not so much as to ask Questions there, or to enter into any Sort of Conference. This shews a Kind of Equality, and was also forbidden: But yet, tho' they were not to speak in the Church in their own Names, or as if they were raised by the Franchises of Christianity, to such an Equality with the Men, that where Knowledge or Presumption of their own Abilities emboldened them to it, they might take upon them to be Teachers and Instructors of the Congregation, or might at least enter into Questionings and Debates there; this would have had too great an Air of standing upon even Ground with the Men, and would not have well comported with the Subordination of the Sex: But yet this Subordination which God, for Order's sake, had instituted in the World, hindered not, but that by the supernatural Gifts of the Spirit, he might make use of the weaker Sex, to any extraordinary Function, whenever he thought fit, as well as he did of the Men. But yet, when they thus either prayed or prophesied by the Motion and Impulse of the Holy Ghost, Care was taken that whilst they were obeying God, who was pleased by his Spirit to set them a speaking, the Subjection of their Sex should not be forgotten, but owned and preserved by their being covered. The Christian Religion was not to give Offence, by any Appearance or Suspicion that it took away the Subordination of the Sexes, and set the Women at liberty from their natural Subjection to the Man. And therefore we see, that in both these Cases, the Aim was to maintain and secure the confessed Superiority and Dominion of the Men, and not permit it to be invaded so much as in appearance. Hence the Arguments in the one Case for Covering, and in the other for Silence, are all drawn from the natural Superiority of the Man, and the Subjection of the Woman. In the one, the Woman, without an extraordinary Call, was to keep silent, as a Mark of her Subjection; in the other, where she was to speak by an extraordinary Call and Commission from God, she was yet to continue the Profession of her Subjection in keeping herself covered. Here, by the way, it is to be observed, that there was extraordinary Praying to God by the Impulse of the Spirit, as well as Speaking unto Men for their Edification, Exhortation and Comfort: Vid. Chap. XIV. 15. Rom. VIII. 26. Jude 20. These Things being premised, let us follow the Thread of St. Paul's Discourse.

4. self, is God. Every Man that prayeth or prophesieth, i. e. by the Gift of the Spirit of God, speaketh in the Church for the edifying, exhorting, and comforting of the Congregation, having his Head covered, dishonoureth Christ his Head, by appearing in a Garb not becoming the Authority and Dominion which God, thro' Christ, has given him over all the Things of this World; the covering of the Head being a Mark of Subjection. But, on the contrary, a Woman praying or prophesying in the Church with her Head uncovered, dishonoureth the Man, who is her Head, by appearing in a Garb that disowns her Subjection to him: For to appear bare-headed in publick, is all one as to have her Hair cut off; which is the Garb and Dress of the other Sex, and not of a Woman. If therefore it be unsuitable to the Female Sex, to have their Hair shorn or shaved off, let her, for the same Reason, be covered. A Man indeed ought not to be vailed, because he is the Image and Representative of God in his Dominion over the rest of the World, which is one Part of the Glory of God: But the Woman, who was made out of the Man, made for him, and in Subjection to him, is Matter of Glory to the Man. But the Man not being made out of the Woman, nor for her, but the Woman made out of, and for the Man, she ought, for this Reason, to have a Vail on her Head, in token of her Subjection, because of the Angels¹⁰. Nevertheless, the Sexes have not a Being one without the other; nei-

I CORINTHIANS.

C H A P. XI. 17—34.

C O N T E N T S.

ONE may observe, from several Passages in this Epistle, that several Judaical Customs were crept into the Corinthian Church. This Church being of St. Paul's own planting, who spent two Years at Corinth in forming it; it is evident these Abuses had their Rise from some other Teacher, who came to them after his leaving them, which was about five Years before his writing this Epistle. These Disorders therefore may with reason be ascribed to the Head of the Faction that opposed St. Paul, who, as has been remarked, was a Jew, and probably Judaized. And that, 'tis like, was the Foundation of the great Opposition between him and St. Paul, and the Reason why St. Paul labours so earnestly to destroy his Credit amongst the Corinthians; this Sort of Men being very busy, very troublesome, and very dangerous to the Gospel, as may be seen in other of St. Paul's Epistles, particularly that to the Galatians.

The celebrating the Passover amongst the Jews, was plainly the eating of a Meal distinguished from other ordinary Meals by several peculiar Ceremonies. Two of these Ceremonies were, eating of Bread solemnly broken, and drinking a Cup of Wine, called the Cup of Blessing. These two our Saviour transferred into the Christian Church, to be used in their Assemblies for a Commemoration of his Death and Sufferings. In celebrating this Institution of our Saviour, the Judaizing Corinthians followed the Jewish Custom of eating their Passover: They eat the Lord's Supper as a Part of their Meal, bringing their Provisions into the Assembly; where they eat, divided into distinct Companies, some feasting to Excess, whilst others, ill provided, were in want. This eating thus in the public Assembly, and mixing the Lord's Supper with their ordinary Meal, as a Part of it, with other Disorders and Indecencies accompanying it, is the Matter of this Section. These Innovations, he tells them here, he as much blames, as in the Beginning of this Chapter he commends them, for keeping to his Directions in some other Things.

PARAPHRASE.

17 NOW in this that I declare unto you, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.
 18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you; and I partly believe it.
 19 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved, may be made manifest among you.
 20 When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.
 21 For in eating every one taketh before other, his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.
 22 What, have ye not houses to eat and to drink in?

TH O' what I said to you, concerning Women's Behaviour in the Church, was not without Commendation of you; yet this that I am now going to speak to you of, is without praising you, because you so order your Meetings in your Assemblies, that they are not to your Advantage, but Harm. For first I hear, that when you come together in the Church, you fall into Parties; and I partly believe it: Because there must be Divisions and Factions amongst you, that those who stand firm upon Trial, may be made manifest amongst you. You come together, it's true, in one Place, and there you eat; but yet this makes it not to be the Eating of the Lord's Supper. For in eating you eat not together, but every one takes his own Supper, one before another^x. Have ye not Houses to eat and drink in at home, for satisfying your Hunger and Thirst? Or have ye

NOTES.

21 ^x To understand this, we must observe,
 (1.) That they had sometimes Meetings on purpose only for eating the Lord's Supper, ver. 33.
 (2.) That to those Meetings they brought their own Supper, ver. 21.
 (3.) That tho' every one's Supper were brought into the common Assembly, yet it was not to eat in common, but every one fell to his own Supper apart, as soon as he and his Supper were there ready for one another, without staying for the rest of the Company, or communicating with them in eating, ver. 21, 33.
 In this St. Paul blames three Things especially;
 1^{ly}. That they eat their common Food in the Assembly, which was to be eaten at home in their Houses, ver. 22, 34.
 2^{ly}. That tho' they eat in the common Meeting-place, yet they eat separately every one his own Supper apart. So that the Plenty and Excess of some, shamed the Want and Penury of others, ver. 22. Hereby also the Divisions amongst them were kept up, ver. 18. they being as so many separated and divided Societies; not as one united Body of Christians commemorating their common Head, as they should have been in celebrating the Lord's Supper, Chap. X. 16, 17.
 3^{ly}. That they mixed the Lord's Supper with their own, eating it as a Part of their ordinary Meal; where they made not that Discrimination between it and their common Food, as they should have done, ver. 29.

 23. Occasion indeed I praise you not for it. For what I received concerning this Institution from the Lord himself, that I delivered unto you when I was with you; and it was this,
 24. viz. That the Lord Jesus, in the Night wherein he was betrayed, took Bread: And having given Thanks brake it, and said, Take, eat, this is my Body, which is broken for you; this
 25. do in remembrance of me. So likewise he took the Cup also when he had supped, saying, This Cup is the New Testament in my Blood: This do ye, as often as ye do it, in remembrance of me. So that the eating of this
 26. Bread, and the drinking of this Cup of the Lord's Supper, is not to satisfy Hunger and Thirst, but to shew forth the Lord's Death till he comes. Inasmuch, that he who eats
 27. this Bread, and drinks this Cup of the Lord, in an unworthy manner ^z, not suitable to that End, shall be guilty of a Misuse of the

Or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? what shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

For I have received of ²³ the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread.

And when he had ^{gi-24} ven thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.

After the same manner ²⁵ also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

For as often as ye eat ²⁶ this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.

Wherefore, whosoever ²⁷ shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

NOTES.

22 ^y He here plainly refers to what he had said to them, ver. 2. where he praised them for remembering him in all Things, and for retaining τὰς παραδόσεις καθὼς παρέδωκα, what he had delivered to them. This Commendation he here retracts; for in this Matter of eating the Lord's Supper, they did not retain ὁ παρέδωκα, ver. 23. what he had delivered to them, which therefore in the immediately following Words he repeats to them again.

27 ^z ἄσπιλα, unworthily. Our Saviour, in the Institution of the Lord's Supper, tells the Apostles, that the Bread and the Cup were sacramentally his Body and Blood, and that they were to be eaten and drank in remembrance of him; which, as St. Paul interprets it, ver. 26. was to shew forth his Death till he came. Whoever therefore eat and drank them, so as not solemnly to shew forth his Death, followed not Christ's Institution, but used them unworthily, i. e. not to the End to which they were instituted. This makes St. Paul tell them, ver. 20. that their coming together to eat it as they did, viz. the Sacramental Bread and Wine promiscuously with their other Food, as a Part of their Meal, and that tho' in the same Place, yet not all together at one Time and in one Company, was not the Eating of the Lord's Supper.

^a * Εἰς τὸ ἄρτον ἔσται, shall be liable to the Punishment due to one who makes a wrong Use of the Sacramental Body and Blood of Christ in the Lord's Supper. What that Punishment was, vid. ver. 30.

28 ^b St. Paul, as we have observed, tells the Corinthians, ver. 20. that to eat it after the manner they did, was not to eat the Lord's Supper. He tells them also, ver. 29. that to eat it without a due, direct and immediate Regard had to the Lord's Body (for so he calls the Sacramental Bread and Wine, as our Saviour did in the Institution) by separating the Bread and Wine from the common Use of Eating and Drinking for Hunger and Thirst, was to eat unworthily. To remedy their Disorders herein, he sets before them Christ's own Institution of this Sacrament; that in it they might see the Manner and End of its Institution, and by that every one might examine his own Comportment herein, whether it were conformable to that Institution, and suited to that End. In the Account he gives of Christ's Institution, we may observe that he particularly remarks to them, that this Eating and Drinking was no Part of common Eating and Drinking for Hunger and Thirst; but was instituted in a very solemn Manner, after they had supped, and for another End, viz. to represent Christ's Body and Blood, and to be eaten and drank in remembrance of him: Or, as St. Paul expounds it, to shew forth his Death. Another Thing which they might observe in the Institution, was, that this was done by all who were present, united together in one Company at the same Time. All which put together, shews us what the Examination here proposed, is. For the Design of the Apostle here being to reform what he found fault with, in their celebrating the Lord's Supper, 'tis by that alone we must understand the Directions he gives them about it, if we will suppose he talked pertinently to this captious and touchy People, whom he was very desirous to reduce from the Irregularities they were run into in this Matter, as well as several others. And if the Account of Christ's Institution be not for their examining their Carriage by it, and adjusting it to it, to what Purpose is it here? The Examination therefore proposed, was no other but an Examination of their Manner of eating the Lord's Supper by Christ's Institution, to see how their Behaviour herein comported with the Institution, and the End for which it was instituted. Which farther appears to be so, by the Punishment annexed to their Miscarriages herein; which was, Infirmities, Sickness, and temporal Death, with which God chastened them, that they might not be condemned with the unbelieving World, ver. 30, 32. For if the Unworthiness here spoke of were either Unbelief, or any of those Sins which are usually made the Matter of Examination, 'tis to be presumed the Apostle would not wholly have passed them over in Silence: This, at least, is certain, that the Punishment of these Sins is infinitely greater than that which God here inflicts on unworthy Receivers, whereby they who are guilty of them received the Sacrament or no.

^c * Καὶ ἕσται. These Words, as to the Letter, are rightly translated and so. But that Translation, I imagine, leaves generally a wrong Sense of the Place in the Mind of an English Reader: For in ordinary Speaking, these Words, Let a Man examine, and so let him eat, are understood to import the same with these, Let a Man examine, and then let him eat; as if they signified no more, but that Examination should precede, and Eating follow; which I take to be quite different from the Meaning of the Apostle here, whose Sense the whole Design of the Context shews to be this: There sit before you the Institution of Christ, by that let a Man examine his Carriage, καὶ ἕσται, and according to that let him eat; let him conform the Manner of his eating to that.

29. him eat of this Bread, and drink of this Cup. For he who eats and drinks after an unworthy manner, without a due Respect had to the Lord's Body, in a discriminating^d and purely sacramental Use of the Bread and Wine that represents it, draws Punishment^e on himself
30. by so doing. And hence it is many among you are weak and sick, and a good Number
31. are gone to their Graves. But if we would discriminate^f ourselves, i. e. by our discriminating Use of the Lord's Supper, we should
32. not be judged, i. e.^g punished by God. But being punished by the Lord, we are corrected^h, that we may not be condemned hereafter with the unbelieving World. Wherefore

For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

NOTES.

29^d Μη διακρίτων, not discriminating, not putting a Difference between the Sacramental Bread and Wine (which St. Paul, with our Saviour, calls Christ's Body) and other Bread and Wine, in the solemn and separate Use of them. The Corinthians, as has been remarked, eat the Lord's Supper in, and with their own ordinary Supper, whereby it came not to be sufficiently distinguished (as became a religious and Christian Observance so solemnly instituted) from common Eating for bodily Refreshment, nor from the Jewish Paschal Supper, and the Bread broken, and the Cup of Blessing used in that; nor did it, in this Way of eating it, in separate Companies, as it were in private Families, shew forth the Lord's Death, as it was designed to do by the Concurrence and Communion of the whole Assembly of Christians, jointly united in the partaking of Bread and Wine in a Way peculiar to them with reference solely to Jesus Christ. This was that, as appears by this Place, which St. Paul, as we have already explained, calls eating unworthily.

^e Damnation, by which our Translation renders κριμα, is vulgarly taken for eternal Damnation in the other World; whereas κριμα here signifies Punishment of another Nature, as appears by ver. 30, 32.

31^f Διακρίνειν does no where, that I know, signify to judge, as it is here translated, but always signifies to distinguish or discriminate; and in this Place has the same Signification, and means the same Thing, that it does ver. 29. He is little versed in St. Paul's Writings, who has not observed how apt he is to repeat the same Word he had used before to the same Purpose, though in a different, and sometimes in a pretty hard Construction; as here he applies διακρίνειν, to the Persons discriminating, as in the 29th Verse, to the Thing to be discriminated, though in both Places it be put to denote the same Action.

^g Επειδόμεθα here signifies the same that κριμα does, ver 19.

32^h Παθεσόμεθα properly signifies to be corrected, as Scholars are by their Master, for their good.

THE Corinthians seem to have enquired of St. Paul, What Order of Precedency and Preference Men were to have in their Assemblies, in regard of their spiritual Gifts? Nay, if we may guess by his Answer, the Question they seem more particularly to have proposed, was, Whether those who had the Gift of Tongues, ought not to take place, and speak first, and be first heard in their Meetings? Concerning this there seems to have been some Strife, Maligning and Disorder amongst them, as may be collected from Cb. XII. 21—25. and XIII. 45. and XIV. 40.

To this St. Paul answers, in these three Chapters, as followeth:

1. That they had all been Heathen Idolaters, and so being Deniers of Christ, were in that State none of them Spiritual: But that now being Christians, and owning Jesus to be the Lord, (which could not be done without the Spirit of God) they were all πνευματικοί, Spiritual; and so there was no reason for one to undervalue another, as if he were not Spiritual as well as himself, Cb. XII. 1—3.

2. That

Ch. XII. 2. That tho' there be Diversity of Gifts, yet they are all by the same Spirit, from the same Lord, and the same God, working them all in every one, according to his good Pleasure. So that in this Respect also there is no Difference or Precedency; no Occasion for any one's being puffed up, or affecting Priority, upon account of his Gifts, Chap. XII. 4—11.

3. That the Diversity of Gifts is for the Use and Benefit of the Church, which is Christ's Body; wherein the Members (as in the natural Body) of meaner Functions, are as much Parts, and as necessary in their Use to the Good of the Whole, and therefore to be honoured as much as any other. The Union they have as Members in the same Body, makes them all equally share in one another's Good and Evil; gives them a mutual Esteem and Concern one for another, and leaves no room for Contests or Divisions amongst them about their Gifts, or the Honour and Place due to them upon that Account, Chap. XII. 12—31.

4. That tho' Gifts have their Excellency and Use, and those who have them may be zealous in the Use of them; yet the true and sure Way for a Man to get an Excellency and Preference above others, is the enlarging himself in Charity, and excelling in that; without which a Christian, with all his spiritual Gifts, is nothing.

5. In the Compariſon of Spiritual Gifts, he gives those the Precedency which edify most, and, in particular, prefers Propheſying to Tongues, Chap. XIV. 1—40.

And the Context obliges us to understand it so: For if we will have it stand for Gifts, and not Persons, the Sense and Coherence of these three first Verses will be very hard to be made out. Besides, there is Evidence enough, in several Parts of it, that the Subject of St. Paul's Discourse here is πνευματικῶν, Persons endowed with spiritual Gifts, contending for Precedency in consideration of their Gifts. See ver. 13, &c. of this Chapter: And to what Purpose else, says he, Chap. XIV. 5. Greater is he that prophesieth, than he that speaketh with Tongues?

ANother Consideration which St. Paul offers against any Contention for Superiority, or Pretence to Precedency, upon account of any spiritual Gift, is, that those distinct Gifts are all of one and the same Spirit, by the same Lord, wrought in every one by God alone, and all for the Profit of the Church.

^o They were very properly called ἐνεργήματα In Workings, because they were above all human Power: Men of themselves could do nothing of them at all, but it was God, as the Apostle tells us here, who in these extraordinary Gifts of the Holy Ghost, did all that was done: It was the Effect of his immediate Operation, as St. Paul assures us in that parallel Place, Phil. II. 13. In which Chapter, ver. 3, and 14. we find that the Philippians stood a little in need of the same Advice which St. Paul so at large presses here upon the Corinthians.

8 ⁸ σοφία: The Doctrine of the Gospel is more than once, in the Beginning of this Epistle, called the Wisdom of God.

^r γνῶσις: is used by St. Paul for such a Knowledge of the Law and the Prophets.

9 ⁹ In this Sense πίστις, Faith, is sometimes taken in the New Testament ; particularly Chap. XIII. 2. It is difficult, I confess, to define the precise Meaning of each Word which the Apostle uses in the 8th, 9th, and 10th Verses here. But if the Order which St. Paul observes, in enumerating by 1st, 2d, 3d, the three first Officers set down, ver. 28. viz. First, Apostle ; Secondly, Prophets ; Thirdly, Teachers ; have any Relation, or may give any Light to these three Gifts which are set down in the first Place here, viz. Wisdom, Knowledge, and Faith, we may then properly understand by σοφία, Wisdom, the whole Doctrine of the Gospel, as communicated to the Apostles : By γνῶσις, Knowledge, the Gifts of Understanding the mystical Sense of the Law and the Prophets ; and by πίστις, Faith, the Assurance and Confidence in delivering and confirming the Doctrine of the Gospel, which became διδασκαλίας, Doctors or Teachers. This at least, I think, may be presumed, that since σοφία and γνῶσις have λόγος joined to them, and it is said the Word of Wisdom, and the Word of Knowledge, Wisdom and Knowledge here signify such Gifts of the Mind as are to be employed in Preaching.

10 ¹⁰ Prophecy comprehends these three Things ; Prediction, Singing by the Dictate of the Spirit, and understanding and explaining the mysterious hidden Sense of Scripture by an immediate Illumination and Motion of the Spirit, as we have already shewn : And that the Prophecy here spoken of, was by immediate Revelation, vid. Chap. XIV. 29 — 31.

FROM the necessarily different Functions in the Body, and the strict Union, nevertheless, of the Members adapted to those different Functions, in a mutual Sympathy and Concern one for another, St. Paul here farther shews, that there ought not to be any Strife or Division amongst them about Precedency and Preference, upon account of their distinct Gifts.

12. FOR as the Body being but one, hath many Members, and all the Members of the Body, tho' many, yet make but one Body; so is Christ, in respect of his mystical Body the Church. For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one Church, and are thereby made one Body, without any Pre-eminence to the Jew " above the Gentile; to the Free above the Bond-man: And the Blood of Christ, which we all partake of in the Lord's Supper, makes us all have one Life, one Spirit; as the same Blood, diffused through the whole Body, communicates the same Life and Spirit to all the Members. For the Body is not one sole Member, but consists of many Members, all vitally united in one common Sympathy and Use-

FOR as the body is 12 one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ.

For by one Spirit are 13 we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

For the body is not one 14 member, but many.

N O T E S.

13 " The naming of the Jews here with Gentiles, and setting both on the same Level when converted to Christianity, may probably be done here by St. Paul with reference to the false Apostle, who was a Jew, and seems to have claimed some Pre-eminence as due to him upon that Account: Whereas, among the Members of Christ, which all make but one Body, there is no Superiority or other Distinction, but as, by the several Gifts bestowed on them by God, they contribute more or less to the Edification of the Church.

need of several and distinct Gifts and Func-if it were wanting, and the whole Body would

There would be no such Thing as a human the Parts of the Body that seem in themselves weak, are nevertheless of absolute Necessity.

And those Parts which are thought least ho-

31^y That this is the Apostle's Meaning here, is plain, in that there was an Emulation amongst them, and a Strife for Precedency, on account of the several Gifts they had, (as we have already observed from several Passages in this Section) which made them in their Assemblies desire to be heard first. This was the Fault the Apostle was here correcting: and 'tis not likely he should exhort them all promiscuously to seek the principal and most eminent Gifts at the End of a Discourse, wherein he had been demonstrating to them, by the Example of the human Body, that there ought to be Diversities of Gifts and Functions in the Church, but that there ought to be no schifm, Emulation, or Contest among them, upon the Account of the Exercise of those Gifts. ST. Paul having told the Corinthians, in the last Words of the precedent Chapter, that he would shew them a more excellent Way than the emulous producing of their Gifts in the Assembly: he in this Chapter tells them, that this more excellent Way is Charity, which he at large explains, and shews the Excellency of.

to be the less honoured or valued for the Gift he had, though it were not one of the first Rank. And in this Sense the Word ἐπισημαίνω is taken in the next Chapter, ver. 4. where St. Paul pursuing the same Argument, exhorts them to mutual Charity, Good-will and Affection, which he assures them is preferable to any Gifts whatsoever. Besides, to what purpose should he exhort them to covet earnestly the best Gifts, when the obtaining of this or that Gift did not at all lie in their Desires or Endeavours? the Apostle having just before told them, ver. 11. that the Spirit divides those Gifts to every Man severally, as he will; and those he writ to, had their Allotment already. He might as reasonably, according to his own Doctrine, in this very Chapter, bid the Foot covet to be the Hand, or the Ear to be the Eye. Let it be remembered therefore, to rectify this, that St. Paul says, ver. 17. of this Chapter, If the whole Body were the Eye, where were the Hearing? &c. St. Paul does not use to cross his own Design, nor contradict his own Reasoning.

Charity is long-ſuffering, is gentle and benign, without Emulation, Inſolence, or being puffed up; is not ambitious, nor at all ſelf-intereſted; is not ſharp upon others Failings, or inclined to ill Interpretations: Charity rejoices with others when they do well; and when any thing is amiſs, is troubled, and covers their Failings: Charity believes well, hopes well of every one, and patiently bears with every thing^d: Charity will never ceaſe, as a Thing out of uſe; but the Gifts of Prophecy, and Tongues, and the Knowledge whereby Men look into, and explain the Meaning of the Scriptures, the Time will be when they will be laid aſide, as no longer of any Uſe: For the Knowledge we have now in this State, and the Explication we give of Scripture, is ſhort, par-

And though I beſtow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

Charity ſuffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itſelf, is not puffed up:

Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth:

Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they ſhall fail; whether there be tongues, they ſhall ceaſe; whether there be knowledge, it ſhall vaniſh away.

For we know in part, and we prophecy in part.

² ^b Any Predictions relating to our Saviour, or his Doctrines, or the Times of the Goſpel, contained in the Old Teſtament, in Types, or figurative and obſcure Expreſſions, not underſtood before his coming, and being revealed to the World, St. Paul calls Mystery, as may be ſeen all through his Writings. So that Mystery and Knowledge are Terms here uſed by St. Paul to ſignify Truths concerning Chriſt to come, contained in the Old Teſtament; and Prophecy, the underſtanding of the Types and Prophecies containing thoſe Truths, ſo as to be able to explain them to others.

tial and defective. But when hereafter we shall be got into the State of Accomplishment and Perfection, wherein we are to remain in the other World, there will no longer be any need of these imperfecter Ways of Information, whereby we arrive at but a partial Knowledge here. Thus when I was in the imperfect State of Childhood, I talked, I understood, I reasoned after the imperfect manner of a Child; but when I came to the State and Perfection of Manhood, I laid aside those childish Ways. Now we see but by Reflection, the dim, and as it were enigmatical, Representation of Things; but then we shall see Things directly, and as they are in themselves, as a Man sees another when they are Face to Face. Now I have but a superficial, partial Knowledge of Things, but then I shall have an intuitive comprehensive Knowledge of them; as I myself am known, and lie open to the View of superior Seraphic Beings, not by the obscure and imperfect Way of Deductions and Reasoning. But then even in that State, Faith, Hope, and Charity will remain: But the greatest of the three is Charity.

SECT. IX. N. 5.

CONTENTS.

ST. Paul in this Chapter concludes his Answer to the Corinthians; concerning spiritual Men and their Gifts; and having told them that those were most preferable that tended most to Edification, and particularly shewn that Prophecy was to be preferred to Tongues, he gives them Directions for the decent, orderly, and profitable Exercise of their Gifts in their Assemblies.

Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts; but rather that ye may prophesy.

NOTES.

¹ * Ζηλοῦτε τὸ ἀγαπᾶν. That ζῆλον does not signify to covet or desire, nor can be understood to be so used by St. Paul in this Section, I have already shewn, Chap. XII. 31. That it has here the Sense that I have given it, is plain from the same Direction concerning spiritual Gifts, repeated 1^o 39. in these Words, ζηλοῦτε τὸ προσθέσθαι, ἢ τὸ λαλεῖν γλώσσαις μὴ κωλύετε; the Meaning in both Places being evidently this: That they should not neglect the Use of their spiritual Gifts; especially they should, in the first Place, cultivate and exercise the Gift of Prophecy, but yet should not wholly lay aside the Speaking with Variety of Tongues in their Assemblies. It will, perhaps, be wondered why St. Paul should employ the Word ζῆλον in so unusual a Sense; but that will easily be accounted for, if what I have remarked, Chap. XIV. 15. concerning St. Paul's Custom of repeating Words, be remembered. But besides what is familiar in St. Paul's Way of Writing, we may find a particular Reason for his repeating the Word ζῆλον here, though in a somewhat unusual Signification. He having, by Way of Reproof, told them, that they did ζῆλον τὰ χαρίσματα τὰ χρηστότατα, had an Emulation, or made a Stir about whose Gifts were best, and were therefore to take place in their Assemblies, to prevent their thinking that ζῆλον might have too harsh a Meaning, (for he is, in all this Epistle, very tender of offending them, and therefore sweetens all his Reproofs as much as possible) he here takes it up again, and uses it more than once, in a Way that approves and advises that they should ζηλοῦν ἀλλήλους; whereby he means no more, than that they should not neglect their spiritual Gifts: He would have them use them in their Assemblies, but yet in such Method and Order as he directs.

2^f He who attentively reads this Section, about spiritual Men and their Gifts, may find reason to imagine that it was those who had the Gift of Tongues, who caused the Disorder in the Church at Corinth, by their Forwardness to speak, and striving to be heard first; and so taking up too much of the Time in their Assemblies, in speaking in unknown Tongues. For the remedying this Disorder, and better regulating this Matter, amongst other Things, they had recourse to St. Paul. He will not easily avoid thinking so, who considers,

1st, That the first Gift which St. Paul compares with Charity, Chap. XIII. and extremely undervalues, in comparison of that Divine Virtue, is the Gift of Tongues: As if that were the Gift they most affected to shew, and most valued themselves upon; as indeed it was in itself most fitted for Ostentation in their Assemblies, of any other, if any one were inclined that way: And that the Corinthians, in their present state, were not exempt from Emulation, Vanity and Ostentation, is very evident.

2^{dly}, That, Chap. XIV. when St. Paul compares their spiritual Gifts one with another, the first, nay, and only one, that he debases and depreciates in comparison of others, is the Gift of Tongue, which he discourses of for above twenty Verses together, in a Way fit to abate a too high Esteem, and a too excessive Use of it in their Assemblies; which we cannot suppose he would have done, had they not been guilty of some such Miscarriages in the Case, whereof the 24th Verse is not without an Intimation

3^{dly}, When he comes to give Directions about the Exercise of their Gifts in their Meetings, this of Tongues is the only one that he restrains and limits, ver. 27, 28.

3^v What is meant by Prophecy, see Chap. XII. 10.

4^h By γλώσσαις, unknown Tongue, Dr. Lightfoot in this Chapter understands the Hebrew Tongue; which, as he observes, was used in the Synagogue in reading the sacred Scripture, in Praying, and in Preaching. If that be the Meaning of Tongue here, it suits well the Apostle's Design, which was to take them off from their Jezebel like Apostle, who probably might have encouraged and promoted this speaking of Hebrew in their Assemblies.

6. he delivers in an unknown Tongue, that the Church may be edified by it. For Example, should I apply myself to you in a Tongue you knew not, what Good should I do you, unless I interpreted to you what I said, that you might understand the Revelation, or Knowledge, or Prophecy, or Doctrineⁱ contained in it? Even inanimate Instruments of Sound, as Pipe, or Harp, are not made use of to make an insignificant Noise; but distinct Notes, expressing Mirth, or Mourning, or the like, are played upon them; whereby the Tune and Composure is understood. And if the Trumpet found not some Point of War that is understood, the Soldier is not thereby instructed what to do. So likewise ye, unless with the Tongue which you use, you utter Words of a clear and known Signification to your Hearers, you talk to the Wind, for your Auditors understand nothing that you say. There is a great Number of significant Languages in the World, I know not how many, every Nation has its own; if then I understand not another's Language, and the Force of his Words, I am to him, when he speaks, a Barbarian, and what-with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

Now, brethren, if I come 6 unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

And even things with- 7 out life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

For if the trumpet give 8 an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

So likewise you, except 9 ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

There are, it may be, 10 so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

Therefore if I know not 11 the meaning of the voice,

NOTES.

6ⁱ 'Tis not to be doubted but these four distinct Terms used here by the Apostle, had each its distinct Signification in his Mind and Intention; whether what may be collected from these Epistles, may sufficiently warrant us to understand them in the following Significations, I leave to the Judgment of others. 1st, Ἀποκάλυψις, Revelation, something revealed by God immediately to the Person, vid. ver. 30. 2^{dly}, Γνωσις, Knowledge; the understanding the mystical and evangelical Sense of Passages in the Old Testament, relating to our Saviour and the Gospel. 3^{dly}, Προφητεία, Prophecy, an inspired Hymn, vid. ver. 26. 4^{thly}, Διδασκαλίαν, Doctrine; any Truth of the Gospel concerning Faith or Manners. But whether this, or any other precise Meaning of these Words can be certainly made out now, it is perhaps of no great Necessity to be over-curious; it being enough, for the understanding the Sense and Argument of the Apostle here, to know that these Terms stand for some intelligible Discourse tending to the Edification of the Church, though of what Kind each of them was in particular, we certainly know not.

14 This is evident from ver. 4. where it is said, He that speaketh with a Tongue, edifies himself.

15 I will not pretend to justify this Interpretation of τῷ νοῦ, by the exact Rules of the Greek Idiom; but the Sense of the Place will, I think, bear me out in it. And, as there is occasion often to remark, he must be little versed in the Writings of St. Paul, who does not observe, that when he has used a Term, he is apt to repeat it again in the same Discourse in a Way peculiar to himself, and somewhat varied from its ordinary Signification; so having here, in the foregoing Verse, used νόος for the Sentiment of his own Mind, which was unprofitable to others when he prayed in a Tongue unknown to them, and opposed it to πνεῦμα, which he used there for his own Sense, accompanying his own Words, intelligible to himself, when by the Impulse of the Spirit he prayed in a foreign Tongue, he here, in this Verse, continues to use Praying, τῷ πνεύματι, and τῷ νοῦ, in the same Opposition; the one for praying in a strange Tongue, which alone his own Mind understood and accompanied; the other for praying so, as that the Meaning of his Mind, in those Words he uttered, was made known to others, so that they were also benefited. This Use of πνεύματι is farther confirmed in the next Verse, and what he means by νοῦ here, he expresses by διὰ νοῦς, ver. 19. and there explains the Meaning of it.

^m For so he orders in the Use of an unknown Tongue, ver. 27.

- And so I will do also in Singingⁿ; I will sing by the Spirit in an unknown Tongue, but I will take care that the Meaning of what I sing shall be understood by the Assistants. And thus ye shall all do in all like Cases. For if thou, by the Impulse of the Spirit, givest Thanks to God in an unknown Tongue, which all understand not; how shall the Hearer, who in this Respect is unlearned, and being ignorant in that Tongue, knows not what thou sayest, how shall he say Amen? How shall he join in the Thanks which he understands not?
17. Thou indeed givest Thanks well, but the other
18. is not at all edified by it. I thank God, I speak
19. with Tongues more than you all; but I had rather speak in the Church five Words that are understood, that I might instruct others also, than in an unknown Tongue ten thousand, sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

Else when thou shalt be blest with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

I thank my God, I speak with Tongues more than you all:

Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men.

In the law it is written, With men of other tongues, and other lips,

NOTES.

ⁿ Here it may be observed, that as in their public Prayer one prayed, and the others held their Peace, so it was in their Singing; at least, in that Singing which was of extempore Hymns, by the Impulse of the Spirit.

^o By κακία, Malice, I think is here to be understood all Sorts of ill Temper of Mind, contrary to the Gentleness and Innocence of Childhood; and in particular their Emulation and Strife about the Exercise of their Gifts in their Assemblies.

- 22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.
- 23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?
- 24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:
- 25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.
- 26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath doc-
- Law^s, With Men of other Tongues, and other Lips, will I speak unto this People; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord. So that you see the speaking of strange Tongues miraculously, is not for those who are already converted, but for a Sign to those who are Unbelievers: But Prophecy is for Believers, and not for Unbelievers; and therefore fitter for your Assemblies. If therefore, when the Church is all come together, you should all speak in unknown Tongues, and Men unlearned, or Unbelievers, should come in, would they not say that you are mad? But if ye all prophesy, and an Unbeliever or ignorant Man come in, the Discourses he hears from you reaching his Conscience, and the secret Thoughts of his Heart, he is convinced, and wrought upon; and so falling down, worships God, and declares that God is certainly amongst you. What then is to be done, Brethren? When ye come together, every one is ready^r, one with a Psalm, another with a Doctrine, another with a strange Tongue, another with a Revelation, another with Interpretation. Let

NOTES.

21 The Books of Sacred Scripture, delivered to the Jews by Divine Revelation, under the Law, before the Time of the Gospel, which we now call the Old Testament, are in the Writings of the New Testament called sometimes the Law, the Prophets, and the Psalms, as Luke XXIV. 44. sometimes the Law and the Prophets, as Acts XXIV. 14. And sometimes they are all comprehended under this one Name, the Law, as here; for the Passage cited is in Isaiah.

26 'Tis plain, by this whole Discourse of the Apolle's, that there were Contentions and Emulations amongst them for Precedency of their Gifts; and therefore I think ἐναστος ἕχ^r may be rendered, every one is ready, as impatient to be first heard. If there were no such Disorder amongst them, there would have been no need for the Regulations given in the End of this Verse, and the seven Verses following; especially cor. 31, 32. where he tells them, they all may prophesy one by one, and that the Motions of the Spirit were not so ungovernable, as not to leave a Man Master of himself. He must not think himself under a Necessity of speaking, as soon as he found any Impulse of the Spirit upon his Mind.

27. all Things be done to Edification, even though any one speak in an unknown Tongue, which is a Gift that seems least intended for Edifica-tion¹; let but two or three at most, at any one Meeting, speak in an unknown Tongue, and that separately one after another; and let there 28. be but one Interpreter². But if there be no body present that can interpret, let not any one use his Gift of Tongues in the Congregation, but let him silently within himself speak to him-
 29. self, and to God. Of those who have the Gift of Prophecy, let but two or three speak at the same Meeting, and let the others examine 30. and discuss it. But if, during their Debate, the Meaning of it be revealed to one that sits by, let him that was discoursing of it before 31. give off. For ye may all prophesy one after another, that all may in their Turns be Hearers, and receive Exhortation and Instruc-32. tion. For the Gifts of the Holy Ghost are not like the Possession of the Heathen Priests, who are not Makers of the Spirit that possesses them: But Christians, however filled trine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done to edifying.

If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

NOTES.

27¹ St. Paul has said in this Chapter as much as conveniently could be said to restrain their speaking in unknown Tongues in their Assemblies; which seems to be that wherein the Vanity and Ostentation of the Corinthians was most forward to shew itself. It is not, says he, a Gift intended for the Edification of Believers; however, since you will be exercising it in your Meetings, let it always be so ordered, that it may be for Edification. εἰς I have rendered alho': So I think it is sometimes used, but no where, as I remember, simply for if, as in our Translation; nor will the Sense here bear whether, which is the common Signification of εἰς. And therefore I take the Apostle's Sense to be this: You must do nothing but to Edification, though you speak in an unknown Tongue; even an unknown Tongue must be made use of, in your Assemblies, only to Edification.

² The Rule of the Synagogue was, In the Law let one read, and one interpret: In the Prophets let one read, and two interpret: In Escher ten may read, and ten interpret. 'Tis not improbable that some such Disorder had been introduced into the Church of Corinth by their Judaizing false Apostle, which St. Paul would here put an end to.

37^x Πνευματικός, a spiritual Man, in the Sense of St. Paul, is one who finds his Knowledge in what is revealed by the Spirit of God, and not in the bare Discoveries of his natural Reason and Parts; vid. Chap. II. 15.

38^y By the any Man mentioned in this, and the foregoing Verse, St. Paul seems to intimate the false Apostle, who pretended to give Laws amongst them; and, as we have observed, may well be supposed to be the Author of these Disorders, whom therefore St. Paul reflects on, and presses in these three Verses.

39^z Ζῆλον, in this whole Discourse of St. Paul, taken to refer to the Exercise, and not to the obtaining the Gifts to which it is joined, will direct us right in understanding St. Paul, and make his Meaning very easy and intelligible.

After St. Paul (who had taught them another Doctrine) had left Corinth, some among them denied the Resurrection of the Dead. 1 Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the Gospel which I preached unto you, which also you have received, and wherein ye stand;
 2 By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.
 3 For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins, according to the scriptures:
 4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day, according to the scriptures:
 5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.
 6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once: of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep:
 7 After that he was seen of James; then of all the apostles.
 8 And last of all, he was seen of me also, as one born out of due time.
 9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
 10 But by the grace of God,

IN what I am now going to say to you, Brethren, I make known to you no other Gospel than what I formerly preached to you, and you received, and have hitherto professed, and by which alone you are to be saved. This you will find to be so, if you retain in your Memories what it was that I preached to you; which you certainly do, unless you have taken up the Christian Name and Profession to no purpose. For I delivered to you, and particularly insisted on this, which I had received, viz. that Christ died for our Sins, according to the Scriptures; and that he was buried, and that he was raised again the third Day, according to the Scriptures; and that he was seen by Peter, afterwards by the twelve Apostles; and after that, by above five hundred Christians at once, of whom the greatest Part remain alive to this Day, but some of them are deceased: Afterwards he was seen by James; and after that by all the Apostles. Last of all, he was seen by me also, as by one born before my Time^a. For I am the least of the Apostles, not worthy the Name of an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God. But by the free Bounty of God, I am what it hath pleased him to make me: And this Favour which he hath bestowed

N O T E S.

^a An abortive Birth that comes before its Time, which is the Name St. Paul gives himself here, is usually sudden and at unawares; and is also weak and feeble, scarce deserving to be called or counted a Man. The former Part agrees to St. Paul's being made a Christian and an Apostle, though it be in regard of the latter that in the following Verse St. Paul calls himself abortive.

11. on me, hath not been altogether fruitless, for I have laboured in preaching of the Gospel more than all the other Apostles^b; which yet I do not ascribe to any thing of myself, but to the Favour of God which accompanied me. But whether I, or the other Apostles preached, this was that which we preached, and this was the Faith ye were baptized into, viz. that Christ died, and rose again the third Day. If therefore this be so, if this be that which has been preached to you, viz. that Christ has been raised from the Dead, how comes it that some^c amongst you say, as they do, that there is no Resurrection of the Dead? And if there be no Resurrection of the Dead, then even Christ himself is not risen: And if Christ be not risen, our Preaching is idle Talk, and your believing it is to no purpose. And we who pretend to be Witnesses for God and his Truth, shall be found Liars, bearing Witness against God and his Truth, affirming that he raised Christ, whom in truth he did not raise, if it be so that the Dead are not raised. For if the Dead shall not be raised, neither is Christ raised: And if Christ be not raised, your Faith is to no purpose; your Sins are

I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me, was not in vain: but I laboured more abundantly than they all; yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

Therefore whether it 11 were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

And if Christ be not 14 risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

Ye, and we are found 15 false witnesses of God; because we have testified of God, that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

For if the dead rise not, 16 then is not Christ raised:

And if Christ be not 17 raised, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins.

NOTES.

10^b St. Paul drops in this Commendation of himself to keep up his Credit in the Church of Corinth, where there was a Faction labouring to discredit him.

12^c This may well be understood of the Head of the contrary Faction, and some of his Scholars. 1st, Because St. Paul introduces this Confutation by asserting his Mission, which these his Opposers would bring in question. 2^{dly}, Because he is so careful to let the Corinthians see he maintains not the Doctrine of the Resurrection, in opposition to these their new Leaders; it being the Doctrine he had preached to them at their first Conversion, before any such false Apostle appeared among them, and misled them about the Resurrection. Their false Apostle was a Yew. and in all appearance judaized; may he not also be suspected of Sadducism? For 'tis plain, he, with all his Might, opposed St. Paul; which must be from some main Difference in Opinion at the bottom, for there are no Footsteps of any personal Provocation.

²⁹ Else here relates to ver. 20. where it is said, Christ is risen. St. Paul having in that Verse mentioned Christ being the First-Fruits from the Dead, takes occasion from thence, now that he is upon the Resurrection, to inform the Corinthians of several Particularities relating to the Resurrection, which might enlighten them about it, and could not be known but by Revelation. Having made this Excursion in the eight preceding Verses, he here, in the 29th, re-assumes the Thread of his Discourse, and goes on with his Arguments for believing the Resurrection.

^f What this Baptizing for the Dead was, I confess I know not; but it seems, by the following Verses, to be something wherein they exposed themselves to the Danger of Death.

- 35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up ? and with what body do they come ?
- 36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened except it die.
- 37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain ; it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain.
- 38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

But possibly it will be asked, How comes it to pass that dead Men are raised ? and with what Kind of Bodies do they come ^h ? Shall they have at the Resurrection such Bodies as they have now ? Thou Fool, does not daily Experience teach thee, that the Seed which thou sowest corrupts and dies, before it springs up and lives again ? That which thou sowest is the bare Grain of Wheat or Barley, or the like ; but the Body which it has when it rises up, is different from the Seed that is sown. For it is not the Seed that rises up again, but a quite different Body, such as God has thought fit to give it, viz. a Plant of a particular Shape and Size, which God has appointed to each Sort of Seed. And so likewise it is in Animals, there are different Kinds of Flesh ⁱ ; for the Flesh of Men is of 34 ^e May not this probably be said to make them ashamed of their Leader, whom they were so forward to glory in ? For 'tis not unlikely, that their questioning and denying the Resurrection, came from their new Apostle, who raised such Opposition against St. Paul.

NOTES.

35 ^h If we will allow St. Paul to know what he says, it is plain from what he answers, that he understands these Words to contain two Questions. 1st, How comes it to pass that dead Men are raised to Life again ? would it not be better they should live on ? Why do they die to live again ? 2^{dly}, With what Bodies shall they return to Life ? To both these he distinctly answers, viz. That those who are raised to an heavenly State, shall have other Bodies : And next, that it is fit that Men should die, Death being no improper Way to the attaining other Bodies. This he shews there is so plain and common an Instance of, in the sowing of all Seeds, that he thinks it a foolish Thing to make a Difficulty of it ; and then proceeds to declare, that as they shall have others, so they shall have better Bodies than they had before, viz. spiritual and incorruptible.

39 ⁱ The Scope of the Place makes it evident, that by Flesh, St. Paul here means Bodies, viz. That God has given to the several Sorts of Animals, Bodies, in Shape, Texture and Organization, very different one from another, as he has thought good ; and so he can give to Men, at the Resurrection, Bodies of very different Constitutions and Qualities from those they had before.

one Kind; the Flesh of Cattle is of another Kind; that of Fish is different from them both; and the Flesh of Birds is of a peculiar Sort,
 40. different from them all. To look yet farther into the Difference of Bodies, there be both heavenly and earthly Bodies; but the Beauty and Excellency of the heavenly Bodies is of one Kind, and that of earthly Bodies of another.
 41. The Sun, Moon and Stars, have each of them their particular Beauty and Brightness; and one Star differs from another in Glory.
 42. And so shall the Resurrection of the Dead^k be; That ther flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

There are also celestial⁴⁰ bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

There is one glory of⁴¹ the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory.

So also is the resurrection⁴² of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption:

NOTES.

42^k The Resurrection of the Dead here spoken of, is not the Resurrection of all Mankind in common, but only the Resurrection of the Just. This will be evident to any one, who observes that St. Paul having, ver. 22. declared that all Men shall be made alive again, tells the Corinthians, ver. 23. that it shall not be all at once, but at several Distances of Time. First of all Christ rose, afterwards, next in Order to him, the Saints should all be raised; which Resurrection of the Just is that which he treats, and gives an Account of to the End of this Discourse and Chapter, and so never comes to the Resurrection of the Wicked, which was to be the third and last in Order: So that from the 23d Verse to the End of this Chapter, all that he says of the Resurrection, is a Description only of the Resurrection of the Just, though he calls it here by the general Name of the Resurrection of the Dead. That this is so, there is so much Evidence, that there is scarce a Verse, from the 41st to the End, that does not evince it.

1st. What in this Resurrection is raised, St. Paul assures us, ver. 43. is raised in Glory; but the Wicked are not raised in Glory.

2^{dly}, He says we (speaking in the Name of all that shall be then raised) shall bear the Image of the heavenly Adam, ver. 49. which cannot belong to the Wicked. We shall all be changed, that by putting on Incorruptibility, and Immortality, Death may be swallowed up of Victory, which God giveth us through our Lord Jesus Christ, ver. 51, 52, 53, 54, 57. which cannot likewise belong to the Damned. And therefore we and us must be understood to be spoken in the Name of the Dead that are Christ's, who are to be raised by themselves before the rest of Mankind.

3^{dly}, He says, ver. 52. that when the Dead are raised, they who are alive shall be changed in the Twinkling of an Eye. Now that these Dead are only the Dead in Christ, which shall rise first, and shall be caught up in the Clouds to meet the Lord in the Air, is plain from 1 Thess. IV. 16, 17.

4^{thly}, He teaches, ver. 54. that by this Corruptible's putting on Incorruption, is brought to pass the saying, that Death is swallowed up of Victory. But, I think, no body will say that the Wicked have Victory over Death; yet that, according to the Apostle here, belongs to all those whose corruptible Bodies have put on Incorruption, which therefore must be only those that rise the second in Order. From whence it is clear, that their Resurrection alone is that which is here mentioned and described.

43 It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power:

That which is sown in this World^l, and comes to die, is a poor, weak, contemptible, corruptible Thing; when it is raised again, it shall be powerful, glorious, and incorruptible.

The

NOTES.

5thly, A farther Proof whereof is ver. 56, 57. in that their Sins being taken away, the Sting whereby Death kills is taken away. And hence St. Paul says, God has given us the Victory; which is the same us or we who should bear the Image of the heavenly Adam, ver. 49. and the same we, who should all be changed, ver. 51, 52. All which Places can therefore belong to none but those who are Christ's, who shall be raised by themselves, the second in Order, before the rest of the Dead.

'Tis very remarkable what St. Paul says in this 51st Verse, We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed in the Twinkling of an Eye. The Reason he gives for it, ver. 53. is, because this corruptible Thing must put on Incorruption, and this mortal Thing must put on Immortality. How? Why, by putting off Flesh and Blood by an instantaneous Change, because, as he tells us, ver. 50. Flesh and Blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God; and therefore, to fit Believers for that Kingdom, those who are alive at Christ's coming, shall be changed in the Twinkling of an Eye, and those that are in their Graves, shall be changed likewise at the Instant of their being raised; and so all the whole Collection of Saints, all the Members of Christ's Body, shall be put into a State of Incorruptibility, ver. 52. in a new Sort of Bodies: Taking the Resurrection here spoken of, to be the Resurrection of all the Dead promiscuously, St. Paul's Reasoning in this Place can hardly be understood: But, upon a Supposition that he here describes the Resurrection of the Just only, that Resurrection which, as he says, ver. 23. is to be the next after Christ's, and separate from the rest, there is nothing can be more plain, natural and easy, than St. Paul's Reasoning; and it stands thus: Men alive are Flesh and Blood, the Dead in the Graves are but the Remains of corrupted Flesh and Blood, but Flesh and Blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God, neither Corruption inherit Incorruption, i. e. Immortality; therefore to make all those who are Christ's capable to enter into his eternal Kingdom of Life, as well those of them who are alive, as those of them who are raised from the Dead, shall in the Twinkling of an Eye be all changed, and their Corruptible shall put on Incorruption, and their Mortal shall put on Immortality: And thus God gives them the Victory over Death, through their Lord Jesus Christ. This is, in short, St. Paul's Arguing here, and the Account he gives of the Resurrection of the Blessed. But how the Wicked, who are afterwards to be restored to Life, were to be raised, and what was to become of them, he here says nothing, as not being to his present Purpose, which was to assure the Corinthians, by the Resurrection of Christ, of a happy Resurrection to Believers, and thereby to encourage them to continue steadfast in the Faith which had such a Reward. That this was his Design, may be seen by the Beginning of his Discourse, ver. 12—21. and by the Conclusion, ver. 58. in these Words: Wherefore, my beloved Brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the Work of the Lord; forasmuch as ye know that your Labour is not in vain in the Lord. Which Words shew that what he had been speaking of in the immediately preceding Verses, viz. their being changed, and the putting on of Incorruption and Immortality, and their having thereby the Victory through Jesus Christ, was what belonged solely to the Saints, as a Reward to those who remained steadfast, and abounded in the Work of the Lord.

The like Use, of the like, though shorter Discourse of the Resurrection, wherein he describes only that of the Blessed, he makes to the Thessalonians, 1 Thess. IV. 13—18. which he concludes thus: Wherefore comfort one another with these Words.

44. The Body we have here¹, surpasses not the animal Nature; at the Resurrection it shall be spiritual. There are both animal^m and spiritualⁿ Bodies. And so it is written, The first Man Adam was made a living Soul, i. e. made of an animal Constitution, endowed with an animal Life; the second Adam was made of a spiritual Constitution, with a Power to give Life to others. Howbeit, the spiritual was not first, but the animal; and afterwards the spiritual. The first Man was of the Earth, made up of Dust or earthly Particles; the second Man is the Lord from Heaven. Those who have no higher an Extraction than barely from the earthly Man, they, like him, have barely an animal Life and Constitution. But

It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul, the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

Howbeit, that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.

The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven.

As is the earthly, such are they also that are earthly: and as is the

N O T E S.

Nor is it in this Place alone that St. Paul calls the Resurrection of the Just by the general Name of the Resurrection of the Dead. He does the same, Phil. III. 11. where he speaks of his Sufferings, and of his Endeavours, if by any means he might attain unto the Resurrection of the Dead; whereby he cannot mean the Resurrection of the Dead in general, which, since he has declared in this very Chapter, ver. 22. all Men, both good and bad, shall as certainly partake of, as that they shall die, there needs no Endeavours to attain to it. Our Saviour likewise speaks of the Resurrection of the Just in the same general Terms of the Resurrection, Mat. XXII. 30. and the Resurrection from the Dead, Luke XX. 35. by which is meant only the Resurrection of the Just, as is plain from the Context.

¹ The Time that Man is in this World affixed to this Earth, is his being sown, and not when being dead he is put in the Grave, as is evident from St. Paul's own Words: For dead Things are not sown; Seeds are sown being alive, and die not till after they are sown. Besides, he that will attentively consider what follows, will find reason from St. Paul's arguing to understand him so.

^m Σῶμα ζωικόν, which, in our Bibles, is translated natural Body, should, I think, more suitably to the Propriety of the Greek, and more conformably to the Apostle's Meaning, be translated animal Body: For that which St. Paul is doing here, is to shew, that as we have animal Bodies now (which we derived from Adam) endowed with an animal Life, which, unless supported with a constant Supply of Food and Air, will fail and perish, and at last, do what we can, will dissolve and come to an End, so at the Resurrection we shall have from Christ, the second Adam, spiritual Bodies, which shall have an essential and natural inseparable Life in them, which shall continue and subsist perpetually of itself, without the Help of Meat and Drink, or Air, or any such foreign Support, without Decay, or any Tendency to a Dissolution; of which our Saviour speaking, Luke XX. 35. says, They who shall be accounted worthy to obtain that World, and the Resurrection from the Dead, cannot die any more, for they are equal to the Angels, i. e. of an angelical Nature and Constitution.

heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Behold, I shew you a mystery; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump (for the trumpet shall sound) and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and those who are regenerate, and born of the heavenly Seed, are as he that is heavenly, spiritual, and immortal. And as in the animal, corruptible, mortal State we were born in, we have been like him that was earthy; so also shall we, who at the Resurrection partake of a Spiritual Life from Christ, be made like him, the Lord from Heaven, heavenly, i. e. live as the Spirits in Heaven do, without the Need of Food or Nourishment to support it, and without Infirmities, Decay and Death, enjoying a fixed, stable, unfleeting Life. This I say to you, Brethren, to satisfy those that ask with what Bodies the Dead shall come, that we shall not at the Resurrection have such Bodies as we have now: For Flesh and Blood cannot enter into the Kingdom which the Saints shall inherit in Heaven: nor are such fleeting, corruptible Things as our present Bodies are, fitted to that State of immutable Incorruptibility. To which let me add, what has not been hitherto discovered, viz. that we shall not all die, but we shall all be changed in a Moment, in the Twinkling of an Eye, at the Sounding of the last Trumpet; for the Trumpet shall sound, and the Dead shall rise; and as many of us Believers as are then alive, shall be changed. For this corruptible ° Frame and Constitution of ours must put on Incorruption, and from mortal

Ἔτω ἡ ἡ ἀνάστασις τῶν νεκρῶν σπείρειται ἐν φθορᾷ. So is the Resurrection of the Dead; it is sown in Corruption, i. e. mortal, corruptible Men, are sown. being corruptible and weak. Nor can it be thought strange or strained, that I interpret φθαρτὸν and θνητὸν as Adjectives of the Neuter Gender, to signify Persons, when, in this very Discourse, the Apostle uses two Adjectives in the Neuter

And when we are got into that State of Incorruptibility and Immortality, then shall be fulfilled what was foretold in these Words, Death is swallowed up of Victory^p; i. e. Death is perfectly subdued and exterminated by a compleat Victory over it, so that there shall be no Death any more. Where,
55. O Death, is now that Power whereby thou deprivest Men of Life? What is become of the Dominion of the Grave, whereby they were detained Prisoners there^q? That which gives this mortal must put on immortality.

So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

O Death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?

The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.

But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory, through our Lord Jesus.

Neuter Gender, to signify the Persons of Adam and Christ, in such a way, as it is impossible to understand them otherwise. The Words no farther off than ver. 46. are these: 'Αλλὰ ὁ πρῶτον τὸ πνευματικόν' ἀλλὰ τὸ ψυχικόν, ἔπειτα τὸ πνευματικόν. The like Way of speaking we have Mat. I. 20. and Luke I. 35. in both which the Person of our Saviour is expressed by Adjectives of the Neuter Gender. To any of all which Places I do not think any one will add the Substantive σῶμα, Body, to make out the Sense. That then which is meant here being this, that this mortal Man shall put on Immortality, and this corruptible Man Incorruptibility, any one will easily find another Nominative Case to στίβεται, is forwn, and not σῶμα, Body, when he considers the Sense of the Place; wherein the Apostle's Purpose is to speak of νεκρῶν, mortal Men, being dead, and raised again to Life, and made immortal. Those with whom Grammatical Construction, and the Nominative Case weighs so much, may be pleased to read this Passage in Virgil; where, by finding the Nominative Case to the two Verbs in it, he may come to discover that Personality, as, contra-distinguished to both Body and Soul, may be the Nominative Case to Verbs.

⁵⁴ Νίκη, Victory, often signifies End and Destruction. See Vossius de LXX interpret. cap. 24.

There needed no Approbation of their Messengers to him by their Letters, when he was present: And if the Corinthians, by their Letters, approved of them to the Saints at Jerusalem, how could St. Paul say he would send them?

Second EPISTLE of St. PAUL

TO THE

SYNOPSIS.

Saint Paul having writ his first Epistle to the Corinthians, to try, as he says himself, Chap. II. 9. what Power he had still with that Church, wherein there was a great Faction against him, which he was attempting to break, was in pain till he found what Success it had, Chap. II. 12, 13. and VII. 5. But when he had by Titus received an Account of their Repentance, upon his former Letter; of their Submission to his Orders, and of their good Disposition of Mind towards him; he takes Courage, speaks of himself more freely, and justifies himself more boldly, as may be seen, Chap. I. 12. & II. 14. & VI. 10. & X. 1. & XIII. 10. And as to his Opposers, he deals more roundly and sharply with them, than he had done in his former Epistle, as appears from Chap. II. 17. & IV. 2—5. & V. 12. & VI. 11—16. & XI. 11. & XII. 15.

The Observation of these Particulars may possibly be of use to give us some light, for the better understanding of this second Epistle; especially if we add, that the main Business of this, as of his former Epistle, is to take off the People from the new Leader they had got, who was St. Paul's Opposer; and wholly to put an end to the Faction and Disorder which that false Apostle had caused in the Church of Corinth. He also, in this Epistle, stirs them

Chap. I. up again to a liberal Contribution to the poor Saints at Jerusalem.

This Epistle was writ in the same Year, not long after the former.

TEXT.

2. all the Christians that are in all Achaia^b; Favour and Peace be to you from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

NOTES.

^a Brother, i. e. either in the common Faith; and so as we have already remarked, he frequently calls all the Converted, as Rom. I. 13. and in other Places; or Brother in the Work of the Ministry, vid. Rom. XVI. 21. 1 Cor. XVI. 10. To which we may add, that St. Paul may be supposed to have given Timothy the Title of Brother here for Dignity's sake, to give him a Reputation above his Age amongst the Corinthians, to whom he had before sent him, with some kind of Authority to rectify their Disorders. Timothy was but a young Man, when St. Paul writ his first Epistle to him, as appears, 1 Tim. IV. 12. Which Epistle, by the Consent of all, was writ to Timothy after he had been at Corinth; and in the Opinion of some very learned Men, not less than Eight Years after: And therefore his calling him Brother here, and joining him with himself in writing this Epistle, may be to let the Corinthians see, that though he were so young, who had been sent to them, yet it was one whom St. Paul thought fit to treat very much as an Equal.

C O N T E N T S.

THIS first Part of this Second Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians, is spent in justifying himself against several Imputations from the opposite Faction, and setting himself right in the Opinion of the Corinthians: The Particulars whereof we shall take notice of in the following Numbers.

S E C T. II. N. I.

C H A P. I. 3.—14.

C O N T E N T S.

HE begins with justifying his former Letter to them, which had afflicted them, vid. Chap. VII. 7, 8. by telling them, that he thanks God for his Deliverance out of his Afflictions, because it enables him to comfort them, by the Example both of his Affliction and Deliverance; acknowledging the Obligation he had to them and others, for their Prayers and Thanks for his Deliverance, which he presumes they could not but put up for him, since his Conscience bears him witness (which was his Comfort) that in his Carriage to all Men, and to them more especially, he had been direct and sincere, without any self or carnal Interest, and that what he writ to them had no other Design but what lay open, and they read in his Words; and did also acknowledge, and he doubted not but they should always acknowledge, part of them acknowledging already, that he was the Man they gloried in, as they shall be his Glory in the Day of the Lord. From what St. Paul says in this Section, (which, if read with Attention, will appear to be writ with a Turn of great Insinuation) it may be gathered, that the opposite Faction endeavoured to evade the Force of the former Epistle, by suggesting, that Chap. I. that whatever he might pretend, St. Paul was a cunning, artificial, self-interested Man, and had some hidden Design in it; which Accufation appears in other Parts also of this Epistle, as Chap. IV.

THE next Thing St. Paul justifies, is his not coming to them. St. Paul had promised to call on the Corinthians in his way to Macedonia, but failed. This his Opposers would have to be from Levity in him, or a Mind that regulated itself wholly by carnal Interest, vid. ver. 17. To which he answers, that God himself having confirmed him amongst them, by the Uction and Earnest of his Spirit, in the Ministry of the Gospel of his Son, whom St. Paul had preached to them steadily the same, without any the least Variation, or unsaying any thing he had at any Time delivered, they could have no ground to suspect him to be an unstable uncertain Man, that would play fast and loose with them, and could not be depended on in what he said to them. This is what he says, Chap. I. 15—22.

In the next Place he, with a very solemn Asseseration, professes that it was to spare them, that he came not to them. This he explains, Chap. I. 23. and II. 2, 3.

He gives another Reason, Chap. II. 12, 13. why he went on to Macedonia, without coming to Corinth, as he had purposed; and that was the Uncertainty he was in, by the not coming of Titus, what Temper they were in at Corinth. Having mentioned his Journey to Macedonia, he takes notice of the Success which God gave to him there and every where, declaring of what Consequence his Preaching was both to the Salvation and Condemnation of those who received or rejected it; professing again his Sincerity and Disinterestedness, not without a severe Reflection on their false Apostle. All which we find in the following Verses, viz. Chap. II. 14—17. and is all very suitable, and pursuant to his Design in this Epistle, which was to establish his Authority and Credit amongst the Corinthians.

PARAPHRASE.

15 AND in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that you might have a second benefit:

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea, and nay.

19 For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God:

22 Who hath also sealed us

HAVING this Persuasion (viz.) of your Love and Esteem of me, I purposed to come unto you ere this, that you might have a second Gratificationⁱ; and to take you in my Way to Macedonia, and from thence return to you again, and by you be brought on in my Way to Judea. If this fell not out so as I purposed, am I therefore to be condemned of Fickleness? or am I to be thought an uncertain Man, that talks forwards and backwards; one that has no regard to his Word, any farther than may suit his carnal Interest? But God is my Witness, that what you have heard from me has not been uncertain, deceitful, or variable. For Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who was preached among you by me, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not, sometimes one thing, and sometimes another; but has been shewn to be uniformly one and the same, in the Counsel or Revelation of God, (for all the Promises of God do all consent and stand firm in him) to the Glory of God by my Preaching. Now it is God who establishes me with you, for the preaching of the Gospel, who has anointed^k, and also sealed^l me, and given me the Ear-

NOTES.

15ⁱ By the Word χαρις, which our Bibles translate Benefit or Grace, 'tis plain the Apostle means his being present among them a second Time, without giving them any Grief or Displeasure. He had been with them before, almost two Years together, with Satisfaction and Kindness: He intended them another Visit; but it was, he says, that they might have the like Gratification, i. e. the like Satisfaction in his Company a second Time; which is the same he says, 2 Cor. II. 1.

21^k Anointed, i. e. set apart to be an Apostle by an extraordinary Call. Priests and Prophets were set apart by Anointing, as well as Kings.

^m Earnest of Eternal Life; for of that the Spirit is mentioned as a Pledge, in more Places than one, vid. 2 Cor. V. 5. Eph. I. 13, 14. All these are Arguments to satisfy the Corinthians that St. Paul was not, nor could be, a shuffling Man, that minded not what he said, but as it served his Turn.

The Reasoning of St. Paul, ver. 18—22. whereby he would convince the Corinthians that he is not a fickle, unsteady Man, that says and unsays, as may suit his Humour or Interest, being a little obscure, by reason of the Shortness of his Style here, which has left many Things to be supplied by the Reader, to connect the Parts of the Argumentation, and make the Deduction clear; I hope I shall be pardoned, if I endeavour to set it in its clear Light, for the sake of ordinary Readers.

God hath set me apart to the Ministry of the Gospel by an extraordinary Call, has attested my Mission by the miraculous Gifts of the Holy Ghost, and given me the Earnest of eternal Life in my Heart by his Spirit, and hath confirmed me amongst you in preaching the Gospel, which is all uniform, and of a piece, as I have preached it to you, without tripping in the least; and there, to the Glory of God, have shewn that all the Promises concur, and are unalterably certain in Christ: I therefore having never faltered in any thing I have said to you, and having all these Attestations of being under the special Direction and Guidance of God himself, who is unalterably true, cannot be suspected of dealing doubly with you in any thing relating to my Ministry.

²⁴ It is plain St. Paul's Doctrine had been opposed by some of them at Corinth, vid. 1 Cor. XV. 12. his Apostleship questioned, 1 Cor. IX. 1, 2. 2 Cor. XIII. 3. he himself triumphed over, as if he durst not come, 1 Cor. IV. 18. they saying, his Letters were weighty and powerful, but his bodily Presence weak, and his Speech contemptible, 2 Cor. X. 10. This being the State his Reputation was then in at Corinth, and he having promised to come to them, 1 Cor. XVI. 5. he could not but think it necessary to excuse his failing them, by Reasons that should be both convincing and kind; such as are contained in this Verse, in the Sense given of it.

And this very Thing^p, which made you sad, I writ to you, not coming myself, on purpose, that when I came, I might not have Sorrow from those from whom I ought to receive Comfort; having this Belief and Confidence in you all, that you, all of you, make my Joy and Satisfaction so much your own, that you would remove all Cause of Disturbance before I came. For I writ unto you with great Sadness of Heart, and many Tears; not with intention to grieve you, but that you might know the Overflow of Tenderness and Affection which I have for you. But if the Fornicator has been the Cause of Grief, I do not say he has been so to me, but in some degree to you all, that I may not lay load on him^q; |

NOTES.

1^o That this is the Meaning of this Verse, and not that he would not come to them in Sorrow a second Time, is past doubt, since he had never been with them in Sorrow a first Time; vid. 2 Cor. I. 15.

3^p Καὶ ἔγραψα ὑμῖν τὸ αὐτὸ, And I writ to you this very Thing. That ἔγραψα, I writ, relates here to the first Epistle to the Corinthians, is evident, because it is so used in the very next Verse; and again, a little lower, ver. 9. What, therefore, is it, in his first Epistle, which he here calls τὸ αὐτὸ, this very Thing, which he had writ to them? I answer, the Punishment of the Fornicator. This is plain by what follows here, to ver. 11. especially if it be compared with 1 Cor. IV. 21. and V. 8. For there he writes to them to punish that Person; whom if he, St. Paul, had come himself before it was done, he must have come, as he calls it, with a Rod, and have himself chastised: But now that he knows that the Corinthians had punished him in compliance to his Letter, and he had this Trial of their Obedience, he is so far from continuing the Severity, that he writes to them to forgive him, and take him again into their Affection.

5^q St. Paul being satisfied with the Corinthians for their ready Compliance with his Orders, in his former Letter, to punish the Fornicator, intercedes to have him restored; and to that end lessens his Fault, and declares, however he might have caused Grief to the Corinthians, yet he had caused none to him.

 made not use of the Opportunity which was put into my Hands, by the Lord, of preaching

Furthermore, when I 12 came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

I had no rest in my spi- 13

Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into

NOTES.

^r Ἐναντίον, On the contrary, here, has nothing to refer to but ἑταίρος, Over-charge, in the 5th Verse; which makes that to belong to the Fornicator, as I have explained it.

^s Ὁ τοῖς τοῖς, such an one, meaning the Fornicator. It is observable how tenderly St. Paul deals with the Corinthians in this Epistle; for though he treats of the Fornicator from the 5th to the 10th Verse inclusively, yet he never mentions him under that or any other disobliging Title, but in the soft and inoffensive Terms of any one, or such an one. And that possibly may be the Reason why he says μὴ ἑταίρος, indefinitely, without naming the Person it relates to.

^t How uneasy he was, and upon what account, see Chap. VII. 5—16. It was not barely for Titus's Absence, but for want of the News he brought with him, Chap. VII. 7.

HIS speaking well of himself, (as he did sometimes in his first Epistle, and with much more Freedom in this, which, as it seems, had been objected to him amongst the Corinthians) his Plainness of Speech, and his Sincerity in preaching the Gospel, are the Things which he chiefly justifies in this Section many ways. We shall observe his Arguments, as they come in the Order of St. Paul's Discourse; in which are mingled, with great Insinuation, many Expressions of an overflowing Kindness to the Corinthians, not without some Exhortations to them.

of Stone to have no Signification here. But, to say as he does, that the Corinthians, being writ upon, in their Hearts, not with Ink, but with the Spirit of God, by the Hand of St. Paul, was Christ's commendatory Letter of him, being a pretty bold Expression, liable to the Exception of the captious Part of the Corinthians ; he, to obviate all Imputation of Vanity or Vain-glory herein, immediately subjoins what follows in the next Verse.

4 ^b As if he had said, But mistake me not, as if I boasted of myself ; this so great Boasting that I use, is only my Confidence in God, through Christ : For it was God that made me a Minister of the Gospel, that bestowed on me the Ability for it ; and whatever I perform in it, is wholly from him.

5 ^c Περαιθῆσαι, Trust, a milder Term for Boasting ; for so St. Paul uses it, Chap. X. 7. compared with ver. 8. where also λογίζεσθαι, ver. 7. is used, as here, for counting upon one's self. St. Paul also used περαιοῦμαι, for thou boastest, Rom. II. 19. which will appear, if compared with ver. 17. Or if λογίζεσθαι shall rather be thought to signify here, to discover by Reasoning, then the Apostle's Sense will run thus : " Not as if I were sufficient of myself, by the Strength of my own natural Parts, to attain the Knowledge of the Gospel Truths that I preach ; but my Ability herein is all from God." But in whatever Sense λογίζεσθαι is here taken, 'tis certain πῶς, which is translated any thing, must be limited to the Subject in hand, viz. the Gospel that he preached to them.

6 ^d Ὁν γράμματι, ἀλλὰ πνεύματι, Not of the Letter, but of the Spirit. By expressing himself, as he does here, St. Paul may be understood to intimate that the New Testament, or Covenant, was also, tho' obscurely, held forth in the Law : For he says he was constituted a Minister, πνεύματι, of the Spirit, or spiritual Meaning of the Law, which was Christ, (as he tells us himself, ver. 17.) and giveth Life, whilst the Letter killeth. But both Letter and Spirit must be understood of the same Thing, viz. The Letter of the Law, and the Spirit of the Law. And, in fact, we find St. Paul truly a Minister of the Spirit of the Law ; especially in his Epistle to the Hebrews, where he shews what a spiritual Sense ran through the Mosaical Institution and Writings.

^e The Letter kills, i. e. pronouncing Death, without any Way of Remission, on all Transgressors, leaves them under an irrevocable Sentence of Death ; but the Spirit, i. e. Christ, ver. 17. who is a quickening Spirit, 1 Cor. XV. 45. giveth Life.

7. Spirit gives Life. But if the Ministry of the Law written in Stone, which condemns to Death, were so glorious to Moses, that his Face shone so that the Children of Israel could not steadily behold the Brightness of it, which was but temporary, and was quickly to vanish^f;
8. how can it be otherwise, but that the Ministry of the Spirit, which giveth Life, should confer more Glory and Lustre on the Ministers of the Gospel? For if the Ministration of Condemnation were Glory, the Ministry of Justification^g in the Gospel doth certainly
10. much more exceed in Glory: Though even the Glory that Moses's Ministration had, was no Glory, in comparison of the far more excellent Glory of the Gospel-Ministry^h. Farther, if that which is temporary, and to be done away, were delivered with Glory, how the letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth life.

But if the ministration of death written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away;

How shall not the ministration of the Spirit be rather glorious?

For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.

For even that which was made glorious, had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

For if that which is done away was glorious,

NOTES.

^f Καταργούμενον, done away, is applied here to the Shining of Moses's Face, and to the Law, ver. 11. and 13. In all which Places it is used in the Present Tense, and has the Signification of an Adjective, standing for temporary, or of a Duration, whose End was determined, and is opposed to τὸ μένον, that which remaineth, i. e. that which is lasting, and hath no pre-determined End set to it, as ver. 11. where the Gospel Dispensation is called τὸ μένον, that which remaineth. This may help us to understand ἀπὸ δόξης εἰς δόξαν, ver. 18. from Glory to Glory, which is manifestly opposed to δόξην καταργούμενην, the Glory done away, of this Verse, and so plainly signifies a continued, lasting Glory of the Ministers of the Gospel; which, as he tells us there, consisted in their being changed into the Image and clear Representation of the Lord himself, as the Glory of Moses consisted in the transitory Brightness of his Face, which was a faint Reflection of the Glory of God appearing to him in the Mount.

^g Διακονία τῆς δικαιοσύνης, the Ministration of Righteousness; so the Ministry of the Gospel is called, because, by the Gospel, a Way is provided for the Justification of those who have transgressed: But the Law has nothing but rigid Condemnation for all Transgressors, and therefore is called here the Ministration of Condemnation.

^h Though the shewing that the Ministry of the Gospel is more glorious than that of the Law, be what St. Paul is upon here, thereby to justify himself, if he has assumed some Authority and Commendation to himself, in his Ministry and Apostleship; yet, in his thus industriously placing the Ministry of the Gospel in Honour above that of Moses, may he not possibly have an Eye to the Judaizing, false Apostle of the Corinthians, to let them see what little Regard was to be had to that Ministration, in comparison of the Ministry of the Gospel?

NOTES.

11ⁱ Here St. Paul mentions another Pre-eminency and Superiority of Glory in the Gospel over the Law, viz. That the Law was to cease and to be abolished, but the Gospel to remain and never to be abolished.

12^k Such Hope: That St. Paul, by these Words, means the so honourable Employment of an Apostle and Minister of the Gospel, or the Glory belonging to his Ministry in the Gospel, is evident by the whole foregoing Comparison which he has made, which is all along between δικαιωσις, the Ministry of the Law and of the Gospel, and not between the Law and the Gospel themselves. The calling of it Hope, instead of Glory here, where he speaks of his having of it, is the Language of Modesty, which more particularly suited his present Purpose: For the Conclusion, which in this Verse he draws from what went before, plainly shews the Apostle's Design, in this Discourse, to be the justifying his speaking freely of himself and others, his Argument amounting to thus much:

Having therefore so honourable an Employment, as is the Ministry of the Gospel, which far exceeds the Ministry of the Law in Glory, tho' even that gave so great a Lustre to Moses's Face, that the Children of Israel could not with fixed Eyes look upon him; I, as becomes one of such Hopes, in such a Post as sets me above all mean Considerations and Compliances, use great Freedom and Plainness of Speech in all Things that concern my Ministry.

13^l Πῶς; τὸ μὴ ἀτενίσαι, &c. That the Children of Israel could not stedfastly look, &c. St. Paul is here justifying in himself, and other Ministers of the Gospel, the Plainness and Openness of their Preaching, which he had asserted in the immediately preceding Verse. These Words therefore here, must, of necessity, be understood not of Moses, but of the Ministers of the Gospel, viz. That it was not the Obscurity of their Preaching, not any thing veiled, in their Way of proposing the Gospel, which was the Cause why the Children of Israel did not understand the Law to the Bottom, and see Christ, the End of it, in the Writings of Moses. What St. Paul says in the next Verse, But their Minds were blinded, for until this Day remaineth the same Vail untaken away, plainly determines the Words we are upon, to the Sense I have taken them in: For what Sense is this? Moses put a Vail over his Face, so that the Children of Israel could not see the End of the Law; but their Minds were blinded, for the Vail remains upon them until this Day. But this is very good Sense, and to St. Paul's Purpose, viz. "We, the Ministers of the Gospel, speak plainly and openly, and put no Vail upon ourselves, as Moses did, whereby to hinder the Jews from seeing Christ in the Law; but that which hinders them, is a Blindness on their Minds, which has been always on them, and remains to this Day." This seems to be an obviating an Objection which some among the Corinthians might make to his boasting of so much Plainness and Clearness in his Preaching, viz. If you preach the Gospel, and Christ contained in the Law, with such a shining Clearness and Evidence, how comes it that the Jews are not converted to it? His Reply is, "Their Unbelief comes not from any Obscurity in our Preaching, but from a Blindness which rests upon their Minds to this Day; which shall be taken away, when they turn to the Lord.

But their not seeing it, is from the Blindness of their own Minds; for unto this Day the same Vail remains upon their Understandings, in reading of the Old Testament, which Vail is done away in Christ, i. e. Christ, now he is come, so exactly answers all the Types, Pre-figurations, and Predictions of him in the Old Testament, that presently, upon turning our Eyes upon him, he visibly appears to be the Person designed; and the Obscurity of those Passages concerning him, which before were not understood, is taken away and ceases.

the New Testament, not veiled, but with open Countenances, as Mirrors reflecting the Glory of the Lord, are changed into his very Image by a continued Succession of Glory, as it were streaming upon us from the Lord, who is the Spirit who gives us this Clearness and Freedom.

NOTES.

18. St. Paul justifies his Freedom and Plainness of Speech, by his being made by God himself a Minister of the Gospel, which is a more glorious Ministry than that of Moses, in promulgating the Law. This he does, from ver. 6. to ver. 12. inclusively. From thence, to the End of the Chapter, he justifies his Liberty of speaking; in that he, as a Minister of the Gospel, being illuminated with greater and brighter Rays of Light than Moses, was to speak (as he did) with more Freedom and Clearness than Moses had done. This being the Scope of St. Paul in this Place, 'tis visible, all from these Words, Who put a Vail upon his Face, ver. 13. to the Beginning of ver. 18. is a Parenthesis; which being laid aside, the Comparison between the Ministers of the Gospel and Moses, stands clear: "Moses with a Vail covered the Brightness and Glory of God, which shone in his Countenance; but we, the Ministers of the Gospel, with open Countenance, καὶ ὁπρὶςμένον, reflecting as Mirrors the Glory of the Lord." So the Word καὶ ὁπρὶςμένον must signify here, and not beholding as in a Mirror; because the Comparison is between the Ministers of the Gospel and Moses, and not between the Ministers of the Gospel and the Children of Israel: Now the Action of beholding, was the Action of the Children of Israel, but of shining or reflecting the Glory received in the Mount, was the Action of Moses; and therefore it must be something answering that in the Ministers of the Gospel wherein the Comparison is made, as is farther manifest in another express Part of the Comparison between the veiled Face of Moses, ver. 13. and the open Face of the Ministers of the Gospel in this Verse. The Face of Moses was veiled, that the bright Shining, or Glory of God, remaining on it, or reflected from it, might not be seen, and the Faces of the Ministers of the Gospel are open, that the bright Shining of the Gospel, or the Glory of Christ, may be seen. Thus the Justice of the Comparison stands fair, and has an easy Sense; which is hard to be made out, if καὶ ὁπρὶςμένον be translated beholding as in a Glass.

Τὸν ἄνθρωπον εἰς εἰκόνα μετατρέψουσιν. We are changed into that very Image, i. e. the Reflection of the Glory of Christ from us is so very bright and clear, that we are changed into his very Image; whereas the Light that shone in Moses's Countenance, was but a faint Reflection of the Glory which he saw when God threwed him his Back-Parts, Exod. XXXIII. 23.

Ἄπὸ δόξης εἰς δόξαν, from Glory to Glory, i. e. with a continued Influx and renewing of Glory, in opposition to the fading of Moses's Face, which decayed and disappeared in a little while. ver. 7.

Καθὼς ἀπὸ κλύης πνεύματος, as from the Lord the Spirit, i. e. as if this Irradiation of Light and Glory came immediately from the Source of it, the Lord himself, who is that Spirit whence of we are the Ministers, ver. 6. which giveth Life and Liberty, ver. 17.

This Liberty he here speaks of, ver. 17 is καθάρσις, Liberty of Speech, mentioned ver. 12. the Subject of St. Paul's Discourse here; as is farther manifest from what immediately follows in the six first Verses of the next Chapter, wherein an attentive Reader may find a very clear Comment on this 18th Verse we are upon, which is There explained in the Sense we have given of it.

1. Seeing therefore I am intrusted with such a Ministry as this, according as I have received great Mercy, being extraordinarily and miraculously called when I was a Professor, I do not fail ^s nor flag; I do not behave myself unworthily in it, nor misbecoming the Honour and Dignity of such an Employment:

- In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

NOTES.

1 ^s Οὐκ ἠναισχύνην, we faint not, is the same with πολλῆ παρρησία χρηόμεθα, we use great plainness of Speech, ver. 12. of the foregoing Chapter, and signifies, in both Places, the clear, plain, direct, disinterested Preaching of the Gospel; which is what he means in that figurative Way of Speaking in the former Chapter, especially the last Verse of it, and which he more plainly expresses in the five or six first Verses of this: The whole Business of the first Part of this Epistle being, as we have already observed, to justify to the Corinthians his Behaviour in his Ministry, and to convince them, that in his preaching the Gospel he hath been plain, clear, open and candid, without any hidden Design, or the least Mixture of any concealed, secular Interest.

2 ^t Ἀπειπέθεκα τὰ κρυπτὰ τῆς ἀνομιᾶς, have renounced the hidden Things of Dishonesty, and τῆ φανεράσει τῆς ἀληθείας, by Manifestation of the Truth: These Expressions explain ἀνεκεκαλυμμένῳ προσώπῳ, with open Face, Chap. III. 18.

4 ^u The God of this World, i. e. the Devil: so called, because the Men of the World worshipped and obeyed him as their God.

^w ἐβούλωσε τὰ νοήματα, blinded their Minds, answers ἐταπείνω τὰ νοήματα, their Minds were blinded, Chap. III. 14. And the second and third Verse of this, explains the 13th and 14th Verses of the preceding Chapter.

^x Λόζος, Glory, here, as in the former Chapter, is put for Shining and Brightness; so that εὐαγγέλιον τῆς δόξης τοῦ Χριστοῦ, is the Brightness or Clearness of the Doctrine wherein Christ is manifested in the Gospel.

6^y This is a Continuation still of the Allegory of Moses, and the Shining of his Face, &c. so much insisted on in the foregoing Chapter.

For the Explanation whereof, give me leave to add here one Word more to what I have said upon it already. Moses, by approaching to God in the Mount, had a Communication of Glory or Light from him, which irradiated from his Face when he descended from the Mount: Moses put a Vail over his Face, to hide this Light or Glory; for both these Names St. Paul uses in this, and the foregoing Chapter, for the same Thing. But the Glory or Light of the Knowledge of God, more fully and clearly communicated by Jesus Christ, is said here to shine in his Face: And in that Respect it is that Christ, in the foregoing Verse, is called by St. Paul, the Image of God; and the Apostles are said, in the last Verse of the precedent Chapter, to be transformed into the same Image from Glory to Glory, i. e. by their large and clear Communications of the Knowledge of God in the Gospel, they are said to be transformed into the same Image, and to represent, as Mirrors, the Glory of the Lord: and to be, as it were, the Images of Christ, as Christ is (as we are told here, ver. 4.) the Image of God.

NOTES.

¹⁶ I faint not. What this signifies, we have seen, ver. 1. Here St. Paul gives another Proof of his Sincerity in his Ministry, and that is the Sufferings and Danger of Death, which he daily incurs by his preaching the Gospel: And the Reason why those Sufferings and Dangers deter him not, nor make him at all flag, he tells them, is the Assurance he has that God, through Christ, will raise him again, and reward him with Immortality in Glory. This Argument he pursues, Chap. IV. 17. & V. 9.

For in this Tabernacle ^b I groan earnestly, desiring, without putting off this mortal, earthly Body, by Death to have that celestial Body superinduced; if so be, the coming ^c of Christ shall overtake me in this Life, before I put off this Body. For we that are in the Body, groan under the Pressures and Inconveniencies that attend us in it; which yet we are not therefore willing to put off, but had rather, without dying, have it changed ^d into a celestial, immortal Body; that so this mortal State may be put an End to, by an immediate 17 ^a Weight of Glory. What an Influence St. Paul's Illness had among his Countrymen, is every where visible: כבוד in Hebrew signifies to be heavy, and to be glorious; St. Paul in the Greek joins them, and says, Weight of Glory.

XV. 53, 54. and is that which one should be inclined to, were it not accompanied with this Difficulty, viz. that then it would follow that the Wicked should not have immortal Bodies at the Resurrection: For whatever it be, that St. Paul here means by being cloathed upon, it is something that is peculiar to the Saints, who have the Spirit of God, and shall be with the Lord, in contra-distinction to others, as appears from the following Verses, and the whole Tenor of this Place.

5 ^e The Spirit is mentioned, in more Places than one, as the Pledge and Earnest of Immortality; more particularly Eph. I. 13, 14. which, compared with Rom. VIII. 23. shews that the Inheritance, whereof the Spirit is the Earnest, is the same which the Apostle speaks of here, viz. the Possession of immortal Bodies.

This Conclusion, which he draws here from the Consideration of the Resurrection and Immortality, is the same that he makes upon the same Ground, Chap. IV. 14, 16.

9 ^g ἢ εἰ ἐνδημιῶμεν, ἢ εἰ ἐκδημιῶμεν, whether staying in the Body, or going out of it, i. e. whether I am to stay longer here, or suddenly to depart. This Sense the foregoing Verse leads us to: And what he says in this Verse, that he endeavours (whether ἐνδημιῶν, or ἐκδημιῶν) to be well-pleasing to the Lord, i. e. do what is well-pleasing to him, shews, that neither of these Words can signify here his being with Christ in Heaven: For when he is there, the Time of endeavouring to approve himself is over.

NOTES.

^h St. Paul, from Chap. IV. 12. to this Place, has, to convince them of his Uprightness in his Ministry, been shewing that the Hopes and sure Expectation he had of eternal Life, kept him steady and resolute, in an open, sincere Preaching of the Gospel, without any Tricks, or deceitful Artifice. In which his Argument stands thus: "Knowing that God, who raised up Christ, will raise me up again, I, without any Fear or Consideration of what it may draw upon me, preach the Gospel faithfully, making this Account, that the momentaneous Afflictions which for it I may suffer here, which are but slight in comparison of the eternal Things of another Life, will exceedingly increase my Happiness in the other World, where I long to be; and therefore Death, which brings me home to Christ, is no Terror to me; all my Care is, that whether I am to stay longer in this Body, or quickly to leave it, living or dying, I may prove myself to Christ in my Ministry." In the next two Verses he has another Argument, to fix in the Corinthians the same Thoughts of him; and that is the Punishment he shall receive at the Day of Judgment, if he should neglect to preach the Gospel faithfully, and not endeavour sincerely and earnestly to make Converts to Christ.

ⁱ From this Place, and several others in this Epistle, it cannot be doubted but that his speaking well of himself had been objected to him, as a Fault. And in this lay his great Difficulty, how to deal with this People: If he answered nothing to what was talked of him, his Silence might be interpreted Guilt and Confusion; if he defended himself, he was accused of Vanity, Self-commendation, and Folly. Hence it is that he uses so many Reasons to shew, that his whole Carriage was upon Principles far above all worldly Considerations; and tells them here, once for all, that the Account he gives of himself is only to furnish them who are his Friends, and stuck to him, with Matter to justify themselves in their Esteem of him, and to reply to the contrary Faction.

13. For if ^l I am besides myself ^m, in speaking as I do of myself, it is between God and me, he must judge, Men are not concerned in it, nor hurt by it; or if I do it soberly, and upon good ground; if what I profess of myself be in reality true, it is for your Sake and Advantage. For 'tis the Love of Christ constraineth me; judging, as I do, that if Christ
14. died for all, then all were dead; and that if
15. he died for all, his Intention was, that they, who by him have attained to a State of Life, should not any longer live to themselves alone, seeking only their own private Advantage, but should employ their Lives in promoting the Gospel and Kingdom of Christ, who for them
16. died, and rose again. So that from henceforth I have no regard to any one, according to the Flesh ⁿ, i. e. for being circumcised, or a Jew which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

For whether we be be- 13 sides ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober. it is for your cause.

For the love of Christ 14 constraineth us, because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

And that he died for all, 15 that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

Wherefore henceforth 16 know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth

NOTES.

^k This may be understood of the Leaders of the opposite Faction, who, as 'tis manifest from Chap. X. 7, 15. and XI. 12, 22, 23. pretended to something that they gloried in, though St. Paul assures us, they were satisfied in Conscience that they had no solid ground of glorying.

^l St. Paul, from the 13th Verse of this Chapter, to Chap. VI. 12. gives another Reason for his disinterested Carriage in Preaching the Gospel; and that is his Love to Christ, who, by his Death, having given him Life, who was dead, he concludes, that in Gratitude he ought not to live to himself any more. He therefore being as in a new Creation, had now no longer any Regard to the Things or Persons of this World; but being made by God a Minister of the Gospel, he minded only the faithful Discharge of his Duty in that Embassy, and pursuant thereunto, took care that his Behaviour should be such as he describes, Chap. VI. 3—10.

^m Besides myself, i. e. in speaking well of myself in my own Justification. He that observes what St. Paul says, Chap. XI. 1. & 16—21. Chap. XII. 6. & 11. will scarce doubt but that the speaking of himself, as he did, was by his Enemies called Glorying, and imputed to him as Folly and Madness.

ⁿ This may be supposed to be said with Reflection on their Jewish false Apostle, who gloried in his Circumcision, and, perhaps, that he had seen Christ in the Flesh, or was some way related to him.

- know we him no more.
- 17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are past away, behold, all things are become new.
- 18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;
- 19 To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses upon them; and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation:
- 20 Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.
- 21 For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.
- For if I myself have gloried in this, that Christ himself was circumcised, as I am, and was of my Blood and Nation, I do so now no more any longer. So that if any one be in Christ, it is as if he were in a new Creation^o, wherein all former mundane Relations, Considerations and Interests^p are ceased, and at an end; all Things in that State are new to him, and he owes his very Being in it, and the Advantages he therein enjoys, not in the least measure to his Birth, Extraction, or any legal Observances or Privileges, but wholly and solely to God alone; reconciling the World to himself by Jesus Christ, and not imputing their Trespasses to them. And therefore I, whom God hath reconciled to himself, and to whom he hath given the Ministry, and committed the Word of this Reconciliation, as an Ambassador for Christ, as tho' God did by me beseech you, I pray you, in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. For God hath made him subject to Sufferings and Death, the Punishment and

NOTES.

17^o Gal. VI. 14. may give some light to this Place. To make the 16th and 17th Verses coherent to the rest of St. Paul's Discourse here, they must be understood in reference to the false Apostle, against whom St. Paul is here justifying himself; and makes it his main Business in this, as well as his former Epistle, to shew what that false Apostle gloried in was no just Cause of boasting. Pursuant to this Design of sinking the Authority and Credit of that false Apostle, St. Paul, in these and the following Verses, dexterously insinuates these two Things: 1^o, That the Ministry of Reconciliation being committed to him, they should not forsake him, to hearken to, and follow that Pretender. 2^{dy}, That they being in Christ, and the new Creation, should, as he does, not know any Man in the Flesh; not esteem or glory in that false Apostle, because he might, perhaps, pretend to have seen our Saviour in the Flesh, or have heard him, or the like. Κτίσις: signifies Creation; and is so translated, Rom. VIII. 22.

Τὰ ἀρχαία old Things, perhaps, may here mean the Jewish Oeconomy; for the false Apostle was a Jew, and, as such, assumed to himself some Authority, probably by Right of Blood and Privilege of his Nation, vid. 2 Cor. XI. 21, 22. But that St. Paul here tells them, now under the Gospel, is all antiquated, and quite out of doors.

NOTES.

11^s Another Argument St. Paul makes use of to justify and excuse his Plainness of Speech to the Corinthians, the great Affection he has for them, which he here breaks out into an Expression of, in a very tender Manner. This, with an Exhortation to separate from Idolaters and Unbelievers, is what he insists on, from this Place to Ch. VII. 16.

1. Having therefore these Promises, (dearly Beloved) let us cleanse ourselves from the Defilement of all Sorts of Sins, whether of Body or Mind, endeavouring after perfect Holiness in the Fear of God. Receive me, as one to be hearkened to, as one to be followed, as one that hath done nothing to forfeit your Esteem. I have wronged no Man: I have corrupted no Man: I have defrauded no Man^w: I say not this to reflect on your Carriage towards me: ^x For I have already assured you, that I have so great an Affection for you, that I could live and die with you. But in the Transport of my Joy, I use great Liberty of Speech towards you. But let it not be thought to be of ill Will, for I boast much of you; I am filled with Comfort, and my Joy abounds exceedingly in all my Afflictions. For when I came to Macedonia, I had no Respite from continual Trouble that beset me on every Side. From without I met with Strife and Opposition in Preaching the Gospel: And within I was filled with Fear upon your Account, lest the false Apostle continuing his Credit and Faction amongst you, should pervert you from the Simplicity of the Gospel^y. But God, who comforteth those who are cast down, comforted me by the coming of Titus, not barely by his Presence, but by the Comfort I received from you by him, when he acquainted me with your great Desire of conforming yourselves to my Orders; your Trouble for any Neglects you have been guilty
- Having therefore these promises (dearly beloved) let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.
Receive us: we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.
I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die and live with you.
Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you. I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation
For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.
- Nevertheless, God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus: And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me;

- 10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.
- 11 For behold, this self same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge: in all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

For this proved a beneficial Sorrow, acceptable to God, that in nothing you might have cause to complain that you were damaged by me. For godly Sorrow worketh Repentance to Salvation not to be repented of: But Sorrow rising from worldly Interest, worketh Death. NOTES.

11 ² St. Paul writing to those who knew the Temper they were in, and what were the Objects of the several Passions which were raised in them, doth both here, and in the 7th Verse, forbear to mention by, and to what they were moved, out of Modesty and Respect to them. This is necessary for the Information of ordinary Readers, to be supplied as can be best collected from the main Design of the Apostle in these two Epistles, and from several Passages giving us light in it.

^a Vid. Ver. 15. * Clear. This Word answers very well ἀγνός: in the Greek; but then to be clear in English, is generally understood to signify not to have been guilty; which could not be the Sense of the Apostle, he having charged the Corinthians so warmly in his first Epistle. His Meaning must therefore be, that they had now resolved on a contrary Course, and were so far clear, i. e. were set right, and in good Disposition again, as he describes it in the former

13. God; therefore I was comforted in your Comfort: But much more exceedingly rejoiced I in the Joy of Titus, because his Mind was set at ease by the good Disposition he found you all

Wherefore though I¹² wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

Therefore we were com-¹³forted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

For if I have boasted¹⁴ any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we speak all things to you in truth, even so our boasting which I made before Titus is found a truth.

And his inward affec-¹⁵tion is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him.

former Part of this Verse. † And therefore I think ἐν τῷ πένθει καὶ φόβῳ καὶ ὀργῇ may best be rendered in fear, i. e. by your Sorrow, your Fear, your Indignation, your Zeal, &c. I think it cannot well be translated in this Matter, understanding thereby the Punishment of the Fornicator. For that was not the Matter St. Paul had been speaking of; but the Corinthians siding with the false Apostle against him, was the Subject of the preceding Part of this, and of the three or four foregoing Chapters, wherein he justifies himself against their Slanders, and invalidates the Pretences of the adverse Party. This is that which lay chiefly upon his Heart, and which he labours might and main both in this and the former Epistle to rectify, as the Foundation of all the Disorders amongst them; and consequently is the Matter wherein he rejoices to find them all set right. Indeed, in the immediately following Verse, he mentions his having writ to them concerning the Fornicator, but it is only as an Argument of Kindness and Concern for them: But that what was the great Cause of his Rejoicing, what it was that gave him the great Satisfaction, was the breaking the Faction, and the re-uniting them all to himself, which he expresses in the Word all, emphatically used, ver. 13, 15. and from thence he concludes thus, ver. 16. I rejoice therefore that I have Confidence in you in all Things. His Mind was now at rest; the Partizans of his Opposer, the false Apostle, having forsaken that Leader whom they had so much gloried in, and being all now come over to St. Paul, he doubted not but all would go well, and so leaves off the Subject he had been upon in the seven foregoing Chapters, ver. the Justification of himself, with here and there Reflections on that false Apostle.

CONTENTS.

THE Apostle having employed the seven foregoing Chapters in his own Justification, in the Close whereof he expresses the great Satisfaction he had in their being united again in their Affection and Obedience to him; he, in the two next Chapters, exhorts them, especially by the Example of the Churches of Macedonia, to a liberal Contribution to the poor Christians in Judea.

Moreover, Brethren, I make known to you the Gift^e, which, by the Grace of God, is given in the Churches of Macedonia, viz. that amidst the Afflictions^d they have been much tried with, they have, with exceeding Cheerfulness and Joy, made their very low Estate of Poverty yield a rich Contribution of Liberality; being forward of themselves (as I must bear them witness) to the utmost of their

4. Power; nay, and beyond their Power, earnestly intreating me to receive their Contribution, and be a Partner with others in the Charge of conveying and distributing it to the Saints.
5. And in this they out-did my Expectation, who could not hope for so large a Collection from them. But they gave themselves first to the Lord; and to me, to dispose of what they had, according as the good Pleasure of God should direct. Inasmuch, that I was moved to persuade Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also see this charitable Contribution carried on among you till it was perfected; that as you excel in every thing, abounding in Faith, in Well-speaking, in Knowledge, in every good Quality, and in your Affection to me, ye might abound in this Act of charitable Liberality also.
8. This I say to you, not as a Command from God, but on occasion of the great Liberality of the Churches of Macedonia, and to shew the World a Proof of the genuine, noble Temper of your Love^e. For ye know the yond their power, they were willing of themselves.

Praying us with much intreaty, that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, in utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us; see that ye abound in this grace also.

I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

NOTES.

8^e Το ἄλλο: ὁμοῖα: ἀλάτεις γνήσι: δουλεύον, shewing the World a Proof of the genuine Temper of their Love: Thus, I think, it should be rendered. St. Paul, who is so careful all along in this Epistle, to shew his Esteem and good Opinion of the Corinthians, taking all Occasions to speak and presume well of them, whereof we have an eminent Example in these Words, ye abound in your Love to us, in the immediately preceding Verse; he could not, in this Place, so far forget his Design of treating them very tenderly, now they were newly returned to him, as to tell them, that he sent Titus for the promoting their Contribution, to make a Trial of the Sincerity of their Love. This had been but an ill Expression of that Confidence, which, Chap. VII. 16. he tells them, he has in them in all Things. Taking therefore, as without Violence to the Words one may, δουλεύον for drawing out a Proof, and γνήσιος for genuine, the Words very well express St. Paul's obliging Way of stirring up the Corinthians to a liberal Contribution, as I have understood them: For St. Paul's Discourte to them briefly stands thus: "The great Liberality of the poor Macedonians, made me send Titus to you, to carry on the Collection of your Charity, which he had begun, that you who excel in all other Virtues, might be eminent also in this. But this I urge, not as a Command from God, but upon Occasion of others Liberality, lay before you an Opportunity of giving the World a Proof of the genuine Temper of your Charity; which, like that of your other Virtues, loves not to come behind that of others."

I thought it therefore necessary to put the Brethren upon going before unto you, to prepare things by a timely Notice before-hand, that your Contribution may be ready, as a free Benevolence of yours, and not as a niggardly Gift extorted from you. This I say, He who soweth sparingly, shall reap also sparingly; and he who soweth plentifully, shall also reap plentifully. ST. Paul having finished his Exhortation to Liberality in their Collection for the Christians at Jerusalem, he here re-assumes his former Argument, and prosecutes the main Purpose of this Epistle, which was totally to reduce and put a final End to the adverse Faction, (which seems not yet to be entirely extinct) by bringing the Corinthians wholly off from the false Apostle they had adhered to; and to re-establish himself, and his Authority, in the Minds of all the Members of that Church. ^o St. Paul thinking it fit to forbear all Severity till he had, by fair Means, reduced as many of the contrary Party as he could, to a full submission to his Authority, (vid. Ver. 6) begins here his Discourse, by conjuring them by the Meekness and Gentleness of Christ, as an Example that might excuse his Delay of exemplary Punishment on the Ringleaders and chief Offenders, without giving them reason to think it was for want of Power.

⁴ What the ἔργα σαρκῶν, the carnal Weapons, and those other opposed to them, which he calls δυνατὰ τῷ Θεῷ, mighty through God, are, may be seen, if we read and compare 1 Cor. I. 23, 24. & II. 1, 2, 4, 5, 12, 13. 2 Cor. IV. 2, 6.

⁶ Those whom he speaks to here, are the Corinthian Converts, to whom this Epistle is written. Some of these had been drawn into a Faction against St. Paul; these he had been, and was endeavouring to bring back to that Obedience and Submission which the rest had continued in to him as an Apostle of Jesus Christ. The Corinthians of these two Sorts are those he means, when he says to them, Ch. II. 3. & Ch. VII. 13, 15. You all, i. e. all the Christians of Cerinth and Achaia. For he that had raised the Faction amongst them, and given so much Trouble to St. Paul, was a Stranger and a Jew, Vid. Ch. XI. 22.

For I do not extend myself farther than I should, as if I had skipped over other Countries in my way, without proceeding gradually to you; no, for I have reached even unto you in Preaching of the Gospel in all Countries as I passed along^y;

But I, for my Part, will not boast of myself in what has not been measured out, or allotted to me^x, i. e. I will not go out of my own Province to seek Matter of Commendation, but proceeding orderly in the Province which God hath measured out and allotted to me, I have reached even unto you. i. e. I preached the Gospel in every Country as I went, till I came as far as to you. For I do not extend myself farther than I should, as if I had skipped over other Countries in my way, without proceeding gradually to you; no, for I have reached even unto you in Preaching of the Gospel in all Countries as I passed along^y;
14. For I dare not be so bold, as to rank or compare myself with some who vaunt themselves; But they measuring themselves within themselves^u, and comparing themselves with themselves, do not understand^w. But I, for my Part, will not boast of myself in what has not been measured out, or allotted to me^x, i. e. I will not go out of my own Province to seek Matter of Commendation, but proceeding orderly in the Province which God hath measured out and allotted to me, I have reached even unto you. i. e. I preached the Gospel in every Country as I went, till I came as far as to you. For I do not extend myself farther than I should, as if I had skipped over other Countries in my way, without proceeding gradually to you; no, for I have reached even unto you in Preaching of the Gospel in all Countries as I passed along^y;

Let such an one think this, that such as we are in word by letters, when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves; but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves amongst themselves, are not wise.

But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you; for we are come as far as to you also, in preaching the gospel of Christ:

NOTES.

12^u This is spoken ironically; ἐν ἑαυτοῖς; amongst themselves, rather within themselves: For in all likelihood, the Faction and Opposition against St. Paul was made by one Person, as we before observed. For though he speaks here in the Plural Number, which is the softer and decenter way in such Cases, yet we see, in the foregoing Verse, he speaks directly and expressly as of one Person; and therefore ἐν ἑαυτοῖς; may, most consonantly to the Apostle's Meaning here, be understood to signify within themselves, i. e. with what they find in themselves: The whole Place shewing, that this Person made an Estimate of himself only by what he found in himself; and thereupon preferred himself to St. Paul, without considering what St. Paul was, or had done.

^w Do not understand; that they ought not to intrude themselves into a Church planted by another Man, and there vaunt themselves, and set themselves above him that planted it; which is the Meaning of the four next Verses.

13^x Ἀμέτρος, here, and in ver. 15. doth not signify immense, or immoderate, but something that hath not been measured out and allotted to him; something that is not committed to him, nor within his Province.

14^y This seems to charge the false, pretended Apostle, who had caused all this Disturbance in the Church of Corinth, that, without being appointed to it, without preaching the Gospel in his way thither, as became an Apostle, he had crept into the Church of Corinth.

Not extending my Boasting^z beyond my own Bounds, into Provinces not allotted to me, nor vaunting myself of any thing I have done in another's Labour^a, i. e. in a Church planted by another Man's Pains; but having hope that your Faith increasing, my Province will be enlarged by you yet farther: So that I may preach the Gospel to the yet unconverted Countries beyond you, and not take Glory to myself from another Man's Province, where all Things are made ready to my Hand^a. But he that will glory, let him glory or seek Praise from that which is committed to him by the Lord, or in that which is acceptable to the Lord. For not he who commends himself, does thereby give a Proof of his Authority or Mission; but he whom the Lord commends, by the Gifts of the Holy Ghost^b.

NOTES.

15^z Boasting, i. e. intermeddling, or assuming to myself Authority to meddle, or Honour for meddling.

15, 16^a Here St. Paul visibly taxes the false Apostle for coming into a Church, converted and gathered by another, and there pretending to be some-body, and to rule all. This is another Thing that makes it probable, that the Opposition made to St. Paul, was but by one Man, that had made himself the Head of an opposite Faction: For it is plain it was a Stranger, who came thither after St. Paul had planted this Church; who pretending to be more an Apostle than St. Paul, with greater Illumination, and more Power, set up against him to govern that Church, and withdraw the Corinthians from following St. Paul, his Rules and Doctrine. Now this can never be supposed to be a Combination of Men, who came to Corinth with that Design; nor that they were different Men that came thither separately, each setting up for himself, for then they would have fallen out one with another, as well as with St. Paul: And, in both Cases, St. Paul must have spoken of them in a different Way from what he does now. The same Character and Carriage is given to them all, throughout both these Epistles; and 1 Cor. III. 10. he plainly speaks of one Man. That setting up thus to be a Preacher of the Gospel amongst those that were already Christians, was looked upon by St. Paul to be a Fault, we may see, Rom. XV. 20.

18^b 'Tis of these Weapons of his Warfare that St. Paul speaks in this Chapter; and 'tis by them that he intends to try which is the true Apostle, when he comes to them.

NOTES.

1^c Folly, so he modestly calls his speaking in his own Defence.

3^d Ἀπλότης τῆς εἰς τὸν Χριστὸν, The Simplicity that is in, rather, towards Christ, answers to ἐν ἑνὶ ἄνδρὶ Χριστῷ, so one Husband Christ, in the immediately foregoing Verse: For ἐν, one, is not put there for nothing, but makes the Meaning plainly this; “ I have formed and fitted you for one Person alone, one Husband, who is Christ: I am concerned, and in care, that you may not be drawn aside from that Submission, that Obedience, that Temper of Mind that is due singly to him; for I hope to put you into his Hands possessed with pure Virgin Thoughts, wholly fixed on him, not divided, nor roving after any other, that he may take you to Wife, and marry you to himself for ever.” ’Tis plain that Perverters, who opposed St. Paul, was a Jew, as we have seen. ’Twas from the Jews, from whom, of all professing Christianity, St. Paul had most Trouble and Opposition; for they having their Hearts set upon their old Religion, endeavoured to mix Judaism and Christianity together. We may suppose the Case here to be much the same with that which he more fully expresses in the Epistle to the Galatians; particularly Gal. I. 6—12. & Chap. IV. 9—11. & 16—21. & Chap. V. 1—13. The Meaning of this Place here seems to be this: “ I have taught you the Gospel alone, in its pure and unmixed Simplicity, by which only you can be united to Christ; but I fear, lest this your new Apostle should draw you from it, and that your Minds should not stick to that singly, but should be corrupted by a Mixture of Judaism.” After the like manner St. Paul expresses Christians being delivered from the Law, and their Freedom from the ritual Observances of the Jews, by being married to Christ, Rom VII. 4 which Place may give some light to this.

^m The Bondage here meant, was Subjection to the Will of their false Apostle, as appears by the following Particulars of this Verse; and not Subjection to the Jewish Rites. For if that had been, St. Paul was so zealous against it, that he would have spoke more plainly and warmly, as we see in his Epistle to the Galatians, and not have touched it thus, only by the bye, slightly, in a doubtful Expression. Besides, it is plain no such thing was yet attempted openly, only St. Paul was afraid of it; Vid. ver. 3.

22ⁿ Is he an Hebrew? Having in the foregoing Verse spoke in the Singular Number, I have been fain to continue on the same Number here, though different from that in the Text, to avoid an Inconsistency in the Paraphrase, which could not but shock the Reader. But this I would be understood to do, without imposing my Opinion on any body, or pretending to change the Text: But as an Expofitor, to tell my Reader that I think, that though St. Paul says they, he means but one; as often, when he says we, he means only himself, the Reason whereof I have given elsewhere.

NOTES.

19^d He had before given the Reason, Chap. I. 23. of his not coming to them, with the like Asseveration that he uses here. If we trace the Thread of St. Paul's Discourse here, we may observe, that having concluded the Justification of himself and his Apostleship by his past Actions, ver. 13. he had it in his Thoughts to tell them how he would deal with the false Apostle and his Adherents when he came, as he was ready now to do; and therefore solemnly begins, ver. 14. with behold, and tells them now the third time he was ready to come to them, to which joining (what was much upon his Mind) that he would not be burdensome to them when he came, this suggested to his Thoughts an Objection, (viz.) that this personal Shyness in him was but Cunning, for that he designed to draw Gain from them by other Hands. From which he clears himself by the Instance of Titus and the Brother whom he had sent together to them, who were as far from receiving any thing from them as he himself. Titus and his other Messenger being thus mentioned, he thought it necessary to obviate another Suspicion that might be raised in the Minds of some of them, as if he mentioned the sending of those two, as an Apology for his not coming himself: This he disclaims utterly; and to prevent any Thoughts of that kind, solemnly protests to them, that in all his Carriage to them, he had done nothing but for their Edification, nor had any other Aim in any of his Actions but purely that; and that he forbore coming merely out of Respect and Good-Will to them. So that all from Behold this third time I am ready to come to you, ver. 14. to this Third time I am coming to you, ch. xiii. 1. must be looked on as an incident Discourse that fell in occasionally, though tending to the same Purpose with the rest: A Way of writing very usual with our Apostle, and with other Writers who abound in Quickness and Variety of Thoughts as he did. Such Men are often, by new Matter rising in their way, put by from what they were going and had begun to say; which therefore they are fain to take up again, and continue at a distance; which St. Paul does here after the Interposition of eight Verses. Other Instances of the like kind may be found in other Places of St. Paul's Writings.

NOTES.

Moses in Deuteronomy, not only because the Words are the same with those in St. Matthew, but from the Likeness of the Case. In Deuteronomy the Rule given concerns only judicial Trials: In St. Matthew it is a Rule given for the Management of Persuasion used for the reclaiming an Offender, by fair Means, before coming to the utmost Extremity, which is the Case of St. Paul here. In Deuteronomy the Judge was to hear the Witnesses, Deut. xvii. 6. and xix. 15. In St. Matthew the Party was to hear the Witnesses, Matth. xviii. 17. which was also the Case of St. Paul here; the Witnesses which he means that he made use of to persuade them being his two Epistles. That by Witnesses he means his two Epistles, is plain from his Way of expressing himself here, where he carefully sets down his telling them twice, (viz.) before in his former Epistle, Chap. iv. 19. and now a second time in his second Epistle; and also by these words, $\omega\varsigma$ παρῶν τὸ δεύτερον, As if I were present with you a second time. By our Saviour's Rule the offended Person was to go twice to the Offender; and therefore St. Paul says, As if I were with you a second time, counting his Letters as two personal Applications to them, as our Saviour directed should be done before coming to rougher Means. Some take the Witnesses to be the three Messengers by whom his first Epistle is supposed to be sent. But this would not be according to the Method prescribed by our Saviour in the Place from which St. Paul takes the Words he uses; for there were no Witnesses to be made use of in the first Application; neither, if those had been the Witnesses meant, would there have been any need for St. Paul so carefully and expressly to have set down $\omega\varsigma$ παρῶν τὸ δεύτερον, as if present a second time, Words which in that case would be superfluous. Besides, those three Men are no where mentioned to have been sent by him to persuade them, nor the Corinthians required to hear them, or reproved for not having done it: And lastly, they could not be better Witnesses of St. Paul's Endeavours twice to gain the Corinthians by fair Means, before he proceeded to Severity, than the Epistles themselves.

4^t Ἐξ ἀσθενείας, through Weakness; ἐν δυνάμει Θεοῦ, by the Power of God, I have rendered the Sense of the Place, and the Style of the Apostle, will justify. St. Paul sometimes uses the Weak Prepositions in a larger Sense than that Tongue ordinarily allows. Farther it is evident, that ἐξ joined to ἀσθενείας has not a casual Signification; and therefore in the Antithesis ἐν δυνάμει Θεοῦ, it cannot be taken casually. And it is usual for St. Paul in such Cases to continue the same Word, though it happens sometimes seemingly to carry the Sense another way. In short, the Meaning of the Place is this: "Though Christ in his Crucifixion appeared weak and despicable, yet he now lives to shew the Power of God in the Miracles and mighty Works which he does: So I, though I by my Sufferings and Infirmities appear weak and contemptible, yet shall I live to shew the Power of God in punishing you miraculously."

EPISTLE of St. PAUL

TO THE ROMANS.

SYNOPSIS.

BEFORE we take into Consideration the Epistle to the Romans in particular, it may not be amiss to premise, That the miraculous Birth, Life, Death, Resurrection and Ascension of our Lord Jesus Christ, were all Events that came to pass within the Confines of Judea; and that the ancient Writings of the Jewish Nation, allowed by the Christians to be of Divine Original, were appealed to as witnessing the Truth of his Mission and Doctrine, whereby it was manifest that the Jews were the Depositories of the Proofs of the Christian Religion. This could not chuse but give the Jews, who were owned to be the People of God, even in the Days of our Saviour, a great Authority among the Convert Gentiles, who knew nothing of the Messiah they were to believe in, but what they derived from that Nation, out of which he and his Doctrine sprung. Nor did the Jews fail to make use of this Advantage several ways, to the Disturbance of the Gentiles that embraced Christianity. The Jews, even those of them that received the Gospel, were, for the most part, so devoted to the Law of Moses and their ancient Rites, that they could by no means bring Synopsis. themselves to think that they were to be laid aside. They were every where stiff and zealous for them, and contended that they were necessary to be observed even by Christians, by all that pretended to be the People of God, and hoped to be accepted by him. This gave no small Trouble to the newly converted Gentiles, and was a great Prejudice to the Gospel, and therefore we find it complained of in more Places than one: Vid. Acts xv. 1. 2 Cor. xi. 3. Gal. ii. 4. and v. 1, 10, 12. Phil. iii. 2. Col. ii. 4, 8, 16. Tit. i. 10, 11, 14, &c. This Remark may serve to give Light, not only to this Epistle to the Romans, but to several other of St. Paul's Epistles written to the Churches of converted Gentiles.

As to this Epistle to the Romans, the Apostle's principal Aim in it seems to be to persuade them to a steady Perseverance in the Profession of Christianity, by convincing them that God is the God of the Gentiles, as well as the Jews; and that now under the Gospel there is no Difference between Jew and Gentile. This he does several ways.

1. By shewing that though the Gentiles were very sinful, yet the Jews, who had the Law, kept it not, and so could not, upon account of their having the Law (which being broken, aggravated their Faults, and made them as far from righteous as the Gentiles themselves) have a Title to exclude the Gentiles from being the People of God under the Gospel.

2. That Abraham was the Father of all that believe, as well Uncircumcised as Circumcised; so that those that walk in the Steps of the Faith of Abraham, though uncircumcised, are the Seed to which the Promise is made, and shall receive the Blessing.

3. That it was the Purpose of God from the Beginning, to take the Gentiles to be his People under the Messias, in the Place of the Jews, who had been so till that Time, but were then nationally rejected, because they nationally rejected the Messias, whom he sent to them to be their King and Deliverer; but was received by but a very small Number of them; which Remnant was received into the Kingdom of Christ, and so continued to be his People with the converted Gentiles, who all together made now the Church and People of God.

4. That the Jewish Nation had no Reason to complain of any Unrighteousness in God, or Hardship from him in their being cast off for their Unbelief, since they had been warned of it, and they might find it threatened in their ancient Prophets. Besides, the raising sing or depressing of any Nation is the Prerogative of God's Sovereignty; Preservation in the Land that God has given them being not the Right of any one Race of Men above another. And God might, when he thought fit, reject the Nation of the Jews by the same Sovereignty whereby he at first chose the Posterity of Jacob to be his People, passing by other Nations, even such as descended from Abraham and Isaac: But yet he tells them, that at last they shall be restored again.

Besides the Assurance he labours to give the Romans, that they are by Faith in Jesus Christ the People of God, without Circumcision or other Observances of the Jews, whatever they may say, which is the main Drift of this Epistle, it is farther remarkable, that this Epistle being writ to a Church of Gentiles in the Metropolis of the Roman Empire, but not planted by St. Paul himself, he as Apostle of the Gentiles, out of care that they should rightly understand the Gospel, has woven into his Discourse the chief Doctrines of it, and given them a comprehensive View of God's dealing with Mankind, from first to last, in reference to eternal Life. The principal Heads whereof are these.

That by Adam's Transgression Sin entered into the World, and Death by Sin, and so Death reigned over all Men from Adam to Moses.

That by Moses God gave the Children of Israel (who were his People, i. e. owned him for their God, and kept themselves free from the Idolatry and Revolt of the Heathen World) a Law, which if they obeyed, they should have Life thereby, i. e. attain to Immortal Life, which had been lost by Adam's Transgression.

That though this Law, which was righteous, just and good, were ordained to Life, yet not being able to give Strength to perform what it could not but require, it failed by reason of the Weakness of human Nature to help Men to Life. So that though the Israelites had Statutes, which if a Man did he should live in them; yet they all transgressed, and attained not to Righteousness and Life by the Deeds of the Law.

That therefore there was no way to Life left to those under the Law, but by the Righteousness of Faith in Jesus Christ, by which Faith alone they were that Seed of Abraham, to whom the Blessing was promised.

This was the State of the Israelites.
As to the Gentile World, he tells them,

Synopsis. That though God made himself known to them by legible Characters of his Being and Power visible in the Works of the Creation, yet they glorified him not, nor were thankful to him: They did not own nor worship the one only true invisible God, the Creator of all things, but revolted from him, to Gods set up by themselves in their own vain Imaginations, and worshipped Stocks and Stones, the corruptible Images of corruptible Things.

That they having thus cast off their Allegiance to him their proper Lord, and revolted to other Gods, God therefore cast them off, and gave them up to vile Affections, and to the Conduct of their own darkened Hearts, which led them unto all Sorts of Vices.

That both Jews and Gentiles being thus all under Sin, and coming short of the Glory of God; God, by sending his Son Jesus Christ, shews himself to be the God both of Jews and Gentiles, since he justifieth the Circumcision by Faith, and the Uncircumcision through Faith, so that all that believe are freely justified by his Grace.

That though Justification unto Eternal Life be only by Grace, through Faith in Jesus Christ, yet we are to the utmost of our Power sincerely to endeavour after Righteousness, and from our Hearts obey the Precepts of the Gospel, whereby we become the Servants of God; for his Servants we are whom we obey, whether of Sin unto Death, or of Obedience unto Righteousness.

These are but some of the more general and comprehensive Heads of the Christian Doctrine, to be found in this Epistle. The Design of a Synopsis will not permit me to descend more minutely to Particulars. But this let me say, that he that would have an enlarged View of true Christianity, will do well to study this Epistle.

Several Exhortations suited to the State that the Christians of Rome were then in, make up the latter Part of the Epistle.

This Epistle was writ from Corinth the Year of our Lord, according to the common Account, 57, the third Year of Nero, a little after the second Epistle to the Corinthians.

4^a Declared does not exactly answer the Word in the Original, nor is it perhaps easy to find a Word in English that perfectly answers επιστήνω, in the Sense the Apostle uses it here; επιστήνω signifies properly to bound, terminate, or circumscribe; by which Termination the Figure of Things sensible is made, and they are known to be of this or that Race, and are distinguished from others. Thus St. Paul takes Christ's Resurrection from the Dead, and his entering into Immortality, to be the most eminent and characteristical Mark, whereby Christ is certainly known, and, as it were, determined to be the Son of God.

persuade the convert Gentiles, that the Messiah was promised, and sent to the Jewish Nation alone, and that the Gentiles could claim, or have no Benefit by him ; or if they were to receive any Benefit by the Messiah, they were yet bound to observe the Law of Moses, which was the Way of Worship which God had prescribed to his People. This in several Places very much shook the Gentile Converts. St. Paul makes it (as we have already observed) his Business in this Epistle, to prove that the Messiah was intended for the Gentiles as much as for the Jews ; and that to make any one Partaker of the Benefits and Privileges of the Gospel, there was nothing more required but to believe and obey it : And accordingly here in the Entrance of the Epistle, he wishes to come to Rome, that by imparting some miraculous Gifts of the Holy Ghost to them, they might be established in the true Notion of Christianity against all Attempts of the Jews, who would either exclude them from the Privileges of it, or bring them under the Law of Moses. So where St. Paul expresses his Care that the Colossians should be established in the Faith, Col. ii. 7. it is visible by the Context, that what he opposed was Judaism.

12 * That is. St. Paul in the former Verse had said, that he desired to come amongst them to establish them ; in these Words, that is, he explains, or, as it were, recalls what he had said, that he might not seem to think them not sufficiently instructed or established in the Faith ; and therefore turns the End of his coming to them, to their mutual Rejoicing in one another's Faith, when he and they came to see and know one another.

C O N T E N T S.

ST. Paul in this Section shews, that the Jews exclude themselves from being the People of God under the Gospel, by the same Reason that they would have the Gentiles excluded.

It cannot be sufficiently admired how skilfully, to avoid offending those of his own Nation, St. Paul here enters into an Argument so unpleasing to the Jews, as this of persuading them, that the Gentiles had as good a Title to be taken in to be the People of God under the Messias, as they themselves; which is the main Design of this Epistle.

In this latter Part of the first Chapter, he gives a Description of the Gentile World in very black Colours, but very adroitly interweaves such an Apology for them, in respect of the Jews, as was sufficient to beat that assuming Nation out of all their Pretences to a Right to continue to be alone the People of God, with an Exclusion of the Gentiles. This may be seen if one carefully attends to the Particulars that he mentions relating to the Jews and Gentiles, and observes how what he says of the Jews in the second Chapter, answers to what he had charged on the Gentiles in the first. For there is a secret Comparison of them one with another runs through these two Chapters, which as soon as it comes to be minded, gives such a Light and Lustre to St. Paul's Discourse, that one cannot but admire the skilful Turn of it; and look on it as the most soft, the most beautiful, and most pressing Argumentation that one shall any where meet with, all together; since it leaves the Jews nothing to say for themselves, why they should have the Privilege continued to them under the Gospel, of being alone the People of God; all the Things they stood upon, and boasted in, giving them no Preference in this Respect to the Gentiles; nor any Ground to judge them to be incapable or unworthy to be their Fellow-Subjects in the Kingdom of the Messias. This is what he says, speaking of them nationally. But as to every one's personal Concerns in a future State, he assures them, both Jews and Gentiles, that the Unrighteous teous of both Nations, whether admitted or not into the visible Communion of the People of God, are liable to Condemnation. Those who have sinned without Law, shall perish without Law; and those who have sinned in the Law, shall be judged, i. e. condemned by the Law. Chap. I.

Perhaps some Readers will not think it superfluous, if I give a short Draught of St. Paul's Management of himself here, for allaying the Sourness of the Jews against the Gentiles, and their Offence at the Gospel for allowing any of them place among the People of God under the Messiah.

After he had declared that the Gospel is the Power of God unto Salvation to those who believe, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile, and that the Way of this Salvation is revealed to be by the Righteousness of God, which is by Faith; he tells them, that the Wrath of God is also now revealed against all Atheism, Polytheism, Idolatry, and Vice whatsoever of Men, holding the Truth in Unrighteousness; because they might come to the Knowledge of the true God, by the visible Works of the Creation, so that the Gentiles were without Excuse for turning from the true God to Idolatry, and the Worship of false Gods; whereby their Hearts were darkened, so that they were without God in the World. Wherefore God gave them up to vile Affections, and all Manner of Vices; in which State, though by the Light of Nature they knew what was right, yet understanding not that such Things were worthy of Death, they not only do them themselves, but abstaining from Censure, live fairly, and in Fellowship with those that do them. Whereupon he tells the Jews, that they are more inexcusable than the Heathen, in that they judge, abhor, and have in Aversion the Gentiles for what they themselves do with greater Provocation. Their Censure and Judgment in the Case is unjust and wrong: But the Judgment of God is always right and just, which will certainly overtake those who judge others for the same Things they do themselves; and do not consider that God's Forbearance to them ought to bring them to Repentance. For God will render to every one according to his Deeds; to those that in Meekness and Patience continue in well-doing, everlasting Life; but to those who are censorious, proud and contentious, and will not obey the Gospel, Condemnation and Wrath at the Day of Judgment, whether they be Jews or Gentiles: For God puts no Difference between them. Thou that art a Jew boastest that God

Chap. I. is thy God; that he has enlightened thee by the Law that he himself gave thee from Heaven, and hath by that immediate Revelation taught thee what Things are excellent and tend to Life, and what are evil and have Death annexed to them. If therefore thou transgresses, dost not thou more dishonour God and provoke him, than a poor Heathen that knows not God, nor that the Things he doth deserve Death, which is their Reward? Shall not he, if by the Light of Nature he do what is conformable to the revealed Law of God, judge thee who hast received that Law from God by Revelation, and breakest it? Shall not this rather than Circumcision make him an Israelite? For he is not a Jew, i. e. one of God's People, who is one outwardly by Circumcision of the Flesh, but he that is one inwardly by the Circumcision of the Heart.

- 18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness, and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness. Just shall live by Faith. And 'tis no more than need, that the Gospel, wherein the Righteousness of God by Faith in Jesus Christ is revealed, should be preached to you Gentiles, since the Wrath of God is now revealed^d from Heaven by Jesus Christ, against all Ungodliness^e and Unrighteousness of Men^f, who live not up to the Light that God has given them^g. 18.
- 19 Because that which may be known of God, is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them. 19.

NOTES.

he here tells them, that in the Gospel the Righteousness of God, i. e. the Righteousness of which he is the Author, and which he accepts in the Way of his own Appointment, is revealed from Faith to Faith, i. e. to be all through, from one End to the other, founded in Faith. If this be not the Sense of this Phrase here, it will be hard to make the following Words, as it is written, The Just shall live by Faith, cohere: But thus they have an easy and natural Connexion, (viz.) whoever are justified either before, without, or under the Law of Moses, or under the Gospel, are justified, not by Works, but by Faith alone. Vid. Gal. iii. 11. which clears this Interpretation. The same Figure of speaking St. Paul uses in other Places to the same Purpose; Chap. vi. 19. Servants to Iniquity unto Iniquity, i. e. wholly to Iniquity. 2 Cor. iii. 18. From Glory to Glory, i. e. wholly glorious.

18^d Now revealed. Vid. Acts xvii. 30, 31. God now commandeth all Men every where to repent, because he hath appointed a Day, in the which he will judge the World in Righteousness, by the Man whom he hath ordained. These Words of St. Paul to the Athenians give light to these here to the Romans. A Life again after Death, and a Day of Judgment, wherein Men should be all brought to receive Sentence according to what they had done, and be punished for their Misdeeds, was what was before unknown, and was brought to light by the Revelation of the Gospel from Heaven, 2 Tim. i. 10. Matth. xiii. 40. Luke xiii. 27. & Rom. ii. 5. he calls the Day of Judgment the Day of Wrath, consonant to his saying here, the Wrath of God is revealed.

^e ἄσεβειαν, Ungodliness, seems to comprehend the Atheism, Polytheism, and Idolatry of the Heathen World; as ἀνομίαν, Unrighteousness, their other Miscarriages and vicious Lives, according to which they are distinctly threatened by St. Paul in the following Verses. The same Appropriation of these Words, I think, may be observed in other Parts of this Epistle.

^f Of Men, i. e. Of all Men, or as in that xviii of Acts before cited, all Men every where, i. e. all Men of all Nations: Before it was only to the Children of Israel, that Obedience and Transgression were declared and proposed as Terms of Life and Death.

^g Who hold the Truth in Unrighteousness, i. e. Who are not wholly without the Truth, but yet do not follow what they have of it, but live contrary to that Truth they do know, or neglect to know what they might. This is evident from the next Words, and from the same Reason of God's Wrath given, Chap. ii. 8. in these Words, Who do not obey the Truth, but obey Unrighteousness.

20. and eternal Power; so that what is to be known of his invisible Being, might be clearly discovered and understood from the visible Beauty, Order, and Operations observable in the Constitution and Parts of the Universe, by all those that would cast their Regards, and apply their Minds ^h that Way: Infomuch that
21. they are utterly without Excuse: For that when the Deity was so plainly discovered to them, yet they glorified him not as was suitable to the Excellency of his Divine Nature; nor did they with due Thankfulness acknowledge him as the Author of their Being, and the Giver of all the Good they enjoyed: But following the vain Fancies of their own vain ⁱ Minds, set up to themselves fictitious no Gods, and their foolish Understandings were
22. darkened: Assuming to themselves the Opinion and Name ^k of being wise, they became
23. Fools; and putting the incomprehensible Majesty and Glory of the eternal incorruptible Deity, set up to themselves the Images of corruptible Men, Birds, Beasts, and Insects, as fit Objects of their Adoration and Worship.

For the invisible things ²⁰ of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

Because that when they ²¹ knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

Professing themselves ²² to be wise, they became fools:

And changed the glory ²³ of the uncorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds and four footed beasts, and creeping things.

N O T E S.

²⁰ ^h St. Paul says, ὄραμενα καθ' ὄραται, If they are minded they are seen: The invisible Things of God lie within the Reach and Discovery of Mens Reason and Understandings, but yet they must exercise their Faculties, and employ their Minds about them.

²¹ ⁱ Ἐμαυθίσαν ἢ περὶ διαλογισμοῦ ἀπῶν, became vain in their Imaginations or Reasonings. What it is to become vain in the Scripture Language, one may see in these Words, And they followed Vanity, and became vain, and went after the Heathen, and made to themselves molten Images, and worshipped all the Host of Heaven, and served Baal, 2 Kings xvii. 15, 16. And accordingly the forsaking of Idolatry, and the Worship of false Gods, is called by St. Paul, turning from Vanity to the living God, Acts xiv. 15.

They had God εἶχον ἐόν, but ἔκ ἐδουλοῦσαν ἔχειν αὐτόν ἐν ἐπιγνώσει, but did not so improve that Knowledge, as to acknowledge or honour him as they ought. This Verse seems in other Words to express the same that is said, ver. 21.

^s Εἰς ἀδόκιμον νῦν, to a reprobate Mind, rather to an unsearching Mind, in the Sense of St. Paul, who often uses Compounds and Derivatives in the Sense wherein a little before he used the Primitive Words, though a little varying from the precise Greek Idiom; an Example whereof we have in this very Word ἀδόκιμος, 2 Cor. xiii. where having, ver. 3. used δοκιμῆ for a Proof of his Mission by supernatural Gifts, he uses ἀδόκιμος for one that was destitute of such Proofs. So here he tells the Romans, that the Gentiles not exercising their Minds to search out the Truth, and form their Judgments right, God left them to an unsearching unjudicious Mind.

Non explorantibus permittit mentem non exploratricem.

^r A Discourse like this of St. Paul here, wherein Idolatry is made the Cause of the enormous Crimes and profligate Lives Men run into, may be read, Wisdom xiv. 11, &c.

^s τὸ δικαιοσύνη τοῦ Θεοῦ, the Judgment of God, might it not be translated, the Rectitude of God? i. e. That Rule of Rectitude which God had given to Mankind in giving them Reason: As that Righteousness which God requires for Salvation, in the Gospel is called the Righteousness of God, ver. 17. Rectitude in the Translation being used in this appropriated Sense, as δικαιοσύνη is in the Original. Vid. Note, Chap. ii. 26.

the more genuine by those who can hardly suppose that St. Paul should affirm, that the Gentile World did know, that he who offended against any of the Directions of this natural Rule of Rectitude, taught, or discoverable by the Light of Reason, was worthy of Death; especially if we remember what he says, chap. v. 13. That Sin is not imputed, when there is no positive Law; and chap. vii. 9. I was alive without the Law once: Both which Places signifying that Men did not know Death to be the Wages of Sin in general, but by the Declaration of a positive law.

" Συευδοῦσι τοῖς πηροῦσι, have pleasure in these that do them. He that considers that the Design of the Apostle here, manifest in the immediately following Words, is to combat the Animosity of the Jews against the Gentiles; and that there could not be a more effectual way to shame them into a more modest and mild Temper, than by shewing them that the Gentiles, in all the Darkness that blinded them, and the Extravagancies they run into, were never guilty of such an Absurdity as this, to censure and separate from others, and shew an implacable Aversion to them, for what they themselves were equally guilty of: He, I say, that considers this, will be easily persuaded to understand συευδοῦσι; here, as I do, for a Complacency that avoided censuring or breaking with them who were in the same State and Course of Life with themselves, that did nothing amiss but what they themselves were equally guilty of. There can be nothing clearer than that συευδοῦσι, have pleasure, in this Verse, is opposed to κρίνει, judgest, in the next Verse; without which I do not see how it is possible to make out the Inference which the Apostle draws here.

1 * Therefore: 'This is a Term of Illation, and shews the Consequence here drawn from the foregoing Words. Therefore the Jew is inexcusable in judging, because the Gentiles, with all the Darkness that was on their Minds, were never guilty of such a Folly, as to judge those who were no more faulty than themselves. For the better understanding of this Place, it may not perhaps be amiss to set the whole Argumentation of the Apostle here in its due Light. It stands thus: " The Gentiles acknowledged the Rectitude of the Law of Nature, but knew not " that those who break any of its Rules, incurred Death by their Transgression: But as much " in the dark as they were, they are not guilty of such Absurdity as to condemn others, " or refuse Communication with them as unworthy of their Society, who are no worse than " themselves, nor do any thing but what they themselves do equally with them; but live in " Complacency on fair Terms with them, without Censure or Separation, thinking as well of " their Condition as of their own: Therefore if the blinded Heathen do so, thou, O Jew, art " inexcusable, who having the Light of the revealed Law of God, and knowing by it that " the Breaches of the Law merit Death, dost judge others to Perdition, and shut them out " from Salvation, for that which thou thyself art equally guilty of, viz. Disobedience to the " Law. Thou, a poor, ignorant, conceited, fallible Man, fittest in Judgment upon others, and com- " mitteest the same things thou condemnest them for: But this thou mayest be sure, that the Judg- " ment and Condemnation of God is right and firm, and will certainly be executed upon those " who do such things. For thou who adjudgest the Heathen to Condemnation for the same things " which thou dost thyself, canst thou imagine that thou thyself shalt escape the same Judgment for wherein thou judgest another, thou con-demnest thyself : For thou that judgest art awe are sure of, that the Judgment that God

 Truth, right and just. Canst thou who dost those things, which thou condemnest in another, think that thou shalt escape the condemnsoever thou art that judg-

But we are sure that the ² them which commit such things.

“ of God ? God, whatever thou mayest think, is no Respector of Persons : Both Jews as well “ Gospel, shall meet with Wrath and Indignation from God : And Gentiles as well as Jews, “ missive Acceptance of the Gospel, shall find Acceptance with God, and eternal Life in the “ Kingdom of the Messias ; for which if thou are contentious to shut out the Gentiles, thou “ manifestly shuttest out thyself.”

¹ O Man, whosoever thou art. It is plain from ver. 17 & 27. and the whole Tenor of this Chapter, that St. Paul by these Words means the Jews ; but there are two visible Reasons why he speaks in these Terms : 1st, He makes his Conclusion general, as having the more Force, but less Offence, than if he had bluntly named the Jews, whom he is very careful in all this Epistle to treat in the softest manner imaginable. 2^{dly}, He uses the Term Man emphatically, in Opposition to God in the next Verse.

² Judgeth. There will need nothing to be said to those who read this Epistle with the least Attention, to prove that the judging, which St. Paul here speaks of, was that Aversion which the Jews generally had to the Gentiles ; so that the unconverted Jews could not bear with the Thoughts of a Messias, that admitted the Heathen equally with them into his Kingdom ; nor could the converted Jews be brought to admit them into their Communion, as the People of God now equally with themselves ; so that they generally, both one and t'other, judged them unworthy the Favour of God, and out of Capacity to become his People any other way, but by Circumcision, and an Observance of the ritual Parts of the Law ; the Inexcusableness and Absurdity whereof St. Paul shews in this Chapter.

³ According to Truth, doth, I suppose, signify not barely a true Judgment, which will stand in Opposition to erroneous, and that will not take effect, but something more, i. e. according to the Truth of his Predictions and Threats. As if he had said, “ But if God in Judg“ ment cast off the Jews from being any longer his People, we know this to be according to “ his Truth, who hath forewarned them of it. Ye Jews judge the Gentiles not to be received “ into the People of God, and refuse them Admittance into the Kingdom of the Messias, “ though you break the Law as well as they ; you judge as prejudiced passionate Men. But “ the Judgment of God against you will stand firm.” The Reason why he does it so covertly, may be that which I have before mentioned, his great Care not to shock the Jews, especially here in the beginning, till he had got fast hold upon them. And hence possibly it is that he calls obeying the Gospel, obeying the Truth, ver. 8. and uses other the like soft Expressions in this Chapter.

⁹ & ¹⁰ The Jew first, and also the Gentile. We see by these two Verses, and chap. i. 16 that St. Paul carefully lays down, that there was now under the Gospel no other National Distinction between the Jews and the Gentiles, but only a Priority in the Offer of the Gospel, and in the Design of Rewards and Punishments, according as the Jews obeyed, or not. Which may farther satisfy us, that the Distinction which St. Paul insists on so much here, and all through the first Part of this Epistle, is national; the Comparison being between the Jews as nationally the People of God; and the Gentiles, as not the People of God before the Messias; and that under the Messias, the Professors of Christianity, consisting most of converted Gentiles, were the People of God, owned and acknowledged as such by him, the unbelieving Jews being rejected, and the unbelieving Gentiles never received; but that yet personally both Jews and Gentiles, every single Person, shall be punished for his own particular Sin, as appears by the two next Verses.

16 ^g According to my Gospel, i. e. as I make known in my preaching the Gospel. That this is the Meaning of this Phrase, may be seen 2 Tim. ii. 8. And of St. Paul's declaring of it in his Preaching, we have an Instance left upon Record, Acts xvii. 31.

17 ^h Ἰουδαῖον, thou art named, emphatically said by St. Paul; for he that was such a Jew as he describes in the following Verses, he insists on it, was a Jew only in Name, not in Reality; for so he concludes, ver. 28 & 29. he is not in the Esteem of God a Jew, who is so outwardly only.

17—20 In those four Verses St. Paul makes use of the Titles the Jews assumed to themselves, from the Advantages they had of Light and Knowledge above the Gentiles, to shew them how inexcusable they were in judging the Gentiles, who were even in their own Account so much beneath them in Knowledge, for doing those Things which they themselves were also guilty of.

17 ⁱ Vid. Mic. iii. 11.

18 ^k τὰ ἀρετῶν signifies things excellent, convenient, controverted, or differing. In either of these Senses it may be understood here, though the last, viz. their Difference in respect of lawful and unlawful, I think may be pitched on, as most suited to the Apostle's Design here, and that which the Jews much stood upon, as giving them one great Pre-eminence above the defiled Gentiles.

NOTES.

26^a Τα δικαιώμα τῶ νόμου, The Righteousness of the Law. I have taken the Liberty to render it, The Rectitudes of the Law, in an appropriated Sense of the word Rectitude, in limitation of St. Paul, who uses δικαιώμα here for all those Precepts of the Law which contain in them any Part of the natural and eternal Rule of Rectitude, which is made known to Men by the Light of Reason. This Rule of their Actions all Mankind, uncircumcised as well as circumcised, had, and is that which St. Paul calls δικαιώμα τῶ Θεῷ, ch. i. 32. Because it came from God, and was made by him the moral Rule to all Mankind, being laid within the Difcovery of their Reason, which if they kept to, it was δικαιώμα, Righteousness to them, or they were justified. And this Rule of Morality St. Paul says the Gentile World did acknowledge.
So that δικαιώμα τῶ Θεῷ, ch. i. 32. signifies that Rule of Right taken in general, and δικαιώμα τῶ νόμου here signifies the particular Branches of it contained in the Law of Moses. For no other Part of the Law of Moses could an Heathen be supposed to observe or be concerned in: And therefore those only can be the δικαιώμα τῶ νόμου here meant. If we consider the various Senses that Translators and Expositors have given to this Term δικαιώμα, in the several Places of St. Paul's Epistles, where it occurs, we shall have occasion to think, that the Apostle used this Word with great Latitude and Variety of Significations; whereas I imagine, that if we carefully read those Passages, we shall find that he used it every where in the same Sense, i. e.
for that Rule which, if complied with, justified, or rendered perfect, the Person or Thing it referred to. For Example,

Rom. i. 32. Δικαιώμα Θεῷ, translated The Judgment of God, is that Rule of Right which if the Heathen World had kept and perfectly obeyed, they had been righteous before God.

Rom. ii. 26. Δικαιώμα τῶ νόμου, The Righteousness of the Law, are those Precepts of the Law of Moses, which if the Uncircumcised whom he there speaks of had kept, they had been righteous before God.

Rom. v. 16. Εἰς δικαιώμα, to Justification, is to the obtaining of Righteousness.

Rom. v. 18. Δι' ἑνὸς δικαιώματος, By one Righteousness, is by one Act whereby he was justified or compleatly perfected to be what he had undertaken to be, viz. the Redeemer and Saviour of the World. For it was διὰ παθήματων, or as some Copies read it, διὰ παθήματος, by his Suffering, viz. Death on the Cross, that he was perfected, Heb. ii. 9, 10. & xiv. 15.
& v. 7 — 9. Rom. v. 10. Phil. ii. 8. Col. i. 21, 21. Rom. viii. 4. τὸ δικαιώμα τῶ νόμου, The Righteousness of the Law. Here, as Rom. ii. 26. it is that Rule of Right contained in the Law, which if a Man exactly performed, he was righteous and perfect before God.

Heb. ix. 1. Δικαιώμα κατὰ θεῖας, Ordinances of Divine Service, are those Rules or Precepts concerning the outward Worship of God, which when conformed to render it perfect, and such as was right and unblameable before God.

Heb. ix. 10. Δικαιώματα σαρκός, Carnal Ordinances, are such Rules concerning ritual Performances, as, when observed, justified the Flesh. By these Observances, according as they were prescribed, the Flesh or natural outward Man, obtained a legal outward Holiness or Righteousness, there was no Exception against him, but he was freely admitted into the Congregation, and into the Sanctuary.

27. and every way a Jew? And shall not a Gentile, who in his natural State of Uncircumcision fulfils the Law, condemn^r thee, who notwithstanding the Advantage of having the Law and Circumcision, art a Transgressor
- tion be counted for Circumcision?
And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and Circumcision dost transgress the law?

N O T E S.

In the same Sense δικαιώματα is also used in the Apocalypse.

Rev. xv. 4. Τὰ δικαιώματα οὗ θεοῦ ἐφανερώθησαν, Thy Judgments are made manifest, i. e. those Terms whereupon Men are to be justified before God, were clearly and fully made known under the Gospel. Here, as Rom. i. they are called δικαιώματα Θεοῦ, the Terms which God had prescribed to Men for their Justification. And,

Rev. xix. 8. Τὰ δικαιώματα τῶν ἁγίων, The Righteousness of the Saints, i. e. The Performances whereby the Saints stand justified before God.

So that if we well observe it, δικαίωμα is the Rule of Right; As having God for its Author, it is δικαιώματα Θεοῦ; As contained in the Precepts of the Law, 'tis δικαιώματα τῆς νόμου; As it concerns the external instituted Rites of the Levitical Worship of God, it is δικαιώματα ῥαββίαι; As it concerns the outward Legal or Ritual Holiness of the Jews, it is δικαιώματα σαυρῶν; As it is in holy Men made perfect, it is δικαιώματα ἁγίων.

It may not be amiss to take a little Notice also of St. Paul's Use of the other Term here, νόμος, Law, which he commonly puts for a positive Rule given to Men, with the Sanction of a Penalty annexed; and in particular frequently (sometimes with, sometimes without the Participle) for the Law of Moses, without naming what Law he means, as if there had been no other Law in the World, as indeed there was not any other in St. Paul's Notion of a Law, from the Fall to our Saviour's Time, but only the Law given by God to the Israelites by the Hand of Moses. Under the Gospel the Law of Moses was abrogated: But yet the δικαιώματα τῆς νόμου were not abrogated. The δικαίωμα τῆς Θεοῦ not only stood firm, but was by the Divine Authority promulgated anew by Jesus Christ, the King and Saviour of the World. For 'tis of this that he says, that he is not come to destroy the Law, but to fulfil it, i. e. to give it positively and plainly its full Latitude and Extent, and set these δικαιώματα τῆς νόμου in their due Light and full Force; and accordingly we see all the Branches of it more expressly commanded, and with Penalties more vigorously enforced on all his Subjects by our Saviour and his Apostles, than they were in the Law of Moses.

Thus we see by the Doctrine of St. Paul and the New Testament, there is one and the same Rule of Rectitude set to the Actions of all Mankind, Jews, Gentiles, and Christians; and that failing of a complete Obedience to it in every Tittle, makes a Man unrighteous, the Consequence whereof is Death. For the Gentiles that have sinned without a Law, shall perish without a Law; the Jews that have sinned having a Law, shall be judged by that Law; but that both Jews and Gentiles shall be saved from Death, if they believe in Jesus Christ, and sincerely endeavour after Righteousness, though they do not attain unto it, their Faith being accounted to them for Righteousness, Rom. iii. 19 — 24.

27. Judge thee. This he saith prosecuting the Design he began with, ver. 1. of shewing the Folly and Unreasonableness of the Jews in judging the Gentiles, and denying them Admittance and Fellowship with themselves in the Kingdom of the Messias.

^r It is plain that by Nature, and by the Letter and Circumcision, are there opposed to one another, and mean the one a Man in his natural State, wholly a Stranger to the Law of God revealed by Moses, and the other a Jew observing the external Rites contained in the Letter of that Law.

IN this third Chapter St. Paul goes on to shew that the national Privileges the Jews had over the Gentiles, in being the People of God, gave them no particular Right, or better Title to the Kingdom of the Messias, than what the Gentiles had. Because they as well as the Gentiles all sinned, and not being able to attain Righteousness by the Deeds of the Law more than the Gentiles, Justification was to be had only by the Free Grace of God through
G g Faith

Chap. III. Faith in Jesus Christ; so that upon their believing, God, who is the God not of the Jews alone, but also of the Gentiles, accepted the Gentiles as well as the Jews; and now admits all who profess Faith in Jesus Christ, to be equally his People.

To clear his Way to this, he begins with removing an Objection of the Jews, ready to say; If it be so as you have told us in the foregoing Section, that it is the Circumcision of the Heart alone that availeth, what Advantage have the Jews, who keep to the Circumcision of the Flesh, and the other Observances of the Law, by being the People of God? To which he answers, that the Jews had many Advantages above the Gentiles; but yet that in respect of their Acceptance with God under the Gospel, they had none at all. He declares that both Jews and Gentiles are Sinners, both equally incapable of being justified by their own Performances: That God was equally the God both of Jews and Gentiles, and out of his Free Grace justified those, and only those who believed, whether Jews or Gentiles.

1. *I*F it be thus, that Circumcision by a Failure of Obedience to the Law becomes Uncircumcision; and that the Gentiles, who keep the Righteousness or moral Part of the Law, shall judge the Jews that transgress the Law, what Advantage have the Jews? or what Profit is there of Circumcision?
2. I answer, Much every Way^y; chiefly that God particularly present amongst them revealed his Mind and Will, and engaged himself in Promises to them, by Moses, and other his Prophets, which Oracles they had, and kept amongst them, whilst the rest of Mankind had no such Communication with the Deity, had no Revelation of his Purposes of Mercy to Mankind, but were, as it were, without God

3 For what if some did not believe: shall their unbelief make the Faith of God without effect?
4 God forbid: yea let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy Sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.
5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man) in the World. For though some of the Jews, who had the Promise of the Messiah, did not believe in him when he came, and so did not receive the Righteousness which is by Faith in Jesus Christ; yet their Unbelief cannot render the Faithfulness and Truth of God of no Effect, who had promised to be a God to Abraham and his Seed after him, and blest them to all Generations². No, by no means. God forbid that any one should entertain such a Thought: Yea, let God be acknowledged to be true, and every Man a Liar, as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy Sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.
6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

But you will say farther, If it be so that our Sinfulness commendeth^a the Righteousness of God shewn in keeping his Word^b given to our Forefathers, what shall I say, Is it not Injustice in God to punish us for it, and cast us off? (I must be understood to say this in the Person of a carnal Man pleading for himself) God forbid: For if God be unrighteous, how shall he judge the World^b?

NOTES.

³ ² How this was made good, St. Paul explains more at large in the following Chapter, and ch. ix. 6—13.

⁶ ^b This which is an Argument in the Mouth of Abraham, Gen. xviii. 25. St. Paul very aptly makes use of to stop the Mouths of the blasphemous Jews.

7. ^c For if the Truth and Veracity of God hath the more appeared to his Glory, by reason of my Lie^d, i. e. my Sin, why yet am I condemned for a Sinner, and punished for it? Why rather should not this be thought a right Consequence, and a just Excuse? Let us do Evil, that Good may come of it, that Glory may come to God by it. Thus ^e some maliciously and slanderously report us Christians to say, for which they deserve and will from God receive Punishment as they deserve.
9. Are we Jews then in any whit a better Condition than the Gentiles^f? Not at all. For I have already^g brought a Charge of Guilt and Sin

For if the truth of 7 God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner? 8

And not rather, as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say, Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

What then? are we 9 better than they? No in no wise: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin;

N O T E S.

7^c For. This Particle plainly joins what follows in this and the next Verse to Vengeance in the 5th Verse, and shews it to be, as it is, a Continuation of the Objection begun in that Verse; why St. Paul broke it into Pieces by intruding the 6th Verse in the Middle of it, there is a very plain Reason. In the Objection there were two Things to be corrected; 1st, The charging God with Unrighteousness, which as soon as mentioned, it was a becoming Interruption in St. Paul to quash immediately, and to stop the Jews Mouth with the Words of Abraham. 2dly, The other Thing in the Objection was a false Calumny upon the Christians, as if they preaching justification by Free Grace, said, Let us do Evil, that Good may come of it. To which the Apostle's Answer was the more distinct, being subjoined to that Branch separated from the other.

^d Lie. The Sense of the Place makes it plain, that St. Paul by Lie here means Sin in general, but seems to have used the Word Lie, as having a more forcible and graceful Antithesis to the Truth of God, which the Objection pretends to be thereby illustrated.

8^e Some. 'Tis past doubt that these were the Jews. But St. Paul, always tender towards his own Nation, forbears to name them, when he pronounces this Sentence, that their casting off and Destruction now at hand, for this Scandal and other Opposition to the Christian Religion, was just.

9^f Having in the six foregoing Verses justified the Truth of God, notwithstanding his casting off the Jews, and vindicated the Doctrine of Grace against the Cavils of the Jews, which two Objections of theirs came naturally in his way, the Apostle takes up here again the Jews Question proposed ver. 1. and urges it home to the Case in hand. Το δὲ περιεχόμενα, being but the same with Τι δὲ τὸ περιεχόμενον τῶ Ἰουδαίῳ, ver. 1. Have Jews then any Preference in the Kingdom of the Messiah? To which he answers, No, not at all. That this is the Meaning, is visible from the whole Chapter, where he lays both Jews and Gentiles in an equal State in reference to Justification.

^g Already, viz. ch. ii. 3. where St. Paul, under the gentler Compellation of O Man, charges the Jews to be Sinners as well as the Gentiles, and ver. 17—24. shews, that by having the Law they were no more kept from being Sinners than the Gentiles were without the Law. And this Charge against them, that they were Sinners, he here proves against them from the Testimony of their own Sacred Books contained in the Old Testament.

NOTE S.

19^h The Law here signifies the whole Old Testament, which containing Revelations from God in the Time of the Law, and being to those under the Law of Divine Authority, and a Rule as well as the Law itself, it is sometimes in the New Testament called the Law, and so our Saviour himself uses the Term Law, John x. 34. The Meaning of St. Paul here is, That the Declarations of God, which he had cited out of the Old Testament, were spoken of the Jews, who were under the Dispensation of the Old Testament, and were, by the Word of God to them, all of them pronounced Sinners.

20ⁱ Εἰς ἔργων νόμων, I should render, by Deeds of Law, i. e. by Actions of Conformity to a Law requiring the Performance of the δικαιοσύνη Θεοῦ, the right Rule of God (mentioned chap. i. 32.) with a Penalty annexed, no Flesh can be justified: But every one failing of an exact Conformity of his Actions to the immutable Rectitude of that eternal Rule of Right, will be found unrighteous, and so incur the Penalty of the Law. That this is the Meaning of ἔργα νόμων, is evident, because the Apostle's Declaration here is concerning all Men, ἅπαντας ἀνθρώπων. But we say, εἰς ἔργων τῶν νόμων, by the Deeds of the Law, but εἰς ἔργων νόμων, by Deeds of Law. Though in the foregoing and following Verse, where he would specify the Law of Moses, he uses the Article with νόμος three times.

no ^k Man can attain to an exact Conformity to the Rule of Right, so as to be righteous in the Sight of God. For by Law, which is the publishing the Rule with a Penalty, we are not delivered from the Power of Sin, nor can it help Men to Righteousness^l; but by Law we come experimentally to know Sin in the Force and Power of it, since we find it prevail upon us notwithstanding the Punishment of Death is by the Law annexed to it^m. But the Righteousness of God, that Righteousness which he intended, and will accept, and is a Righteousness not within the Rule and Rigour of Law, is now made manifest and confirmed by the Testimony of the Law and the Prophets, which bear witness to this Truth, that Jesus is the Messias, and that it is according to his Purpose and Promise, That the Righteousness of God by Faith in Jesus the Messias, is extended to and bestowed on all who believe in himⁿ (for there is no Difference between them. They have all, both Jews and Gentiles, sinned, and fail of attaining that Glory^o which God hath appointed for the Righteous) being made righteous gratis by the Favour of God through the Re-may become guilty before God.

Therefore by the deeds 20 of the Law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the Law is the knowledge of sin.

But now the righteousness 21 of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets;

Even the righteousness 22 of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe; for there is no difference:

For all have sinned, and 23 come short of the glory of God;

Being justified freely by 24 his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ:

N O T E S.

^k No Man. St. Paul uses here the Word Flesh for Man emphatically, as that wherein the Force of Sin is seated. Vid chap. vii. 14, 18. & viii. 14.

The Law cannot help Men to Righteousness. This, which is but implied here, is large and express in chap. vii. and is said expressly, chap. viii 3. Gal. iii. 21.

ⁿ Vid. chap. x. 12. Gal. iii. 22—28.

^o Here the Glory that comes from God, or by his Appointment, is called the Glory of God, as the Righteousness which comes from him, or by his Appointment, is called the Righteousness of God, chap. i. 17. and the Rule of moral Rectitude, which has God for its Author, or is appointed by him, is called δικαιοσύνη Θεοῦ, chap. i. 32. That this is the Glory here meant, vid. chap. ii. 7, 10. In the same Sense the Glory of God is used, chap. v. 2.

- 25 Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins, by the redemption which is by Jesus Christ; whom God hath set forth to be the Propitiatory or Mercy-seat ^q in his own Blood ^r, for the Manifestation of his [God's] Righteousness ^s, 25.

N O T E S.

24 ^p Redemption signifies Deliverance, but not Deliverance from every thing, but Deliverance from that, to which a Man is in Subjection or Bondage. Nor does Redemption by Jesus Christ import there was any Compensation made to God by paying what was of equal Value, in consideration whereof they were delivered; for that is inconsistent with what St. Paul expressly says here, viz. that Sinners are justified by God gratis, and of his free Bounty. What this Redemption is, St. Paul tells us, Eph. i. 7. Col. i. 14. even the Forgiveness of Sins. But if St. Paul had not been so express in defining what he means by Redemption, they yet would be thought to lay too much Stress upon the Criticism of a Word in the Translation, who would thereby force from the Word in the Original a necessary Sense, which it is plain it hath not. That Redeeming in the sacred Scripture Language signifies not precisely paying an Equivalent, is so clear, that nothing can be more. I shall refer my Reader to three or four Places amongst a great Number; Exod. vi. 6. Deut. vii. 8. & xv. 15. & xxiv. 18. But if any one will, from the literal Signification of the Word in Englsh. persist in it against St. Paul's Declarations, that it necessarily implies an equivalent Price paid, I desire him to consider to whom: And that if we will strictly adhere to the Metaphor, it must be to those whom the Redeemed are in Bondage to, and from whom we are redeemed, viz. Sin and Satan. If he will not believe his own System for this, let him believe St. Paul's Words, Tit. ii. 14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all Iniquity. Nor could the Price be paid to God in Strictness of Justice, (for that is made the Argument here) unless the same Person ought, by that strict Justice, to have both the Thing redeemed, and the Price paid for its Redemption. For 'tis to God we are redeemed by the Death of Christ, Rev. v. 9. Thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy Blood.

25 ¹ Ἰλαστήριον signifies Propitiatory, or Mercy Seat, and not Propitiation, as Mr. Mede has rightly observed upon this Place in his Discourse of God's House, §. 1.

² The Alexandrine Copy omits the Words διὰ πίστεως, by Faith; which seems conformable to the Sense of the Apostle here: He says, that God hath set forth Christ to be the Propitiatory in his Blood. The Atonement under the Law was made by Blood sprinkled on the Propitiatory or Mercy-Seat, Lev. xvi. 14. Christ, says St. Paul here, is now set out and shewn by God to be the real Propitiatory or Mercy-Seat in his own Blood; see Heb. ix. 25, 26. where the Sacrifice of himself is opposed to the Blood of others. God has set him out to be so, to declare his Righteousness; the Mercy-Seat being the Place wherein God spake and declared his Pleasure, Exod. xxv. 22. Numb. xvii. 8, 9. And it was there where God always appeared, Lev. xvi. 2. It was the Place of his Presence, and therefore he is said to dwell between the Cherubims, Psal. lxxx. 1. 2 Kings xix. 15. For between the Cherubim was the Mercy-Seat. In all which Respects, our Saviour, who was the Antitype, is properly called the Propitiatory.

N O T E S.

^t Διὰ τὴν πάρευν, by passing over. I do not remember any Place where πάρεσις signifies Remission or Forgiveness, but passing by, or passing over, as our Translation has it in the Margin, i. e. over-looking, or as it were, not minding; in which Sense it cannot be applied to the past Sins of private Persons, for God neither remits nor passes them by so as not to take notice of them. But this πάρεσις τῶν προγεγορῶτων ἀμαρτημάτων, passing over past Sins, is spoken nationally, in respect of the People of the Jews; who though they were a very sinful Nation, as appears by the Places here brought against them by St. Paul, yet God passed by all that, and would not be hindered by their past Sinfulness, from being just in keeping his Promise, in exhibiting to them Christ the Propitiatory. But though he would not be provoked by their past Sins, so as to cast them off from being his People before he had sent them the promised Messias to be their Saviour; yet after that, when at the due time he had manifested his Righteousness to them, that he might be just, and the Justifier of those who believe in Jesus, he no longer bore with their sinful Obstinacy; but when they rejected the Saviour (whom he had sent according to his Promise) from being their King, God rejected them from being his People, and took the Gentiles into his Church, and made them his People jointly and equally with the few believing Jews. This is plainly the Sense of the Apostle here, where he is discoursing of the Nation of the Jews, and their State in comparison with the Gentiles; not of the State of private Persons. Let any one without Prepossession attentively read the Context, and he will find it to be so.

26 ^u Δικαιοσύνης ἀπ' αὐτοῦ, his Righteousness, is here to be understood in both Senses in which St. Paul had used it before in this Chapter, viz. ver. 5. & 22. as it is manifest by St. Paul's explaining of it himself in these Words immediately following: That he might be just, and the Justifier of him who believeth in Jesus, which are the two Senses wherein the Righteousness of God is used.

^x At this time, viz. The Fulness of Time, according to his Promise.

^y Τὸν ἐκ πίστεως Ἰησοῦ: If this Phrase had been translated, him that is of the Faith of Jesus, as it is, chap. iv. 6. & Gal. iii. 7. rather than him which believeth in Jesus, it would better have expressed the Apostle's Meaning here, which was to distinguish οἱ ἐκ πίστεως, those who are of Faith, from οἱ ἐκ περιτομῆς, or οἱ ἐκ νόμου, those who are of the Circumcision, or those who are of the Law, speaking of them as of two Sorts or Races of Men, of two different Extractions. To understand this Place fully, let any one read chap. iv. 12—16. Gal. iii. 7—10. where he will find the Apostle's Sense more at large.

27^a The Glorying here spoken of, is that of the Jews, i. e. their judging of the Gentiles, and their Contempt of them, which St. Paul had before in several Places taken notice of. And here, to take down their Pride and Vanity, he tells them, it is wholly excluded by the Gospel, wherein God, who is the God of the Gentiles as well as of the Jews, justifieth by Faith alone the Jews as well as the Gentiles, since no Man could be justified by the Deeds of the Law. This seems to be said to the converted Jews, to stop their thinking that they had any Advantage over the Gentiles under the Gospel. No, says he, the Gospel, which is the Law of Faith, lays you equal with the Gentiles; and you have no Ground to assume any thing to yourselves, or set yourselves above them now under the Messias. This, and all the rest to this purpose in this Epistle, is said to establish the converted Romans in their Title to the Favour of God, equally with the Jews in the Gospel, and fortifying them against any Disturbance that might be given them by the pretending Jews; which is the principal Design of this Epistle, as we have already observed.

28^b Therefore, this Inference is drawn from what he had taught, ver. 23.

^c Vid *Act*s xiii. 29. chap. viii. 3. Gal. ii. 16.

30^d Ἐπεὶ ἓξ ἐστὶ ὁ Θεός, since God is one. He that will see the Force of St. Paul's Reasoning here, must look to Zachary xiv. 9. from whence these Words are taken; where the Prophet speaking of the Time when the Lord shall be King over all the Earth, and not barely over the little People shut up in the Land of Canaan, he says, In that Day there shall be one Lord, i. e. God shall not be as he is now, the God of the Jews alone, whom only he hath known of all the People of the Earth; but he shall be the God of the Gentiles also, the same merciful, reconciled God to the People of all Nations. This Prophecy the Jews understood of the Times of the Messias, and St. Paul here presses them with it.

^e It was impossible for remote Nations to keep the Law of Moses, a great Part of the Worship required by it being local, and confined to the Temple at Jerusalem.

N O T E S.

³¹ f Νόμος, Law, is here repeated twice without the Article, and it is plain that by it St. Paul does not mean precisely the Mosaical Law, but so much of it as is contained in the natural and eternal Rule of Right mentioned, ch. i. 32. and xi. 26. and is again by a positive Command re-enacted and continued as a Law under the Messias. Vid. Matt. xxviii. 20.

ST. Paul having in the foregoing Section cut off all glorying from the Jews upon the account of their having the Law, and shewn that that gave them no manner of Title or Pretence to be the People of God, more than the Gentiles, under the Messias; and so they had no Reason to judge or exclude the Gentiles as they did; he comes here to prove that their lineal Extraction from their Father Abraham, gave them no better a Pretence of glorying, or of setting themselves upon that account above the Gentiles now in the time of the Gospel.

1. Because Abraham himself was justified by Faith, and so had not whereof to glory, for as much as he that receiveth Righteousness as a Boon, has no Reason to glory: But he that attains it by Works.

2. Because

2. Because neither they who had Circumcision derived down to them, as the Posterity of Abraham, nor they who had the Law; but they only who had Faith were the Seed of Abraham, to whom the Promise was made. And therefore the Blessing of Justification was intended for the Gentiles, and bestowed on them as well as on the Jews, and upon the same Ground.

¹ Our Father according to the Flesh. St. Paul speaks here as lineally descended from Abraham, and joins himself herein with the rest of his Nation, of whom he calls Abraham the Father according to the Flesh, to distinguish the Jews by Birth, from those who were Abraham's Seed according to the Promise, viz. those who were of the Faith of Abraham, whether Jews or Gentiles, a Distinction which he insists on all through this Chapter.

² Καύχουμα, translated here glorying, I take to signify the same with καυχῆσαι, translated boasting, chap. ii. 17, 23. in which Places it is used to signify the Jews valuing themselves upon some national Privileges above the rest of the World, as if they had thereby some peculiar Right to the Favour of God above other Men. This the Jewish Nation thinking themselves alone to have a Title to be the People of God, expressed in their judging the Gentiles whom they despised, and looked on as unworthy and incapable to be received into the Kingdom of the Messias, and admitted into Fellowship with their Nation under the Gospel. This Conceit of theirs St. Paul opposes here, and makes it his Business to shew the Falseness and Groundlessness of it all through the eleven first Chapters of this Epistle. I ask, whether it would not help the English Reader the better to find and pursue the Sense of St. Paul, if the Greek Term were every where rendered by the same English Word? Whether boasting or glorying, I think of no great Consequence, so one of them be kept to.

Works of Obedience exactly conformable and coming up to the Rule of Righteousness. 4.
 For what Reward a Man has made himself a Title to by his Performances, that he receives as a Debt that is due, and not as a Gift of Favour. 5.
 But to him that by his Works attains not Righteousness, but only believeth on God who justifieth him, being ungodly^k, to him Justification is a Favour of Grace: Because his Believing is accounted to him for Righteousness, or perfect Obedience. Even as David speaks of the Blessedness of the Man to whom God reckoneth Righteousness without Works, saying, Blessed are they whose Iniquities are forgiven, and whose Sins are covered. 6.
 Blessed is the Man to whom the Lord will not reckon^l Sin. Is this Blessedness then upon the Circumcised only, or upon the Uncircumcised also? For we say that Faith was reckoned to Abraham for Righteousness. 7.
 When therefore was it reckoned to him? When he was in Circumcision or in Uncircumcision? Not in Circumcision, but in Uncircumcision. 8.
 For he received the Sign of Circumcision, a Seal of the Righteousness of the Faith, which he had being yet uncircumcised^m, that he might

Now to him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt. 4

But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his Faith is counted for righteousness. 5

Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works. 6

Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. 7

Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin. 8

Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness. 9

How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision. 10

⁸ ^l λογισθῆναι, reckoneth. What this imputing or reckoning of Righteousness is, may be seen in ver. 8. viz. the not reckoning of Sin to any one, the not putting Sin to his Account: The Apostle in these two Verses using these two Expressions as equivalent. From hence the Expression of blotting out of Iniquity, so frequently used in Sacred Scripture, may be understood, i. e. the striking it out of the Account. λογισθῆναι signifies to reckon or account, and with a Dative Case, to put to any one's Account; and accordingly, ver. 3, 4, 5. it is translated counted or reckoned; which Word for the sake of English Readers I have kept to in this, and ver. 9, 10, & 11.

NOTES.

11 & 12 ⁿ What Righteousness reckoned to any one, or as it is usually called imputed Righteousness, is, St. Paul explains, ver. 6 — 8. Whom this Blessing belongs to, he enquires, ver. 9. and here, ver. 11, and 12. he declares who are the Children of Abraham, that from him inherit this Blessing, ver. 11. he speaks of the Gentiles, and there shews that Abraham, who was justified by Faith before he was circumcised, (the Want whereof the Jews looked on as a distinguishing Mark of a Gentile) was the Father of all those among the Gentiles, who should believe without being circumcised. And here, ver. 12. he speaks of the Jews, and says, that Abraham was their Father : But not that all should be justified who were only circumcised ; but those who to their Circumcision added the Faith of Abraham, which he had before he was circumcised. That which misled those who mistook the Sense of St. Paul here, seems to be their not observing, that τοῖς ἐν ἐκ περιτομῆς, is referred to, and governed by εἰς τὸ λογισθῆναι, which must be supposed repeated here after πάλαια περιτομῆς. Or else the Apostle's Sense and Argument will not stand in its full Force, but the Antithesis will be lost ; by preserving of which the Sense runs thus ; And the Father of the Circumcised, that Righteousness might be imputed to those who, &c. Another Thing very apt to mislead them, was the joining of μόνον only, to ἐκ not, as if it were ἐ μόνον τούτοις, not only those who are of the Circumcision ; whereas it should be understood as it stands joined to περιτομῆς, and so περιτομῆς μόνον are best translated barely Circumcision, and the Apostle's Sense runs thus ; That he might be the Father of the Gentiles that believe, though they be not circumcised, that Righteousness might be imputed to them also ; And the Father of the Jews, that Righteousness might be imputed not to them who have Circumcision only, but to them who also walk in the Steps of the Faith of our Father Abraham, which he had being uncircumcised. In which Way of Understanding this Passage, not only the Apostle's Meaning is very plain, easy and coherent, but the Construction of the Greek exactly corresponds to that of ver. 11. and is genuine, easy, and natural, which any other Way will be very perplexed.

13 ^o The Promise here meant is that which he speaks of, ver. 11. whereby Abraham was made the Father of all that should believe all the World over, and for that Reason he is called κληρονομικός κόσμου, Heir or Lord of the World. For the Believers of all Nations of the World being given to him for a Posterity, he becomes thereby Lord and Possessor (for so Heir amongst the Hebrews signified) of the World. For 'tis plain the Apostle in this Verse pursues the Argument he was upon in the two former. And 'tis also plain that St. Paul makes Circumcision to be the Seal of the Promise made to Abraham, Gen. xii. as well as of that made to him, Gen. xvii. and so both these to be but one Covenant, and that of cb. xvii. to be but a Repetition and farther Explication of the former, as is evident from this Chapter, compared with Gal. iii. In both which the Apostle argues, that the Gentiles were intended to be justified as well as the Jews, and that both Jews and Gentiles, who are justified, are justified by Faith, and not by the Works of the Law.

should be Possessor of the World, was not that Abraham, and those of his Seed, who were under the Law, should by virtue of their having and owning the Law, be possessed of it; but by the Righteousness of Faith, whereby those who were without the Law, scattered all over the World, beyond the Borders of Canaan, became his Posterity, and had him for their Father^p, and inherited the Blessing of Justification by Faith. For if they only who had the Law of Moses given them, were Heirs of Abraham, Faith is made void and useles^q, it receiving no Benefit of the Promise which was made to the Heirs of Abraham's Faith, and so the Promise becomes of no effect. Because the Law procures them not Justification^r, but renders them liable to the Wrath and Punishment of God^s, who by the Law has made known to them what is Sin, and what Punishment he has annexed to it. For there is no incurring Wrath or Punishment where there is no Law that says any thing of it^t.

the steps of that Faith of our Father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

For the promise that¹³ he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the Righteousness of Faith.

For if they which are¹⁴ of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

Because the law worketh¹⁵ wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

^r Οὐκ ἔστι νόμος, ἔδδ' παράνομος, of that, concerning which there is no Law with the Sanction of a Punishment annexed, there can be no Transgression incurring Wrath or Punishment. Thus it may be rendered if we read s with an Aspiration, as some do. But whether it be taken to signify where or whereof, the Sense will be the same. For παράνομος here, to make St. Paul's Argument of Force, must signify such a Transgression as draws on the Transgressor Wrath and Punishment by the Force and Sanction of a Law. And so the Apostle's Proposition is made good, that 'tis the Law alone that exposes us to Wrath, and that is all that the Law can do, for it gives us no Power to perform.

Therefore

- 16 Therefore it is of Faith, that it might be merely of Favour, to the end that the Promise might be sure to all the Seed of Abraham; not to that Part of it only which has Faith, being under the Law; but to that Part also who without the Law inherit the Faith of Abraham, who is the Father of us all who believe, whether Jews or Gentiles, (as it is written^x, I have made thee a Father of many Nations) I say the Father of us all (in the Account of God, whom he believed, and who accordingly quickened the Dead, i. e. Abraham and Sarah, whose Bodies were dead; and calleth Things that are not as if they were^y;) Who without any Hope, which the natural Course of Things could afford, did in hope believe, that he should become the Father of many Nations, according to what God had spoken, by God's shewing him the Stars of Heaven, saying, So shall thy Seed be. And being firm and unshaken in his Faith, he regarded not his own Body now dead, he being about an hundred Years old; nor the Deadness of Sarah's Womb; he staggered not at the Promise of God through Unbelief, but was strong in Faith, thereby giving Glory to God; by the full Persuasion he had that God was able to perform what he had promised:

16 ¹ The Grammatical Construction does not seem much to favour Inheritance, as the Word to be supplied here, because it does not occur in the preceding Verses. But he that observes St. Paul's Way of Writing, who more regards Things than Forms of Speaking, will be satisfied, that it is enough that he mentioned Heirs, ver. 13, & 14. and that he does mean Inheritance here, Gal. iii. 18. puts it past doubt.

^a 1 Cor. xv. 17. I have set down all these Texts out of St. Paul, that in them might be seen his own Explication of what he says here, viz. That our Saviour by his Death atoned for our Sins, and so we were innocent, and thereby freed from the Punishment due to Sin. But he rose again to ascertain to us eternal Life, the Consequence of Justification: For the Reward of Righteousness is eternal Life, which Inheritance we have a Title to by Adoption in Jesus Christ. But if he himself had not that Inheritance, if he had not rose into the Possession of eternal Life, we who hold by and under him, could not have risen from the dead, and so could never have come to be pronounced righteous, and to have received the Reward of it, everlasting Life. Hence St. Paul tells us, 1 Cor. xv. 17. that if Christ be not raised, our Faith is vain, we are yet in our Sins, i. e. as to the Attainment of eternal Life 'tis all one as if our Sins were not forgiven. And thus he rose for our Justification, i. e. to assure to us eternal Life, the Consequence of Justification. And this I think is confirmed by our Saviour in these Words, Because I live ye shall live also, John. xiv. 19.

ST. Paul in the foregoing Chapters has examined the glorying of the Jews, and their valuing themselves so highly above the Gentiles, and shewn the Vanity of their boasting in Circumcision and the Law, since neither they nor their Father Abraham were justified, or found Acceptance with God by Circumcision, or the Deeds of the Law: And therefore they had no Reason so, as they did, to press Circumcision and the Law on the Gentiles, or exclude those who had them not, from being the People of God, and unfit for their Communion in and under the Gospel. In this Section he comes to shew what the Convert Gentiles, by Faith without Circumcision or the Law, had to glory in, viz. The Hope of Glory, ver. 2. Their Sufferings for the Gospel, ver. 3. And God as their God, ver. 11. In these three it is easy to observe the Thread and Coherence of St. Paul's Discourse here, the intermediate Verses (according to that abounding with Matter, and overflowing of Thought he was filled with) being taken up with an incidental Train of Considerations, to shew the Reason they had to glory in Tribulations.

^c Wc, i. e. we Gentiles that are not under the Law. 'Tis in their Names that St. Paul speaks in the three last Verses of the foregoing Chapter, and all through this Section, as is evident from the Illation here, Therefore being justified by Faith, we. It being an Inference drawn from his having proved in the former Chapter, that the Promise was not to the Jews alone, but to the Gentiles also: And that Justification was not by the Law, but by Faith, and consequently designed for the Gentiles as well as the Jews.

- we have stood, and glory^d in the Hope of the Glory which God has in store for us. And not only so, but we glory in Tribulation also, knowing that Tribulation worketh Patience; And Patience giveth us a Proof of ourselves, which furnishes us with Hope; And our Hope maketh not ashamed, will not deceive us, because^e the Sense of the Love of God is poured out into our Hearts by the Holy Ghost, which is given unto us*. For when we Gentiles were yet without Strength †, void of all Help or Ability to deliver ourselves, Christ in the Time that God had appointed and foretold, died for us, who lived without the Acknowledgment and Worship of the true God †. Scarce is it to be found, that any one will die for a just Man, if peradventure one should dare to die for a good Man; but God recommends, and herein shews the Greatness of his Love^f towards us, in that whilst we Gentiles were a Mass of profligate Sinners^g, Christ died grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

And patience, experience; and experience, hope;

And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto us.

For when we were yet without strength, in due time, Christ died for the ungodly.

For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

But God commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

N O T E S.

² ^d Καυχόμεθα, we glory. The same Word here for the Convert Gentiles that he had used before for the Boasting of the Jews, and the same Word he used where he examined what Abraham had found. The taking notice whereof, as we have already observed, may help to lead us into the Apostle's Sense: And plainly shews us here, that St. Paul in this Section opposes the Advantages the Gentile Converts to Christianity have by Faith, to those the Jews gloried in with so much Haughtiness and Contempt of the Gentiles.

⁵ ^e Beccuse. * The Force of his Inference seems to stand thus. The Hope of eternal Happiness, which we glory in, cannot deceive us, because the Gifts of the Holy Ghost bestowed upon us, assure us of the Love of God towards us, the Jews themselves acknowledging that the Holy Ghost is given to none but those who are God's own People.

⁸ ^f Another Evidence St. Paul gives them here of the Love of God towards them, and the Ground they had to glory in the Hopes of eternal Salvation, is the Death of Christ for them, whilst they were yet in their Gentile Estate, which he describes by calling them,

6, 8 ^g † Ἄσθενεις, without Strength; Ἄεθεις, ungodly; Ἄμαρτωλοι, Sinners; Ἐχθροί, Enemies: These four Epithets are given to them as Gentiles, they being used by St. Paul, as the proper Attributes of the Heathen World, as considered in Contradistinction to the Jewish Nation. What St. Paul says of the Gentiles in other Places will clear this. The helpless Condition of the Gentile World in the State of Gentilism, signified here by ἄσθενεις, without Strength, he terms, Col.

NOTES.

Col. ii. 13. dead in Sin, a State, if any, of Weakness. And hence he says to the Romans converted to Jesus Christ; Yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the Dead, and yourselves as Instruments of Righteousness unto God, ch. vi. 13. How he describes ἀνεπίστοι, Unbelievers, mentioned ch. i. 18. as the proper State of the Gentiles, we may see ver. 21, 23. That he thought the Title ἀμαρτωλοὶ, Sinners, belonged peculiarly to the Gentiles, in Contradistinction to the Jews, he puts it past doubt in these Words, We who are Jews by Nature, and not Sinners of the Gentiles, Gal. ii. 15. See also ch. vi. 17 — 22. And as for ἐχθροί, Enemies, you have the Gentiles before their Conversion to Christianity so called, Col. i. 21. St. Paul, Eph. ii. 1 — 13. describes the Heathens a little more at large; but yet the Parts of the Character he there gives them, we may find comprised in these four Epithets; the ἀθεοεῖς, atheists, ver. 1, 5. the ἀνόμοιοι, ungodly, and ἀμαρτωλοὶ, Sinners, ver. 2, 3. and the ἐχθροί, Enemies, ver. 11, 12.

If it were remembered that St. Paul all along, through the eleven first Chapters of this Epistle, speaks nationally of the Jews and Gentiles, as 'tis visible he does, and personally of single Men, there would be less Difficulty and fewer Mistakes in understanding this Epistle. This one Place we are upon is a sufficient Instance of it. For if by these Terms here, we shall understand him to denote all Men personally, Jews as well as Gentiles, before they are savingly ingrafted into Jesus Christ, we shall make his Discourse here disjointed, and his Sense mightily perplexed, if at all consistent.

That there were some among the Heathen as innocent in their Lives, and as far from Enmity to God, as some among the Jews, cannot be questioned. Nay, that many of them were not ἀσεβεῖς, but εὐσεβοῦντες, Worshippers of the true God, if we could doubt of it, is manifest out of the Acts of the Apostles; but yet St. Paul, in the Places above quoted, pronounces them all together, ἀσεβεῖς, and ἄθεοι, (for that by these two Terms applied to the same Persons, he means the same, i. e. such as did not acknowledge and worship the true God, seems plain) ἀνόμοιοι, and Sinners of the Gentiles, as nationally belonging to them, in Contradistinction to the People of the Jews, who were the People of God, whilst the other were the Provinces of the Kingdom of Satan: Not but that there were Sinners, heinous Sinners, among the Jews; but the Nation, considered as one Body and Society of Men, disowned and declared against, and opposed itself to those Crimes and Impurities which are mentioned by St. Paul, chap. i. 24, &c. as woven into the religious and politick Constitutions of the Gentiles. There they had their full Scope and Swing, had Allowance, Countenance and Protection. The idolatrous Nations had, by their Religions, Laws and Forms of Government, made themselves the open Votaries, and were the professed Subjects of Devils. So St. Paul, 1 Cor. x. 20, 21. truly calls the Gods they worshipped and paid their Homage to. And suitably hereunto, their religious Observances, 'tis well known, were not without great Impurities, which were of right charged upon them, when they had a Place in their sacred Offices, and had the Recommendation of Religion to give them Credit. The rest of the Vices in St. Paul's black List, which were not warmed at their Altars, and fostered in their Temples, were yet by the Connivance of the Law cherished in their private Houses, and made a Part of the uncondemned Actions of common Life, and had the Countenance of Custom to authorize them, even in the best regulated and most civilized Governments of the Heathen. On the contrary, the Frame of the Jewish Commonwealth was founded on the Acknowledgment and Worship of the one only true and invisible God, and their Laws required an extraordinary Purity of Life, and Strictness of Manners.

That the Gentiles were stiled ἐχθροί, Enemies, in a political or national Sense, is plain from Eph. ii. where they are called, Aliens from the Commonwealth of Israel, and Strangers from the Covenant. Abraham, on the other side, was called the Friend of God, i. e. one in Covenant with him, and his professed Subject, that owned God to the World: And so were his Posterity the People of the Jews, whilst the rest of the World were under Revolt, and lived in open Rebellion against him, vid. Isa. xli. 8. And here in this Epistle St. Paul expressly teaches, that when the Nation of the Jews, by rejecting of the Messiah, put themselves out of the Kingdom of God, and were cast off from being any longer the People of God, they became Enemies, and the Gentile World were reconciled. See Chap. xi. 15, 28. Hence St. Paul, who was the Apostle of the Gentiles, calls his performing that Office, the Ministry of Reconciliation, 2 Cor. v. 18.

And here in this Chapter, ver. 1. the Privilege which they receive by the accepting of the Covenant of Grace in Jesus Christ, he tells them is this, that they have Peace with God, i. e. are no longer incorporated with his Enemies, and of the Party of the open Rebels against him in the Kingdom of Satan, being returned to their natural Allegiance in their owning the one true supreme God, in submitting to the Kingdom he had set up in his Son, and being received by him as his Subjects. Suitably herunto St. James, speaking of the Conversion of the Gentiles to the Profession of the Gospel, says of it, that God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a People for his Name, Acts xv. 14. & ver. 19. he calls the Converts, these who from among the Gentiles are turned to God.

Besides what is to be found in other Parts of St. Paul's Epistles to justify the taking of these Words here, as applied nationally to the Gentiles, in Contradistinction to the Children of Israel, that which St. Paul says, ver. 10, 11. makes it necessary to understand them so. We, says he, when we were Enemies were reconciled to God, and so we now glory in him, as our God. We here must unavoidably be spoken in the Name of the Gentiles, as is plain not only by the whole Tenor of this Section, but from this Passage of glorying in God, which he mentions as a Privilege now of the believing Gentiles, surpassing that of the Jews, whom he had taken notice of before, chap. ii. 17. as being forward to glory in God as their peculiar Right, though with no great Advantage to themselves. But the Gentiles who were reconciled now to God by Christ's Death, and taken into Covenant with God, as many as received the Gospel, had a new and better Title to this Glorifying than the Jews. Those that now are reconciled, and glory in God as their God, he says, were Enemies. The Jews who had the same corrupt Nature common to them with the rest of Mankind, are no where that I know called ἐχθροί, Enemies, or ἀσεβεις, ungodly, whilst they publicly owned him for their God, and professed to be his People. But the Heathen were deemed Enemies, for being Aliens to the Commonwealth of Israel, and Strangers from the Covenants of Promise. There were never but two Kingdoms in the World, that of God, and that of the Devil: These were opposite, and therefore the Subjects of the latter could not but be in the State of Enemies, and fall under that Denomination. The Revolt from God was universal, and the Nations of the Earth had given themselves up to Idolatry, when God called Abraham, and took him into Covenant with himself, as he did afterwards the whole Nation of the Israelites, whereby they were re-admitted into his Kingdom, came under his Protection, and were his People and Subjects, and no longer Enemies, whilst all the rest of the Nations remained in the State of Rebellion, the professed Subjects of other Gods, who were Usurpers upon God's Right, and Enemies of this Kingdom. And indeed if the four Epithets be not taken to be spoken here of the Gentile World in this political and truly evangelical Sense, but in the ordinary systematical Notion applied to all Mankind, as belonging universally to every Man personally, whether by Profession Gentile, Jew or Christian, before he be actually regenerated by a saving Faith, and an effectual thorough Conversion, the illative Particle Wherefore, in the Beginning of ver. 12. will hardly connect it and what follows to the foregoing Part of this Chapter. But the eleven first Verses must be taken for a Parenthesis, and then the Therefore in the Beginning of this fifth Chapter, which joins it to the fourth with a very clear Connexion, will be wholly insignificant; and after all, the Sense of the 12th Verse will but ill fodder with the End of the fourth Chapter, notwithstanding the Wherefore which is taken to bring them in as an Inference. Whereas these eleven first Verses being supposed to be spoken of the Gentiles, makes them not only of a Piece with St. Paul's Design in the foregoing and following Chapters, but the Thread of the whole Discourse goes very smooth, and the Inferences (gathered in with Therefore in the 11th Verse, and with Wherefore in the 12th Verse) are very easy, clear and natural from the immediately preceding Verses. That of the 11th Verse may be seen in what we have already said, and that of the 12th Verse in short stands thus: We Gentiles have by Christ received the Reconciliation, which we cannot doubt to be intended for us as well as for the Jews, since Sin and Death entered into the World by Adam, the common Father of us all. And as by the Disobedience of that one, Condemnation of Death came on all; so by the Obedience of one, Justification to Life came upon all.

NOTES.

⁹ ^h What St. Paul here calls Wrath, he calls the Wrath to come, 1 Theff. i. 10. and generally in the New Testament Wrath is put for the Punishment of the Wicked at the last Day.

11 ⁱ Οὐ μόνον δι, And not only so; I think no body can with the least Attention read this Section, without perceiving that these Words join this Verse to the 3d. The Apostle in the 2d Verse says, We the Gentiles who believe, glory in the Hopes of an eternal splendid State of Bliss. In the 3d Verse he adds ὐ μόνον δι, And not only so, but our Afflictions are to us matter of glorying; which he proves in the seven following Verses; and then ver. 11. adds ἔ μόνον δι, And not only so; but we glory in God also as our God, being reconciled to him in Jesus Christ. And thus he shews that the Convert Gentiles had whercof to glory, as well as the Jews; and were not inferior to them, though they had not Circumcision and the Law, wherein Jews gloried so much, but with no Ground in comparifon of what the Gentiles had to glory in, by Faith in Jesus Christ, now under the Gospel.

^k It is true, the Gentiles could not formerly glory in God as our God; that was the Privilege of the Jews, who alone of all the Nations owned him for their King and God, and were his People, in Covenant with him. All the rest of the Kingdoms of the Earth had taken other Lords, and given themselves up to false Gods, to serve and worship them; and so were in a State of War with the true God, the God of Israel. But now we, being reconciled by Jesus Christ, whom we have received, and own for our Lord, and thereby being returned into his Kingdom, and to our ancient Allegiance, we can truly glory in God as our God, which the Jews cannot do, who have refused to receive Jesus for their Lord, whom God hath appointed Lord over all things.

but THE Apostle here goes on with his Design of shewing that the Gentiles under the Gospel have as good a Title to the Favour of God as the Jews, there being no other way for either Jew or Gentile to find Acceptance with God, by Faith in Jesus Christ. In the foregoing Section he reckoned up several Subjects of glorying, which the Convert Gentiles had, without the Law, and concludes them with this chief and principal Matter of glorying, even God himself, whom, now that they were by Jesus Christ their Lord reconciled to him, they could glory in as their God.

To give them a more full and satisfactory Comprehension of this, he leads them back to the Times before the giving of the Law, and the very Being of the Jewish Nation; and lays before them in short the whole Scene of God's Oeconomy, and his Dealing with Mankind from the Beginning, in reference to Life and Death.

1. He teaches them, that by Adam's Lapse all Men were brought into a State of Death, and by Christ's Death all are restored to Life.

2. That the Law, when it came, laid the Israelites faster under Death, by enlarging the Offence which had Death annexed to it. For by the Law every Transgression, that any one under the Law committed, had Death for its Punishment, notwithstanding which, by Christ, those under the Law, who believe, receive Life.

3. That though the Gentiles who believe come not under the Rigour of the Law, yet the Covenant of Grace, which they are under, requires that they should not be Servants and Vassals to Sin, to obey it in the Lusts of it, but sincerely endeavour after Righteousness, the End whereof would be everlasting Life.

4. That the Jews also who receive the Gospel, are delivered from the Law; not that the Law is Sin; but because, though the Law forbid the obeying of Sin, as well as the Gospel; yet not enabling bling them to resist their sinful Lusts, but making each Compliance ^{Chap. V.} with any sinful Lust deadly, it settles upon them the Dominion of Sin by Death, from which they are delivered by the Grace of God alone, which frees them from the Condemnation of the Law for every actual Transgression, and requires no more, but that they should, with the whole Bent of their Mind, serve the Law of God, and not their carnal Lusts. In all which Cases the Salvation of the Gentiles is wholly by Grace, without their being at all under the Law. And the Salvation of the Jews is wholly by Grace also, without any Aid or Help from the Law: From which also by Christ they are delivered.

Thus lies the Thread of St. Paul's Argument; wherein we may see how he pursues his Design of satisfying the Gentile Converts at Rome, that they were not required to submit to the Law of Moses; and of fortifying them against the Jews, who troubled them about it.

For the more distinct and easy Apprehension of St. Paul's discouraging on these four Heads, I shall divide this Section into the four following Numbers, taking them up as they lie in the Order of the Text.

HERE he instructs them in the State of Mankind in general before the Law, and before the Separation that was made thereby of the Israelites from all the other Nations of the Earth. And here he shews, that Adam, transgressing the Law, which forbid him the eating of the Tree of Knowledge upon pain of Death, forfeited Immortality, and becoming thereby mortal, all his Posterity descending from the Loins of a mortal Man, were mortal too, and all died, though none of them broke that Law but Adam himself: But by Christ they are all restored to Life again. And God justifying those who believe in Christ, they are restored to their Primitive State of Righteousness and Immortality; so that the Gentiles, Chap. V. Gentiles, being the Descendants of Adam, as well as the Jews, stand as fair for all the Advantages that accrue to the Posterity of Adam by Christ as the Jews themselves, it being all wholly and solely from Grace.

12. WHEREFORE, to give you a State of the whole Matter, from the Beginning, you must know, that as by the Act of one Man, Adam, the Father of us all, Sin entered into the World, and Death, which was the Punishment annexed to the Offence of eating the forbidden Fruit, entered by that Sin, for that all Adam's Posterity thereby became mortal¹. It is true indeed, Sin was universally committed in the World by all Men, all the Time before the positive Law of God delivered by Moses: But Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned.

For until the law sin was in the world, but sin

N O T E S.

¹² ¹ Have sinned, I have rendered became mortal, following the Rule I think very necessary for the understanding St. Paul's Epistles (viz.) the making him, as much as is possible, his own Interpreter, 1 Cor. xv. 22. cannot be denied to be parallel to this Place. This and the following Verses here being, as one may say, a Comment on that Verse in the Corinthians, St. Paul treating here of the same matter, but more at large. There he says, As in Adam all die; which Words cannot be taken literally, but thus, That in Adam all became mortal. The same he says here, but in other Words, putting, by a no very unusual Metonymy, the Cause for the Effect, (viz.) the Sin of eating the forbidden Fruit, for the Effect of it on Adam, viz. Mortality, and in him on all his Posterity: A mortal Father infected now with Death, being able to produce no better than a mortal Race. Why St. Paul differs in his Phrase here from that which we find he used to the Corinthians, and prefers here that which is harder and more figurative, may perhaps be easily accounted for, if we consider his Style and usual Way of Writing, wherein is shewn a great Liking of the Beauty and Force of Antithesis, as serving much to Illustration and Impression. In the xvth Chapter of Corinthians, he is speaking of Life restored by Jesus Christ, and to illustrate and fix that in their Minds, the Death of Mankind best served: Here to the Romans he is discoursing of Righteousness restored to Men by Christ, and therefore here the Term Sin is the most natural and properest to set that off. But that neither actual or imputed Sin is meant here, or ver. 19. where the same Way of Expression is used, he that has need of it may see proved in Dr. Whitty upon the Place. If there can be any need of any other Proof, when it is evidently contrary to St. Paul's Desire here, which is to shew, that all Men, from Adam to Moses, died solely in consequence of Adam's Transgression, see ver. 17.

NOTES.

13 ^m Οὐκ ἑλογεῖται, is not imputed; so our Translation, but possibly not exactly to the Sense of the Apostle: ἑλογεῖν signifies to reckon, but cannot be interpreted reckon to, which is the Meaning of impute, without a Person assigned to whom it is imputed. And so we see when the Word is used in that Sense, the Dative Case of the Person is subjoined. And therefore it is well translated, Philem. 18. if he owes thee any thing, ἐμὲ ἑλόγηε, put it to my Account, reckon or impute it to me. Besides, St. Paul here tells us, the Sin here spoken of, as not reckoned, was in the World, and had actual Existence during the Time between Adam and Moses; but the Sin, which is supposed to be imputed, is Adam's Sin which he committed in Paradise, and was not in the World during the Time from Adam till Moses, and therefore ἑλογεῖται cannot here signify imputed. Sins in sacred Scripture are called Debts; but nothing can be brought to account, as a Debt, till a Value be set upon it. Now Sins can no way be taxed, or a Rate set upon them, but by the positive Declaration and Sanction of the Law-maker. Mankind, without the positive Law of God, knew, by the Light of Nature, that they transgressed the Rule of their Nature, Reason, which dictated to them what they ought to do. But without a positive Declaration of God their Sovereign, they could not tell at what Rate God taxed their Trespases against this Rule; till he pronounced that Life should be the Price of Sin, that could not be ascertained, and consequently Sin could not be brought to account: And therefore we see that where there was no positive Law affixing Death to Sin, Men did not look on Death as the Wages or Retribution for their Sin; they did not account that they paid their Lives as a Debt and Forfeit for their Transgression. This is the more to be considered, because St. Paul in this Epistle treats of Sin, Punishment and Forgiveness, by way of an Account, as it were of Debtor and Creditor.

He will be farther confirmed in this Sense of these Words, who will be at the Pains to compare chap. iv. 15. & v. 13, 20. & vii. 8, 9. together. St. Paul, chap. iv. 15. says, The Law worketh Wrath, i. e. carrieth Punishment with it. For where there is no Law, there is no Transgression. Whereby is not meant, that there is no Sin where there is no positive Law, (the contrary whereof he says in this Verse, viz. that Sin was in the World all the Time before the Law) but that there is no Transgression with a Penalty annexed to it without a positive Law. And hence he tells the Romans, chap. i. 32. that they knew not that those Things deserved Death, [vid. Note, chap. i. 32.] but it was by the positive Law of God only, that Men knew that Death was certainly annexed to Sin, as its certain and unavoidable Punishment; and so St. Paul argues, chap. vii. 8, 9.

ⁿ Νόμος, Law. Whether St. Paul by νόμος here means Law in general, as for the most part he does where he omits the Article; or whether he means the Law of Moses in particular, in which Sense he commonly joins the Article to νόμος; this is plain, that St. Paul's Notion of a Law was conformable to that given by Moses; and so he uses the Word νόμος, in English, Law, for the positive Command of God, with a Sanction of a Penalty annexed to it; of which kind there never having been any one given to any People, but that by Moses to the Children of Israel, till the Revelation of the Will of God by Jesus Christ to all Mankind; which for several Reasons is always called the Gospel, in Contradistinction to the Law of Moses; when St. Paul speaks of Law in general, it reduces itself in Matter of Fact to the Law of Moses.

15. see that in all that Space of Time, which was before the positive Law of God by Moses, Men from the Beginning of the World died, all as well as their Father Adam, though none of them but he alone had eaten of the forbidden Fruit^o, and thereby, as he had committed that Sin, to which Sin alone the Punishment of Death was annexed by the positive Sanction of God denounced to Adam, he was the Figure and Type of Christ who was to come. But yet though he were the Type of Christ, yet the Gift or Benefit received by Christ, is not exactly conformed and confined to the Dimensions of the Damage received by Adam's Fall. For if by the Lapse of one Man the Multitude ^P, i. e. all Men died ^q, much more did the Favour of God, and the Free Gift by the Bounty or Good-will which is in Jesus Christ, exceed to the Multitude ^P, i. e. to all Men.

ed from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned, after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come :

But not as the offence, ¹⁵ so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

N O T E S.

14^o In this Verse St. Paul proves, that all Men became mortal by Adam's eating the forbidden Fruit, and by that alone, because no Man can incur a Penalty without the Sanction of a positive Law declaring and establishing that Penalty; but Death was annexed by no positive Law to any Sin, but the eating the forbidden Fruit: And therefore Mens dying before the Law of Moses, was purely in consequence of Adam's Sin, in eating the forbidden Fruit; and the positive Sanction of Death annexed to it, an evident Proof of Man's Mortality coming from thence.

15^P Οἱ πολλοὶ and τῶν πολλῶν, I suppose may be understood to stand here for the Multitude or collective Body of Mankind. For the Apostle in express Words assures us, 1 Cor. xv. 22. That in Adam all died, and in Christ all are made alive: And so here, ver. 18. All Men fell under the Condemnation of Death, and all Men were restored unto Justification of Life; which all Men, in the very next Words, ver. 19. are called οἱ πολλοὶ, the many. So that the many in the former Part of this Verse, and the many at the End of it, comprehending all Mankind, must be equal. The Comparison therefore, and the Inequality of the things compared, lies not here between the Numbers of those that died, and the Numbers of those that shall be restored to Life: But the Comparison lies between the Persons by whom this general Death, and this general Restoration to Life came, Adam the Type, and Jesus Christ the Antitype; and it seems to lie in this, that Adam's Lapse came barely for the Satisfaction of his own Appetite and Desire of Good to himself, but the Restoration was from the exuberant Bounty and Good-will of Christ towards Men, who at the Cost of his own painful Death purchased Life for them. The want want of taking the Comparison here right, and the placing it amiss, in a greater Number restored to Life by Jesus Christ, than those brought into Death by Adam's Sin, hath led some Men so far out of the way, as to alledge, that Men in the Deluge died for their own Sins. It is true they did so, and so did the Men of Sodom and Gomorrab, and the Philistines cut off by the Israelites, and Multitudes of others: But it is as true, that by their own Sins they were not made mortal: They were so before by their Father Adam's eating the forbidden Fruit; so that what they paid for their own Sins was not Immortality, which they had not, but a few Years of their own finite Lives; which having been let alone, would every one of them, in a short Time, have come to an End. It cannot be denied therefore, but that it is as true of these, as any of the rest of Mankind before Moses, that they died solely in Adam, as St. Paul has proved in the three preceding Verses. And it is as true of them, as of any of the rest of Mankind in general, that they died in Adam. For this St. Paul expressly asserts of all, that in Adam all died, 1 Cor. xv. 22. and in this very Chapter, ver. 18. in other Words. It is then a flat Contradiction to St. Paul to say, that those whom the Flood swept away did not die in Adam.

16^a Δι' ἑνός ἁμαρτήματός, by one Sin; so the Alexandrine Copy reads it, more conformable to the Apostle's Sense. For if ἑνός, one, in this Verse, be to be taken for the Person of Adam, and not for his one Sin of eating the forbidden Fruit, there will be nothing to answer πολλῶν παραπτώματων, many Offences here, and so the Comparison St. Paul is upon will be lost; whereas it is plain that in this Verse he shews another Disproportion in the Case, wherein Adam the Type comes short of Christ the Antitype; and that is, that 'twas but for one only Transgression that Death came upon all Men: But Christ restores Life unto all, notwithstanding multitudes of Sins. These two Excesses, both of the Good-will of the Donor, and of the Greatness of the Gift, are both reckoned up together in the following Verse, and are there plainly expressed in περισσεύειν τῆς χάριτος ἢ τῆς δωρεᾶς, the Excess of the Favour in the greater Good-will and Cost of the Donor: And the Inequality of the Gift itself, which exceeds, as many exceeds one; or the Deliverance from the Guilt of many Sins, does the Deliverance from the Guilt of one.

^r ζωῆς, Of Life, is found in the Alexandrine Copy. And he that will read ver. 18. will scarce incline to the leaving of it out here.

17^s Surplusage, so περισσεύειν signifies. The Surplusage of χάριτος, Favour, was the painful Death of Christ, whereas the Fall cost Adam no more Pains but eating the Fruit. The Surplusage of δωρεᾶς, the Gift or Benefit received, was Justification to Life from a multitude of Sins, whereas the Loss of Life came upon all Men only for one Sin; but all Men, how guilty soever of many Sins, are restored to Life.

18. in Life by one, even Jesus Christ. Therefore ' as by one ' Offence (viz.) Adam's eating the forbidden Fruit, all Men fell under the Condemnation of Death, so by one Act of Righteousness, viz. Christ's Obedience to Death upon the Cross ^x, all Men are restored reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.
- Therefore as by the of- 18 came upon all men to condemnation: even so by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

18 ' Therefore here is not used as an Illative, introducing an Inference from the immediately preceding Verses; but is the same therefore which began ver. 12. repeated here again with Part of the Inference that was there begun and left incomplete, the Continuation of it being interrupted by the Intervention of the Proofs of the first Part of it. The Particle As immediately following therefore, ver. 12. is a convincing Proof of this, having there or in the following Verses nothing to answer it; and so leaves the Sense imperfect and suspended, till you come to this Verse, where the same Reasoning is taken up again, and the same Proctasis or first Part of Comparison repeated: And then the Apodosis or latter Part is added to it, and the whole Sentence made complete; which, to take right, one must read thus, ver. 12. Therefore as by one Man Sin entered into the World, and Death by Sin, and so Death passed upon all Men, &c.—ver. 18. I say therefore, as by the Offence of one, Judgment came upon all Men to Condemnation; even so by the Righteousness of one, the free Gift came upon all Men to Justification of Life. A like Interruption of what he began to say, may be seen 2 Cor. xii. 14. and the same Discourse, after the Interposition of eight Verses, began again, chap. xiii. 1. not to mention others that I think may be found in St. Paul's Epistles.

^u That ἓνδε παραπτώματι ought to be rendered one Offence, and not the Offence of one Man; and so ἓνδε δικαιοσύνη, one Act of Righteousness, and not the Righteousness of one, is reasonable to think: Because in the next Verse St. Paul compares one Man to one Man, and therefore it is fit to understand him here (the Construction also favouring it) of one Fact compared with one Fact, unless we will make him here (where he seems to study Conciseness) guilty of a Tautology. But, taken as I think they should be understood, one may see a Harmony, Beauty, and Fulness in this Discourse, which at first Sight seems somewhat obscure and perplexed. For thus in these two Verses, 18, 19. he shews the Correspondence of Adam the Type with Christ the Antitype, as we may see, ver. 14. he designed; as he had shewn the Disparity between them, ver. 15, 16, 17.

^x That this is the Meaning of δι ἓνδε δικαιοσύνη, is plain by the following Verse. St. Paul every one may observe to be a Lover of Antithesis. In this Verse it is ἓνδε παραπτώματι, one perverse Act of Transgression; and ἓνδε δικαιοσύνη, one right Act of Submission: In the next Verse it is παρρησίᾳ, Disobedience, and ὑπακούῃ, Obedience, the same Thing being meant in both Verses. And that this δικαιοσύνη, this Act of Obedience, whereby he procured Life to all Mankind, was his Death upon the Cross, I think no body questions, see ver. 7—9. Heb. ii. 10, 14. Phil. ii. 8. And that δικαιοσύνη, when applied to Men, signifies Actions conformable to the Will of God, see Rev. xix. 8.

N O T E S.

^y By δικαιῶσις ζωῆς, Justification of Life, which are the Words of the Text, is not meant that Righteousness by Faith which is to eternal Life. For eternal Life is no where in Sacred Scripture mentioned, as the Portion of all Men, but only of the Saints. But the Justification of Life, here spoken of, is what all Men partake in by the Benefit of Christ's Death, by which they are justified from all that was brought upon them by Adam's Sin, i. e. they are discharged from Death, the Consequence of Adam's Transgression; and restored to Life, to stand or fall by that Plea of Righteousness, which they can make, either of their own by Works, or of the Righteousness of God by Faith.

^z Sinners. Here St. Paul uses the same Metonymy as above, ver. 12. putting Sinners for Mortal, whereby the Antithesis to Righteous is the more lively.

ST. Paul pursuing his Design in this Epistle, of satisfying the Gentiles, that there was no need of their submitting to the Law, in order to their partaking of the Benefits of the Gospel, having in the foregoing eight Verses taught them, that Adam's one Sin had brought Death upon them all, from which they were all restored by Christ's Death, with Addition of eternal Bliss and Glory to all those who believe in him; all which being the Effect of God's Free Grace and Favour to those who were never under the Law, excludes the Law from having any Part in it, and so fully makes out the Title of the Gentiles to God's Favour, through Jesus Christ, under the Gospel, without the Intervention of the Law. Here, for

Chap. V. for the farther Satisfaction of the Gentile Converts, he shews them, in these two Verses, That the Nation of the Hebrews, who had the Law, were not delivered from the State of Death by it, but rather plunged deeper under it by the Law, and so stood more in need of Favour, and indeed had a greater Abundance of Grace afforded them for their Recovery to Life by Jesus Christ, than the Gentiles themselves. Thus the Jews themselves, not being saved by the Law, but by an Excess of Grace, this is a farther Proof of the Point St. Paul was upon, (viz.) that the Gentiles had no need of the Law for the obtaining of Life under the Gospel.

N O T E S.

20 ^a There can be nothing plainer, than that St. Paul here, in these two Verses, makes a Comparison between the State of the Jews, and the State of the Gentiles, as it stands described in the eight preceding Verses, to shew wherein they differed or agreed, so far as was necessary to his present Purpose of satisfying the Convert Romans, that in reference to their Interest in the Gospel, the Jews had no Advantage over them by the Law. With what reference to those eight Verses St. Paul writ these two, appears by the very Choice of his Words. He tells them, ver. 12. that Death by Sin, εἰσῆλθε, entered into the World; and here he tells them, that the Law (for Sin and Death were entered already) περὶ εἰσῆλθε, entered a little; a Word that, set in opposition to εἰσῆλθε, gives a distinguishing Idea of the Extent of the Law, such as really it was, little and narrow, as was the People of Israel (whom alone it reached) in respect of all the other Nations of the Earth, with whom it had nothing to do. For the Law of Moses was given to Israel alone, and not to all Mankind. The Vulgate therefore translates this Word right, subintravit, it entered, but not far; i. e. the Death which followed, upon the account of the Mosaic Law, reigned over but a small Part of Mankind, viz. the Children of Israel, who alone were under that Law; whereas by Adam's Transgression of the positive Law given him in Paradise, Death passed upon all Men.

^b Id., that. Some would have this signify barely the Event, and not the Intention of the Lawgiver, and so understand by these Words, that the Offence might abound, the Increase of Sin, or the Aggravations of it, as a Consequence of the Law. But it is to be remembered, that St. Paul here sets forth the Difference which God intended to put by the Law which he gave them, between the Children of Israel and the Gentile World, in respect of Life and Death, Life and Death being the Subject St. Paul was upon. And therefore to mention which Death was annexed, might abound, i. e. the multiplied Transgressions of many Men, viz. all that were under the Law of Moses, might have Death annexed to them by the positive Sanction of that Law, whereby the Offence, to which Death was annexed, did abound, i. e. Sins that had Death for their Punishment were increased. But by the Good-mention barely accidental Consequences of the Law that made the Difference, had come short of St. Paul's Purpose.

All Mankind was in an irrecoverable State of Death by Adam's Lapse. It was plainly the Intention of God to remove the Israelites out of this State by the Law: And so he says himself, that he gave them Statutes and Judgments, which if a Man do, he shall live in them, Lev. xviii. 5. And so St. Paul tells us here, chap. vii. 10. that the Law was ordained for Life. Whence it necessarily follows, that if Life were intended them for their Obedience, Death was intended them for their Disobedience: And accordingly Moses tells them, Deut. xxx. 19. that he had set before them Life and Death. Thus by the Law the Children of Israel were put into a new State: And by the Covenant God made with them, their remaining under Death, or their Recovery of Life, was to be the Consequence, not of what another had done, but of what they themselves did. They were thenceforth put to stand or fall by their own Actions, and the Death they suffered was for their Transgressions. Every Offence they committed against the Law, did, by this Covenant, bind Death upon them. It is not easy to conceive that God should give them a Law, to the end Sin and Guilt should abound amongst them; but yet he might and did give them a Law, that the Offence which had Death annexed should abound, i. e. that Death, which before was the declared Penalty of but one Offence, should to the Jews be made the Penalty of every Breach by the Sanction of this new Law; which was not a Hardship, but a Privilege to them. For in their former State, common to them with the rest of Mankind, Death was unavoidable to them. But by the Law they had a Trial for Life: Accordingly our Saviour to the young Man, who asked what he should do to obtain eternal Life, answers, Keep the Commandments. The Law, increasing the Offence in this Sense, had also another Benefit, viz. That the Jews perceiving they incurred Death by the Law, which was ordained for Life, might thereby, as by a School-master, be led to Christ to seek Life by him. This St. Paul takes notice of, Gal. iii. 24.

Ἐπιπρόσθετον is another Word, shewing St. Paul's having an Eye, in what he says here, to what he said in the foregoing Verses. Our Bibles translate it Offence; it properly signifies Fall, and is used in the foregoing Verses, for that Transgression which, by the positive Law of God, had Death annexed to it, and in that Sense the Apostle continues to use it here also. There was but one such Sin before the Law given by Moses, viz. Adam's eating the forbidden Fruit. But the positive Law of God, given to the Israelites, made all their Sins such, by annexing the Penalty of Death to each Transgression; and thus the Offence abounded, or was increased by the Law.

ness of God where Sin^d, with Death annexed to it, did abound, Grace did much more abound^e. That as Sin had reigned or shewed its Mastery in the Death of the Israelites, who were under the Law, so Grace in its Turn might reign, or shew its Mastery, by justifying them from all those many Sins which they had committed, each whereof by the Law brought Death with it, and so bestowing on them the Righteousness of Faith, instate them in eternal Life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

That as sin has reigned-²¹ ed unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

^d Sin. That by Sin St. Paul means here such Failure, as by the Sanction of a positive Law had Death annexed to it, the Beginning of the next Verse shews, where it is declared to be such Sin as reigned in or by Death; which all Sin doth not, all Sin is not taxed at that Rate, as appears by ver. 13. see the Note. The Article joined here both to πασάπνομα and ἀμαρτία, for it is τὸ παράπνομα, and ἡ ἀμαρτία, the Offence and the Sin, limiting the general Signification of those Words to some particular Sort, seems to point out this Sense. And that this is not a mere groundless Criticism, may appear from ver. 12, & 13. where St. Paul uses ἀμαρτία in these two different Senses, with the Distinction of the Article and no Article.

^e Grace might much more abound. The rest of Mankind were in a State of Death only for one Sin of one Man. This the Apostle is express in, not only in the foregoing Verses, but elsewhere. But those who were under the Law (which made each Transgression they were guilty of mortal) were under the Condemnation of Death, not only for that one Sin of another, but also for every one of their own Sins. Now to make any one Righteous to Life from many, and those his own Sins, besides that one, that lay on him before, is greater Grace, than to bestow on him Justification to Life only from one Sin, and that of another Man. To forgive the Penalty of many Sins, is a greater Grace than to remit the Penalty of one.

ST. Paul having, in the foregoing Chapter, very much magnified Free Grace, by shewing that all Men, having lost their Lives by Adam's Sin, were by Grace, through Christ, restored to Life again; and also as many of them as believed in Christ, were re-established in Immortality by Grace; and that even the Jews, who by their own Trespases against the Law had forfeited their Lives over and over again, were also by Grace restored to Life, Grace superabounding where Sin abounded, he here obviates a wrong Inference, which might be apt to mislead the Convert Gentiles, (viz.) Therefore let us continue in Sin, that Grace may abound. The contrary whereof he shews, their very taking upon them the Profession of Christianity, required of them by the very initiating Ceremony of Baptism, wherein they were typically buried with Christ, to teach them that they, as he did, ought to die to Sin; and as he rose to live to God, they should rise to a new Life of Obedience to God, and be no more Slaves to Sin, in an Obedience and Resignation of themselves to its Commands. For if their Obedience were to Sin, they were Vassals of Sin, and would certainly receive the Wages of that Master, which was nothing but Death: But if they obeyed Righteousness, i. e. sincerely endeavoured after Righteousness, though they did not attain it, Sin should not have Dominion over them, by Death, i. e. should not bring Death upon them. Because they were not under the Law, which condemned them to Death for every Transgression; but under Grace, which by Faith in Jesus Christ justified them to eternal Life from their many Transgressions. And thus he shews the Gentiles not only the no Necessity, but the Advantage of their not being under the Law.

² f We, i. e. I and all Converts to Christianity. St. Paul in this Chapter shews it to be the Profession and Obligation of all Christians, even by their Baptism, and the typical Signification of it, to be dead to Sin, and alive to God, i. e. as he explains it, not to be any longer Vassals to Sin in obeying our Lusts, but to be Servants to God in a sincere Purpose and Endeavour of obeying him. For whether under the Law, or under Grace, whoever is a Vassal to Sin, i. e. indulges himself in a compliance with his sinful Lusts, will receive the Wages which Sin pays, i. e. Death. This he strongly represents here to the Gentile Converts of Roma, (for it is to them he speaks in this Chapter) that they might not mistake the State they were in, by being not under the Law, but under Grace; of which, and the Freedom and Largeness of it, he had spoken so much, and so highly in the foregoing Chapter, to let them see, that to be under Grace was not a State of Licence, but of exact Obedience, in the Intention and Endeavour of every one under Grace, though in the Performance they came short of it. This strict Obedience to the utmost Reach of every one's Aim and Endeavours, he urges as necessary, because Obedience to Sin unavoidably produces Death; and he urges as reasonable for this very Reason, that they were not under the Law, but under Grace. For as much as all the Endeavours after Righteousness, of those who were under the Law were lost Labour, since any one Slip forfeited Life: But the sincere Endeavours after Righteousness of those, who were under Grace, were sure to succeed, to the attaining the Gift of eternal Life.

⁴ s $\Delta\iota\alpha$, in the Hellenistick Greek, sometimes signifies into, and so our Translation renders it, 2 Pet. i. 3. And if it be not so taken here, the Force of St. Paul's Argument is lost, which is to shew into what State of Life we ought to be raised out of Baptism, in a Similitude and Conformity to that State of Life Christ was raised into from the Grave.

Burial in Baptism, should lead a new sort of Life, wholly different from our former, in some Approaches towards that heavenly Life that Christ is risen to. For if we had been ingrafted into him in the Similitude of his Death, we shall be also in a Conformity to the Life, which he is entered into by his Resurrection. Knowing this, that we are to live so, as if our Old Man, our wicked and corrupt fleshly self^h which we were before, were crucified with him, that the Prevalency of our carnal sinful Propensities, which are from our Bodies, might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve Sinⁱ, as Vassals to it. NOTES.

ⁱ It will conduce much to the understanding of St. Paul, in this and the two following Chapters, if it be minded that these Phrases, to serve Sin, to be Servants of Sin, Sin reign in our mortal Bodies, to obey Sin in the Lusts of our Bodies, to yield our Members Instruments of Unrighteousness unto Sin, or Servants of Uncleaness, and to Iniquity unto Iniquity, to be free from Righteousness, to walk, live, or to be after the Flesh, to be carnally minded, all signify one and the same Thing, viz. the giving ourselves up to the Conduct of our sinful, carnal Appetites, to allow any of them the Command over us, and the Conduct and Prevalency in determining us. On the contrary, that walking after the Spirit, or in Newness of Life, the Crucifixion of the Old Man, the Destruction of the Body of Sin, the Deliverance from the Body of Death, to be freed from Sin, to be dead to Sin, alive unto God, to yield yourselves unto God, as those who are alive from the Dead, yield your Members Servants of Righteousness unto Holiness, or Instruments of Righteousness unto God, to be Servants of Obedience unto Righteousness, made free from Sin, Servants of Righteousness, to be after the Spirit, to be spiritually minded, to mortify the Deeds of the Body, do all signify a constant and steady Purpose, and sincere Endeavour to obey the Law and Will of God in every thing: These several Expressions being used in several Places, as best serves the Occasion, and illustrates the Sense.

7^k The Tenor of St. Paul's Discourse here shews this to be the Sense of this Verse; and to be assured that it is so, we need go no farther than ver. 11, 12, 13. He makes it his Business in this Chapter, not to tell them what they certainly and unchangeably are, but to exhort them to be what they ought and are engaged to be, by becoming Christians, viz. that they ought to emancipate themselves from the Vassalage of Sin; not that they were so emancipated without any Danger of Return, for then he could not have said what he does, ver. 11, 12, 13, which supposes it in their Power to continue in their Obedience to Sin, or return to that Vassalage if they would.

ⁿ See Gal. ii. 19. ² Cor. v. 15. Rom. vii. 4. The Force of St. Paul's Argument here seems to be this; in your Baptism you are engaged into a Likeness of Christ's Death and Resurrection. He once died to Sin, so do you count yourselves dead to Sin. He rose to Life, where-in he lives wholly to God, so must your new Life, after your Resurrection from your typical Burial in the Water, be under the Vassalage of Sin no more, but you must live entirely to the Service of God, to whom you are devoted, in Obedience to his Will in all things.

It must be remembered, that St. Paul here, and in the following Chapter, personates Sin as striving with Men for Mastery to destroy them.

^s For. The Force of St. Paul's Reasoning here stands thus : You are obliged by your taking on you the Profession of the Gospel, not to be any longer Slaves and Vassals to Sin, nor to be under the Sway of your carnal Lufts, but to yield yourselves up to God to be his Servants in a constant and sincere Purpose and Endeavour of obeying him in all things ; this if you do, Sin shall not be able to procure your Death ; for you Gentiles are not under the Law which condemns to Death for every the least Transgression, though it be but a Slip of Infirmity ; but by your Baptism are entered into the Covenant of Grace, and being under Grace, God will accept of your sincere Endeavours, in the Place of exact Obedience, and give you eternal Life through Jesus Christ ; but if you by a willing Obedience to your Lufts make yourselves Vassals to Sin, Sin, as the Lord Master to whom you belong, will pay you with Death, the only Wages that Sin pays.

N O T E S.

15 † What is meant by being under Grace, is understood by the undoubted and obvious Meaning of the Phrase under the Law. They, it is unquestioned, were under the Law, who having by Circumcision, the Ceremony of Admittance, been received into the Commonwealth of the Jews, owned the God of the Jews for their God and King, professing Subjection to the Law he gave by Moses. And so, in like manner, he is under Grace, who having by Baptism, the Ceremony of Admittance, been received into the Kingdom of Christ, or the Society of Christians, called by a peculiar Name the Christian Church, owns Jesus of Nazareth to be the Messias his King, professing Subjection to his Law delivered in the Gospel. By which it is plain, that being under Grace is spoken here, as being under the Law is, in a political and national Sense. For whoever was circumcised, and owned God for his King, and the Authority of his Law, ceased not to be a Jew or Member of that Society by every or any Transgression of the Precepts of that Law, so long as he owned God for his Lord, and his Subjection to that Law ; so likewise he who by Baptism is incorporated into the Kingdom of Christ, and owns him for his Sovereign, and himself under the Law and Rule of the Gospel, ceases not to be a Christian, though he offend against the Precepts of the Gospel, till he denies Christ to be his King and Lord, and renounces his Subjection to his Law in the Gospel. But God, in taking a People to himself to be his, not doing it barely as a temporal Prince, or Head of a politick Society in this World, but in order to his having as many as in obeying him perform the Conditions necessary, his Subjects for ever in the State of Immortality restored to them in another World, has, since the Fall, erected two Kingdoms in this World, the one of the Jews immediately under himself, another of Christians under his Son Jesus Christ, for that farther and more glorious End of attaining eternal Life ; which Prerogative and Privilege of eternal Life does not belong to the Society in general, nor is the Benefit granted nationally to the whole Body of the People of either of these Kingdoms of God, but personally to such of them who perform the Conditions required in the Terms of each Covenant. To those who are Jews, or under the Law, the Terms are perfect and complete Obedience to every Tittle of the Law, Do this and live. To those who are Christians, or under Grace, the Terms are sincere Endeavours after perfect Obedience, though not attaining it, as is manifest in the remaining Part of this Chapter, where St. Paul acquaints those who ask whether they shall sin, because they are not under the Law, but under Grace ; that though they are under Grace, yet they who obey Sin, are the Vassals of Sin ; and those who are the Vassals of Sin shall receive Death, the Wages of Sin.

16 ^a Ἰπακοήν, Obedience. That which he calls here simply Ἰπακοή, Obedience, he in other Places call Ἰπακοή πίστεως, Obedience of Faith, and Ἰπακοή τῷ Χριστῷ, Obedience of Christ, meaning a Reception of the Gospel of Christ.

18 ^y Ἐδουλώθητε τῇ δικαιοσύνῃ, Ye became the Slaves of Unrighteousness. For the End of these Things, which are done in Obedience to Sin, is Death. But now being set free from Sin, being no longer Vassals to that Master, but having God now for your Lord and Master, to whom you are become Subjects or Vassals, your Course of Life tends to Holiness, and will end in everlasting Life. For the Wages^c that Sin pays is Death: But that which God's Servants receive from his Bounty, is the Gift^d of eternal Life through Jesus Christ our Lord.
- What fruit had ye then 21 in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.

N O T E S.

²³ c The Wages of Sin, does not signify here the Wages that are paid for sinning, but the Wages that Sin pays. This is evident not only by the Opposition that is put here in this Verse between the Wages of Sin and the Gift of God, viz. That Sin rewards Men with Death for their Obedience; but that which God gives to those, who believing in Jesus Christ, labour sincerely after Righteousness, is Life eternal. But it farther appears by the whole Tenor of St. Paul's Discourse, wherein he speaks of Sin as a Person and a Master, who hath Servants, and is served and obeyed; and so the Wages of Sin being the Wages of a Person here, must be what it pays.

^d The Gift of God. Sin pays Death to those who are its obedient Vassals: But God rewards the Obedience of those, to whom he is Lord and Master, by the Gift of eternal Life. Their utmost Endeavours and highest Performances can never entitle them to it of Right; and so it to them not Wages, but a free Gift. See chap. iv. 4.

S E C T. VI. N. IV.

C H A P. VII. 1—25.

C O N T E N T S.

ST. Paul in the foregoing Chapter addressing himself to the Convert Gentiles, shews them, that not being under the Law, they were obliged only to keep themselves free from a Vassalage of Sin, by a sincere Endeavour after Righteousness, forasmuch as God gave eternal Life to all those who being under Grace, i. e. being converted to Christianity, did so.

In this Chapter addressing himself to those of his own Nation in the Roman Church, he tells them, that the Death of Christ having put an end to the Obligation of the Law, they were at their Liberty to quit the Observances of the Law, and were guilty of no Disloyalty in putting themselves under the Gospel. And here St. Paul shews the Deficiency of the Law, which rendered it necessary to be laid aside by the Coming and Reception of the Gospel. Not that it allowed any Sin, but on the contrary forbad even Concupiscence, which was not known to be Sin without the Law. Nor was it the Law that brought Death upon those who were under it, but Sin, that herein it might shew the extreme malignant Influence it had upon our weak fleshly Natures, in that it could prevail on us to transgress the Law (which we could not but acknowledge to be holy, just and good) though Death was the declared Penalty of every Transgression: But herein lay the Deficiency of the Law as spiritual, and opposite to Sin as it was, that it could not master and root it out, but Sin remained and dwelt in Men as before, and by the Strength of their carnal Appetites, which were not subdued by the Law, carried them to Transgressions that they approved not. Nor did it avail them to disapprove or struggle, since though the Bent of their Minds were the other Way, yet their Endeavours after Obedience delivered them not from that Death which their Bodies or carnal Appetites, running them into Transgressions, brought upon them. That Deliverance was to be had from Grace, by which those who putting themselves from under the Law into the Gospel-State, were accepted, if with the Bent of their Minds

Ch. VII. they sincerely endeavoured to serve and obey the Law of God, though sometimes through the Frailty of their Flesh they fell into Sin.

This is a farther Demonstration to the converted Gentiles of Rome, that they are under no Obligation of submitting themselves to the Law, in order to be the People of God, or partake of the Advantages of the Gospel, since it was necessary even to the Jews themselves to quit the Terms of the Law, that they might be delivered from Death by the Gospel. And thus we see how steadily and skilfully he pursues his Design, and with what Evidence and Strength he fortifies the Gentile Converts against all Attempts of the Jews, who went about to bring them under the Observances of the Law of Moses.

^f That his Discourse here is addressed to those Converts of this Church, who were of the Jewish Nation, is so evident from the whole Tenor of this Chapter, that there needs no more but to read it with a little Attention to be convinced of it, especially ver. 1, 4, 6.

^g Κυριεύει τὸ ἀνθρώπου, Hath Dominion over a Man. So we render it rightly: But I imagine we understand it in too narrow a Sense, taking it to mean only that Dominion or Force which the Law has to compel or restrain us in Things which we have otherwise no mind to; whereas it seems to me to be used in the Conjugation Hiphil, and to comprehend here that Right and Privilege also of doing or enjoying, which a Man has by Virtue and Authority of the Law, which all ceases as soon as he is dead. To this large Sense of these Words, St. Paul's Expressions in the two next Verses seem suited; and so understood, have a clear and easy Meaning, as may be seen in the Paraphrase.

^h For. That which follows in the 2d Verse, is no Proof of what is said in the 1st Verse, either as a Reason or an Instance of it, unless κυριεύει be taken in the Sense I propose, and then the whole Discourse is easy and uniform.

ⁱ Ἀπὸ τοῦ νόμου τοῦ ἀνδρός, From the Law of her Husband. This Expression confirms the Sense above-mentioned. For it can in no Sense be termed the Law of her Husband, but as it is the Law whereby he has the Right to his Wife. But this Law, as far as it is her Husband's Law, as far as he has any Concern in it, or Privilege by it, dies with him, and so she is loosed from it.

⁴ καὶ ὑμεῖς, Ye also, & also, is not added here by Chance, and without any Meaning, but shews plainly that the Apostle had in his Mind some Person or Persons beforementioned, who were free from the Law; and that must be either the Woman mentioned in the two foregoing Verses, as free from the Law of her Husband, because he was dead; or else the Gentile Converts, mentioned chap. vi. 14. as free from the Law, because they were never under it. If we think ^z refers to the Woman, then St. Paul's Sense is this; Ye also are free from the Law, as well as such a Woman, and may without any Imputation subject yourselves to the Gospel. If we take ^z to refer to the Gentile Converts, then his Sense is this; Even ye also, my Brethren, are free from the Law as well as the Gentile Converts, and as much at liberty to subject yourselves to the Gospel as they. I confess myself most inclined to this latter, both because St. Paul's main Drift is to shew, that both Jews and Gentiles are wholly free from the Law; and because ἀνατάρχης τῷ νόμῳ, Ye have been made dead to the Law, the Phrase here used to express that Freedom, seems to refer rather to the 1st Verse, where he says, The Law hath Dominion over a Man as long as he liveth, implying and no longer, rather than to the two intervening Verses, where he says, not the Death of the Woman, but the Death of the Husband sets the Woman free; of which more by and by.

^l By the Body of Christ, in which you as his Members died with him; see Col. ii. 20. and so by a like Figure Believers are said to be circumcised with him, Col. ii. 11.

^m Are become dead to the Law. There is a great deal of needless Pains taken by some to reconcile this Saying of St. Paul to the two immediately preceding Verses, which they suppose do require he should have said here what he does ver. 6. that the Law was dead, that so the Persons here spoken of might rightly answer to the Wife, who there represents them.

minion of the Law over you has ceased, that you should subject yourselves to the Dominion of Christ in the Gospel, which you may do with as much Freedom from Blame, or the Imputation of Disloyaltyⁿ, as a Woman whose Husband is dead, may without the Imputation of Adultery marry another Man. And this making yourselves another's, even Christ's, who is risen from the Dead, is that we^o should bring forth Fruit unto God^p. For them. But he that will take this Passage together, will find that the first Part of this 4th Verse refers to ver. 1. and the latter Part of it to ver. 2, and 3. and consequently that St. Paul had spoken improperly, if he had said what they would make him say here. To clear this, let us look into St. Paul's Reasoning, which plainly stands thus; The Dominion of the Law over a Man ceases when he is dead, ver. 1. You are become dead to the Law by the Body of Christ, ver. 4. And so the Dominion of the Law over you is ceased; then you are free to put yourselves under the Dominion of another, which can bring on you no Charge of Disloyalty to him who had before the Dominion over you, any more than a Woman can be charged with Adultery, when the Dominion of her former Husband being ceased by his Death, she marrieth herself to another Man. For the Use of what he says, ver. 2, and 3, is to satisfy the Jews, that the Dominion of the Law over them being ceased by their Death to the Law in Christ, they were no more guilty of Disloyalty by putting themselves wholly under the Law of Christ in the Gospel, than a Woman was guilty of Adultery, when the Dominion of her Husband ceasing, she gave herself up wholly to another Man in Marriage.

ⁿ Disloyalty. One Thing that made the Jews so tenacious of the Law was, that they looked upon it as a Revolt from God, and a Disloyalty to him their King, if they retained not the Law that he had given them. So that even those of them who embraced the Gospel, thought it necessary to observe those Parts of the Law which were not continued, and as it were re-enacted by Christ in the Gospel. Their Mistake herein is what St. Paul by the Instance of a Woman marrying a second Husband, the former being dead, endeavours to convince them of.

^o We. It may be worth our taking notice of, that St. Paul having all along from the Beginning of the Chapter, and even in this very Sentence, said Ye, here with neglect of Grammar on a sudden changes it into We, and says, that we should, &c. I suppose to press the Argument the stronger, by shewing himself to be in the same Circumstances and Concern with them, he being a Jew as well as those he spoke to.

^p Fruit unto God. In these Words St. Paul visibly refers to chap. vi. 10. where he saith, that Christ in that he liveth, he liveth unto God; and therefore he mentions here his being raised from the Dead, as a Reason for their bringing forth Fruit unto God, i. e. living to the Service of God, obeying his Will to the utmost of their Power, which is the same that he says, chap. viii. 11.

NOTES.

5 ^a When we were in the Flesh. The Understanding and Observance of the Law in a bare literal Sense, without looking any farther for a more spiritual Intention in it. St. Paul calls being in the Flesh. That the Law had besides a literal and carnal Sense, a spiritual and evangelical Meaning, see 2 Cor. iii. 6, and 17. compared. Read also ver. 14, 15, 16 where the Jews in the Flesh are described; and what he says of the ritual Part of the Law, see Heb. ix. 9, 10. which whilst they lived in the Observance of, they were in the Flesh. That Part of the Mosaic Law was wholly about fleshly Things, Col. ii. 14—23. was sealed in the Flesh, and proposed no other but temporal fleshly Rewards.

^r Παθήματα τῶν ἁμαρτιῶν, literally Passions of Sin, in the Scripture Greek (wherein the Genitive Case of the Substantive is often put for the Adjective) sinful Passions or Lusts.

^s Τὰ δὲ τῶ νόμου, which were by the Law, is a very true literal Translation of the Words, but leads the Reader quite away from the Apostle's Sense, and is vain to be supported (by Interpreters that so understand it) by saying that the Law excited Men to sin by forbidding it. A strange Imputation on the Law of God; such as, if it be true, must make the Jews more defiled with the Pollutions set down in St. Paul's black List, chap. i. than the Heathens themselves. But herein they will not find St. Paul of their Mind, who besides the visible Distinction wherewith he speaks of the Gentiles all through his Epistles, in this respect doth here, ver. 7. declare quite the contrary; see also 1 Pet. iv. 3, 4. If St. Paul's Use of the Preposition δὲ a little backwards in this very Epistle were remembered, this and a like Passage or two more in this Chapter would not have so harsh and hard a Sense put on them as they have. Τῶν περιτομῶν δὲ ἀπελευθερίας, our Translation renders chap. iv. 11. that believe though they be not circumcised; where they make δὲ ἀπελευθερίας, to signify during the State, or during their being under Uncircumcision. If they had given the same Sense to δὲ νόμου here, which plainly signifies their being in the contrary State, i. e. under the Law, and rendered it, sinful Affections which they had, though they were under the Law, the Apostle's Sense here would have been easy, clear and conformable to the Design he was upon. This Use of the Word δὲ I think we may find in other Epistles of St. Paul, τὰ δὲ τῶ σωματικῶν, 2 Cor. v. 10. may possibly with better Sense be understood of Things done during the Body, or during the bodily State, than by the Body; and so 1 Tim. ii. 15. δὲ τενογονίας, during the State of Child bearing. Nor is this barely an Hellenistical Use of δὲ; for the Greeks themselves say δὲ ἡμέρας, during the Day; and δὲ τῶ νυκτός, during the Night. And so I think δὲ τῶ εὐαγγελίας, Eph. iii. 6. should be understood to signify in the Time of the Gospel, or under the Gospel Dispensation.

^r Members here doth not signify barely the fleshly Parts of the Body in a restrained Sense, but the animal Faculties and Powers, all in us that is employed as an Instrument in the Works of the Flesh, which are reckoned up. Gal. v. 19—21. some of which do not require the Members of our Body, taken in a strict Sense for the outward gross Parts, but only the Faculties of our Minds for their Performance.

Death.

6. Death ^u. But now the Law under which we were heretofore held in Subjection being dead, we are set free from the Dominion of the Law, that we should perform our Obedience as under the new ^w and spiritual Covenant, of the Gospel, wherein there is Remission of Frailties, and not as still under the old Rigor of the Letter of the Law, which condemns every one who does not perform exact Obedience to every Tittle ^x. What shall we then think, that the Law, because it is set aside, was unrighteous, or gave any Allowance, or contributed any thing to Sin ^y? By no means: For the Law on the contrary tied Men stricter up from

But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

N O T E S.

^u Καρποφοῦσαι τῷ θανάτῳ, Bringing forth Fruit unto Death, here is opposed to bringing forth Fruit unto God, in the End of the foregoing Verse. Death here being considered as a Master whom Men serve by Sin, as God in the other Place is considered as a Master, who gives Life to them who serve him in performing Obedience to his Law.

^w In Newness of Spirit, i. e. Spirit of the Law, as appears by the Antithesis, Oldness of the Letter, i. e. Letter of the Law. He speaks in the former Part of the Verse of the Law as being dead, here he speaks of its being revived again with a new Spirit. Christ by his Death abolished the Mosaical Law, but revived as much of it again, as was serviceable to the Use of his spiritual Kingdom under the Gospel, but left all the Ceremonial and purely Typical Part dead, Col. ii. 14—18. The Jews were held before Christ in an Obedience to the whole Letter of the Law, without minding the spiritual Meaning which pointed at Christ. This the Apostle calls here servings in the Oldness of the Letter, and this he tells them they should now leave, as being freed from it by the Death of Christ, who was the End of the Law for the attaining of Righteousness, ch. x. 4. i. e. in the spiritual Sense of it, which 2 Cor. iii. 6. he calls Spirit, which Spirit, ver. 17. he explains to be Christ. That Chapter and this Verse here give light to one another. Serving in the Spirit then is obeying the Law, as far as it is revived, and as it is explained by our Saviour in the Gospel, for the attaining of Evangelical Righteousness.

^x That this Sense also is comprehended in not servings in the Oldness of the Letter, is plain from what St. Paul says, 2 Cor. iii. 6. The Letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth Life. From this killing Letter of the Law, whereby it pronounced Death for every the least Transgression, they were also delivered, and therefore St. Paul tells them here, ch. viii. 15. that they have not received the Spirit of Bondage again to fear, i. e. to live in perpetual Bondage and Dread under the inflexible Rigor of the Law, under which it was impossible for them to expect aught but Death.

^y Sin. That Sin here comprehends both these Meanings expressed in the Paraphrase, appears from this Verse, where the Strictness of the Law against Sin is asserted in its prohibiting of Desires, and from ver. 12. where its Requitute is asserted.

NOTES.

^z I. The Skill St. Paul uses in dexterously avoiding as much as possible the giving Offence to the Jews, is very visible in the Word I in this Place. In the Beginning of this Chapter, where he mentions their Knowledge in the Law, he says Tē. In the 4th Verse he joins himself with them, and says We. But here, and so to the End of this Chapter, where he represents the Power of Sin, and the Inability of the Law to subdue it wholly, he leaves them out, and speaks altogether in the first Person, though it be plain he means all those who were under the Law.

⁸ ^a St. Paul here, and all along this Chapter, speaks of Sin as a Person endeavouring to compass his Death; and the Sense of this Verse amounts to no more but this, that in matter of Fact that Concupiscence which the Law declared to be Sin, remained and exerted itself in him, notwithstanding the Law. For if Sin, from St. Paul's Prosopopeia, or making it a Person, shall be taken to be a real Agent, the carrying this Figure too far will give a very odd Sense to St. Paul's Words, and, contrary to his Meaning, make Sin to be the Cause of itself, and of Concupiscence, from which it has its Rise.

^b See Note, ver. 5.

^c Dead. It is to be remembered, not only that St. Paul all along this Chapter makes Sin a Person, but speaks of that Person and himself as two incompatible Enemies, the Being and Safety of the one consisting in the Death or Inability of the other to hurt. Without carrying this in mind, it will be very hard to understand this Chapter. For Instance; in this Place St. Paul has declared, ver. 7. that the Law was not abolished, because it at all favoured or promoted Sin; for it lays Restraints upon our very Desires, which Men without the Law did not take notice to be sinful: Nevertheless Sin persisting in its Design to destroy me, took the Opportunity of my being under the Law, to stir up Concupiscence in me; for without the Law, which annexes Death to Transgression, Sin is as good as dead, is not able to have its Will on me, and bring Death upon me. Conformable hereunto St. Paul says, 1 Cor. xv. 56. The Strength of Sin is the Law, i. e. it is the Law that gives Sin the Strength and Power to kill Men. Laying aside the Figure which gives a lively Representation of the State of a well-minded Jew under the Law, the plain Meaning of St. Paul here is this: "Though the Law lays a stricter Restraint upon Sin than Men have without it, yet it betters not my Condition thereby, because it enables me not wholly to extirpate Sin, and subdue Concupiscence, though it hath made every Transgression a mortal Crime. So that being no more totally cured from offending under the Law than I was before, I am under the Law exposed to certain Death." This deplorable Estate could not be more feelingly expressed than it is here, by making Sin (which still remained in Man under the Law) a Person who implacably aiming at his Ruin, cunningly took the Opportunity of exciting Concupiscence in those to whom the Law had made it mortal.

9. once ^d when I being without the Law, was in a State of Life; but the Commandment coming, Sin got Life and Strength again, and I
 10. found myself a dead Man; and that very Law which was given me for the attaining of Life ^e, was found to produce Death ^f to
 11. me. For my mortal Enemy Sin taking the Opportunity of my being under ^g the Law, slew me by the Law, which it inveigled ^h me to disobey, i. e. The Frailty and vicious Inclinations of Nature remaining in me under the Law, as they were before, able still to bring

9 ^d Ποτὴς, once. St. Paul declares there was a Time once when he was in a State of Life. When this was, he himself tells us, viz. when he was without the Law, which could only be before the Law was given. For he speaks here in the Person of one of the Children of Israel, who never ceased to be under the Law since it was given. This ποτὴς therefore must design the Time between the Covenant made with Abraham and the Law. By that Covenant Abraham was made Blessed, i. e. delivered from Death. That this is so, vid. Gal. iii. 9, &c. And under him the Israelites claimed the Blessing, as his Posterity, comprehended in that Covenant, and as many of them as were of the Faith of their Father, faithful Abraham, were blessed with him. But when the Law came, and they put themselves wholly into the Covenant of Works, wherein each Transgression of the Law became mortal, then Sin recovered Life again, and a Power to kill; and an Israelite now under the Law, found himself in a State of Death, a dead Man. Thus we see it corresponds with the Design of the Apostle's Discourse here. In the six first Verses of this Chapter he shews the Jews that they were at Liberty from the Law, and might put themselves solely under the Terms of the Gospel. In the following Part of this Chapter he shews them, that it is necessary for them so to do; since the Law was not able to deliver them from the Power Sin had to destroy them, but subjected them to it: This Part of the Chapter shewing at large what he says, chap. viii. 3. and so may be looked on as an Explication and Proof of it.

10 ^e That the Commandments of the Law were given to the Israelites, that they might have Life by them; see Lev. xviii. 5. Matth. xix. 17.

^f The Law which was just, and such as it ought to be, in having the Penalty of Death annexed to every Transgression of it, Gal. iii. 10. came to produce Death, by not being able so to remove the Frailty of human Nature, and subdue carnal Appetites, as to keep Men entirely free from all Trespasses against it, the least whereof by the Law brought Death. See chap. viii. 3. Gal. iii. 21.

11 ^g The Sense wherein I understand διὰ τῆς νόμου, by the Law, ver. 5. is very much confirmed by διὰ τῆς ἐπινοίας, in this and ver. 8. by which Interpretation the whole Discourse is made plain, easy, and consonant to the Apostle's Purpose.

^h Inveigled. St. Paul seems here to allude to what Eve said in a like Case, Gen. iii. 13. and uses the Word deceived in the same Sense she did, i. e. drew me in.

NOTES.

12 ^l ὅτι, so that, ver. 7. he laid down this Position, that the Law was not Sin, ver. 3, 9, 10, 11. he proves it by shewing, that the Law was very strict in forbidding of Sin, so far as to reach the very Mind and the internal Acts of Concupiscence, and that it was Sin, that remaining under the Law (which annexed Death to every Transgression) brought Death on the Israelites, he here infers, that the Law was not sinful, but righteous, just, and good, just such as by the eternal Rule of Right it ought to be.

13 ^k No. In the five foregoing Verses the Apostle had proved, that the Law was not Sin. In this and the ten following Verses he proves the Law not to be made Death; but that it was given to shew the Power of Sin which remained in those under the Law, so strong, notwithstanding the Law, that it could prevail on them to transgress the Law, notwithstanding all its Prohibition, with the Penalty of Death annexed to every Transgression. Of what Use this shewing the Power of Sin by the Law was, we may see, Gal. iii. 24.

^l That ἀμαρτία καθ' ὑπερβολὴν ἀμαρτωλά, Sin exceeding sinful, is put here to signify the great Power of Sin or Lust, is evident from the following Discourse, which wholly tends to shew that let a Man under the Law be right in his Mind and Purpose, yet the Law in his Members, i. e. his carnal Appetites, would carry him to the committing of Sin, though his Judgment and Endeavours were averse to it. He that remembers that Sin in this Chapter is all along represented as a Person whose very Nature it was to seek and endeavour his Ruin, will not find it hard to understand, that the Apostle here by Sin exceedingly sinful, means Sin strenuously exerting its sinful, i. e. destructive Nature with mighty Force.

^m ἵνα γένηται, that Sin might become, i. e. might appear to be. It is of Appearance he speaks in the former Part of this Verse, and so it must be understood here, to conform to the Sense of the Words, not only to what immediately precedes in this Verse, but to the Apostle's Design in this Chapter, where he takes pains to prove that the Law was not intended any way to promote Sin; and to understand by these Words that it was, is an Interpretation that neither Holy Scripture nor good Sense will allow. Though the sacred Scripture should not, as it does, give many Instances of putting being for appearing. Vid. chap. iii. 19.

¹⁸ St. Paul considers himself, and in himself other Men, as consisting of two Parts which he calls Flesh and Mind, see ver. 25. meaning by the one the Judgment and Purpose of his Mind, guided by the Law or right Reason; by the other his natural Inclination pushing him to the Satisfaction of his irregular sinful Desires. These he also calls, the one the Law of his Members, and the other the Law of his Mind, ver. 23. and Gal. v. 16, 17. a Place parallel to the ten last Verses of this Chapter, he calls the one Flesh, and the other Spirit. These two are the Subject of his Discourse in all this Part of the Chapter, explaining particularly how by the Power and Prevalency of the fleshly Inclinations, not abated by the Law, it come to pass, which he says, ch. viii. 2, 3. that the Law being weak by reason of the Flesh could not set a Man free from the Power and Dominion of Sin and Death.

20^a Οὐ θέλω ἐγὼ, I would not. I in the Greek is very emphatical, as is obvious, and denotes the Man in that Part which is chiefly to be counted himself, and therefore with the like Emphasis, ver. 25. is called αὐτὸς ἐγὼ, I my own self.

23^b St. Paul here, and in the former Chapter, uses the Word Members for the lower Faculties and Affections of the animal Man, which are as it were the Instruments of Actions.

^c He having in the foregoing Verse spoken of the Law of God as a Principle of Action, but yet such as had not a Power to rule and influence the whole Man so as to keep him quite clear from Sin, he here speaks of natural Inclinations as of a Law, also a Law in the Members, and a Law of Sin in the Members, to shew that it is a Principle of Operation in Men even under the Law, as steady and constant in its Direction and Impulse to Sin, as the Law is to Obedience, and failed not, through the Frailty of the Flesh, often to prevail.

N O T E S.

24^u What is it that St. Paul so pathetically desires to be delivered from? The State he had been describing was that of human Weakness, wherein notwithstanding the Law, even those who were under it, and sincerely endeavouring to obey it, were frequently carried by their carnal Appetites into the Breach of it. This State of Frailty he knew Men in this World could not be delivered from. And therefore, if we mind him, it is not that, but the Consequence of it, Death, or so much of it as brings Death, that he enquires after a Deliverer from. Who shall deliver me, says he, from this Body? He does not say of Frailty, but of Death? What shall hinder that my carnal Appetites, that so often make me fall into Sin, shall not bring Death upon me, which is awarded me by the Law? And to this he answers, The Grace of God through our Lord Jesus Christ. It is the Favour of God alone through Jesus Christ that delivers frail Man from Death. Those under Grace obtain Life upon sincere Intentions and Endeavours after Obedience, and those Endeavours a Man may attain to in this State of Frailty. But good Intention and sincere Endeavours are of no behoof against Death to those under the Law, which requires complete and punctual Obedience, but gives no Ability to attain it. And so it is Grace alone through Jesus Christ, that accepting of what a frail Man can do, delivers from the Body of Death. And thereupon he concludes with Joy, So then I being now a Christian, not any longer under the Law, but under Grace, this is the State I am in, whereby I shall be delivered from Death, I wish my whole Bent and Intention devote myself to the Law of God in sincere Endeavours after Obedience, though my carnal Appetites are enslaved to, and have their natural Propensity towards Sin.

25^u Our Translators read εὐχαριστῶ τῷ Θεῷ, I thank God: The Author of the Vulgater, χάρις τοῦ Θεοῦ, The Grace or Favour of God, which is the reading of the Clermont and other Greek Manuscripts. Nor can it be doubted which of these two Readings should be followed by one who considers, not only that the Apostle makes it his Business to shew that the Jews stood in need of Grace for Salvation, as much as the Gentiles: But also that the Grace of God is a direct and apposite Answer to who shall deliver me? which if we read it, I thank God, has no Answer at all; an Omission the like whereof I do not remember any where in St. Paul's Way of Writing. This I am sure, it renders the Passage obscure and imperfect in itself; but much more disturbs the Sense, if we observe the Illative therefore, which begins the next Verse, and introduces a Conclusion easy and natural, if the Question, who shall deliver me? has for Answer, The Grace of God. Otherwise it will be hard to find Premises from whence it can be drawn. For thus stands the Argument plain and easy. The Law cannot deliver from the Body of Death, i. e. from those carnal Appetites which produce Sin, and so bring Death. But the Grace of God through Jesus Christ, which pardons Lapses, where there is sincere Endeavour after Righteousness, delivers us from this Body that it doth not destroy us. From whence naturally results this Conclusion, There is therefore now no Condemnation, &c. But what it is grounded on in the other Reading, I confess I do not see.

myself therefore as that State requires for my Deliverance from Death, I myself ^x with full Purpose and sincere Endeavours of Mind, give up myself to obey the Law of God, though my carnal Inclinations are enslaved, and have a constant Tendency to Sin. This is all I ^y can do, and this is all, I being under Grace, that is required of me, and through Christ will be accepted.

N O T E S.

^x Αὐτὸς ἐγὼ, I myself, i. e. I the Man, with all my full Resolution of Mind. Αὐτὸς and ἐγὼ might have both of them been spared, if nothing more had been meant here than the Nominative Case to δουλεύω; see Note, ver. 20.

^y Δουλεύω, I serve, or I make myself a Vassal, i. e. I intend and devote my whole Obedience.
The Terms of Life to those under Grace St. Paul tells us at large, chap. vi. are δουλοῦναι τῇ δικαιοσύνῃ, and τῷ Θεῷ, to become Vassals to Righteousness and to God; consonantly he says here, αὐτὸς ἐγὼ, I myself, I the Man, being now a Christian, and so no longer under the Law, but under Grace, do what is required of me in that State; δουλεύω, I become a Vassal to the Law of God, i. e. dedicate myself to the Service of it, in sincere Endeavours of Obedience; and so αὐτὸς ἐγὼ, I the Man, shall be delivered from Death: For he that, being under Grace, makes himself a Vassal to God in a steady Purpose of sincere Obedience, shall from him receive the Gift of eternal Life, though his carnal Appetite, which he cannot get rid of, having its Bent towards Sin, makes him sometimes transgress; which would be certain Death to him, if he were still under the Law. See chap. vi. 18, and 22.

And thus St. Paul having shewn here in this Chapter, that the being under Grace alone, without being under the Law, is necessary even to the Jews, as in the foregoing Chapter he had shewn it to be to the Gentiles, he hereby demonstratively confirms the Gentile Converts in their Freedom from the Law, which is the Scope of this Epistle thus far.

ST. Paul having, cb. vi. shewn that the Gentiles who were not under the Law, were saved only by Grace, which required that they should not indulge themselves in Sin, but steadily and sincerely endeavour after perfect Obedience: Having also, cb. vii. shewn that the Jews, who were under the Law, were also saved by Grace only, because the Law could not enable them wholly to avoid Sin, which by the Law was in every the least Slip made Death; he in this Chapter shews, that both Jews and Gentiles who are under Grace, i. e. Converts to Christianity, are free from Condemnation, if they perform what is required of them; and thereupon he sets forth the Terms of the Covenant of Grace, and presses their Observance, viz. not to live after the Flesh, but after the Spirit mortifying the Deeds of the Body; forasmuch as those that do so are the Sons of God. This being laid down, he makes use of it to arm them with Patience against Afflictions, assuring them, that whilst they remain in this State nothing can separate them from the Love of God, nor shut them out from the Inheritance of eternal Life with Christ in Glory, to which all the Sufferings of this Life bear not any the least Proportion.

^c In Christ Jesus expressed chap. vi. 14. by under Grace, and Gal. iii. 27. by having put on Christ, all which Expressions plainly signify, to any one that reads and considers the Places, the professing the Religion, and owning a Subjection to the Law of Christ contained in the Gospel; which is, in short, the Profession of Christianity.

^d Περὶ τὰ ἄρτια, Walking, or ambulo walk, does not mean that all who are in Christ Jesus do walk not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit; but all who being in Christ Jesus, omit not to walk so. This, if the Tenor of St. Paul's Discourse here can suffer any one to doubt of, he may be satisfied, is so from ver. 13. If ye live after the Flesh. The ye he there speaks to, are no less than those that, chap. i. 6, 7. he calls the Called of Jesus Christ, and the Beloved of God, Terms equivalent to being in Jesus Christ, see chap. vi. 12—14. Gal. v. 16—18. which Places compared together, shew that by Christ we are delivered from the Dominion of Sin and Lust; so that it shall not reign over us unto Death, if we will set ourselves against it, and sincerely endeavour to be free: A voluntary Slave who enthral himself by a willing Obedience, who can set free?

^e Flesh and Spirit seem here plainly to refer to Flesh, wherewith, he serves Sin, and Mind, wherewith he serves the Law of God, in the immediately preceding Words.

^g That it is Grace that delivers from the Law in the Members, which is the Law of Death, is evident from chap. vii. 23—25. why it is called a Law, may be found in the Antithesis to the Law of Sin and Death, Grace being as certain a Law to give Life to Christians that live not after the Flesh, as the Influence of sinful Appetites is to bring Death on those who are not under Grace. In the next Place, why it is called the Law of the Spirit of Life, has a Reason, in that the Gospel which contains this Doctrine of Grace, is dictated by the same Spirit that raised Christ from the dead, and that quickens us to Newness of Life, and has for its End the conferring of eternal Life.

^h The Law of Sin and Death. Hereby is meant that which he calls the Law in his Members, chap. vii. 23. where it is called the Law of Sin; and ver. 24. it is called the Body of Death, from which Grace delivers. This is certain, that no body who considers what St. Paul has said, ver. 7, & 13. of the foregoing Chapter, can think that he can call the Law of Moses, the Law of Sin, or the Law of Death. And that the Law of Moses is not meant, is plain from his Reasoning in the very next Words. For the Law of Moses could not be complained of as being weak, for not delivering those under it from its self; yet its Weakness might, and is all along, chap. vii. as well as ver. 3. complained of, as not being able to deliver those under it from their carnal sinful Appetites and the Prevalence of them.

Law,

Law, which was too weakⁱ to master the Propensities of the Flesh, God sending his Son in Flesh, that in all Things except Sin, was like unto our frail sinful Flesh^k, and sending^l him also to be an Offering^m for Sin, he put to Death, or extinguished or suppressed Sinⁿ

ⁱ Weak; the Weakness, and as he there also calls it, the Unprofitableness of the Law, is again taken notice of by the Apostle, Heb. vii. 18, 19. There were two Defects in the Law whereby it became unprofitable, as the Author to the Hebrews says, so as to make nothing perfect. The one was its inflexible Rigour, against which it provided no Allay or Mitigation; it left no place for Atonement; the least Slip was mortal; Death was the inevitable Punishment of Transgression by the Sentence of the Law, which had no Temperament: Death the Offender must suffer, there was no Remedy. This St. Paul's Epistles are full of; and how we are delivered from it by the Body of Christ, he shews, Heb. x. 5-10. The other Weakness or Defect of the Law was, that it could not enable those who were under it, to get a Mastery over their Flesh, or fleshly Propensities, so as to perform the Obedience required. The Law exacted complete Obedience, but afforded Men no Help against their Frailty or vicious Inclinations. And this reigning of Sin in their mortal Bodies, St. Paul shews here how they are delivered from, by the Spirit of Christ enabling them, upon their sincere Endeavours after Righteousness, to keep Sin under in their mortal Bodies in Conformity to Christ in whose Flesh it was condemned, executed, and perfectly extinct, having never had there any Life or Being, as we shall see in the following Note. The Provision that is made in the New Covenant against both these Defects of the Law, is in the Epistle to the Hebrews expressed thus: God will make a new Covenant with the House of Israel, wherein he will do these two Things; He will write his Law in their Hearts, and he will be merciful to their Iniquities. See Heb. viii. 7-12.

^k See Heb. iv. 15.

^l Καὶ, and, joins here in the Likeness, &c. with to be an Offering; whereas if and be made to copulate sending and condemned, neither Grammar nor Sense would permit it: Nor can it be imagined the Apostle should speak thus: God sending his Son, and condemned Sin: But God sending his own Son in the Likeness of sinful Flesh, and sending him to be an Offering for Sin, with very good Sense joins the Manner and End of his sending.

^m Περὶ ἁμαρτίας, which in the Text is translated for Sin, signifies an Offering for Sin, as the Margin of our Bibles takes notice: See 2 Cor. v. 21. Heb. x. 5-10. So that the plain Sense is, God sent his Son in the Likeness of sinful Flesh, and sent him an Offering for Sin.

ⁿ Κατένευε, condemned. The Προσωπία whereby Sin was considered as a Person all the foregoing Chapter, being continued here, the condemning of Sin here cannot mean, as some would have it, that Christ was condemned for Sin, or in the Place of Sin; for that would be to save Sin, and leave that Person alive which Christ came to destroy. But the plain Meaning is, that Sin itself was condemned or put to death in his Flesh, i. e. was suffered to have no Life nor Being in the Flesh of our Saviour: He was in all Points tempted as we are, yet without Sin, Heb. iv. 15. By the Spirit of God the Motions of the Flesh were suppressed in him, Sin was crushed in the Egg, and could never fasten in the least upon him. This farther appears to be the Sense by the following Words. The Antithesis between κατάκριμα, ver. 1. and κατένευε here, will also shew why that Word is used here to express the Death or No being of Sin in our Saviour, 2 Cor. v. 2. 1 Pet. ii. 22. That St. Paul sometimes uses Condemnation for putting to death, see shop. v. 16, & 18.

by sincere Endeavours after Righteousness, as shews us to be the faithful Subjects of Christ, exempt from the Dominion of Sin, see chap. xiii. 8. Gal. vi. 2. A Description of such who thus fulfilled the Righteousness of the Law, we have Luke i. 6. As Christ in the Flesh was wholly exempt from all Taint of Sin, so we by that Spirit which was in him shall be exempt from the Dominion of our carnal Lusts, if we make it our Choice and Endeavour to live after

 8. having a quite contrary Tendency. So then^x they that are in the Flesh, i. e. under the fleshly Dispensation of the Law^y ; without regarding Christ the Spirit of it, in it cannot please spiritually minded, is life and peace :

Because the carnal mind⁷ is enmity against God ; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

So then they that are⁸ in the flesh, cannot please God.

N O T E S.

⁷ φρόνημα τῆς σαρκός, should have been translated here to be carnally minded, as it is in the foregoing Verse which is justified by φρονέει τὰ τῆς σαρκός, do mind the Things of the Flesh, ver. 5. which signifies the employing the Bent of their Minds, or subjecting the Mind entirely to the fulfilling the Lusts of the Flesh.

^u Here the Apostle gives the Reason why even those that are in Christ Jesus, have received the Gospel, and are Christians (for to such he is here speaking) are not saved, unless they cease to walk after the Flesh, because that runs directly counter to the Law of God, and can never be brought into Conformity and Subjection to his Commands. Such a settled Contravention to his Precepts cannot be suffered by the supreme Lord and Governor of the World in any of his Creatures, without foregoing his Sovereignty, and giving up the eternal immutable Rule of Right, to the overturning the very Foundations of all Order and moral Rectitude in the intellectual World. This even in the Judgment of Men themselves will be always thought a necessary Piece of Justice for the keeping out of Anarchy, Disorder and Confusion, that those refractory Subjects who set up their own Inclinations for their Rule against the Law, which was made to restrain those very Inclinations, should feel the Severity of the Law, without which the Authority of the Law, and Law-maker, cannot be preserved.

^x This is a Conclusion drawn from what went before. The whole Argumentation stands thus : They that are under the Dominion of their carnal Lusts cannot please God ; therefore they who are under the carnal or literal Dispensation of the Law, cannot please God, because they have not the Spirit of God : Now it is the Spirit of God alone that enlivens Men so as to enable them to cast off the Dominion of their Lusts. See Gal. iv. 3—6.

^y ὁ ἐν σαρκὶ ὄνεις, They that are in the Flesh. He that shall consider that this Phrase is applied, κό, vii. 5. to the Jews, as resting in the bare literal or carnal Sense and Observance of the Law, will not be averse to the understanding the same Phrase in the same Sense here, which I think is the only Place besides in the New Testament, where ἐν σαρκὶ εἶναι is used in a moral Sense. This I dare say, it is hard to produce any one Text wherein εἶναι ἐν σαρκὶ is used to signify a Man's being under the Power of his Lusts, which is the Sense wherein wherein it is and must be taken here, if what I propose be rejected. Let it be also remembered, that St. Paul makes it the chief Business of this Epistle (and he seldom forgets the Design he is upon) to persuade both Jew and Gentile from a Subjection to the Law, and that the Argument he is upon here, is the Weakness and Insufficiency of the Law to deliver Men from the Power of Sin; and then perhaps it will not be judged that the Interpretation I have given of these Words is altogether remote from the Apostle's Sense.

¹¹ To lead us into the true Sense of this Verse, we need only observe, that St. Paul having in the four first Chapters of this Epistle shewn, that neither Jew nor Gentile could be justified by the Law; and in the fifth Chapter, how Sin entered into the World by Adam, and reigned by Death, from which it was Grace, and not the Law, that delivered Men: In the sixth Chapter he sheweth the Convert Gentiles, that though they were not under the Law, but under Grace, yet they could not be saved, unless they cast off the Dominion of Sin, and became the devoted Servants of Righteousness, which was what their very Baptism taught and required of them: And in chap. vii. he declares to the Jews the Weakness of the Law, which they so much stood upon; and shews that the Law could not deliver them from the Dominion of Sin; that Deliverance was only by the Grace of God, through Jesus Christ: From whence he draws the Consequence which begins this eighth Chapter, and so goes on with it here in two Branches, relating to his Discourse in the foregoing Chapter, that complete it in this. The one is to shew, that the Law of the Spirit of Life, i. e. the new Covenant in the Gospel, required that those that are in Christ Jesus should not live after the Flesh, but after the Spirit. The other is to shew how, and by whom, since the Law was weak, and could not enable those under the Law to do it, they are enabled to keep Sin from reigning in their mortal Bodies, which is the Sanctification required. And here he shews, that Christians are delivered from the Dominion of their carnal sinful Lusts, by the Spirit of God, that is given to them and dwells in them, as a new quickening Principle and Power, by which they are put into the State of a spiritual Life, wherein their Members are made capable of being made the Instruments of Righteousness, if they please, as living Men alive now to Righteousness, so to employ them. If this be not the Sense of this Chapter to ver. 14. I desire to know how ἀπαρτίω in the first Verse comes in, and what Coherence there is in what is here said. Besides the Connexion of this to the former Chapter contained in the illative Therefore, the very Antithesis of the Expressions in one and the other, shews that St. Paul, in writing this very Verse, had an Eye to the foregoing Chapter. There it was Sin that dwelleth in me, that was the active and over-ruling Principle: Here it is, the Spirit of God that dwelleth in you, that is the Principle of your spiritual Life. There it was, who shall deliver me from this Body of Death? Here it is, God by his Spirit shall quicken your mortal Bodies, i. e. Bodies, which as the Seat and Harbour of sinful Lusts that possess it, are indisposed and dead to the Actions of a spiritual Life, and have a natural Tendency to Death. In the same Sense, and upon the same Account, he calls the Bodies of the Gentiles their mortal Bodies, chap. vi. 12. where his Subject is as here, Freedom from the Reign of Sin, upon which account they are there styled, ver. 13. Alive from the Dead. To make it yet clearer, that it is Deliverance from the Reign of Sin in our Bodies that St. Paul speaks of here, I desire any one to read what he says, chap. vi. 1—14. to the Gentiles on the same Subject, and compare it with the thirteen first Verses of this Chapter; and then tell me whether they have not a mutual Correspondence, and do not give a great Light to one another? If this be too much Pains, let him at least read the two next Verses, and see how they could possibly be, as they are, an Inference from this 11th Verse, if the quicken of your mortal Bodies in it mean any thing but a quickening to Newness of Life, or to a spiritual Life of Righteousness. This being so, I cannot but wonder to see a late learned Commentator and Paraphrast positive, that ζωοποιεῖα τῶν θανάτων σώματα ὑμῶν, shall quicken your mortal Bodies, does here signify, shall raise your dead Bodies out of the Grave, as he contends in his Preface to his Paraphrast on the Epistles to the Corinthians; ζωοποιεῖν, quicken, he says, imports the same with ἐγείρειν, raise. His Way of proving it is very remarkable; his Words are, ζωοποιεῖν and ἐγείρειν, are, as to this Matter [viz. the Resurrection] Words of the same Import, i. e. where in discoursing of the Resurrection, ζωοποιεῖν, quicken, is used, it is of the same Import with ἐγείρειν, raise. But what if St. Paul, which is the Question, be not here speaking of the Resurrection? why then, according to our Author's own Confession, ζωοποιεῖν, quicken, does not necessarily import the same with ἐγείρειν, raise. So that this Argument to prove that St. Paul here, by the Words in question, means the raising of their dead Bodies out of the Grave, is but a fair begging of the Question: which is enough, I think, for a Commentator that hunts out of his Way for Controversy. He might therefore have spared the ζωοποιεῖν, quicken, which he produces out of St. John v. 21. as of no Force to his Purpose, till he had proved that St. Paul here in Romans viii. 11. was speaking of the Resurrection of Men's Bodies out of the Grave, which he will never do till he

he can prove that θνητὰ, mortal, here signifies the same with νεκρὰ, dead. And I demand of him to shew θνητὸν, mortal, any where in the New Testament attributed to any thing void of Life. Ὁνητὸν, mortal, always signifies the Thing it is joined to, to be living; so that ἐνοσηθεύσει ἐν τῷ ἑσπέρῳ σαρξὶα ὑμῶν, shall quicken even your mortal Bodies, in that learned Author's Interpretation of these Words of St. Paul, here signify, God shall raise to Life your living dead Bodies; which no one can think, in the softest Terms can be given to it, a very proper Way of Speaking; though it be very good Sense and very emphatical to say, God shall by his Spirit put into even your mortal Bodies a Principle of Immortality, or Spiritual Life, which is the Sense of the Apostle here; see Gal. vi. 8. And so he may find ἐνοσηθεύσει used, Gal. iii. 21. to the same Purpose it is here. I next desire to know of this learned Writer, how he will bring in the Resurrection of the Dead into this Place, and to shew what Coherence it has with St. Paul's Discourse here, and how he can join this Verse with the immediately preceding and following, when the Words under Consideration are rendered, Shall raise your dead Bodies out of their Graves at the last Day? It seems as if he himself found this would make but an awkward Sense standing in this Place with the rest of St. Paul's Words here, and so never attempted it by any sort of Paraphrase, but has barely given us the English Translation to help us, as it can, to so uncouth a Meaning as he would put upon this Passage; which must make St. Paul, in the midst of a very serious, strong and coherent Discourse, concerning walking not after the Flesh, but after the Spirit, skip on a sudden into the Mention of the Resurrection of the Dead; and having just mentioned it, skip back again into his former Argument. But I take the Liberty to assure him, that St. Paul has no such Starts from the Matter he has in Hand, to what gives no Light or Strength to his present Argument. I think there is not any where to be found a more pertinent close Arguer, who has his Eye always on the Mark he drives at. This Men would find, if they would study him as they ought, with more Regard to Divine Authority than to Hypotheses of their own, or to Opinions of the Season. I do not say that he is every way clear in his Expressions to us now: But I do say he is every way a coherent, pertinent Writer; and whenever in his Commentators and Interpreters any Sense is given to his Words, that disjoins his Discourse, or deviates from his Argument, and looks like a wandering Thought, it is easy to know whose it is, and whose the Impertinence, his, or theirs that father it on him. One Thing more the Text suggests concerning this Matter, and that is, If by quickening your mortal Bodies, &c. be meant here the raising them into Life after Death, how can this be mentioned as a peculiar Favour to those who have the Spirit of God? For God will also raise the Bodies of the Wicked, and as certainly as those of Believers. But that which is promised here, is promised to those only who have the Spirit of God: And therefore it must be something peculiar to them, (viz.) that God shall so enliven their mortal Bodies by his Spirit, which is the Principal and Pledge of immortal Life, that they may be able to yield up themselves to God, as those that are alive from the Dead, and their Members Servants to Righteousness unto Holiness, as he expresses himself, chap. vi. 13. and 19. If any one can yet doubt whether this be the Meaning of St. Paul here, I refer him for farther Satisfaction to St. Paul himself in Eph. iv. 4-6. where he will find the same Notion of St. Paul expressed in the same Terms, but so, that it is impossible to understand by ἐνοσηθεύσει or ἐζήσεται (which are both used there as well as here) the Resurrection of the Dead out of their Graves. The full Explication of this Verse may be seen, Eph. i. 19. and ii. 10. See also Col. ii. 12, 13. to the same Purpose; and Rom. vii. 4.

^f ἐνοσηθεύσει ἐ, shall quicken even your mortal Bodies, seems more agreeable to the Original, than shall also quicken your mortal Bodies; for the ἐ doth not copulate ἐνοσηθεύσει with ἐζήσεται.

12. Therefore Brethren, we are not under any Obligation to the Flesh to obey the Lusts of it.
13. For if ye live after the Flesh, that mortal Part shall lead you to Death irrecoverable; but if by the Spirit, whereby Christ totally suppressed and hindered Sin from having any Life in his Flesh, you mortify the Deeds of the Body^g,
14. ye shall have Eternal Life. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the Sons of God, of an immortal Race, and consequently
15. like their Father immortal^h. For ye have not received the Spirit of Bondageⁱ again,^k to fear; but ye have received the^l Spirit of God (which is given to those who having received Adoption are Sons) whereby we are
16. all enabled to call God our Father^m. The Spirit of God himself beareth witnessⁿ with our Spirits, that we are the Children of God.
17. And if Children, then Heirs of God, Joint-Heirs with Christ, if so be we suffer^o with him, that we may also be glorified with him.

Therefore brethren, we¹² are debtors not to the flesh to live after the flesh.

For if ye live after the¹³ flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

For as many as are led¹⁴ by the spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

For ye have not receiv-¹⁵ ed the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

The spirit itself beareth¹⁶ witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

And if children, then¹⁷ heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ: if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 ^p Revealed. St. Paul speaks of this Glory here, as what needs to be revealed to give us a right Conception of it. It is impossible to have a clear and full Comprehension of it till we taste it. See how he labours for Words to express it, 2 Cor. iv. 17. &c. a Place to the same Purpose with this here.

19 ^r Κτίσις, Creature, in the Language of St. Paul, and of the New Testament, signifies Mankind; especially the Gentile World, as the far greater Part of the Creation. See Col. i. 23. Mark xvii. 15. compared with Matth. xxviii. 19.

^r Immortality. That the Thing here expected was immortal Life, is plain from the Context, and from that parallel Place, 2 Cor. iv. 17. and v. 5. the Glory whereof was so great, that it could not be comprehended, till it was by an actual exhibiting of it revealed. When this Revelation is to be, St. Peter tells us, 1 Pet. i. 4-7.

^s Ἀποκαλυφθέντων υἱῶν, Revelation of the Sons, i. e. Revelation to the Sons. The Genitive Case often in the New Testament denotes the Object. So Rom. i. 5. ἐκ ἀποκάλυψιν πίστεως signifies Obedience to Faith: Chap. iii. 22. δικαιοσύνη ὅτι ἐκ πίστεως Χριστοῦ, The Righteousness that God accepts by Faith in Christ: Chap. iv. 11. δικαιοσύνη πίστεως, Righteousness by Faith. If ἀποκαλυφθέντων here be rendered Revelation, as ἀποκαλυφθέντων in the foregoing Verse is rendered revealed, (and it will be hard to find a Reason why it should not) the Sense in the Paraphrase will be very natural and easy. For the Revelation in the foregoing Verse is not of, but to the Sons of God. The Words are ἀποκαλυφθέντων αἱ εἰς υἱάτας.

20 ^t The State of Man in this frail short Life, subject to Inconveniencies, Sufferings, and Death, may very well be called Vanity, compared to the impassible Estate of eternal Life, the Inheritance of the Sons of God.

^u Devil. That by he that subjected it, is meant the Devil, is probable from the History, Gen. iii. and from Heb. ii. 14, 15. Col. ii. 15.

21 ^x Ἀπεκδέχεται ἐπ' ἐλπίδι, Waiteth in hope; that the not joining in hope to waiteth, by placing it in the Beginning of the 21st Verse, as it stands in the Greek. but joining it to subjected the same, by placing it at the End of the 20th Verse, has mightily obscured the Meaning of this Passage; which taking all the Words between of God and in Hope for a Parenthesis, is as easy and clear as any thing can be, and then the next Word ἔτι will have its proper Signification that, and not because.

this Subjection to Corruption^y, and shall be brought into that glorious Freedom from Death, which is the proper Inheritance of the Children of God. For we know that Mankind, all^z of them, groan together, and unto this Day are in pain, as a Woman in Labour, to be delivered out of the Uneasiness of this mortal State. And not only they, but even those who have the first Fruits of the Spirit, and therein the Earnest^a of eternal Life, we ourselves groan^b within ourselves, waiting for the Fruit of our Adoption, which is, that as we are by Adoption made Sons, and Co-heirs with Jesus Christ, so we may have Bodies like unto his most glorious Body, spiritual and immortal. But we must wait with Patience, for we have hitherto been saved but in Hope and Expectation: But Hope is of Things not in present Possession or Enjoyment. For what a Man hath, and seeth in his own Hands, he no longer hopes for. But if we hope for what is out of sight, and yet to come, then do we with Patience wait for it^c. Such therefore are our Groans, which the Spirit in aid to our

And not only they, but²³ ourselves also, which have the first fruits of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

For we are saved by²⁴ hope : but hope that is seen, is not hope : for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for ?

But if we hope for that²⁵ we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

Likewise the spirit al-²⁶ helpeth our infirmities : for we know not what ²² ^z How David groaned under the Vanity and Shortness of this Life, may be seen, Psa. lxxxix. 47, 48. which Complaint may be met with in every Man's Mouth ; so that even those who have not the first Fruits of the Spirit, whereby they are assured of a future happy Life in Glory, do also desire to be freed from a Subjection to Corruption, and have uneasy Longings after Immortality.

- 27 And he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the mind of the spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints, according to the will of God.
- 28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

- Infirmity makes use of. For we know not what Prayers to make as we ought, but the Spirit itself layeth for us our Requests before God in Groans that cannot be expressed in Words. And God the Searcher of Hearts, who understandeth this Language of the Spirit, knoweth what the Spirit would have, because the Spirit is wont to make Intercession for the Saints ^d acceptably to God. Bear therefore your Sufferings with Patience and Constancy, for we certainly know, that all Things work together for Good to those that love God, who are the Called according to his Purpose of calling the Gentiles ^e. In which Purpose the Gentiles, whom he fore-knew as he did the Jews ^f, with an Intention of Kindness, and of making them his People, he pre-ordained to be conformable to the Image of his Son, that he might be the First-born, the Chief amongst many Brethren ^g. Moreover, whom he did thus pre-ordain to be his People, them he also called, by sending Preachers of the Gospel to them: And whom he called, if they obeyed the Truth ^h, those he also justified, by counting their Faith for Righteous-

What shall we then say 31 to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?

THERE was nothing more grating and offensive to the Jews, than the Thoughts of having the Gentiles joined with them, and partake equally in the Privileges and Advantages of the Kingdom of the Messiah: And which was yet worse, to be told that those Aliens should be admitted, and they who presumed themselves Children of that Kingdom to be shut out. St. Paul who had insisted much on this Doctrine, in all the foregoing Chapters of this Epistle, to shew that he had not done it out of any Aversion or Unkindness to his Nation and Brethren the Jews, does here express his great Affection to them, and declares an extreme Concern for their Salvation. But withal he shews, that whatever Privileges they had received from God above other Nations, whatever Expectation the Promises made to their Forefathers might raise in them, they had yet no just Reason of complaining of God's dealing with them now under the Gospel, since it was according to his Promise to Abraham, and his frequent Declarations in Sacred Scripture. Nor was it any Injustice to the Jewish Nation, if God now acted by the same Sovereign Power wherewith he preferred Jacob (the younger Brother, without any Merit of his) and his Posterity to be his People, before Esau and his Posterity, whom he rejected. The Earth is all his; nor have the Nations that possess it any Title of their own, but what he gives them, to the Countries they inhabit, nor to the good Things they enjoy, and he may dispossess or Chap. IX. exterminate them when he pleaseth. And as he destroyed the Ægyptians for the Glory of his Name, in the Deliverance of the Israelites, so he may according to his good Pleasure raise or depress, take into Favour or reject the several Nations of this World. And particularly as to the Nation of the Jews, all but a small Remnant were rejected, and the Gentiles taken in, in their room, to be the People and Church of God, because they were a gainsaying and disobedient People, that would not receive the Messiah, whom he had promised, and in the appointed Time sent to them. He that will with moderate Attention and Indifferency of Mind read this Ninth Chapter, will see that what is said of God's exercising of an absolute Power, according to the good Pleasure of his Will, relates only to Nations or Bodies Politick of Men incorporated in civil Societies, which feel the Effects of it only in the Prosperity or Calamity they meet with in this World, but extends not to their eternal State in another World, considered as particular Persons, wherein they stand each Man by himself upon his own Bottom, and shall so answer separately at the Day of Judgment. They may be punished here with their Fellow-Citizens, as Part of a sinful Nation, and that be but temporal Chastisement for their Good, and yet be advanced to eternal Life and Bliss in the World to come.

^r See chap. iv. 16. St. Paul uses this as a Reason to prove that the Promise of God failed not to have its Effect, though the Body of the Jewish Nation rejected Jesus Christ, and were therefore nationally rejected by God from being any longer his People. The Reason he gives for it is this, That the Posterity of Jacob or Israel were not those alone who were to make that Israel, or that chosen People of God, which were intended in the Promise made to Abraham; others besides the Descendants of Jacob were to be taken into this Israel, to constitute the People of God under the Gospel: And therefore the calling and coming in of the Gentiles was a fulfilling of that Promise. And then he adds in the next Verse, that neither were all the Posterity of Abraham comprehended in that Promise; so that those who were taken in, in the Time of the Messiah, to make the Israel of God, were not taken in, because they were the natural Descendants from Abraham, nor did the Jews claim it for all his Race. And this he proves by the Limitation of the Promise to Abraham's Seed by Isaac only. All this he does to shew the Right of the Gentiles to that Promise, if they believed: Since that Promise concerned not only the natural Descendants either of Abraham or Jacob, but also those who were of the Faith of their Father Abraham, of whomsoever descended; see chap. iv. 11—17.

These Words may possibly have been added by St. Paul to the foregoing (which may perhaps seem full enough of themselves) the more expressly to obviate an Objection of the Jews, who might be ready to say, that Esau was rejected because he was wicked; as they did of Ismael, that he was rejected because he was the Son of a Bond-woman.

12 ^u See Gen. xxv. 23. And it was only in a national Sense that it is there said, The Elder shall serve the Younger, and not personally, for in that Sense it is not true; which makes it plain, that these Words, of ver.

13 ^x Jacob have I loved, and Esau have I hated, are to be taken in a national Sense, for the Preference God gave to the Posterity of one of them to be his People, and possess the promised Land before the other. What this Love of God was, see Deut. vii. 6-8.

^y Hated. When it is used in sacred Scripture, as it is often comparatively, it signifies only to postpone in our Esteem or Kindness; for this I need only give that one Example, Luke xiv. 26. see Mal. i. 2, 3.

^z From the 7th to this 13th Verse proves to the Jews, that though the Promise was made to Abraham and his Seed, yet it was not to all Abraham's Posterity, but God first chose Isaac and his Issue: And then again of Isaac, (who was but one of the Sons of Abraham) when Rebecca had conceived Twins by him, God of his sole good Pleasure chose Jacob the younger, and his Posterity, to be his peculiar People, and to enjoy the Land of Promise.

15 ^a See Exod. xxxiii. 19. It is observable that the Apostle, arguing here with the Jews, to vindicate the Justice of God in casting them off from being his People, uses three Sorts of Arguments; the first is the Testimony of Moses of God's asserting this to himself by the Right of his Sovereignty; and this was enough to stop the Mouths of the Jews. The second from Reason, ver. 19-24. and the third from his Predictions of it to the Jews, and the Warning he gave them of it before-hand, ver. 25-29. which we shall consider in their Places.

So then neither the Purpose of Isaac who designed it for Esau, and willed ^b him to prepare himself for it; nor the Endeavours of Esau, who ran a hunting for Venison to come and receive it, could place on him the Blessing; but the Favour of being made in his Posterity a great and prosperous Nation, the peculiar People of God, preferred to that which should descend from his Brother, was bestowed on Jacob by the mere Bounty and good Pleasure of God himself. The like hath Moses
17. left us upon Record of God's Dealing with Pharaoh and his Subjects the People of Egypt, to whom God saith ^c, Even for this same Purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my Power in thee, and that my Name might be renowned through all the Earth. ^d Therefore ^f Hardens. That God's hardening spoke of here is what we have explained it in the Paraphrase, is plain in the Instance of Pharaoh, given ver. 17. as may be seen in that Story, Exod. vii.—xiv. which is worth the Reading for the understanding of this Place: See also ver. 22.

^g Here St. Paul shews that the Nations of the World, who are by a better Right in the Hands and Disposal of God, than the Clay in the Power of the Potter, may, without any Question of his Justice, be made great and glorious, or pulled down, and brought into Contempt as he pleases. That he here speaks of Men nationally, and not personally, in reference to their eternal State, is evident not only from the Beginning of this Chapter, where he shews his Concern for the Nation of the Jews being cast off from being God's People, and the Instances he brings of Isaac, of Jacob and Esau, and of Pharaoh; but it appears also very clearly in the Verses immediately following, where by the Vessels of Wrath fitted for Destruction, he manifestly means the Nation of the Jews, who were now grown ripe, and fit for the Destruction he was bringing upon them. And by Vessels of Mercy the Christian Church, gathered out of a small Collection of Convert Jews, and the rest made up of the Gentiles, who together were from thence-forwards to be the People of God in the room of the Jewish Nation, now cast off, as appears by ver. 24. The Sense of which Verses is this: "How darest thou, O Man, to call God to account, and question his Justice in casting off his ancient People the Jews? what if God willing to punish that sinful People, and to do it so as to have his Power known, and taken notice of in the doing of it: (For why might he not raise them to that Purpose as well as he did Pharaoh and his Egyptians?) what, I say, if God bore with them a long Time, even after they had deserved his Wrath, as he did with Pharaoh, that his Hand might be the more eminently visible in their Destruction? And that also at the same Time he might with the more Glory make known his Goodness and Mercy to the Gentiles, whom, according to his Purpose, he was in a Readiness to receive into the glorious State of being his People under the Gospel."

21^h Vessel unto Honour, and Vessel unto Dishonour, signifies a Thing designed by the Maker to an honourable or dishonourable Use: Now why it may not design Nations as well as Persons, and Honour and Prosperity in this World, as well as eternal Happiness and Glory or Misery and Punishment in the World to come, I do not see. In common Reason this figurative Expression ought to follow the Sense of the Context: And I see no peculiar Privilege it hath to wrest and turn the visible Meaning of the Place to something remote from the Subject in hand. I am sure no such Authority it has from such an appropriated Sense settled in sacred Scripture. This were enough to clear the Apostle's Sense in these Words, were there nothing else; but Jer. xviii. 6, 7. from whence this Instance of a Potter is taken, shews them to have a temporal Sense, and to relate to the Nation of the Jews.

22ⁱ Endured with much Long-suffering. Immediately after the Instance of Pharaoh, whom God said he raised up to shew his Power in him, ver. 17. it is subjoined, ver. 18. and whom he will he hardeneth, plainly with reference to the Story of Pharaoh, who is said to harden himself, and whom God is said to harden, as may be seen, Exod. vii. 3, 22, 23. and viii. 15, 32. and ix. 7, 12, 34. and x. 1, 20, 27. and xi. 9, 10. and xiv. 5. What God's Part in hardening is, is contained in these Words, endured with much Long-suffering. God sends Moses to Pharaoh with Signs; Pharaoh's Magicians do the like, and so he is not prevailed with. God sends Plagues; whilst the Plague is upon him, he is mollified, and promises to let the People go: but as soon as God takes off the Plague, he returns to his Obstinacy, and refuses, and thus over and over again; God's being intreated by him to withdraw the Severity of his Hand, his gracious Compliance with Pharaoh's Desire to have the Punishment removed, was what God did in the Case, and this was all Goodness and Bounty: But Pharaoh and his People made that ill Use of his Forbearance and Long-suffering, as still to harden themselves the more for God's Mercy and Gentleness to them, till they bring on themselves exemplary Destruction from the visible Power and Hand of God employed in it. This Carriage of theirs God foresaw, and so made use of their obstinate perverse Temper for his own Glory, as he himself declares, Exod. vii. 3—5. and viii. 18. and ix. 14, 16. The Apostle, by the Instance of a Potter's Power over his Clay, having demonstrated, that God by his Dominion and Sovereignty, had a Right to set up or pull down what Nation he pleased; and might, without any Injustice, take one Race into his particular Favour to be his peculiar People, or reject them, as he thought fit, does in this Verse apply it to the Subject in hand, (ver.) the casting off the Jewish Nation, whereof he speaks here in Terms that plainly make make a Parallel between this and his dealing with the Egyptians, mentioned ver. 17. and therefore that Story will best explain this Verse, that thence will receive its full Light. For it seems a somewhat strange Sort of Reasoning, to say, God, to shew his Wrath, endured with much Long-suffering those who deserved his Wrath, and were fit for Destruction. But he that will read in Exodus God's Dealing with Pharaoh and the Egyptians, and how God pass'd over Provocation upon Provocation, and patiently endured those who by their first Refusal, nay, by their former Cruelty and Oppression of the Israelites, deserved his Wrath, and were fitted for Destruction, that in a more signal Vengeance on the Egyptians, and glorious Deliv'rance of the Israelites, he might shew his Power, and make himself be taken notice of, will easily see the strong and easy Sense of this and the following Verse.

23 ^k καὶ ἵνα, And that: The Vulgate has not And, and there are Greek MSS. that justify that Omission, as well as the Sense of the Place, which is disturbed by the Conjunction And. For with that Reading it runs thus; And God, that he might make known the Riches of his Glory, &c. A learned Paraphrast, both against the Grammar and Sense of the Place, by his own Authority adds, shew'd Mercy, where the sacred Scripture is silent, and says no such Thing; by which we may make it say any Thing. If a Verb were to be inserted here, it is evident it must some way or other answer to endured in the foregoing Verse; but such an one will not be easy to be found that will suit here. And indeed there is no need of it; for and being left out, the Sense, suitable to St. Paul's Argument, here runs plainly and smoothly thus; *What have you Jews to complain of, for God's rejecting you from being any longer his People, and giving you up to be over-run and subjected by the Gentiles, and his taking them in to be his People in your room? He has as much Power over the Nations of the Earth, to make some of them mighty and flourishing, and others mean and weak, as a Potter has over his Clay, to make what Sort of Vessels he pleases of any Part of it. This you cannot deny. God might from the Beginning have made you a small, neglected People: But he did not; he made you the Posterity of Jacob, a greater and mightier People, than the Posterity of his elder Brother Esau; and made you also his own People, plentifully provided for in the Land of Promise. Nay, when your frequent Revolts and repeated Provocations had made you fit for Destruction, he with Long-suffering forbore you, that now, under the Gospel, executing his Wrath on you, he might manifest his Glory on us whom he hath called to be his People, consisting of a small Remnant of Jews, and of Converts out of the Gentiles, whom he had prepared for this Glory, as he had foretold by the Prophets Hosea and Isaiah. This is plainly St. Paul's Meaning, That God dealt as is described, ver. 22. with the Jews, that he might manifest his Glory on the Gentiles; for so he declares over and over again, *Chap. xi. ver. 11, 12, 13, 20, 28, 30.

^l Make known the Riches of his Glory on the Vessels of Mercy. St. Paul, in a parallel Place, Col. i. has so fully explained these Words, that he that will read ver. 17. of that Chapter with the Context there, can be in no manner of doubt what St. Paul means here.

that which is now the only true Religion, and owning ourselves under that Law which is now solely the Law of God, puts any collective Body of Men into the State of being the People of God. For every one of the Jews and Gentiles that attained to the Law of Righteousness, or to Righteousness in the Sense St. Paul speaks here, i. e. became a Professor of the Christian Religion, did not attain to eternal Salvation. In the same Sense must Chap. x. 3. and xi. 7, 8. be understood.

Or who shall descend into the deep, i. e. to bring up Christ again from the Dead to be our Saviour? You mistake the Deliverance you expect by the Messiah, there needs not the fetching him from the other World to be present with you: The Deliverance by him is a Deliverance from Sin, that you may be made righteous by Faith in him; and that speaks thus; The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart; that is, the Word of Faith, or the Doctrine of the Gospel which we preach, viz. 3^o St. Paul had told them ver. 4. That the End of the Law was to bring them to Life by Faith in Christ, that they might be justified, and so be saved. To convince them of this, he brings three Verses out of the Book of the Law itself, declaring that the Way to Life was by hearkening to that Word which was ready in their Mouth and in their Heart, and that therefore they had no Reason to reject Jesus the Christ, because he died and was now removed into Heaven, and was remote from them; their very Law proposed Life to them by something nigh them, that might lead them to their Deliverer: By Words and Doctrines that might be always at Hand, in their Mouths, and in their Hearts, and so lead them to Christ, i. e. to that Faith in him which the Apostle preached to them. I submit to the attentive Reader, whether this be not the Meaning of this Place.

9^o The Expectation of the Jews was, that the Messiah, who was promised them, was to be their Deliverer; and so far they were in the Right. But that which they expected to be delivered from, at his appearing, was the Power and Dominion of Strangers. When our Saviour came, their Reckoning was up; and the Miracles which Jesus did, concurred to persuade them that it was he: But his obscure Birth and mean Appearance suited not with that Power and Splendor, they had fancied to themselves he should come in. This, with his denouncing to them the Ruin of their Temple and State at hand, set the Rulers against him, and held the Body of the Jews in suspense till his Crucifixion; and that gave a full Turn of their Minds from him. They had figured him a mighty Prince, at the Head of their Nation, setting them free from all foreign Power, and themselves at ease, and happy under his glorious Reign. But when at the Passover the whole People were Witnesses of his Death, they gave up all Thought of Deliverance by him. He was gone, they saw him no more, and it was past doubt a dead Man could not be the Messiah or Deliverer, even of those who believed him. It is against these Prejudices that what St. Paul says in this and the three preceding Verses seems directed, wherein he teaches them, that there was no need to fetch the Messiah out of Heaven, or out of the Grave, and bring him personally among them. For the Deliverance he was to work for them, the Salvation by him was Salvation from Sin, and Condemnation for that; and that was to be had by barely believing and owning him to be the Messiah their King, and that he was raised from the Dead: By this they would be saved without his Personal Presence among them.

^x Raised him from the Dead. The Doctrine of the Lord Jesus being raised from the Dead, is certainly one of the most fundamental Articles of the Christian Religion; but yet there seems another Reason why St. Paul here annexes Salvation to the Belief of it, which may be found, ver. 7. where he teaches, that it was not necessary for their Salvation, that they should have Christ out of his Grave personally present amongst them; and here he gives them the Reason, because if they did but own him for their Lord, and believe that he was raised, that sufficed, they should be saved.

13 ^a Whosoever hath with Care looked into St. Paul's Writings, must own him to be a close Reasoner that argues to the Point; and therefore if in the three preceding Verses he requires an open Profession of the Gospel, I cannot but think that all that call upon him, ver. 12. signifies all that are open professed Christians; and if this be the Meaning of calling upon him, ver. 12. it is plain it must be the Meaning of calling upon his Name, ver. 13. a Phrase not very remote from naming his Name, which is used by St. Paul for professing Christianity, 2 Tim. ii. 19. If the Meaning of the Prophet Isa. from whom these Words be taken, be urged, I shall only say, that it will be an ill Rule for interpreting St. Paul, to tie up his Use of any Text he brings out of the Old Testament, to that which is taken to be the Meaning of it there. We need go no farther for an Example than the 6, 7, 8, Verses of this Chapter, which I desire any one to read as they stand, Deut. xxx. 11—14. and see whether St. Paul uses them here in the same Sense.

15 ^a St. Paul is careful every where to keep himself, as well as possibly he can, in the Minds and fair Esteem of his Brethren the Jews; may not therefore this, with the two foregoing Verses, be understood as an Apology to them for professing himself an Apostle of the Gentiles, as he does by the Tenor of this Epistle, and in the next Chapter in Words at length, ver. 13. In this Chapter ver. 12. he had shewed that both Jews and Greeks or Gentiles were to be saved only by receiving the Gospel of Christ. And if so, it was necessary that somebody should be sent to teach it them, and therefore the Jews had no Reason to be angry with any that was sent on that Employment.

16 ^b But they have not all obeyed. This seems an Objection of the Jews to what St. Paul had said, which he answers in this and the following Verse. The Objection and Answer seems to stand thus: You tell us that you are sent from God to preach the Gospel; if it be so, how comes it that all that have heard, have not received and obeyed; and since, according to what you would insinuate, the Messengers of good Tidings (which is the Import of Evangil in Greek, and Gospel in English) were so welcome to them? To this he answers out of Isaiah, that the Messengers sent from God were not believed by all. But from those Words of Isaiah, he draws an Inference to confirm the Argument he was upon, viz. that Salvation cometh by hearing and believing the Word of God. He had laid it down, ver. 8. that it was by their having ἰσχυα πιστεω, the Word of Faith, nigh them or present with them, and not by the bodily Presence of their Deliverer amongst them, that they were to be saved. This ἰσχυα, Word, he tells them, ver. 17. is by preaching brought to be actually present with them and the Gentiles; so that it was their own Fault if they believed it not to Salvation.

- 16 But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report? 17.
- 17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.
- 18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.
- 19 But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you. 18.
- 20 But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.
- 21 But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.
- Isaiab* hath foretold that they should not, saying, Lord, who hath believed our report? That which we may learn from thence is, that Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing from the Word of God, i. e. the Revelation of the Gospel in the Writings of the sacred Scriptures, communicated by those whom God sends as Preachers thereof, to those who are ignorant of it; and there is no need that Christ should be brought down from Heaven, to be personally with you, to be your Saviour. It is enough that both Jews and Gentiles have heard of him by Messengers, whose Voice is gone out into the whole Earth, and his Words unto the Ends of the World, far beyond the Bounds of Judea.
- But I ask, did not Israel know ^c this, that the Gentiles were to be taken in and made the People of God? First Moses tells it them from God, who says, I will provoke you to Jealousy by them who are no People; and by a foolish Nation I will anger you. But Isaiab declares it yet much plainer in these Words; I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest to them that asked not after me. And to Israel, to shew their Refusal, he saith; All Day long have I stretched forth mine Hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying People. 19. 20. 21.

NOTES.

19 ^c Did not Israel know? In this and the next Verses St. Paul seems to suppose a Reasoning of the Jews to this Purpose, viz. That they did not deserve to be cast off, because they did not know that the Gentiles were to be admitted, and so might be excused if they did not embrace a Religion wherein they were to mix with the Gentiles; and to this he answers in the following Verses.

C O N T E N T S.

THE Apostle in this Chapter goes on to shew the future State of the Jews and Gentiles, in respect of Christianity, viz. That though the Nation of the Jews were for their Unbelief rejected, and the Gentiles taken in their room to be the People of God, yet there was a few of the Jews that believed in Christ, and so a small Remnant of them continued to be God's People, being incorporated with the converted Gentiles into the Christian Church. But they shall, the whole Nation of them, when the Fulness of the Gentiles is come in, be converted to the Gospel, and again be restored to be the People of God.

The Apostle takes occasion also from God's having rejected the Jews, to warn the Gentile Converts, that they take heed: Since if God cast off his ancient People the Jews for their Unbelief, the Gentiles could not expect to be preserved, if they apostatized from the Faith, and kept not firm in their Obedience to the Gospel.

⁶ It is not of works. This Exclusion of Works seems to be mistaken by those who extend it to all manner of Difference in the Person chosen, from those that were rejected; for such a Choice as that excludes not Grace in the Chuser, but Merit in the Chosen. For it is plain that by Works here St. Paul means Merit, as is evident also from chap. iv. 2—4. The Law required complete perfect Obedience: He that performed that, had a Right to the Reward; but he that failed and came short of that, had by the Law no Right to any thing but Death. And so the Jews being all Sinners, God might without Injustice have cast them all off; none of them could plead a Right to his Favour. If therefore he chose out and reserved any, it was of mere Grace, though in his Choice he preferred those who were the best disposed and most inclined to his Service. A whole Province revolts from their Prince, and takes Arms against him: He resolves to pardon some of them. This is a Purpose of Grace. He reduces them under his Power, and then chuses out of them as Vessels of Mercy, those that he finds least infected with Malice, Obstinacy and Rebellion. This Choice neither voids nor abates his Purpose of Grace, that stands firm; but only executes it so as may best comport with his Wisdom and Goodness. And indeed without some Regard to a Difference in the Things taken from those that are left, I do not see how it can be called Choice. An Handful of Pebbles, for Example, may be taken out of a Heap; they are taken and separated indeed from the rest, but if it be without any Regard to any Difference in them from others rejected, I doubt whether any body can call them chosen.

By no Means: But this I say, that by their Fall, by their Rejection for refusingⁿ the Gospel, the Privilege of becoming the People of God, by receiving the Doctrine of Salvation, is come to the Gentiles, to provoke the Jews to Jealousy. And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompence unto them. Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway. 13 ° St. Paul magnified his Office of Apostle of the Gentiles not only by preaching the Gospel to the Gentiles, but in assuring them farther, as he does, ver. 12. that when the Nation of the Jews shall be restored, the Fulness of the Gentiles shall also come in.

16 These Allusions the Apostle makes use of here, to shew that the Patriarchs, the Root of the Jewish Nation, being accepted by God ; and the few Jewish Converts, which at first entered into the Christian Church, being also accepted by God, are as it were first Fruits or Pledges, that God will in due Time admit the whole Nation of the Jews into his visible Church, to be his peculiar People again.

18 Boast not against the Branches. Though the great Fault that most disordered the Church, and principally exercised the Apostle's Care in this Epistle, was from the Jews pressing the Necessity of legal Observances, and not brooking that the Gentiles, though Converts to Christianity, should be admitted into their Communion, without being circumcised: Yet it is plain from this Verse, as also ch. xiv. 3, 10. that the Convert Gentiles were not wholly without Fault on their Side, in treating the Jews with Dis-esteem and Contempt. To this also, as it comes in his way, he applies his Remedies, particularly in this Chapter, and ch. xiv.

shall be grafted in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree; how much more shall these which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery (lest ye should be wise in your own conceits that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out established the People of God. For however they are now scattered, and under Subjection to Strangers, God is able to collect them again into one Body, make them his People, and set them in a flourishing Condition in their own Land^s. For if you who are Heathens by Birth, and not of the promised Seed, were, when you had neither Claim nor Inclination to it, brought into the Church, and made the People of God; how much more shall those who are the Posterity and Descendants of him to whom the Promise was made, be restored to the State which the Promise vested in that Family? For to prevent your being conceited of yourselves, my Brethren, let me make known to you, which has yet been undiscovered to the World, (viz.) that the Blindness which has fallen upon Part of Israel, shall remain upon them but till the Time be come wherein the whole^s Gentile World shall enter into the Church, and make Profession of Christianity. And so all Israel shall be converted^d to the 23^s This grafting in again, seems to import, that the Jews shall be a flourishing Nation again, professing Christianity in the Land of Promise, for that is to be re-inflated again in the Promise made to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. This St. Paul might, for good Reasons, be withheld from speaking out here: But in the Prophets there are very plain Intimations of it.

N O T E S.

25^s Πλήρωμα, The Fulness of the Jews, ver. 12. is the whole Body of the Jewish Nation professing Christianity; and therefore here πλήρωμα τῶν ἐθνῶν, The Fulness of the Gentiles, must be the whole Body of the Gentiles professing Christianity. And this ver 15. seems to teach. For the Resurrection is of all.

26^s Σωθήσεται, shall be saved. It is plain that the Salvation that St. Paul in this Discourse concerning the Nation of the Jews, and the Gentile World in gross, speaks of, is not eternal Happiness in Heaven, but he means by it the Profession of the true Religion here on Earth. Whether it be that that is as far as Corporations or Bodies Politick can go, towards the Attainment of eternal Salvation, I will not enquire. But this is evident, that being saved, is used by the Apostle here in this Sense. That all the Jewish Nation may become the People of God again, by taking up the Christian Profession, may be easily conceived. But that every Person of such a Christian Nation, shall attain eternal Salvation in Heaven, I think no body can imagine to be here intended.

Christian Faith, and the whole Nation become the People of God : As it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away Ungodliness from Jacob. For this is my Covenant to them, when I shall take away ^x their Sins. They are indeed at present Strangers to the Gospel, and so are in the State of Enemies ^y, but this is for your sakes : Their Fall and Loss is your enriching, you having obtained Admittance through their being cast out : But yet they being within the Election that God made of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and their Posterity, to be his People, are still his beloved People, for Abraham, Isaac and Jacob's sake, from whom they are descended. For the Favours that God shewed those their Fathers, in calling them and their Posterity to be his People, he doth not repent of ; but his Promise, that they shall be his People, shall stand good ^z. For as you the Gentiles formerly stood out, and were not the People of God, but yet have now obtained Mercy so as to be taken in through the standing out of the Jews,

For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sake, but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers sakes.

For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief :

N O T E S.

28 ^y Ἐχθροί. Enemies, signifies Strangers or Aliens, i. e. such as are no longer the People of God. For they are called Enemies in Opposition to Beloved, in this very Verse. And the Reason given why they are Enemies, makes it plain, that this is the Sense, (viz.) For the Gentiles sake, i. e. They are rejected from being the People of God, that you Gentiles may be taken in to be the People of God in their room, ver. 30. The same Signification has ἔχθροί, Enemies, ch. v. 10. καὶ ἐδαγγέλιον ἔχθροί, as concerning the Gospel-Enemies, i. e. all those who not embracing the Gospel, not receiving Christ for their King and Lord, are Aliens from the Kingdom of God, and all such Aliens are called ἔχθροί, Enemies. And so indeed were the Jews now : But yet they were καὶ ἐκλογὴν ἀγαπητοί, as touching the Election, beloved, i. e. were not actually within the Kingdom of God his People, but were within the Election, which God had made of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and their Posterity to be his People, and so God had still Intentions of Kindness to them for their Fathers sake, to make them again his People.

32^b Εἰς ἀπίσταν, In Unbelief. The Unbelief here charged nationally on Jews and Gentiles in their turns, in this and the two preceding Verses, whereby they ceased to be the People of God, was evidently the disowning of his Dominion, whereby they put themselves out of the Kingdom which he had and ought to have in the World, and so were no longer in the State of Subjects, but Aliens and Rebels. A general View of Mankind will lead us into an easier Conception of St. Paul's Doctrine, who all through this Epistle considers the Gentiles, Jews, and Christians, as three distinct Bodies of Men.

God by Creation had no doubt an unquestionable Sovereignty over Mankind, and this was at first acknowledged in their Sacrifices and Worship of him. Afterwards they withdrew themselves for their Submission to him, and found out other Gods, whom they worshipped and served. This Revolt from God, and the Consequence of it, God's abandoning them, St. Paul describes, chap. i. 18 — 32.

In this State of Revolt from God were the Nations of the Earth in the Times of Abraham. And then Abraham, Iaac and Jacob, and their Posterity the Israelites, upon God's gracious Call, returned to their Allegiance to their ancient and rightful King and Sovereign, to own the one invisible God, Creator of Heaven and Earth, for their God, and so become his People again, to whom he, as to his peculiar People, gave a Law. And thus remained the Distinction between Jews and Gentiles, i. e. The Nations, as the Word signifies, till the Time of the Messiah, and then the Jews ceased to be the People of God, not by a direct renouncing the God of Israel, and taking to themselves other false Gods whom they worshipped; but by opposing and rejecting the Kingdom of God, which he purposed at that Time to set up with new Laws and Institutions, and to a more glorious and spiritual Purpose under his Son Jesus Christ: Him God sent to them, and him the Nation of the Jews refused to receive as their Lord and Ruler, though he was their promised King and Deliverer, answering all the Prophecies and Types of him, and evidencing his Mission by his Miracles. By this Rebellion against him, into whose Hand God had committed the Rule of his Kingdom, and appointed Lord over all Things, the Jews turned themselves out of the Kingdom of God, and ceased to be his People, who had now no other People but those who received and obeyed his Son as their Lord and Ruler. This was the ἀπίστεια, Unbelief, here spoken of. And I would be glad to know any other Sense of Believing or Unbelief, wherein it can be nationally attributed to a People (as visibly here it is) whereby they shall cease, or come to be the People of God, or visible Subjects of his Kingdom here on Earth. Indeed to enjoy Life and Estate in this, as well as other Kingdoms, not only the owning of the Prince, and the Authority of his Laws, but also Obedience to them is required. For a Jew might own the Authority of God, and his Law given by Moses, and so be a true Subject, and as much a Member of the Commonwealth of Israel, as any one in it, and yet forfeit his Life by Disobedience to the Law. And a Christian may own the Authority of Jesus Christ, and of the Gospel, and yet forfeit eternal Life by his Disobedience to the Precepts of it, as may be seen chap. vii. 8, 9.

- to him, as it were in one Fold, all Men, both Jews and Gentiles, that through his Mercy they might all, both Jews and Gentiles, come to be his People, i. e. he hath suffered both Jews and Gentiles in their turns not to be his People, that he might bring the whole Body, both of Jews and Gentiles, to be his People.
33. O the Depth of the Riches of the Wisdom and Knowledge of God^c! How unsearchable are his Judgments, and his Ways not to be traced!
34. For who hath known the Mind of the Lord? Or who hath sat in Counsel with him? Or
35. who hath been before-hand with him, in bestowing any thing upon him, that God may repay it to him again^d? The Thought of any such Thing is absurd. For from him all
36. Things have their Being and Original; by him they are all ordered and disposed of, and for him and his Glory they are all made and regulated, to whom be Glory for ever. Amen.

that he might have mercy upon all.

O the depth of the³³ riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!

For who hath known³⁴ the mind of the Lord, or who hath been his counsellor?

Or who hath first given³⁵ to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

For of him, and through³⁶ him, and to him, are all things, to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

N O T E S.

³³ ^c This emphatical Conclusion seems, in a special Manner, to regard the Jews, whom the Apostle would hereby teach Modesty and Submission to the over-ruling Hand of the all-wise God, whom they are very unfit to call to account for his dealing so favourably with the Gentiles. His Wisdom and Ways are infinitely above their Comprehension, and will they take upon them to advise him what to do? Or is God in their Debt? Let them say for what, and he shall repay it to them. This is a very strong Rebuke to the Jews, but delivered, as we see, in a Way very gentle and inoffensive. A Method which the Apostle endeavours every where to observe towards his Nation.

³⁵ ^d This has a manifest Respect to the Jews, who claimed a Right to be the People of God so far, that St. Paul, ch. ix. 14. finds it necessary to vindicate the Justice of God in the Case, and does here in this Question expose and silence the Folly of any such Pretence.

C H A P. XII. 1—21.

C O N T E N T S.

ST. Paul in the End of the foregoing Chapter, with a very solemn Epiphonema, closes that admirable Evangelical Discourse to the Church at Rome, which had taken up the eleven foregoing Chapters. It was addressed to the two Sorts of Converts, viz. Gentiles and Jews, into which, as into two distinct Bodies, he all along through this Epistle divides all Mankind, and considers them as so divided into two separate Corporations.

1. As to the Gentiles, he endeavours to satisfy them, that though they, for their Apostasy from God to Idolatry, and the Worship of False Gods, had been abandoned by God, had lived in Sin and Blindness, without God in the World, Strangers from the Knowledge and Acknowledgment of him, yet that the Mercy of God through Jesus Christ was extended to them, whereby there was a Way now opened to them to become the People of God, For since no Man could be saved by his own Righteousness, no not the Jews themselves, by the Deeds of the Law, the only Way to Salvation, both for Jews and Gentiles, was by Faith in Jesus Christ. Nor had the Jews any other Way now to continue themselves the People of God, than by receiving the Gospel, which Way was opened also to the Gentiles, and they as freely admitted into the Kingdom of God now erected under Jesus Christ, as the Jews, and upon the sole Terms of Believing. So that there was no need at all for the Gentiles to be circumcised to become Jews, that they might be Partakers of the Benefits of the Gospel.

2. As to the Jews, the Apostle's other great Aim in the foregoing Discourse, is to remove the Offence the Jews took at the Gospel, because the Gentiles were received into the Church as the People of God, and were allowed to be Subjects of the Kingdom of the Messiah. To bring them to a better Temper, he shews them from the Sacred Scripture, that they could not be saved by the Deeds of the Law, and therefore the Doctrine of Righteousness by Faith ought not to be so strange a Thing to them. And as to their being

Ch. XII. for their Unbelief rejected from being the People of God, and the Gentiles taken in in their room, he shews plainly, that this was foretold them in the Old Testament; and that herein God did them no Injustice. He was Sovereign over all Mankind, and might chuse whom he would to be his People, with the same Freedom that he chose the Posterity of Abraham among all the Nations of the Earth, and of that Race chose the Descendants of Jacob before those of his elder Brother Esau, and that before they had a Being, or were capable of doing Good or Evil. In all which Discourse of his it is plain the Elect spoken of, has for its Object only Nations or collective Bodies Politick in this World, and not particular Persons, in reference to their eternal State in the World to come.

Having thus finished the principal Design of his Writing, we here in this, as is usual with him in all his Epistles, conclude with practical and moral Exhortations, whereof there are several in this Chapter, which we shall take in their Order.

Because he had before, especially ch. vii. so much insisted on this, that the Body was the great Source from whence Sin arose. (2.) Because the Heathen World, and particularly the Romans, were guilty of those vile Affections which he mentions, ch. i. 24—27.

² ^f To the Fashion of this World ; or, as St. Peter expresses it, not fashioning yourselves according to your former Lusts in the Time of Ignorance, 1 Pet. i. 14.

^g Transformed in the renewing of your Minds. The State of the Gentiles is thus described, Eph. iv. 17—19. As walking in the Vanity of their Minds, having the Understanding darkened, being alienated from the Life of God through the Ignorance that is in them ; because of the Blindness of their Hearts, who being past feeling have given themselves over unto Leascivousness, to work all Uncleanness with Greediness, fulfilling the Lusts of the Flesh and of the Mind. And Col. i. 21. Alienated and Enemies in their Minds by wicked Works. The renewing therefore of their Minds, or, as he speaks, Eph. iv. in the Spirit of their Minds, was the getting into an Estate contrary to what they were in before, (viz.) to take it in the Apostle's own Words ; That the Eyes of their Understandings might be enlightened ; and that they might put on the new Man, that is renewed in Knowledge after the Image of him that created him ; that ye walk as Children of the Light, proving what is acceptable to the Lord, having no Fellowship with the Works of Darkness : That they be not unwise, but understanding what is the Will of the Lord : For this is the Will of God, even your Sanctification. That you should abstain from Fornication. That every one of you should know how to possess his Vessel in Sanctification and Honour, not in the Lusts of Concupiscence, even as the Gentiles that know not God.

^h In these two first Verses of this Chapter is shewn the Preference of the Gospel to the Gentile State and the Jewish Institution.

^m According to the Proportion of Faith. The Context in this and the three preceding Verses leads us, without any Difficulty, into the Meaning of the Apostle in this Expression. 1 Cor. xii. and xiv. shew us how apt the new Converts were to be puffed up with the several Gifts that were bestowed on them; and every one, as in like Cases is usual, forward to magnify his own, and to carry it farther than in reality it extended. That it is St. Paul's Design here to prevent or regulate such Disorder, and to keep every one in the exercising of his particular Gift within its due Bounds, is evident, in that exhorting them, ver. 3. to a sober Use of their Gifts (for it is in reference to their spiritual Gifts he speaks in that Verse) he makes the Measure of that Sobriety to be that Measure of Faith or spiritual Gift which every one in particular enjoyed by the Favour of God, i. e. That no one should go beyond that which was given him, and he really had. But besides this, which is very obvious, there is another Passage in that Verse, which, rightly considered, strongly inclines this way. I say through the Grace that is given unto me, says St. Paul. He was going to restrain them in the Exercise of their distinct spiritual Gifts, and he could not introduce what he was going to say in the Case with a more persuasive Argument than his own Example: "I exhort (says he) that every one of you, in the Exercise and Use of his spiritual Gift, keep within the Bounds and Measure of that Gift which is given him. I myself, in giving you this Exhortation, do it by the Grace given unto me; I do it by the Commission and Power given me by God, and beyond that I do not go." In one that had before declared himself an Apostle, such an Expression, as this here (if there were not some particular Reason for it) might seem superfluous, and to some idle, but in this View it has a great Grace and Energy in it. There wants nothing but the Study of St. Paul's Writings to give us a just Admiration of his great Address, and the Skill wherewith all that he says is adapted to the Argument he has in Hand: "I (says he) according to the Grace given me, direct you every one in the Use of your Gifts, which according to the Grace given you are different, whether it be the Gift of Prophecy, to prophesy according to the Proportion or Measure of that Gift or Revelation that he hath. And let him not think that because some Things are,

“ are, therefore every thing is revealed to him.” The same Rule concerning the same Matter St. Paul gives, Eph. iv. 16. that every Member should act according to the Measure of its own Strength, Power and Energy; 1 Cor. xiv. 29—32. may also give light to this Place. This therefore is far from signifying that a Man in interpreting of Sacred Scripture should explain the Sense according to the System of his particular Sect, which each Party is pleased to call the Analogy of Faith. For this would be to make the Apostle to set that for a Rule of Interpretation, which had not its Being till long after, and is the Product of fallible Men.

The Measure of Faith, ver. 3. and Preportion of Faith, in this Verse, signifies the same Thing, viz. so much of that particular Gift which God was pleased to bestow on any one.

C O N T E N T S.

THIS Section contains the Duty of Christians to the Civil Magistrate. For the understanding this right, we must consider these two Things.

1. That these Rules are given to Christians that were Members of a Heathen Commonwealth, to shew them that by being made Christians and Subjects of Christ's Kingdom, they were not by the Freedom of the Gospel exempt from any Ties of Duty or Subjection, which by the Laws of their Country they were in, and ought to observe, to the Government and Magistrates of it, though Heathens, any more than any of their Heathen Subjects. But on the other Side, these Rules did not tie them up any more than any of their Fellow-Citizens, who were not Christians, from any of those due Rights, which by the Law of Nature, or the Constitutions of their Country, belonged to them. Whatsoever any other of their Fellow-Subjects, being in a like Station with them, might do without sinning, that they were not abridged of, but might do still being Christians. The Rule being here the same with that given by St. Paul, 1 Cor. vii. 17. As God has called every one, so let him walk. The Rules of Civil Right and Wrong that he is to walk by, are to him the same they were before.

2. That St. Paul in this Direction to the Romans, does not so much describe the Magistrates that then were in Rome, as tells whence they, and all Magistrates every where, have their Authority; and for what End they have it, and should use it. And this he does as becomes his Prudence, to avoid bringing any Imputation on Christians from Heathen Magistrates, especially those insolent and vicious ones of Rome, who could not brook any thing to be told them as their Duty, and so might be apt to interpret such plain Truths laid down in a dogmatical Way, into Sauciness, Sedition, or Treason; a Scandal cautiously to be kept off from the Christian Doctrine. Nor does he, in what he says, in the least flatter the Roman Emperor, let it be either Claudius, as some think; or Nero, Ch. XIII. as others, who then was in Possession of that Empire. For he speaks here of the Higher Powers, i. e. the Supreme Civil Power, which is in every Commonwealth derived from God, and is of the same Extent every where, i. e. is absolute and unlimited by any thing but the End for which God gave it, viz. the Good of the People sincerely pursued, according to the best of the Skill of those who share that Power, and so not to be resisted. But how Men come by a rightful Title to this Power, or who has that Title, he is wholly silent, and says nothing of it. To have meddled with that would have been to decide of Civil Rights, contrary to the Design and Business of the Gospel, and the Example of our Saviour, who refused meddling in such Cases with this decisive Question, Who made me a Judge or Divider over you? Luke xii. 14.

^o Every one, however endowed with miraculous Gifts of the Holy Ghost, or advanced to any Dignity in the Church of Christ. For that these Things were apt to make Men over-value themselves, is obvious from what St. Paul says to the Corinthians, 1 Cor. xii. and here to the Romans, chap. xii. 3—5. But above all others, the Jews were apt to have an inward Reluctancy and Indignation against the Power of any Heathen over them, taking it to be an unjust and tyrannical Usurpation upon them, who were the People of God, and their Betters. These the Apostle thought it necessary to restrain, and therefore says in the Language of the Jews, Every Soul, i. e. every Person among you, whether Jew or Gentile, must live in Subjection to the Civil Magistrate. We see by what St. Peter says on the like Occasion, that there was great need that Christians should have this Duty inculcated to them, lest any among them should use their Liberty for a Cloak of Maliciousness or Misbehaviour, 1 Pet. ii. 13—16. The Doctrine of Christianity was a Doctrine of Liberty. And St. Paul in this Epistle had taught them, that all Christians were free from the Mosaical Law. Hence corrupt and mistaking Men, especially Jewish Converts, impatient, as we have observed, of any Heathen Dominion, might be ready to infer that Christians were exempt from Subjection to the Laws of Heathen Governments. This he obviates by telling them, That all other Governments derived the Power they had from God, as well as that of the Jews, though they had not the whole Frame of their Government immediately from him as the Jews had.

^p Whether we take Powers here in the Abstract for Political Authority, or in the Concrete for the Persons, de facto exercising Political Power and Jurisdiction, the Sense will be the same, viz. that Christians, by Virtue of being Christians, are not any way exempt from Obedience to the Civil Magistrates, nor ought by any Means to resist them, though by what is said, ver. 3. it

4 ^w By him that eateth, ver. 3. St. Paul seems to mean the Gentiles, who were less scrupulous in the Use of indifferent Things; and by him that eateth not, the Jews, who made a great Distinction of Meats and Drinks, and Days, and placed in them a great, and as they thought necessary Part of the Worship of the true God. To the Gentiles the Apostle gives this Caution, that they should not condemn the Jews, as weak narrow minded Men, that laid so much Stress on Matters of so small Moment, and thought Religion so much concerned in those indifferent Things. On the other Side, he exhorts the Jews not to judge that those who neglected the Jewish Observances of Meats and Days were still Heathens, or would soon apostatize to Heathenism again: No, says he; God has received them, and they are of his Family; and thou hast nothing to do to judge whether they are or will continue of his Family, or no; that belongs only to him, the Master of the Family, to judge, whether they shall stay or leave his Family, or no. But, notwithstanding thy Censure or hard Thoughts of them, they shall not fall off or apostatize; for God is able to continue them in his Family, in his Church, notwithstanding thou suspectest, from their free Use of Things indifferent, they incline too much, or approach too near to Gentilism.

5 ^x The Apostle having in the foregoing Verse used ἑαυτὸν ἀνεστῆσαν ἐκείτῃ, for judging any one to be or not to be another Man's Servant or Domestick, he seems here to continue the Use of the Word ἑαυτὸν in the same Signification, i. e. for judging a Day to be more peculiarly God's.

^y This may be concluded to be the Apostle's Sense, because the Thing he is upon here, is to keep them from censuring one another in the Use of Things indifferent; particularly the Jews from judging the Gentiles in their Neglect of the Observance of Days or Meats. This judging being what St. Paul principally endeavoured here to restrain, as being opposite to the Liberty of the Gospel, which favoured a Neglect of these Rituals of the Law which were now antiquated. See Gal. iv. 9—11. and v. 1, 2.

⁸ Theſe Words, we are the Lord's, give an eaſy Intepretation to theſe Phraſes of eating and living, &c. to the Lord: For they make them plainly refer to what he had ſaid at the latter End of ver. 3. For God hath received him; ſignifying that God had received all thoſe who profeſs the Goſpel, and had given their Names up to Jeſus Chriſt, into his Family, and had made them his Domeſticks. And therefore we ſhould not judge or cenſure one another, for that every Chriſtian was the Lord's Domeſtick, appropriated to him as his menial ſervant: And therefore all that he did in that State, was to be looked on as done to the Lord, and not to be accounted for to any body elſe.

⁹ Κυριεῶν, might be Lord; muſt be taken ſo here as to make this agree with the foregoing Verſe. There it was we, i. e. we Chriſtians, whether we live or die, are the Lord's Property: For the Lord died and roſe again, that we, whether living or dying, ſhould be his.

PARAPHRASE.

- why dost thou set at nought thy brother? For we shall all stand before the judgment-seat of Christ.
- 11 For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. 11.
- 12 So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God. 12.
- 13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall in his brother's way. 13.
- 14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 14.
- 15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died. 15.
- 16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of. 16.
- 17 For the Kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. 17.
- to think contemptibly of him. For we shall, thou, and he, and all of us, be brought before the Judgment-Seat of Christ, and there we shall answer every one for himself to our Lord and Master. For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every Knee shall bow to me, and every Tongue shall confess to God. So then every one of us shall give an Account of himself to God. Let us not therefore take upon us to judge one another; but rather come to this Judgment or Determination of Mind, that no Man put^e a Stumbling-Block, or an Occasion of falling in his Brother's Way. I know, and am fully assured by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean or unlawful to be eaten of itself. But to him that accounts any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean. But if thy Brother be grieved^d with thy Meat, thy Carriage is uncharitable to him. Destroy not him with thy Meat, for whom Christ died. Let not then your Liberty, which is a Good^e you enjoy under the Gospel, be evil spoken of. For the Privileges and Advantages of the Kingdom of God do not consist in the Enjoyment of greater Variety of Meats and Drinks, but in Uprightness of Life, Peace of all Kinds, and Joy in the Gifts and Benefits of the Holy Ghost

NOTES.

13^e He had before reprov'd the Weak that censur'd the Strong in the Use of their Liberty. He comes now to restrain the Strong from offending their weak Brethren by a free Use of their Liberty, in not forbearing the Use of it where it might give Offence to the Weak.

15^d Grieved does not here signify simply, made sorrowful for what thou doest; but brought into Trouble and Discomposure, or receive an Hurt or Wound, as every one does, who by another's Example does what he supposes to be unlawful. This Sense is confirm'd in the Words, Destroy not him with thy Meat: And also by what he says, 1 Cor. viii. 9—13. in the like Case.

Let us therefore follow ¹⁹ after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

For meat destroy not ²⁰ the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

It is good neither to ²¹ eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

7 ^k Προσλαμβάνετε, receive one another, cannot mean receive one another into Church-Communion: For there is no Appearance, that the convert Jews and Gentiles separated Communion in Rome upon account of Differences about Meats and Drinks, and Days. We should have heard more of it from St. Paul, if there had been two separate Congregations, i. e. two Churches of Christians in Rome divided about these indifferent Things. Besides, Directions cannot be given to private Christians to receive one another in that Sense. The receiving therefore here, must be understood of receiving as a Man doth another into his Company, Converse and Familiarity, i. e. He would have them, Jews and Gentiles, lay by all Distinction, Coldness, and Reservedness in their Conversation one with another; and as Domesticks of the same Family, live friendly and familiar, notwithstanding their different Judgments about those ritual Observances. Hence, ver. 5. he exhorts them to be united in Friendship one to another, that with one Heart and one Voice they might conjointly glorify God, and receive one another with the same Good-will that Christ has received us the Jews, εἰς δόξαν τοῦ θεοῦ, to the glorifying of God for his also received us, to the glory of God.

Now I say, that Jesus ⁸ Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

And that the Gentiles ⁹ might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

his Truth, in fulfilling the Promises he made to the Patriarchs, and received the Gentiles to glorify God for his Mercy to them. So that we have Reason, both Jews and Gentiles, laying aside these little Differences about Things indifferent, to join together heartily in glorifying God.

⁸ " (Now I say, that Jesus Christ was a Minister of the Circumcision.) These Words are plainly a Parenthesis, and spoken with some Emphasis, to restrain the Gentile Converts of Rome; who, as it is plain from chap. xiv. 3. were apt, ἑσθραβεῖσθαι, to set at nought and despise the converted Jews for sticking to their ritual Observances of Meats and Drinks, &c.

ⁿ Διακονοῦν περιτομῆς, a Minister of, or to the Circumcision. What it was that Christ ministered to the Jews, we may see by the like Expression of St. Paul, applied to himself, ver. 16. where he calls himself a Minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the Gospel of God.

NOTES.

12 ° Επ' αὐτῷ ἔθνη ἐλπίζουσιν, in him shall the Gentiles trust, rather hope; not that there is any material Difference in the Signification of trust and hope, but the better to express and answer St. Paul's Way of writing, with whom it is familiar, when he had been speaking of any Virtue or Grace whereof God is the Author, to call God thereupon the God of that Virtue or Favour. An eminent Example whereof we have a few Verses backwards, ver. 4. ἵνα διὰ τῆς ἐπιμονῆς καὶ τῆς παρακλήσεως τῶν γραφῶν τὴν ἐλπίδα ἔχωμεν, That we through Patience and Comfort, rather Consolation of the Scripture might have hope; and then subjoins, ὁ δὲ Θεὸς τῆς ἐπιμονῆς καὶ τῆς παρακλήσεως. Νοῦν the God of Patience and Consolation. And so here, ἔθνη ἐλπίζουσιν, ὁ δὲ Θεὸς ἐλπιδῶν, The Gentiles shall hope, now the God of Hope.

13 ° The Gifts of the Holy Ghost bestowed upon the Gentiles, were a Foundation of Hope to them, that they were, by believing, the Children or People of God as well as the Jews.

IN the remaining Part of this Chapter St. Paul makes a very kind and skilful Apology to them for this Epistle: Expresses an earnest Desire of coming to them: Touches upon the Reasons that hitherto had hindred him: Desires their Prayers for his Deliverance from the Jews in his Journey to Jerusalem, whither he was going; and promises that from thence he will make them a Visit in his way to Spain.

14. AS to my own Thoughts concerning you, my Brethren, I am persuaded that you also, as well as others, are full of Goodness, abounding in all Knowledge, and able to instruct one another. Nevertheless, Brethren, I have written to you in some Things pretty freely, as your Remembrancer, which I have been imboldened to do, by the Commission which God has been graciously pleased to bestow on me, whom he hath made to be the Minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles in the Gospel of God, in which holy Ministration I officiate, that the Gentiles may be made an acceptable Offering^a to God, sanctified by the pouring out of the Holy Ghost upon them. I have therefore
17. Matter of glorying through Jesus Christ, as to those Things that pertain^r to God. For I shall not venture to trouble you with any concerning myself, but only what Christ hath wrought by me, for the bringing of the Gentiles to Christianity, both in Profession and
19. Practice, through mighty Signs and Wonders, by the Power of the Holy Ghost, so that from Jerusalem and the neighbouring Countries, all along quite to Illyricum, I have effectually preached the Gospel of Christ, but so as studiously to avoid the carrying of it to those Places where it was already planted, and where the People

Nevertheless, brethren,¹⁵ I have written the more boldly unto you, in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God.

That I should be the¹⁶ minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministring the Gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

I have therefore where-¹⁷ of I may glory through Jesus Christ, in those things which pertain to God.

For I will not dare to¹⁸ speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

Through mighty signs¹⁹ and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem and round about unto Illyricum I have fully preached the Gospel of Christ.

THE foregoing Epistle furnishes us with Reasons to conclude, that the Divisions and Offences that were in the Roman Church were between the Jewish and Gentile Converts; whilst the one over-zealous for the Rituals of the Law endeavoured to impose Circumcision and other Mosaical Rites, as necessary to be observed by all that professed Christianity: And the other, without due Regard to the Weakness of the Jews, shewed a too open Neglect of those their Observances, which were of so great Account with them. St. Paul was so sensible how much the Churches of Christ suffered on this Occasion, and so careful to prevent this, which was a Disturbance almost every where (as may be seen in the History of the Acts, and collected out of the Epistles) that after he had finished his Discourse to them, (which we may observe solemnly closed in the End of the foregoing Chapter) he here, in the middle of his Salutation, cannot forbear to caution them against the Authors and Fomenters of these Divisions, and that very pathetically, ver. 17—20. All the rest of this Chapter is spent almost wholly in Salutations. Only the four last Verses contain a Conclusion after St. Paul's Manner.

NOTES.

25 ^e My Gospel. St. Paul cannot be supposed to have used such an Expression as this, unless he knew that what he preached had something in it that distinguished it from what was preached by others; which was plainly the Mystery, as he every where calls it, God's Purpose of taking in the Gentiles to be his People under the Messiah, and that without subjecting them to Circumcision, or the Law of Moses. This is that which he calls here τὸ κήρυγμα Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ, the preaching of Jesus Christ; for without this, he did not think that Christ was preached to the Gentiles as he ought to be: And therefore in several places of his Epistle to the Galatians, he calls it, the Truth, and, the Truth of the Gospel; and uses the like Expressions to the Ephesians and Colossians. This is that Mystery which he is so much concerned that the Ephesians should understand and stick firm to, which was revealed to him according to that Gospel, whereof he was made the Minister; as may be seen at large in that Epistle, particularly chap. iii. 6, 7. The same thing he declares to the Colossians in his Epistle to them, particularly chap. i. 27—29. and ii. 6—8. For that he in a peculiar manner preached this Doctrine, so as none of the other Apostles did, may be seen Acts xxi. 18—25. Acts xv. 6, 7. For though the other Apostles and Elders of the Church at Jerusalem had determined, that the Gentiles should only keep themselves from Things offered to Idols, and from Blood, and from strangled, and from Fornication; yet it is plain enough from what they say, Acts xxi. 20—24. that they taught not, nay, probably did not think what St. Paul openly declares to the Ephesians, that the Law of Moses was abolished by the Death of Christ, Eph. ii. 15. Which if St. Peter and St. James had been as clear in as was St. Paul, St. Peter would not have incurred his Reproof, as he did by his Carriage, mentioned Gal. ii. 12, &c. But in all this may be seen the Wisdom and Goodness of God to both Jews and Gentiles. See Note, Eph. ii. 15.

^f That the Mystery he here speaks of, is the calling of the Gentiles, may be seen in the following Words; which is that which in many of his Epistles he calls Mystery. See Eph. i. 9. and iii. 3—9. Col. i. 25—27.

^g Χρόνους αἰώνιους, in the secular Times, or in the Times under the Law. Why the Times under the Law were called χρόνους αἰώνιους, we may find a Reason in their Jubilees, which were αἰώνες, Sæcula, or Ages, by which all the Time under the Law was measured: And so χρόνους αἰώνιους is used 2 Tim. i. 9. Tit. i. 2. And so αἰώνες are put for the Times of the Law, or the Jubilees, Luke i. 70. Acts iii. 21. 1 Cor. ii. 7. and x. 11. Eph. iii. 9. Col. i. 26. Heb. ix. 26. And so God is called the Rock ἰσχυρὸν αἰώνων, of Ages, Isa. xxvi. 4. in the same Sense that he is called the Rock of Israel, Isa. xxx. 29. i. e. the Strength and Support of the Jewish State: For it is of the Jews the Prophet here speaks. So Exod. xxi. 6. כָּבֵד רַבְרָבִים לְעוֹלָם אֲלֵינוּ, signifies not as we translate it for ever, but to the Jubilee; which will appear if we compare Lev. xxv. 39—41. and Exod. xxi. 2. See Burthogg's Christianity a Revealed Mystery, p. 17, 18. Now that the Times of the Law were the Times spoken of here by St. Paul, seems plain from from that which he declares to have continued a Mystery during all those Times ; to wit, God's Purpose of taking in the Gentiles to be his People under the Messiah : For this could not be said to be a Mystery at any other time, but during the time that the Jews were the peculiar People of God, separated to him from among the Nations of the Earth. Before that time there was no such Name or Notion of Distinction as Gentiles. Before the Days of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the calling of the Israelites to be God's peculiar People, was as much a Mystery, as the calling of others out of other Nations was a Mystery afterwards. All that St. Paul insists on here, and in all the Places where he mentions this Mystery, is to shew, that though God has declared this his Purpose to the Jews, by the Predictions of his Prophets amongst them ; yet it lay concealed from their Knowledge, it was a Mystery to them, they understood no such thing ; there was not any where the least Suspicion or Thought of it, till the Messiah being come, it was openly declared by St. Paul to the Jews and Gentiles, and made out by the Writings of the Prophets, which were now understood.

OUR Saviour had so openly and expressly declared to his Disciples the Destruction of the Temple, that they could by no Means doubt of it, nor of this Consequence of it, viz. that the Ἔθνη, Customs or Rites of the Mosaical Law, as they are called, Acts vi. 14. and xxi. 21. were to cease with it. And this St. Stephen, by what is laid to his Charge, Acts vi. 13, 14. seems to have taught. And upon this Ground it might very well be, that the Apostles and Church of Jerusalem required no more of the Convert Gentiles, than the Observance of such Things as were sufficient to satisfy the Jews that they were not still Heathens and Idolaters. But as for the rest of the Mosaical Rites, they required not the Convert Gentiles (to whom the Mosaical Law was not given) to observe them. This being a very natural and obvious Consequence, which they could not but see, that if by the Destruction of the Temple and Worship of the Jews, those Rites were speedily to be taken away, they were not Observances necessary to the People of God, and of perpetual Obligation. Thus far it is plain

Synopsis.

plain the other Apostles were instructed and satisfied of the Freedom of the Gentile Converts from complying with the Ritual Law. But whether it was revealed to them with the same Clearness as it was to St. Paul, that the Jews too, as well as the Gentiles, who were converted to the Christian Faith, were discharged from their former Obligation to the Ritual Law of Moses, and freed from those Observances, may be doubted: Because as we see they had not at all instructed their Converts of the Circumcision, of their being set at Liberty from that Yoke, which it is very likely they should not have forbore to have done, if they had been convinced of it themselves. For in all that Discourse concerning this Question, Acts xv. 1—21. there is not one Syllable said of the Jews being discharged, by Faith in the Messiah, from the Observance of any of the Mosaical Rites. Nor does it appear that the Apostles of the Circumcision ever taught their Disciples, or suggested to them any such thing; which one can scarce imagine they could have neglected, if it had been revealed to them, and so given them in charge. It is certain, their Converts had never been taught any such thing. For St. James himself acquaints us, Acts xxi. 20. that the many thousands that believed were all zealous of the Law. And what his own Opinion of those Rites was, may be seen ver. 24. where he calls keeping this Part of the Law, walking orderly: And he is concerned to have St. Paul thought a strict Observer thereof. All which could not have been, if it had been revealed to him as positively and expressly as it was to St. Paul, that all Believers in the Messiah, Jews as well as Gentiles, were absolved from the Law of Moses, and were under no Obligation to observe those Ceremonies any longer, they being now no longer necessary to the People of God in this his new Kingdom erected under the Messiah; nor indeed was it necessary that this particular Point should have been from the Beginning revealed to the other Apostles, who were sufficiently instructed for their Mission, and the Conversion of the Brethren the Jews by the Holy Ghost's bringing to their Minds (as was promised) all that our Saviour had said unto them in his Life-time here amongst them, in the true Sense of it. But the sending them to the Jews with this Message, that the Law was abolished, was to cross the very Design of sending them; it was to bespeak an Aversion to their Doctrine, and to stop the Ears of the Jews, and turn their Hearts from them. But St. Paul receiving his whole Knowledge of the Gospel immediately from Heaven by Revelation, seems to have this parti-particular Instruction added, to fit him for the Mission he was chosen to, and make him an effectual Messenger of the Gospel, by furnishing him presently with this necessary Truth concerning the Cessation of the Law, the Knowledge whereof could not but come in time to the other Apostles, when it should be seasonable. Whether this be not so, I leave it to be considered.

This at least is certain, that St. Paul alone, more than all the rest of the Apostles, was taken notice of to have preached that the coming of Christ put an end to the Law; and that in the Kingdom of God erected under the Messiah, the Observation of the Law was neither required, nor availed aught: Faith in Christ was the only Condition of Admittance both for Jew and Gentile, all who believed being now equally the People of God, whether circumcised or uncircumcised. This was that which the Jews, zealous of the Law, which they took to be the irrevocable, unalterable Charter of the People of God, and the standing Rule of his Kingdom, could by no means bear. And therefore provoked by this Report of St. Paul, the Jews, both Converts as well as others, looked upon him as a dangerous Innovator, and an Enemy to the true Religion, and as such seized on him in the Temple, Acts xxi. upon Occasion whereof it was that he was a Prisoner at Rome when he writ this Epistle, where he seems to be concerned, lest now he that was the Apostle of the Gentiles, from whom alone the Doctrine of their Exemption from the Law had its Rise and Support, was in Bonds upon that very Account, it might give an Opportunity to those judaizing Professors of Christianity, who contended that the Gentiles, unless they were circumcised after the Manner of Moses, could not be saved, to unsettle the Minds, and shake the Faith of those whom he had converted. This being the Controversy from whence rose the great Trouble and Danger that in the Time of our Apostle disturbed the Churches collected from among the Gentiles. That which chiefly disquieted the Minds, and shook the Faith of those who from Heathenism were converted to Christianity, was this Doctrine, that except the Converts from Paganism were circumcised, and thereby subjected themselves to the Law and the Jewish Rites, they could have no Benefit by the Gospel, as may be seen all through the Acts, and in almost all St. Paul's Epistles. Wherefore when he heard that the Ephesians stood firm in the Faith, whereby he means their Confidence of their Title to the Privileges and Benefits of the Gospel, without Submission to the Law, (for the introducing the legal Observances into the Kingdom of the Messiah, he declared to be a Subversion of the Gospel, and contrary to the great and glorious Design of that Kingdom) he thanks God for them; and setting forth the gracious and glorious Design of God towards them, prays that they may be enlightned, so as to be able to see the mighty Things done for them, and the immense Advantages they receive by it. In all which he displays the glorious State of that Kingdom, not in the ordinary way of Argumentation and formal Reasoning, which had no Place in an Epistle writ as this is, all as it were in a Rapture, and in a Stile far above the plain didactical Way; he pretends not to teach them any thing, but couches all that he would drop into their Minds, in Thanksgivings and Prayers; which affording a greater Liberty and Flight to his Thoughts, he gives Utterance to them in noble and sublime Expressions, suitable to the unsearchable Wisdom and Goodness of God, shewn to the World in the Work of Redemption. This, though perhaps at first Sight it may render his Meaning a little obscure, and his Expressions the harder to be understood; yet by the Assistance of the two following Epistles, which were both writ whilst he was in the same Circumstances, upon the same Occasion, and to the same Purpose, the Sense and Doctrine of the Apostle here may be so clearly seen, and so perfectly comprehended, that there can be hardly any doubt left about it, to any one who will examine them diligently, and carefully compare them together. The Epistle to the Colossians seems to be writ the very same Time, in the same Run and Warmth of Thoughts, so that the very same Expressions, yet fresh in his Mind, are repeated in many Places; the Form, Phrase, Matter, and all the Parts quite through of these two Epistles, do so perfectly correspond, that one cannot be mistaken in thinking one of them very fit to give Light to the other. And that to the Philippians, writ also by St. Paul during his Bonds at Rome, when attentively looked into, will be found to have the same Aim with the other two; so that in these three Epistles taken together, one may see the great Design of the Gospel laid down as far surpassing the Law, both in Glory, Greatness, Comprehension, Grace and Bounty; and therefore they were Opposers, not Promoters of the true Doctrine of the Gospel, and the Kingdom of God under the Messiah, who would confine it to the narrow and beggarly Elements of this World, as St. Paul calls the positive Ordinances of the Mosaical Institution. To confirm the Gentile Churches, whom he had converted, in this Faith which

Synopsis.

to the Mosaical Rites in the Kingdom of Christ, by giving them a nobler and more glorious View of the Gospel, is the Design of this and the two following Epistles. For the better understanding these Epistles, it might be worth while to shew their Harmony all through; but this Synopsis is not a Place for it, the following Paraphrase and Notes will give an Opportunity to point out several Passages wherein their Agreement will appear.

The latter End of this Epistle, according to St. Paul's usual Method, contains practical Directions and Exhortations.

He that desires to inform himself in what is left upon Record in sacred Scripture, concerning the Church of the Ephesians, which was the Metropolis of Asia, strictly so called, may read the sixth and xxth of the Acts.

^b Πιστός, Faithful. We have observed above, that this Epistle, and that of the Colossians, have all through a very great Resemblance; their Lineaments do so correspond, that I think they may be Twin-Epistles, conceived and brought forth together; so that the very Expressions of the one occurred fresh in St. Paul's Memory, and were made use of in the other. Their being sent by the same Messenger Tychicus, is a farther Probability that they were writ at the same time. Πιστός therefore being found in the Introduction of both Epistles, and no one other of St. Paul's, there is just Reason to think that it was a Term suited to the present Notion he had of those he was writing to, with reference to the Business he was writing about. I take it therefore, that by faithful in Christ Jesus, he means here such as stood firm to Jesus Christ; which he did not count them to do, who made Circumcision necessary to Salvation, and an Observance of Jewish Rites a requisite Part of the Christian Religion. This is plain from his express Words, Gal. v. 1, 2. Stand fast therefore in the Liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the Yoke of Bondage. Behold I Paul say unto you, That if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing, &c. And those that contended for Submission to the Law, he calls Perverters of the Gospel of Christ, Gal. i. 7. And more to the same Purpose may be seen in that Epistle: We shall have an Occasion to confirm this Interpretation of the Word πιστός, faithful, here, when we come to consider the Import of the Word πιστός, Faith, ver. 15. They that would have πίστις, and, not exegetical here, but used only to join under the Title of faithful in Christ Jesus, the Converts in Asia, I shall desire, besides Col. i. 2. to read also 1 Cor. i. 2. and thereby judge in what Sense they are to understand, And to the faithful in Christ Jesus here.

IN this Section St. Paul thanks God for his Grace and Bounty to the Gentiles, wherein he so sets forth both God's gracious Purpose of bringing the Gentiles into his Kingdom under the Messiah, and his actual bestowing on them Blessings of all kinds in Jesus Christ, for a compleat re-instating them in that his heavenly Kingdom, that there could be nothing stronger suggested to make the Ephesians, and other Gentile Converts not to think any more of the Law, and that much inferior Kingdom of his, established upon the Mosaical Institution, and adapted to a little Canton of the Earth, and a small Tribe of Men, as now necessary to be retained under this more spiritual Institution, and celestial Kingdom erected under Jesus Christ, intended to comprehend Men of all Nations, and extend itself to the utmost Bounds of the Earth for the greater Honour of God, or as St. Paul speaks, to the Praise of the Glory of God.

³ ^b Ἐν Χριστῷ, In Christ, I take to be put here emphatically, and to signify the same with fillets all in all, v. 23. which is more fully explained, Col. iii. 11. Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, Circumcision nor Uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, Bond or Free, but Christ is all, and in all.

^c Us. The right understanding of this Section, and indeed of this whole Epistle, depends very much on understanding aright who are more especially comprehended under the Terms, Us and

We, from ver. 3. to 12. For Us must signify either, 1. St. Paul himself personally; but that the visible Tenor of the Discourse at first sight plainly destroys: Besides it suits not St. Paul's Modesty to attribute so much in particular to himself, as is spoken of Us and We in this Section; or if we could think he would give himself the Liberty, yet ver. 12. overturns it all; for ἡμεῖς τῶν προηλατισμένων; We who first trusted in Christ, can by no means be admitted to be spoken by St. Paul personally of himself. Add to this, that in this very Chapter, no farther off than ver. 15. St. Paul speaking of himself, says I, in the Singular Number; and so he does Chap. iii. ver. 7, 8. Or,

2. It must signify Believers in general; but that προηλατισμένων; joined to it will not admit, for εὐε, the first Believers, cannot signify we all that are Believers, but restrains the Persons to some sort of Men that then began to believe, i. e. the Gentiles: And then the next Words, v. 13. have an easy and natural Connexion; We other Gentiles who first believed in Christ, in whom also ye Gentiles, also of Ephesus, after ye heard, believed. Or,

3. It must signify the Convert Jews. But would it not be somewhat preposterous for St. Paul so much to magnify God's Goodness and Bounty to the Jews in particular, in an Epistle writ to a Church of converted Gentiles; wherein he addresses himself to the Gentiles, in Contradistinction to the Jews, and tells them they were to be made Co-partners with them in the Kingdom of the Messiah, which was opened to them by abolishing the Law of Moses, intimated plainly in this very Section, ver. 7—10. Wherein he magnifies the Riches of the Favour of God, to the Persons he is speaking of under the Denomination Us, in gathering again all things, i. e. Men of all sorts, under Christ the Head; which could not mean the Jews alone: But of this he speaks more openly afterwards. Farther, We here, and We, chap. ii. 3. must be the same, and denote the same Persons; but the We, chap. ii. 3. can neither be St. Paul alone, nor Believers in general, nor Jewish Converts in particular, as the obvious Sense of the Place demonstrates: For neither St. Paul can be called we all, nor is it true that all the Convert Jews had their Conversation among the Gentiles, as our Bible renders the Greek; which if otherwise to be understood, is more directly against signifying the Jews. These therefore being excluded from being meant by We and Us here, who can remain to be signified thereby but the Convert Gentiles in general? That St. Paul, who was the Apostle of the Gentiles, did often in an obliging manner join himself with the Gentile Converts under the Terms Us and We, as if he had been one of them, there are so many Instances, that it cannot seem strange that he should do so in this Section, Rom. v. 1—11. where it is plain all along under the Term Us, he speaks of the Gentile Converts. And many other Passages might be brought out of this Epistle to evince it. Chap. i. 11. he saith, We have obtained an Inheritance. Those We, it is plain, chap. iii. 6. were Gentiles. So chap. ii. 5. when We, i. e. Converts of the Gentiles, were dead in Sins: For I do not remember that the Jews are any where said by St. Paul to be dead in Sins; that is one of the distinguishing Characters of the Gentiles: And there we see in the same Verse we is changed into ye: And so ver. 6, and 7, having spoke of the Gentiles in the first Person us, in the Beginning of the next Verse it is changed into ye, i. e. ye Ephesians, a Part of those Gentiles. To this I shall add one Place more out of the parallel Epistle to the Colossians, chap. i. 12, 13. where he uses ἡμεῖς, us, for the Convert Gentiles, changing the ye in the 10th Verse to us in the 12th; the Matter of giving Thanks being the same all along from ver. 3. where it begins, and is repeated here again, ver. 12. i. e. the removing of the Gentiles out of the Kingdom of the Devil and Darknels, into the Kingdom of his beloved Son: Or as he expresses it, Eph. i. 6. Wherein he hath made us accepted in the Beloved. And in the same Sense he uses ἡμεῖς, us, Col. ii. 14. For those that the Hand-writing of Ordinances was against and contrary to, were the Gentiles, as he declares, Eph. ii. 14, 15. who were kept off from coming to be the People of God by those Ordinances, which were that wherein the Enmity between the Jews and Gentiles consisted, and was kept up; which therefore Christ abolished, to make way for their Union into one Body under Christ their Head. Other Passages tending to the clearing of this, we shall have occasion to take notice of as they occur in the Sequel of this Epistle.

^d Ἐν αὐτῷ, in him, i. e. Christ : In the former Verse it is εὐλογῶντες ἑμᾶς ἐν πάσῃ εὐλογία πνευματικῇ ἐν Χριστῷ. Καθὼς ἐξελέξατο ἑμᾶς ἐν αὐτῷ. All which together make up this Sense ; “ As it was in Consideration of Christ alone, that God heretofore, before the Foundation of the World, designed us Gentiles to be his People ; so now the Messiah is come, all the Blessings and Benefits we are to receive in his heavenly Kingdom, are laid up in him, and to be had only by our Faith and Dependance on him, without any Respect to the Law, or any other Consideration.”

^e Ἅγιοι, Saints, in St. Paul's Epistle, is known to signify Christians, i. e. such as made Profession of the Gospel, for those were now the People of God.

^f See in Col. i. 22. this Verse explained, where comparing it with the immediate preceding Words, ver. 21. one may find a farther Reason to take us here to signify the Gentile Converts, the same thing being applied there solely to the Gentile Converts of Colosse.

^g Affection to all the Saints. That this is the Meaning may be seen ver. 15. where to their true Faith in Christ, which he was rejoiced with, he joined τὴν ἀγάπην εἰς πάντας τοὺς ἁγίους, Love unto all the Saints. The very same thing which he takes notice of in the Colossians in the very same Words, Col. i. 4. Why Love is so often mentioned in this Epistle, as chap. iii. 18. and iv. 2, 15, 16. and v. 2. and vi. 23. we may find a Reason, chap. ii. 11—22. wherein there is an Account given of the Enmity between the Jews and Gentiles, which Christ had taken away the Cause of ; and therefore the ceasing of it was one great Mark of Men's being right in the Faith, and of their having true and worthy Notions of Christ, who had broke down the Wall of Partition, and opened the Kingdom of Heaven to all equally who believed in him without any the least Distinction of Nation, Blood, Profession or Religion that they were of before ; all that being now done away, and superseded by the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ the Righteous, to make way for a more enlarged and glorious Kingdom solely by Faith in him, which now made the only Distinction among Men ; so that all who agreed in that were thereby brought to the same Level, to be all Brethren and Fellow-Members in Christ, and the People or Sons of God, as he says in the next Verse.

^h It was not by the Observances of the Law, but by Faith alone in Jesus Christ, that God predetermined to take the Gentiles into the State of Sonship or Adoption. This was another particular for which St. Paul blesses God in the Name of the Gentiles ; the Consideration whereof was fit to raise the Ephesians Thoughts above the Law, and keep them firm in Adherence to the Liberty of the Gospel.

ⁱ Tibetia, Adoption or Sonship belonged only to the Jews before the coming of the Messiah, Rom. ix. 4. For after the Nations of the Earth had revolted from God their Lord and Maker, and became Servants and Worshipers of the Devil, God abandoned them to the Vassalage they had chosen, and owned none of them for his but the Israelites, whom he had adopted to be his Children and People. See Exod. iv. 22. Jer. xxxi. 9. Luke i. 54. Which Adoption is expressed to Abraham in these Words, Gen. xvii. 7. I will be a God to thee, and to thy Seed after thee, and to the Israelites. Exod. vi. 7. I will take you to me for a People, and I will be your God; and so Lev. xxvi. 12. I will walk amongst you, and be your God, and ye shall be my People. And so we see that those whom, Exod. iv. he calls his Sons, he calls in several other Places his People, as standing both when spoken nationally for one and the same Thing.

^k According to the good Pleasure of his Will; spoken here in the same Sense with what is said, Rom. ix. 18, 23, 24. God under the Law took the Nation of Israel to be his People, without any Merit in them; and so it is of his mere good Pleasure that he even then purposed to enlarge his Kingdom under the Gospel, by admitting all that of all the Nations whatsoever would come in and submit themselves, not to the Law of Moses, but to the Rule and Dominion of his Son Jesus Christ; and this, as he says in the next Words, for the Praise of the Glory of his Grace.

^m I do not think that any thing of greater Force can be imagined to raise the Minds of the Ephesians above the Jewish Rituals, and keep them steady in the Freedom of the Gospel, than what St. Paul says here, viz. That God before the Foundation of the World freely determined within himself to admit the Gentiles into his Kingdom to be his People, for the Manifestation of his free Grace all the World over, that all Nations might glorify him; and this for the sake of his Son Jesus Christ, who was his Beloved, and so was chiefly regarded in all this; and therefore it was to mistake or pervert the End of the Gospel, and debase this glorious Dispensation, to make it subservient to the Jewish Ritual, or to suppose that the Law of Moses was to support, or to be supported by the Kingdom of the Messiah, which was to be of a larger Extent, and settled upon another Foundation; whereof the Mosaic Institution was but a narrow, faint and typical Representation.

ⁿ We does as plainly here stand for the Gentile Converts, as it is manifest it does in the parallel Place, Col. i. 13, 14.

N O T E S.

8^o That by πάση σοφία, St. Paul means a Comprehension of the revealed Will of God in the Gospel, more particularly the Mystery of God's Purpose of calling the Gentiles, and making out of them a People and Inheritance to himself in his Kingdom under the Messiah, may be perceived by reading and comparing, chap. i. 8. Col. i. 9, 10, 28. and ii. 2, 3. Which Verses read with Attention to the Context, plainly shew what St. Paul means here.

^p That this is the Meaning of this Verse, I refer my Reader to Col. i. 9, 10.

9^a I cannot think that God's Purpose of calling the Gentiles, so often termed a Mystery, and so emphatically declared to be concealed from Ages, and particularly revealed to himself, and as we find in this Epistle, where it is so called by St. Paul five times, and four times in that to the Colossians, is by Chance, or without some particular Reason. The Question was, whether the converted Gentiles should hearken to the Jews, who would persuade them it was necessary for them to submit to Circumcision and the Law, or to St. Paul, who had taught them otherwise? Now there could be nothing of more Force to destroy the Authority of the Jews in the Case, than the shewing them that the Jews knew nothing of the Matter; that it was a perfect Mystery to them, concealed from their Knowledge, and made manifest in God's good Time, at the coming of the Messiah, and most particularly discovered to St. Paul by immediate Revelation, to be communicated by him to the Gentiles, who therefore had Reason to stick firm to this great Truth, and not to be led away from the Gospel which he had taught them.

10^s Ἀνακεφαλαιώσασθαι properly signifies to recapitulate or recollect, and put together the Heads of a Discourse. But since that cannot possibly be the Meaning of this Word here, we must search for the Meaning which St. Paul gives it here in the Doctrine of the Gospel, and not in the Propriety of the Greek.

1. It is plain in sacred Scripture, that Christ at first had the Rule and Supremacy over all, and was Head over all. See Col. i. 15—17. Heb. i. 8.

2. There are also manifest Indications in Scripture, that a principal Angel, with great Numbers of Angels his Followers joining with him, revolted from this Kingdom of God, and standing out in Rebellion, erected to themselves a Kingdom of their own, in Opposition to the Kingdom of God, Luke x. 17—20. and had all the heathen World Vassals and Subjects of that their Kingdom, Luke iv. 5—8. Matth. xii. 26—30. John xiii. 31. and xiv. 30. and xvi. 11. Eph. vi. 12. Col. i. 13. Rom. i. 18. Acts xxvi. 18, &c.

3. That Christ recovered this Kingdom, and was re-instated in the Supremacy and Headship, in the Fulness of Time (when he came to destroy the Kingdom of Darknes, as St. Paul calls it here) at his Death and Resurrection. Hence, just before his Suffering, he says, John xii. 31. Now is the Judgment of this World; now shall the Prince of this World be cast out. From whence may be seen the Force of Christ's Argument, Matt. xii. 28. If I cast out Devils by the Spirit of God, then the Kingdom of God is come upon you: For the Jews acknowledged that the Spirit of God, which had been withdrawn from them, was not to be given out again till the coming of the Messiah, under whom the Kingdom of God was to be erected. See also Luke x. 18, 19.

4. What was the State of his Power and Dominion from the Defection of the Angels, and setting up the Kingdom of Darknes, till his being re-instated in the Fulness of Time, there is little revealed in sacred Scripture, as not so much pertaining to the Recovery of Men from their Apostasy, and re-instating them in the Kingdom of God. It is true, God gathered to himself a People, and set up a Kingdom here on Earth, which he maintained in the little Nation of the Jews till the setting up the Kingdom of his Son, Acts i. 3. and ii. 36. which was to take place as God's only Kingdom here on Earth for the future. At the Head of this, which is called the Church, he sets Jesus Christ his Son; but that is not all, for he having by his Death and Resurrection conquered Satan, John xii. 31. and xvi. 11. Col. ii. 15. Heb. ii. 14. Ephes. iv. 8. has all Power given him in Heaven and Earth, and is made the Head over all Things for the Church. [Matth. xxviii. 18. and xi. 27. John iii. 35. and xi. 3. Ephes. i. 20 — 22. Heb. i. 2 — 4. and ii. 9. 1 Cor. xv. 25, 27. Phil. ii. 8 — 11. Col. ii. 10. Heb. x. 12, 13. Acts ii. 33. and v. 31. In both which Places it should be translated, to the Right Hand of God.] Which re-instating him again in the supreme Power, and restoring him, after the Conquest of the Devil, to that compleat Headship which he had over all Things, being now revealed under the Gospel, as may be seen in the Texts here quoted, and in other Places; I leave to the Reader to judge, whether St. Paul might not probably have an Eye to that in this Verse, and in his Use of the word ἀνεκεφαλώσασθαι, But to search thoroughly into this Matter (which I have not in my small Reading found any where sufficiently taken notice of) would require a Treatise.

It may suffice at present, to take notice that this Exaltation of his is expressed, Phil. ii. 9, 10 by all Things in Heaven and Earth bowing the Knee at his Name; which we may see farther explained, Rev. v. 13. Which Acknowledgment of his Honour and Power, was that perhaps which the proud Angel that fell refusing, thereupon rebelled.

If our Translators have rendered the Sense of ἀνεκεφαλώσασθαι right, by gather together into one, it will give countenance to those who are inclined to understand by things in Heaven, and things on Earth, the Jewish and Gentile World: For of them St. John plainly says, John xi. 52. That Jesus should die, not for the Nation of the Jews only, but that also συναγάγη εἰς ἓν, he should gather together in one the Children of God that were scattered abroad, i. e. the Gentiles that were to believe, and were by Faith to become the Children of God; whereof Christ himself speaks thus, John x. 16. Other Sheep I have which are not of this Fold, them also I must bring, and they shall hear my Voice, and there shall be one Fold, and one Shepherd. This is the gathering together into one that our Saviour speaks of, and is that which very well suits with the Apostle's Design here, where he says in express Words, that Christ makes τὰ ἀμφότερα ἓν both Jews and Gentiles one, Ephes. ii. 14. Now that St. Paul should use Heaven and Earth for Jews and Gentiles, will not be thought so very strange, if we consider that Daniel himself expresses the Nation of the Jews by the Name of Heaven, Dan. viii. 10. Nor does he want an Example of it in our Saviour himself, who Luke xxi. 26. by Powers of Heaven, plainly signifies the great Men of the Jewish Nation: Nor is this the only Place in this Epistle of St. Paul to the Ephesians, which will bear this Interpretation of Heaven and Earth; he who shall read the fifteen first Verses of chap. iii. and carefully weigh the Expressions, and observe the Drift of the Apostle in them, will not find that he does manifest Violence to St. Paul's Sense, if he understands by the Family in Heaven and Earth, ver. 15. the united Body of Christians, made up of Jews and Gentiles, living still promiscuously among those two Sorts of People, who continued in in their Unbelief. However, this Interpretation I am not positive in, but offer it as a Matter of Enquiry, to such who think an impartial Search into the true Meaning of the sacred Scripture the best Employment of all the Time they have.

11^t So the Greek Word ἐκκληρώθημεν will signify, if taken, as I think it may, in the Passive Voice, i. e. we Gentiles who were formerly in the Possession of the Devil, are now by Christ brought into the Kingdom, Dominion and Possession of God again. This Sense seems very well to agree with the Design of the Place, viz. That the Gentile World had now in Christ a Way opened for their returning into the Possession of God under their proper Head Jesus Christ. To which suit the Words that follow, that we who first amongst the Gentiles entertained Terms of Reconciliation by Christ, might be to the Praise of his Glory, i. e. so that we of the Gentiles who first believed, did, as it were, open a new Scene of Praise and Glory to God, by being restored to be his People, and become again a Part of his Possession; a thing not before understood, nor looked for. See Acts xi. 18. and xv. 3, 14—19. the Apostle's Design here being to satisfy the Ephesians, that the Gentiles were by Faith in Christ restored to all the Privileges of the People of God, as far forth as the Jews themselves. See chap. ii. 11—22. particularly ver. 19. As to ἐκκληρώθημεν, it may, I humbly conceive, do no Violence to the Place to suggest this Sense, we became the Inheritance, instead of we have obtained an Inheritance; that being the Way wherein God speaks of his People the Israelites, of whom he says, Deut. xxxii. 9. The Lord's Portion is his People, Jacob is the Lot of his Inheritance. See also Deut. iv. 20. 1 Kings viii. 51. and other Places. And the Inheritance which the Gentiles were to obtain, was to be obtained, we see, Col. i. 12, 13. by their being translated out of the Kingdom of Satan into the Kingdom of Christ: So that take it either Way, that we have obtained an Inheritance, or we are become his People and Inheritance; it in effect amounts to the same thing, and so I leave it to the Reader.

^u i. e. God had purposed, even before the taking the Israelites to be his People, to take in the Gentiles by Faith in Christ to be his People again; and what he purposes he will do without asking the Counsel or Consent of any one; and therefore you may be sure of this your Inheritance, whether the Jews consent to it or no.

12^w It was a Part of the Character of the Gentiles, to be without Hope; see chap. ii. 12. But when they received the Gospel of Jesus Christ, then they ceased to be Aliens from the Commonwealth of Israel, and became the People of God, and had Hope as well as the Jews, or, as St. Paul expresses it in the Name of the converted Romans, Rom. v. 2. We rejoice in Hope of the Glory of God. This is another Evidence that ἡμεῖς, we, here stands for the Gentile-Converts. That the Jews were not without Hope, or without God in the World, appears from that very Text, Eph. ii. 12. where the Gentiles are set apart under a discriminating Description properly belonging to them, the sacred Scripture no where speaks of the Hebrew Nation, that People of God, as without God, or without Hope, the contrary appears every where. See Rom. ii. 17. and xi. 1. Acts xxiv. 15. and xxvi. 6, 7. and xxviii. 20. And therefore the Apostle might well say, that those of the Gentiles who first entertained Hopes in Christ were to the Praise of the Glory of God. All Mankind having thereby now a new and greater Subject of praising and glorifying God for this great and unspeakable Grace and Goodness to them, of which before they had no Knowledge, no Thought, no Expectation.

13. bring Praise and Glory to God. And ye Ephesians are also in Jesus Christ become God's People and Inheritance^x, having heard the Word of Truth, the good Tidings of your Salvation, and having believed in him, have been sealed by the Holy Ghost; Which was promised, and is 13^x ἐν ᾧ ἡμεῖς ἐσφραγίσθημεν, ver. 11. St. Paul making a Parallel here between those of the Gentiles that first believed, and the Ephesians, tells them, that as those who heard and received the Gospel before them, became the People of God, &c. to the Praise and Glory of his Name, so they the Ephesians, by believing became the People of God, &c. to the Praise and Glory of his Name; only in this Verse there is an Ellipsis of ἐκλήρωσιν.

14^y The Holy Ghost was neither promised nor given to the Heathen, who were Apostates from God, and Enemies, but only to the People of God, and therefore the Convert Ephesians having received it, might be assured thereby that they were now the People of God, and rest satisfied in this Pledge of it.

^z The giving out of the Holy Ghost, and the Gift of Miracles, was the great Means whereby the Gentiles were brought to receive the Gospel, and become the People of God.

^a Redemption in Sacred Scripture signifies not always strictly paying a Ransom for a Slave delivered from Bondage, but Deliverance from a slavish Estate into Liberty: So God declares to the Children of Israel in Egypt, Exod. vi. 6. I will redeem you with a stretched out Arm. What is meant by it is clear from the former Part of the Verse, in these Words, I will bring you out from under the Burden of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their Bondage. And in the next Verse he adds, And I will take you to me for my People, and I will be to you a God: The very Case here. So God in the Place cited promised to deliver his People out of Bondage under the word redeem, so Deut. vii. 8. he telleth them, that he had brought them out with a mighty Hand, and redeemed them out of the House of Bondage from the Hand of Pharaoh King of Egypt: Which Redemption was performed by God, who is called the Lord of Hosts their Redeemer, without the Payment of any Ransom. But here there was περιποίησις, a Purchase; and what the Thing purchased was we may see, Acts xx. 28. viz. the Church of God, ἡν περιποίησάμεν, which he purchased with his own Blood, to be a People that should be the Lord's Portion, and the Lot of his Inheritance, as Moses speaks of the Children of Israel, Deut. xxxii. 9. And hence St. Peter calls the Christians, 1 Pet. xi. 9. λαὸς εἰς περιποίησιν, which in the Margin of our Bible is rightly translated a purchased People: But if any one takes ἐκλήρωσιν, ver. 11. to signify we obtained an Inheritance, then κληρονομία, in this Verse, will signify that Inheritance, εἰς ἀπολύτρωσιν τοῦ σώματος περιποίησις, until the Redemption of that purchased Inheritance, i. e. until the Redemption of our Bodies, viz. Resurrection unto eternal Life. But besides that, this seems to have a more harsh and forced Sense, the other Interpretation is more consonant to the Stile and Current of the Sacred Scripture, and (which weighs more with me) answers St. Paul's Design here, which is to establish the Ephesians in a settled Persuasion, that they, and all the other Gentiles that believed in Christ, were as much the People of God, his Lot, and his Inheritance, as the Jews themselves, and equally Partakers with them of all the Privileges and Advantages belonging thereunto, as is visible by the Tenor of the second Chapter. And this is the Use St. Paul mentions of God setting his Seal, 2 Tim. ii. 19. that it might mark who are his: And accordingly we find it applied, Rev. vii. 3. to the Foreheads of his Servants, that they might be known to be his, chap. iv. 1. For so did those who purchased Servants, as it were take Possession of them, by setting their Marks on their Foreheads.

¹⁴ ^b As he declared, ver. 6, and 12. that the other Gentiles, by believing and becoming the People of God, enhanced thereby the Praise and Glory of his Grace and Goodness; so here, ver. 14. he pronounces the same thing of the Ephesians in particular, to whom he is writing, to possess their Minds with the Sense of the happy Estate they were now in by being Christians; for which he thanks God, ver. 3. and here again in the next Words.

HAVING in the foregoing Section thanked God for the great Favours and Mercies which from the Beginning he had purposed for the Gentiles under the Messiah, in such a Description of that Design of the Almighty, as was fit to rouse their Thoughts above the Law, and, as St. Paul calls them, beggarly Elements of the Jewish Constitution, which was nothing in Comparison of the great and glorious Design of the Gospel, taking notice of their standing firm in the Faith he had taught them, and thanking God for it, he here in this prays God that he would enlighten the Minds of the Ephesian Converts, to see fully the great Things that were actually done for them, and the glorious Estate they were in under the Gospel, of which in this Section he gives such a Draught, as in every Part of it shews, that in the Kingdom of Christ they are set far above the Mosaical Rites, and enjoy the spiritual and incomprehensible Benefits of it, not by the Tenure of a few outward Ceremonies, 15 ° Ἀκούσας τὴν κατὰ θεοῦ πίστιν ἐν τῷ κυρίῳ Ἰησοῦ, Wherefore I also after I heard of your Faith in the Lord Jesus. St. Paul's hearing of their Faith here mentioned, cannot signify his being informed that they had received the Gospel, and believed in Christ, this would have looked impertinent for him to have told them, since he himself had converted them, and had lived a long time amongst them, as has been already observed. We must therefore seek another Reason of his mentioning his hearing of their Faith, which must signify something else than his being barely acquainted that they were Christians, and this we may find in these Words chap. iii. 13. Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my Tribulations for you. He, as Apostle of the Gentiles, had alone preached up Freedom from the Law, which the other Apostles who had not that Province (see Gal. ii. 9.) in their converting the Jews, seem to have said nothing of, as is plain from Acts xxi. 20, 21. It was upon account of his preaching that the Christian Converts were not under any Subjection to the Observances of the Law, and that the Law was abolished by the Death of Christ, that he was seized at Jerusalem, and sent as a Criminal to Rome to be tried for his Life, where he was now a Prisoner. He being therefore afraid that the Ephesians and other Convert Gentiles, seeing him thus under Persecution, in Hold, and in danger of Death, upon the Score of his being the Preacher and zealous Propagator and Minister of this great Article of the Christian Faith, which seemed to have had its Rise and Defence wholly from him, might give it up, and not stand firm in the Faith which he had taught them, was rejoiced when in his Confinement he heard that they persisted stedfast in that Faith, and in their Love to all the Saints, i. e. as well the Convert Gentiles that did not, as those Jews that did conform to the Jewish Rites. This I take to be the Meaning of his hearing of their Faith here mentioned; and conformably hereunto, ch. vi. 19, 20. he desires their Prayers, that he may with Boldness preach the Mystery of the Gospel of which he is the Ambassador in Bonds. This Mystery of the Gospel, it is plain from ch. i. 9, &c. and ch. iii. 3—7. and other Places, was God's gracious Purpose of taking the Gentiles, as Gentiles, to be his People under the Gospel. St. Paul, whilst he was a Prisoner at Rome, writ to two other Churches, that at Philippi and that at Coloss: To the Colessians, ch. i. 4. he uses almost verbatim the same Expression that he does here, having heard of your Faith in Christ Jesus, and of your Love which ye have to all the Saints: He gives Thanks to God for their knowing and sticking to the Grace of God in Truth, which had been taught them by Epaphras, who had informed St. Paul of this, and their Affection to him; whereupon he expresses his great Concern that they should continue in that Faith, and not be drawn away to Judaizing, which may be seen from ver. 14. of this Chapter, to the End of the Second. So that the hearing of their Faith, which he says both to the Ephesians and Colessians, is not his being told that they were Christians, but their continuing in the Faith they were converted to and instructed in, viz. that they became the People of God, and were admitted into his Kingdom only by Faith in Christ, without submitting to the Mosaical Institution, and legal Observances, which was the Thing he was afraid they should be drawn to, either through any Despondency in themselves, or Impertunity of others now that he was removed from them, and in Bonds, and thereby give up that Truth and Freedom of the Gospel which he had preached to them.

NOTES.

To the same Purpose he writes to the Philippians, chap. i. 3—5. telling them that he gave Thanks to God, ἐπὶ πάσῃ τῇ μνησίᾳ αὐτῶν, upon every Mention was made of them, upon every Account he received of their continuing in the Fellowship and Profession of the Gospel, as it had been taught them by him, without changing or wavering at all, which is the same with hearing of their Faith, and that thereupon he prays amongst other things, chiefly that they might be kept from Judaizing: As appears ver. 27, 28. where the Thing he desired to hear of them was, that they stood firm in one Spirit, and one Mind, jointly contending for the Faith of the Gospel, in nothing startled by those who are Opposers; so the Words are, and not their Adversaries. Now there was no Party at that time, who were in Opposition to the Gospel which St. Paul preached, and with whom the Convert Gentiles had any Dispute, but those who were for keeping up Circumcision, and the Jewish Rites under the Gospel. These were they whom St. Paul apprehended alone as likely to affright the Convert Gentiles, and make them start out of the way from the Gospel, which is the proper Import of πειράζουσιν. Though this Passage clearly enough indicates what it was that he was and should always be glad to hear of them, yet he more plainly shews his Apprehension of Danger to them, to be from the Contenders for Judaism, in the express Warning he gives them against that Sort of Men. ch. iii. 2, 3. So that this Hearing which he mentions, is the Hearing of these three Churches persisting firmly in the Faith of the Gospel which he had taught them, without being drawn at all towards Judaizing. It was that for which St. Paul gave Thanks; and it may reasonably be presumed that if he had writ to any other Churches of Converted Gentiles, whilst he was a Prisoner at Rome, upon the like Carriage of theirs, something of the same Kind would have been said to them. So that the great Business of these three Epistles written during his being a Prisoner at Rome, was to explain the Nature of the Kingdom of God under the Messiah, from which the Gentiles were now no longer shut out by the Ordinances of the Law; and confirm the Churches in the Belief of it. St. Paul being chosen and sent by God to preach the Gospel to the Gentiles, had in all his preaching set forth the Largeness and Freedom of the Kingdom of God now laid open to the Gentiles, by taking away the Wall of Partition that kept them out. This made the Jews his Enemies, and upon this Account they had seized him, and he was now a Prisoner at Rome. Fearing that the Gentiles might be wrought upon to submit to the Law, now that he was thus removed, or suffering for this Gospel, he tells these three Churches, that he rejoices at their standing firm in the Faith, and thereupon writes to them, to explain and confirm to them the Kingdom of God under the Messiah, into which now all Men had an Entrance by Faith in Christ, without any Regard to the Terms whereby the Jews were formerly admitted. The setting forth the Largeness and free Admittance into this Kingdom, which was so much for the Glory of God, and so much shewed his Mercy and Bounty to Mankind, that he makes it as it were a new Creation, is, I say, plainly the Business of these three Epistles, which tend all visibly to the same Thing, that any one that reads them cannot mistake the Apostle's Meaning, they giving such a clear Light one to another.

15^d All the Saints. One finds in the very reading of these Words, that the word All is emphatical here, and put in for some particular Reason. I can, I confess, see no other but this, viz. That they were not by the Judaizers in the least drawn away from their Esteem and Love of those who were not circumcised, nor observed the Jewish Rites; which was a Proof to him, that they stood firm in the Faith and Freedom of the Gospel, which he had instructed them in.

^f Father of Glory: An Hebrew Expression which cannot be well changed, since it signifies his being glorious himself, being the Fountain from whence all Glory is derived, and to whom all Glory is to be given. In all which Senses it may be taken here, where there is nothing that appropriates it in peculiar to any one of them.

^g Wisdom is visibly used here for a right Conception and Understanding of the Gospel. See Note, ver. 8.

^h Revelation is used by St. Paul, not only for immediate Inspiration, but as it is meant here, and in most other Places, for such Truths which could not have been found out by human Reason, but had their first Discovery from Revelation, though Men afterwards came to the Knowledge of those Truths by reading them in the Sacred Scripture, where they are set down for their Information.

ⁱ Us here, and you, ch. ii. 1. and us, ch. ii. 5. it is plain signify the same, who being dead, partook of the Energy of that great Power that raised Christ from the Dead, i. e. the Convert Gentiles; and all those glorious Things he in v. 18—23. intimates to them, by praying they may see them, he here in this 19th Verse tells us, are bestowed on them as Believers, and not as Observers of the Mosaic Rites.

²⁰ Ἐν τοῖς ἑπουρανίοις, in heavenly Places, says our Translation, and so v. 3. but possibly the marginal Reading, Things, will be thought the better, if we compare, v. 22. He set him at his right Hand, i. e. transferred on him his Power; ἐν ἑπουρανίοις, i. e. in his Heavenly Kingdom; that is to say, set him at the Head of his Heavenly Kingdom; see v. 22. This Kingdom in the Gospel is called indifferently βασιλεία Θεοῦ, the Kingdom of God; and βασιλεία τῶν ἁπάντων, the Kingdom of Heaven. God had before a Kingdom and People in this World, viz. that Kingdom which he erected to himself of the Jews, selected and brought back to himself out of the apostatized Mass of revolted and rebellious Mankind: With this his People he dwelt, among them he had his Habitation, and ruled as their King in a peculiar Kingdom; and therefore we see that our Saviour calls the Jews, Matt. viii. 12. The Children of the Kingdom. But that Kingdom, though God's, was not yet βασιλεία τῶν οὐρανῶν, the Kingdom of Heaven; that came with Christ: See Mat. iii. 2. & x. 7. That was but ἐπίγειος, of the Earth, compared to this ἐπουράνιος, heavenly Kingdom, which was to be erected under Jesus Christ; and with that Sort of Distinction our Saviour seems to speak and use those Words, ἐπίγειος, earthly, and ἐπουράνιος, heavenly, John iii. 12. ¶ In his Discourse there with Nicodemus, he tells him, unless a Man were born again he could not see the Kingdom of God. This being born again stuck with Nicodemus, which Christ reproaches him with, since being a Teacher in Israel, he understood not that which belonged to the Jewish Constitution, wherein to be baptized, for Admittance into that Kingdom, was called and counted to be born again; and therefore says, if having spoken to you ἐπίγειος, things relating to your own earthly Constitution, you comprehend me not, how shall you receive what I say, if I speak to you τὰ ἐπουράνια, heavenly things, i. e. of that Kingdom which is purely heavenly? And according to this St. Paul's Words here, Eph. i. 10. τὰ τὰ ἐν τοῖς οὐρανῶν; καὶ τὰ ἐπὶ τῆς γῆς, (which occur again, ch. iii. 15. Col. i. 16, 20.) may perhaps not unfitly be interpreted of the spiritual heavenly Kingdom of God, and that also of the more earthly one of the Jews, whose Rites and positive Institutions St. Paul calls Elements of the World, Gal. iv. 3. Col. ii. 8, 9. which were both at the coming of the Messiah consolidated into one, and together re-established under one Head, Christ Jesus. The whole Drift of this and the two following Chapters, being to declare the Union of Jews and Gentiles into one Body, under Christ the Head of the heavenly Kingdom. And he that sedately compares Eph. ii. 16. with Col. i. 20. in both which Places it is evident the Apostle speaks of the same Thing, viz. God's reconciling of both Jews and Gentiles by the Cross of Christ, will scarce be able to avoid thinking, that Things in Heaven, and Things on Earth, signify the People of the one and the other of these Kingdoms.

21 ^k These abstract Names are frequently used in the New Testament, according to the Stile of the Eastern Languages, for those vested with Power and Dominion, &c. and that not only here on Earth amongst Men, but in Heaven among superior Beings: And so often are taken to express Ranks and Degrees of Angels; and though they are generally agreed to do so here, yet there is no Reason to exclude earthly Potentates out of this Text, when πύξαι; necessarily includes them; for that Men in Power are one Sort of ἀρχαὶ and ἐξουσίαι, in a Scripture-Sense, our Saviour's own Words shew, Luke xii. 11. & xx. 2. Besides, the Apostle's chief Aim here being to satisfy the Ephesians, that they were not to be subjected to the Law of Moses, and the Government of those who ruled by it, but they were called to be of the Kingdom of the Messiah: It is not to be supposed, that here, where he speaks of Christ's Exaltation to a Power and Dominion paramount to all other, he should not have an Eye to that little and low Government of the Jews, which it was beneath the Subjects of so glorious a Kingdom as that of Jesus Christ to submit themselves to: And this the next Words do farther enforce.

23. is his Body, which is compleated by him alone¹, from whom comes all that gives any thing of Excellency and Perfection to any of the Members of the Church: Where to be a Jew or a Greek, circumcised, or uncircumcised, a Barbarian or a Scythian, a Slave, or a Freeman, matters not; but to be united to him, to partake of his Influence and Spirit, is all in all.

1. And^m you also being dead in Trespasses and Sins, in which you Gentiles, before you were converted to the Gospel, walked according to the State and Constitution of this World,

Which is his body, the²³ fulness of him that filleth all in all.

N O T E S.

23¹ Πλήρως, Fulness, here is taken in a passive Sense, for a Thing to be filled or compleated, as appears by the following Words, of him that filleth all in all, i. e. It is Christ the Head who perfecteth the Church, by supplying and furnishing all Things to all the Members, to make them what they are and ought to be in that Body. See chap. v. 18. Col. ii. 10. & iii. 10, 11.

1^m Καὶ, And, gives us here the Thread of St. Paul's Discourse, which is impossible to be understood without seeing the Train of it; without that View it would be like a Rope of Gold Dust, all the Parts would be excellent, and of Value, but would seem heaped together, without Order or Connexion. This And here, it is true, ties the Parts together, and points out the Connexion and Coherence of St. Paul's Discourse; but yet it stands so far from ἐκείθεν, set, in v. 20. of the foregoing Chapter; and συνέσωσάσθε, quicken'd, v. 5. of this Chapter, which are the two Verbs it copulates together; that by one not acquainted with St. Paul's Style, it would scarce be observed or admitted; and therefore it may not be amiss to lay it in its due Light, so as to be visible to an ordinary Reader. St. Paul, v. 18 — 20. prays that the Ephesians may be so enlightened, as to see the great Advantages they received by the Gospel: Those that he specifies are these; 1. What great Hopes it gave them. 2. What an exceeding Glory accompanied the Inheritance of the Saints. 3. The mighty Power exerted by God on their Behalf, which bore some Proportion to that which he employed in the raising Christ from the Dead, and placing him at his Right Hand: Upon the Mention of which his Mind being full of that glorious Image, he lets his Pen run into a Description of the Exaltation of Christ; which lasts to the End of that Chapter, and then re-assumes the Thread of his Discourse; which in short stands thus, "I pray God that the Eyes of your Understandings may be enlightened, that you may see the exceeding great Power of God, which is employed upon us who believe: [αὐτὸν τῷ] corresponding to that Energy wherewith he raised Christ from the Dead, and seated him at his Right Hand; for so also has he raised you who were dead in Trespasses and Sins: Us, I say, who were dead in Trespasses and Sins, has he quickened and raised together with Christ, and seated together with him in his heavenly Kingdom." This is in short the Train and Connexion of his Discourse from cb. i. 18. to ii. 5. though it be interrupted by many incident Thoughts; which, as his Manner is, he enlarges upon by the Way, and then returns to the Thread of his Discourse. For here again in this first Verse of the second Chapter, we must observe, that having mentioned their being dead in Trespasses and Sins, he enlarges upon that forlorn Estate of the Gentiles before their Conversion; and then comes to what he designed, that God out of his great Goodness quickened, raised, and placed them together with Christ in his heavenly Kingdom. In all which, it is plain, he had more Regard to the Things he declared to them, than to a nice grammatical Construction of his Words: For it is manifest, ye and, ver. 1. and ye and, ver. 5. copulate συνεζωποίησε, quickened, with ἐκθήσει, set, ver. 20. of the foregoing Chapter, which the two following Words, ver. 6. ye and συνήγειρε ye συνεκάθισεν ἐν ἐπουρανίοις, and hath raised up together, and hath made sit together in heavenly Places. St. Paul, to display the great Power and Energy of God shewed towards the Gentiles, in bringing them into his heavenly Kingdom, declares it to be κατὰ τὴν ἐξουσίαν, proportionable to that Power wherewith he raised Jesus from the Dead, and seated him at his Right Hand: To express the Parallel, he keeps to the parallel Terms concerning Christ; he says, chap. i. 20. ἐγείρας αὐτὸν ἐκ τῶν νεκρῶν καὶ ἐκάθισεν ἐν δεξιᾷ αὐτοῦ ἐν τοῖς ἐπουρανίοις, raising him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in heavenly places. Concerning the Gentile Converts his Words are, chap. ii. 5, 6. καὶ ὅτι ἡμεῖς νεκροὶ τοῖς παραπτώμασι συνεζωποίησεν τῷ Χριστῷ, καὶ συνήγειρε καὶ συνεκάθισεν ἐν ἐπουρανίοις. And us being dead in trespasses, he hath quickened together with Christ, and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places. It is also visible, that ἡμεῖς, you, ver. 1. and ἡμεῖς, us, ver. 5. are both governed by the Verb συνεζωποίησε, quickened together, ver. 5. though the grammatical Construction be somewhat broken, but is repaired in the Sense, which lies thus, "God by his mighty Power raised Christ from the Dead; " by the like mighty Power, you Gentiles of Ephesus being dead in Trespasses and Sins; what " do I say, you of Ephesus, nay, us all Converts of the Gentiles being dead in Trespasses " and Sins, has he quickened and raised from the Dead: You Ephesians were dead in Trespasses " and sins; in which you walked according to the Course of this World, according to the Prince " of the Power of the Air, the Spirit that yet worketh in the Children of Disobedience; and so " were we, all the rest of us who are converted from Gentilism; we, all of us, of the same " Stamp and Strain, involved in the same Conversation, living heretofore according to the Lusts " of our Flesh, to which we were perfectly obedient, doing what our carnal Wills and blinded " Minds directed us, being then no less Children of Wrath, no less liable to Wrath and Punish- " ment, than those that remained still Children of Disobedience, i. e. unconverted; but God, " rich in Mercy (for it is by Grace ye are saved) and raised us, &c." This is St. Paul's Sense drawn out more at length, which in his compendious Way of Writing, wherein he crowds many Ideas together, as they abounded in his Mind, could not easily be ranged under Rules of Grammar. The promiscuous Use St. Paul here makes of we and you, and his so easy changing one into the other, plainly shews, as we have already observed, that they both stand for the same Sort of Persons, i. e. Christians that were formerly Pagans, whose State and Life, whilst they were such, he here expressly describes.

2^a Αἰὼν may be observed in the New Testament to signify the lasting State and Constitution of Things, in the great Tribes or Collections of Men, considered in reference to the Kingdom of God; wherefore there were two most eminent and principally intended, if I mistake not, by the Word αἰῶνες, when that is used alone, and that is ὁ νῦν αἰὼν, this present World, which is taken for that State of the World wherein the Children of Israel were his People, and made up his Kingdom upon Earth; the Gentiles, i. e. all the other Nations of the World, being in a

- Air °, the Spirit that now yet possesseth and works ^P in the Children of Disobedience ⁹.

State of Apostasy and Revolt from him, the professed Vassals and Subjects of the Devil, to whom they paid Homage, Obedience and Worship: And αἰὲν μέλλεν, the World to come, i. e. the Time of the Gospel, wherein God by Christ broke down the Partition Wall between Jew and Gentile, and opened a Way for reconciling the rest of Mankind, and taking the Gentiles again into his Kingdom under Jesus Christ, under whose Rule he had put it.

^o In these Words St. Paul points out the Devil, the Prince of the revolted Part of the Creation, and Head of that Kingdom which stood in opposition to, and was at War with the Kingdom of Jesus Christ.

^P Ἐνεργεῖσθαι is the proper Term whereby in the Greek is signified the Possession and Acting of any Person by an evil Spirit.

³ Ἐν οἷς cannot signify, Amongst whom we also all had our Conversation: For if ἡμεῖς, we, stands for either the converted Jews or Converts in general, it is not true. If we stands (as is evident it doth) for the converted Gentiles, of what Force or Tendency is it for the Apostle to say, We the converted Gentiles heretofore lived among the unconverted Gentiles? But it is of great Force, and to his Purpose, in magnifying the Free Grace of God to them, to say, We of the Gentiles, who are now admitted to the Kingdom of God, were formerly of that very sort of Men in whom the Prince of the Power of the Air ruled, leading Lives in the Lusts of our Flesh, obeying the Will and Inclinations thereof, and so as much exposed to the Wrath of God, as those who still remain in their Apostasy under the Dominion of the Devil.

^s This was the State that the Gentile World were given up to. See Rom. i. 21, 24. Parallel to this third Verse of the second Chapter, we have a Passage in chap. iv. 17—20. of this same Epistle, where καθὼς καὶ τὰ λοιπὰ ἔθνη, even as the other Gentiles, plainly answers ὡς καὶ οἱ λοιποὶ, even as the others here; and ἐν μάταιότητι τῆς νοῦς αὐτῶν ἰσοκτισμένοι τῇ διανοίᾳ, in the Vanity of their Mind, having their Understandings darkned, answers ἐν ταῖς ἐπιθυμίαις τῆς σαρκὸς ἡμῶν ποιεῖν τὰ θελήματα τῆς σαρκὸς καὶ τῶν διανοῶν, in the Lusts of our Flesh, fulfilling the Desires of the Flesh, and of the Minds. He that compares these Places, and considers that what is said in the fourth Chapter contains the Character of the Gentile World, of whom it is spoken, I say, he that reads and considers these two Places well together, and the Correspondency between them, cannot doubt of the Sense I understand this Verse in; and that St. Paul here, under the Terms we and our, speaks of the Gentile Converts.

⁴ Ὅ δὲ, but, connects this Verse admirably well with the immediately preceding, which makes the Parts of that incident Discourse cohere, which ending in this Verse, St. Paul in the Beginning of ver. 5. takes up the Thread of his Discourse again, as if nothing had come between; though ὅ δὲ, but, in the Beginning of this 4th Verse, rather breaks than continues the Sense of the whole. See Note, ver. 1.

^u Rich in Mercy. The Design of the Apostle being in this Epistle to set forth the exceeding great Mercy and Bounty of God to the Gentiles under the Gospel, as is manifest at large, cb. iii. it is plain that μαζ., us, here in this Verse, must mean the Gentile Converts.

⁵ Dead in Trespassies, does not mean here, under the Condemnation of Death, or obnoxious to Death for our Transgressions, but so under the Power and Dominion of Sin, so helpless in that State, into which for our Apostasy we were delivered up by the just Judgment of God, that we had no more Thought, nor Hope, nor Ability to get out of it, than Men dead and buried have to get out of the Grave. This State of Death he declares to be the State of Gentilism Col. ii. 13. in these Words; And you being dead in Trespassies, and the Uncircumcision of your Flesh, hath God quickened together with him, i. e. Christ.

^y Quickened. This quickening was by the Spirit of God given to those who by Faith in Christ were united to him, became Members of Christ, and Sons of God, partaking of the Adoption, by which Spirit they were put into a State of Life; see Rom. viii. 9—15. and made capable, if they would, to live to God, and not to obey Sin in the Lusts thereof, nor to yield their Members Instruments of Sin unto Iniquity; but to give up themselves to God, as Men alive from the Dead, and their Members to God, as Instruments of Righteousness; as our Apostle exhorts the converted Romans to do, Rom. vi. 11—13.

⁶ ^z Wherein this raising consists, may be seen, Rom. vi. 1—10.

⁷ ^a The great Favour and Goodness of God manifests itself in the Salvation of Sinners in all Ages: But that which most eminently sets forth the Glory of his Grace, was those who were first of all converted from Heathenism to Christianity, and brought out of the Kingdom of Darkness, in which they were as dead Men, without Life, Hope, or so much as a Thought of Salvation, or a better State, into the Kingdom of God. Hence it is that he says, cb. i. 12. That we should be to the Praise of his Glory who first believed. To which he seems to have an Eye in this Verse; the first Conversion of the Gentiles being a surprizing and wonderful Effect and Instance of God's exceeding Goodness to them, which, to the Glory of his Grace, should be admired and acknowledged by all future Ages; and so Paul and Barnabas speaks of it, Acts xiv. 27. They rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the Door of Faith to the Gentiles. And so James and the Elders at Jerusalem, when they heard what Things God had wrought by St. Paul's Ministry amongst the Gentiles, they glorified the Lord, Acts xxi. 19, 20.

N O T E S.

⁸ ^b It. The Change of we in the foregoing Verse, to ye here, and the like Change observable v. 1. & 5. plainly shews, that the Persons spoken of under these two Denominations, are of the same Kind, i. e. Gentile Converts; only St. Paul every now and then, the more effectually to move those he is writing to, changes we into ye, and vice versa; and so makes, as it were, a little Sort of Distinction, that he may the more emphatically apply himself to them.

^c Saved. He that reads St. Paul with Attention, cannot but observe, that speaking of the Gentiles, he calls their being brought back again from their Apostasy into the Kingdom of God, their being saved. Before they were thus brought to be the People of God again under the Messiah, they were, as they are here described, Aliens, Enemies, without Hope, without God, dead in Trespasses and Sins; and therefore when by Faith in Christ they came to be reconciled, and to be in Covenant again with God, and his Subjects and liege People, they were in the Way of Salvation, and if they persevered, could not miss attaining of it, though they were not yet in actual Possession. The Apostle, whose Aim it is in this Epistle to give them an high Sense of God's extraordinary Grace and Favour to them, and to raise their Thoughts above the mean Observance of the Law, shews them that there was nothing in them; no Deeds or Works of theirs, nothing that they could do to prepare or recommend themselves, contributed aught to the bringing them into the Kingdom of God under the Gospel; that it was all purely the Work of Grace, for they were all dead in Trespasses and Sins, and could do nothing, not make one Step or the least Motion towards it. Faith, which alone gained them Admittance, and alone opened the Kingdom of Heaven to Believers, was the sole Gift of God; Men, by their natural Faculties could not attain to it. It is Faith which is the Source and Beginning of this new Life; and the Gentile World who were without Sense, without Hope of any such thing, could no more help themselves, or do any thing to procure it themselves, than a dead Man can do any thing to procure himself Life. It is God here does all; by Revelation of what they could never discover by their own natural Faculties, he bestows on them the Knowledge of the Messiah, and the Faith of the Gospel; which as soon as they have received, they are in the Kingdom of God, in a new State of Life; and being thus quickened by the Spirit, may as Men alive work if they will. Hence St. Paul says, Rom. x. Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God; having in the foregoing Verses declared, there is no believing without hearing, and no hearing without a Preacher, and no Preacher unless he be sent, i. e. the good Tidings of Salvation by the Messiah, and the Doctrine of Faith was not, nor could be known to any, but to those to whom God communicated it, by the preaching of Prophets and Apostles, to whom he revealed it, and whom he sent on this Errand with this Discovery. And thus God now gave Faith to the Ephesians, and the other Gentiles, to whom he sent St. Paul, and others his Fellow-Labourers, to bestow on them the Knowledge of Salvation, Reconciliation, and Restoration into his Kingdom of the Messiah. All which, though revealed by the Spirit of God in the Writings of the Old Testament, yet the Gentile World was kept wholly Strangers from the Knowledge of, by the Ceremonial Law of Moses, which was the Wall of Partition that kept the Gentiles at a Distance, Aliens and Enemies, which Wall God, according to his gracious Purpose before the erecting of it, having now broke down, communicated to them the Doctrine of Faith, and admitted them, upon their Acceptance of it, to all the Advantages and Privileges of his Kingdom; all which was done of his free Grace, without any Merit or Procurement of theirs; he was found of them who sought him not, and was made manifest to them that asked not after him. I desire him that would clearly understand this, ch. ii. of the Ephesians. to read carefully with it, Rom. x. & 1 Cor. ii. 9—16. where he will see, that Faith is wholly owing to the Revelation of the Spirit of God, and the Communication of that Revelation by Men sent by God, who attained this Knowledge, not by the Assistance of their own natural Parts, but from the Revelation of the Spirit of God. Thus Faith we see is the Gift of God, and with it, when Men by Baptism are admitted into the Kingdom of God, comes the Spirit of God, which brings Life with it: For the attaining this Gift of Faith, Men do or can do nothing; Grace hitherto does all, and Works are wholly excluded; God himself creates them to do good Works, but when by him they are made living Creatures in this new Creation, it is then expected, that being quickened, they should act; and from hence forwards Works are required, not as the meritorious Cause of Salvation, but as a necessary, indispensable Qualification of the Subjects of God's Kingdom under his Son Jesus Christ; it being impossible that any one should at the same Time be a Rebel and a Subject too: And though none can be Subjects of the Kingdom of God, but those who continuing in the Faith that has been once bestowed on them, sincerely endeavour to conform themselves to the Laws of their Lord and Master Jesus Christ; and God gives eternal Life to all those, and those only that do so; yet eternal Life is the Gift of God, the Gift of Free Grace, since their Works of sincere Obedience afford no manner of Title to it; their Righteousness is imperfect, i. e. they are all unrighteous, and so deserve Death; but God gives them Life upon the Account of his Righteousness. vid. Rom. i. 17. the Righteousness of Faith which is by Jesus Christ; and so they are still saved by Grace.

Now when God hath, by calling them into the Kingdom of his Son, thus quickened Men, and they are by his free Grace created in Christ Jesus unto good Works, that then Works are required of them, we see in this that they are called on, and pressed to walk worthy of God, who hath called them to his Kingdom and Glory, 1 Thess. ii. 12. And to the same Purpose here, ch. iv. 1. Phil. i. 27. Col. i. 10—12. So that of those who are in the Kingdom of God, who are actually under the Covenant of Grace, good Works are strictly required, under the Penalty of the Loss of Eternal Life; If ye love after the Flesh ye shall die, but if through the Spirit ye mortify the Deeds of the Body, ye shall live, Rom. viii. 13. And so Rom. vi. 11, 13. they are commanded to obey God as living Men. This is the Tenor of the whole New Testament: The Apostate Heathen World were dead, and were of themselves in that State not capable of doing any thing to procure their Translation into the Kingdom of God, that was purely the Work of Grace: But when they received the Gospel, they were then made alive by Faith, and by the Spirit of God; and then they were in a State of Life, and Working and Works were expected of them. Thus Grace and Works consist without any Difficulty; that which has caused the Perplexity and seeming Contradiction, has been Mens Mistake concerning the Kingdom of God: God in the Fullness of Time set up his Kingdom in this World under his Son; into which he admitted all those who believed on him, and received Jesus the Messiah for their Lord. Thus by Faith in Jesus Christ Men became the People of God, and Subjects of his Kingdom; and being by Baptism admitted into it, were from henceforth, during their continuing in the Faith, and Profession of the Gospel, accounted Saints, the Beloved of God, the Faithful in Christ Jesus, the People of God, saved, &c. for in these Terms, and the like, the Sacred Scripture speaks of them. And indeed those who were thus translated into the Kingdom of the Son of God, were no longer in the dead State of the Gentiles; but having passed from Death to Life, were in the State of the Living, in the Way to eternal Life; which they were sure to attain, if they persevered in that Life which the Gospel required, viz. Faith and sincere Obedience. But yet this was not an actual Possession of eternal

Life

10. Works or Merit. So that, in this new State in the Kingdom of God, we are, and ought to look upon ourselves, not as deriving any thing from ourselves, but as the mere Workmanship of God created ^d in Christ Jesus, to the end we should do good Works, for which he had prepared and fitted us to live in them ^e.

For we are his work-¹⁰ manship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

N O T E S.

Life in the Kingdom of God in the World to come; for by Apostasy or Disobedience, this, though sometimes called Salvation, might be forfeited and lost; whereas he that is once possessed of the other, hath actually an eternal Inheritance in the Heavens, which fadeth not away. These two Considerations of the Kingdom of Heaven some Men have confounded and made one; so that a Man being brought into the first of these, wholly by Grace without Works, Faith being all that was required to instate a Man in it, they have concluded that for the attaining eternal Life, or the Kingdom of God in the World to come, Faith alone, and not good Works, are required, contrary to express Words of Scripture, and the whole Tenor of the Gospel: But yet not being admitted into that State of eternal Life for our good Works, it is by Grace here too that we are saved, our Righteousness after all being imperfect, and we by our Sins liable to Condemnation and Death: But it is by Grace we are made Partakers of both these Kingdoms; it is only into the Kingdom of God in this World we are admitted by Faith alone without Works; but for our Admittance into the other, both Faith and Obedience, in a sincere Endeavour to perform those Duties, all those good Works which are incumbent on us, and come in our Way to be performed by us, from the Time of our Believing till our Death.

¹⁰ ^d Workmanship of God created. It is not by Virtue of any Works of the Law, nor in Consideration of our submitting to the Mosaical Institution, or having any Alliance with the Jewish Nation, that we Gentiles are brought into the Kingdom of Christ; we are in this entirely the Workmanship of God, and are, as it were, created therein, framed and fitted by him, to the Performance of those good Works which we were from thence to live in; and so owe nothing of this our new Being, in this new State, to any Preparation or Fitting we received from the Jewish Church, or any Relation we stood in thereunto. That this is the Meaning of the new Creation under the Gospel, is evident from St. Paul's own explaining of it himself, 2 Cor. v. 16—18. viz. That being in Christ was all one as if he were in a new Creation; and therefore from henceforth he knew no Body after the Flesh, i. e. he pretended to no Privilege for being of a Jewish Race, or an Observer of their Rites; all these old Things were done away; all Things under the Gospel are new, and of God alone.

^e This is conformable to what he says, v. 5, 6. That God quickened and raised the Gentiles, that were dead in Trespasses and Sins, with Christ, being by Faith united to him, and partaking of the same Spirit of Life which raised him from the Dead; whereby, as Men brought to Life, they were enabled (if they would not resist nor quench that Spirit) to live unto God in Righteousness and Holiness, as before they were under the absolute Dominion of Satan and their own Lusts.

C O N T E N T S.

FROM this Doctrine of his in the foregoing Section, that God of his Free Grace, according to his Purpose from the Beginning, had quickened and raised the Convert Gentiles, together with Christ, and seated them with Christ in his heavenly Kingdom, St. Paul here in this Section draws this Inference to keep them from Judaizing, that though they (as was the State of the Heathen World) were heretofore, by being uncircumcised, shut out from the Kingdom of God, Strangers to the Covenants of Promise, without Hope and without God in the World, yet they were by Christ, who had taken away the Ceremonial Law, that Wall of Partition, that kept them in that State of Distance and Opposition, now received, without any subjecting them to the Law of Moses, to be the People of God, and had the same Admittance into the Kingdom of God with the Jews themselves, with whom they were now created into one new Man or Body of Men; so that they were no longer to look on themselves any more as Aliens, or remoter from the Kingdom of God, than the Jews themselves.

ⁱ Covenants. God more than once renewed his Promise to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and the Children of Israel, that upon the Conditions proposed he would be their God, and they should be his People.

^k It is in this Sense that the Gentiles are called ἄθεοι ; for there were few of them Atheists in our Sense of the Word, i. e. denying superior Powers ; and many of them acknowledged one supreme Eternal God ; but, as St. Paul says, Rom. i. 21. when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, they owned not him alone, but turned away from him the invisible God, to the Worship of Images, and the false Gods of their Countries.

¹⁴ ἡμῶν, Our, in this Verse must signify Persons in the same Condition with those he speaks to under the Pronoun ὑμεῖς, ye, in the foregoing Verse, or else the Apostle's Argument here would be wide, and not conclusive ; but ye in the foregoing Verse incontestibly signifies the Convert Gentiles, and so therefore must ἡμῶν in this Verse.

ⁿ See Col. i. 20.

¹⁵ It was the Ritual Law of the Jews, that kept them and the Gentiles at an irreconcilable Distance ; so that they could come to no Terms of a fair Correspondence ; the Force whereof was so great, that even after Christ was come, and had put an End to the Obligation of that Law, yet it was almost impossible to bring them together ; and this was that which in the Beginning most obstructed the Progress of the Gospel, and disturbed the Gentile Converts.

law of commandments
contained in ordinances,

by abolishing ^p that Part of the Law which consisted in positive Commands and Ordinances,

NOTES.

^p By abolishing. I do not remember that the Law of Moses, or any Part of it, is by an actual Repeal any where abrogated; and yet we are told here, and in other Places of the New Testament, that it is abolished. The Want of a right understanding of what this abolishing was, and how it was brought about, has, I suspect, given Occasion to the misunderstanding of several Texts of Sacred Scripture; I beg leave therefore to offer what the Sacred Scripture seems to me to suggest concerning this Matter, till a more thorough Enquiry by some abler Hand shall be made into it. After the general Revolt and Apostasy of Mankind, from the Acknowledgment and Worship of the one only true invisible God their Maker, the Children of Israel, by a voluntary Submission to him, and Acknowledgment of him to be their God and supreme Lord, came to be his People, and he, by a peculiar Covenant, to be their King; and thus erected to himself a Kingdom in this World out of that People, to whom he gave a Law by Moses, which was to be the Law of the Israelites, his People, with a Purpose at the same time, that he would in due Season transfer this his Kingdom in this World, into the Hands of the Messiah, whom he intended to send into the World, to be the Prince and Ruler of his People, as he had foretold and promised to the Jews. Into which Kingdom of his under his Son, he purposed also, and foretold that he would admit and incorporate the other Nations of the Earth, as well as those of the Posterity of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, who were to come into this his enlarged Kingdom upon new Terms that he should then propose; and that those, and those only, should from henceforth be his People. And thus it came to pass, that though the Law which was given by Moses to the Israelites was never repealed, and so ceased not to be the Law of that Nation; yet it ceased to be the Law of the People and Kingdom of God in this World, because the Jews not receiving him to be their King, whom God had sent to be the King and sole Ruler of his Kingdom for the future, ceased to be the People of God, and the Subjects of God's Kingdom. And thus Jesus Christ by his Death entering into his Kingdom, having then fulfilled all that was required of him for the obtaining of it, put an End to the Law of Moses, opening another Way to all People, both Jews and Gentiles, into the Kingdom of God, quite different from the Law of Ordinances given by Moses, viz. Faith in Jesus Christ, by which, and which alone, every one that would, had now Admittance into the Kingdom of God, by the one plain easy and simple Ceremony of Baptism. This was that which, though it was also foretold, the Jews understood not, having a very great Opinion of themselves, because they were the chosen People of God; and of their Law, because God was the Author of it; and so concluded that both they were to remain the People of God for ever, and also that they were to remain so under the same Law, which was never to be altered; and so never understood what was foretold them of the Kingdom of the Messiah, in Respect of the ceasing of their Law of Ordinances, and the Admittance of the Gentiles upon the same Terms with them into the Kingdom of the Messiah; which therefore St. Paul calls over and over again a Mystery, and a Mystery hidden from Ages.

Now he that will look a little farther into this Kingdom of God, under these two different Dispensations of the Law and the Gospel, will find that it was erected by God, and Men were recalled into it out of the general Apostasy from their Lord and Maker, for the unspeakable Good and Benefit of those who by entering into it, returned to their Allegiance, that thereby they might be brought into a Way and Capacity of being restored to that happy State of Eternal Life, which they had all lost in Adam, which it was impossible they could ever recover whilst they remained Worshipers and Vassals of the Devil, and so Outlaws and Enemies to God, in the Kingdom, and under the Dominion of Satan; since the most biased and partial Inclination of an intelligent Being, could never expect that God should reward Rebellion and Apostasy with eternal Happiness, and take Men that were actually Vassals and Adorers of his Arch-Enemy the Devil, and immediately give them eternal Bliss, with the Enjoyment of Pleasures in his Presence, and at his Right-Hand for evermore. The Kingdom of God therefore in this World, was, as it were, the Entrance to the Kingdom of God in the other World, and the Receptacle and Place of Preparation of those who aimed at a Share in that eternal Inheritance. And hence the People of the Jews were called holy, chosen, and Sons of God; as were afterward the Christians called Saints, Elect, Beloved, and Children of God, &c. But there is this remarkable Difference to be observed in what is said of the Subjects of this Kingdom, under the two different Dispensations of the Law and the Gospel, that the Converts to Christianity, and Professors of the Gospel, are often termed and spoke of as saved, which I do not remember that the Jews or Profelytes. Members of the Commonwealth, any where are: The Reason whereof is, that the Conditions of that Covenant whereby they were made the People of God, under that Constitution of God's Kingdom in this World, was, Do this and live; but he that continues not in all these Things to do them, shall die. But the Condition of the Covenant whereby they become the People of God, in the Constitution of his Kingdom under the Messiah, is, Believe and repent, and thou shalt be saved, i. e. Take Christ for thy Lord, and do sincerely but what thou canst to keep his Law, and thou shalt be saved. In the one of which, which is therefore called the Covenant of Works, those who were actually in that Kingdom could not attain the everlasting Inheritance: And in the other, called the Covenant of Grace, those, who if they would but continue as they began, i. e. in the State of Faith and Repentance, i. e. in a Submission to and owing of Christ, and a steady unrelenting Resolution of not offending against his Law, could not miss it, and so might truly be said to be saved, they being in an unerring Way to Salvation. And thus we see how the Law of Moses is by Christ abolished under the Gospel; not by any actual Repeal of it, but is set aside, by ceasing to be the Law of the Kingdom of God, translated into the Hands of the Messiah, and set up under him; which Kingdom so erected, contains all that God now does or will own to be his People in this World. This Way of abolishing of the Law, did not make those Observances unlawful to those who before their Conversion to the Gospel were circumcised, and under the Law; they were indifferent Things, which the converted Jews might or might not observe, as they found convenient: That which was unlawful and contrary to the Gospel, was the making those Ritual Observances necessary to be joined with Faith in Believers for Justification, as we see they did, who, Acts xv. taught the Brethren, that unless they were circumcised after the Manner of Moses, they could not be saved; so that the nailing it to Christ's Cross, Col. ii. xiv. was the taking away from thenceforth all Obligation for any one to be circumcised, and to put himself under the Observances of the Law, to become one of the People of God, but was no Prohibition to any one who was circumcised before Conversion to observe them. Accordingly we see, Gal. ii. 11. that what St. Paul blames in St. Peter, was compelling the Gentiles to live as the Jews do: Had not that been the Case, he would no more have blamed his Carriage at Antioch, than he did his observing the Law at Jerusalem.

The Apostle here tells us what Part of the Mosaical Law it was that Christ put an End to by his Death, viz. τὸν νόμον τῶν ἐντολῶν ἐν δόγμασι, the Law of Commandments in Ordinances; i. e. the positive Injunction of the Law of Moses concerning Things in their own Nature indifferent, which became obligatory merely by virtue of a direct positive Command; and are called by St. Paul in the parallel Place, Col. ii. 14. χειρόγραφον τῆς δόξιας, the Hand-writing of Ordinances. There were, besides these, contained in the Book of the Law of Moses, the Law of Nature, or as it is commonly called, the Moral Law, that unmoveable Rule of Right which is of perpetual Obligation: This Jesus Christ is so far from abrogating, that he has promulgated it anew under the Gospel, fuller and clearer than it was in the Mosaical Constitution, or any where else; and by adding to its Precepts the Sanction of his own Divine Authority, has made the Knowledge of that Law more easy and certain than it was before; so that the Subjects of his Kingdom whereof this is now the Law, can be at no Doubt or Loss about their Duty, if they will but read and consider the Rules of Morality, which our Saviour and his Apostles have delivered in very plain Words in the holy Scriptures of the New Testament.

^r This, as I take it, being the Meaning, it may not be amiss perhaps to look into the Reason why St. Paul expresses it in this more figurative Manner, viz. to make in himself of twain one new Man, which, I humbly conceive, was more suitable to the Ideas he had, and so were, in fewer Words, more lively and express to his Purpose: He always has Jesus Christ in his Mind, as the Head of the Church, which was his Body, from and by whom alone, by being united to him, the whole Body and every Member of it received Life, Vigour and Strength, and all the Benefits of that State; which admirably well shews, that whoever were united to this Head, must needs be united to one another, and also that all the Privileges and Advantages they enjoyed, were wholly owing to their Union with, and adhering to him their Head; which were the two Things that he was here inculcating to the Convert Gentiles of Ephesus, to shew them, that now under the Gospel Men became the People of God, merely by Faith in Jesus Christ, and having him for their Head, and not at all by keeping the Ritual Law of Moses, which Christ had abolished, and so had made way for the Jews and Gentiles to become one in Christ, since now Faith in him alone united them into one Body under that Head, with the Observance of the Law; which is the Meaning of so making Peace. I hope this single Note here may lead ordinary Readers into an Understanding of St. Paul's Stile, and by making them observe the Reason, give them an easier Entrance into the Meaning of St. Paul's figurative Expressions.

If the Nation of the Jews had owned and received Jesus the Messiah, they had continued as the People of God; but after that they had Nationally rejected him, and refused to have him rule over them, and put him to Death, and so had revolted from their Allegiance, and withdrawn themselves from the Kingdom of God, which he had now put into the Hands of his Son, they were no longer the People of God; and therefore all those of the Jewish Nation, who after that would return to their Allegiance, had need of Reconciliation to be re-admitted into the Kingdom of God, as part of his People, who were now received into Peace and Covenant with him upon other Terms, and under other Laws, than being the Posterity of Jacob, or Observers of the Law of Moses.

THIS Section gives a great Light to those foregoing, and more clearly opens the Design of this Epistle: For here St. Paul in plain Words tells them, it is for preaching this Doctrine that was a Mystery till now, being hid from former Ages, (viz.) that the Gentiles should be Co-heirs with the believing Jews, and making one Body or People with them, should be equally Partakers of the Promises under the Messiah, of which Mystery he by particular Favour and Appointment was ordained the Preacher. Whereupon he exhorts them not to be dismayed, or flinch in the least from the Belief or Profession of this Truth, upon his being persecuted and in Bonds upon that Account. For his suffering for it, who was the Preacher and Propagator of it, was so far from being a just Discouragement to them, from standing firmly in the Belief of it, that it ought to be to them a Glory, and a Confirmation of this eminent Truth of the Gospel, which he peculiarly taught; and thereupon he tells them, he makes it his Prayer to God, that they may be strengthened herein, and be able to comprehend the Largeness of the Love of God in Christ, not confined to the Jewish Nation and Constitution, as the Jews conceited, but far surpassing the Thoughts of those who presuming themselves knowing, would confine it to such only who were Members of the Jewish Church, and Observers of their Ceremonies.

² * Es, is sometimes an affirmative Particle, and signifies in Greek the same that siquidem does in Latin, and so the Sense requires it to be understood here: For it could not be supposed but the Ephesians, among whom St. Paul had lived so long, must have heard that he was by express Commission from God made Apostle of the Gentiles, and by immediate Revelation instructed in the Doctrine he was to teach them, whereof this of their Admittance into the Kingdom of God purely by Faith in Christ, without Circumcision or other legal Observances, was one great and necessary Point, whereof St. Paul was so little shy, that we see the World rung of it, Act. xxi. 28. And if his Preaching and Writing were of a-piece, as we need not doubt, this Mystery of God's Purpose to the Gentiles, which was communicated to him by Revelation, and we hear of so often in his Epistles, was not concealed from them he preached to.

³ * Though St. Peter was by a Vision from God sent to Cornelius a Gentile, Act. x. yet we do not find that this Purpose of God's calling the Gentiles to be his People equally with the Jews, without any Regard to Circumcision, or the Mosaical Rites, was revealed to him, or to any other of the Apostles, as a Doctrine which they were to preach and publish to the World: Neither indeed was it needful that it should be any Part of their Commission, who were Apostles only of the Circumcision, to mix that in their Message to the Jews, which should make them stop their Ears, and refuse to hearken to the other Parts of the Gospel, which they were more concerned to know and be instructed in.

^y See Col. i. 26.

⁴ * One may be ready to ask, to what Purpose is this, which this Parenthesis contains here concerning himself? and indeed without having an Eye on the Design of this Epistle, it is pretty hard to give an Account of it; but that being carried in view, there is nothing plainer, nor more pertinent and persuasive than this here; for what can be of more Force to make them stand firm to the Doctrine which he had taught them, of their being exempt from Circumcision, and the Observances of the Law? If you have heard, and I assure you in my Epistle, that this Mystery of the Gospel was revealed in a particular Manner to me from Heaven; the very reading of this is enough to satisfy you, that I am well instructed in that Truth, and that you may safely depend upon what I have taught you concerning this Point, notwithstanding I am in Prison for it, which is a thing you ought to glory in, since I suffer for a Truth wherein you are so nearly concerned; see chap. vi. 19.

NOTES.

6 ^a The Promise here intended, is the Promise of the Spirit; see Gal. iii. 14. which was not given to any but to the People and Children of God; and therefore the Gentiles received not the Spirit till they became the People of God, by Faith in Christ in the Times of the Gofpel.

^b Though the Jews are not exprefly named here, yet it is plain from the foregoing Chapter. v. 11, &c. that it is of the Union of the Gentiles with the Jews, and making with them one Body of God's People equally fharing in all the Privileges and Benefits of the Gofpel, that he is here fpeaking; the fame which he teaches, Gal. iii. 26—29.

^c Ἀλλὰ τῶ ἐν αὐτοῖς, fignifies here, In the time of the Gofpel, as δι' ἀνομοβουλίας fignifies, In the time of Uncircumcifion, Rom. iv. 11. fee Note on Rom. vii. 5. The fame thing being intended here, which, chap. i. 10. is thus expreffed; That in the Dispensation of the Fulnefs of Times, i. e. in the Time of the Gofpel, all things might be gathered together, or united, in Chrift, or, by Chrift.

7 ^d Though he does not in exprefs Words deny others to be made Minifters of it, for it neither futed his Modesty, nor the Refpect he had for the other Apoftles, fo to do, yet his Expreflion here will be found ftrongly to imply it, efpecially if we read and confider well the two following Verfes; for this was a neceffary Inffruftion to one who was fent to convert the Gentiles, though thofe who were fent to their Brethren the Jews were not appointed to promulgate it. This one Apoftle of the Gentiles, by the Succels of his preaching to the Gentiles the Atteftation of Miracles, and the Gift of the Holy Ghofl joined to what Peter had done by fpecial Direction in the Cafe of Cornelius, would be enough in its due Seafon to convince the other Apoftles of this Truth, as we may fee it did, Acts xv. and Gal. ii. 6—9. And of what Confequence, and how much St. Paul thought the preaching of this Doctrine his peculiar Bufinefs, we may fee by what he fays, chap. vi. 19, 20. where any one may fee by the different Treatment he received from the reft of the Apoftles, being in Bonds upon that Account, that his Preaching herein differed from theirs, and he was thereupon, as he tells us himfelf, treated as an evil Doer, 1 Tim. ii. 9. The Hiftory whereof we have, Acts xxi. 17, &c. as we have elfewhere obferved. And it is upon the Account of his preaching this Doctrine, and difplaying to the World this concealed Truth, which he calls every where a hidden Myftery, that he gives to what he had preached the diftinguifhing Title of my Gofpel, Rom. xvi. 25. which he is concerned that God fhould eftablifh them in, that being the chief Defign of his Epiftle to the Romans, as here to the Ephelians. The infifting fo much on this, that it was the fpecial Favour and Commiffion of God to him in particular, to preach this Doctrine of God's Purpose of calling the Gentiles to the Word, was not out of Vanity or Boafting, but was here of great Ufe to his prefent Purpose, as carrying a ftrong Reason with it, why the Ephelians fhould rather believe him, to whom, as their Apoftle, it was made manifeft, and committed to be preached, than the Jews, from whom it had been concealed. and was kept as a Myftery, and was in itfelf ἀνεξιχνίαστον, inferutable by Men, though of the beft natural Parts and Endowments.

I am the least of the Apostles, that am not meet to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God: But by the Grace of God I am what I am, and his Grace, which was bestowed upon me, was not in vain, but I laboured more abundantly than they all; yet not I, but the Grace of God that was with me: A Passage very suitable to what he says in this and the next Verse.*

ⁱ To open our Way to a right Sense of these Words, τῷ τὰ πάντα κτίσεν διὰ Ἰησοῦ, it will be necessary in the first Place to consider the Terms of it, and how they are used by St. Paul.

1. As to κτίσεντι, created, it is to be acknowledged, that it is the Word used in Sacred Scripture to express Creation in the Scriptural Sense of Creation, i. e. making out of nothing; yet that it is not always used in that Sense by St. Paul, is visible from the 15th Verse of the foregoing Chapter, where our Translators have rightly rendered κτίσεν, make, and it would contain a manifest Absurdity to render it there create, in the Theological Sense of the Word create.

2. It is to be observed that St. Paul often chuses to speak of the Work of Redemption by Christ as a Creation. Whether it were because this was the chief End of the Creation, or whether it were because there was no less seen of the Wisdom, Power and Goodness of God, in in this, than in the first Creation, and the Change of loit and revolted Man from being dead in Sins, to Newness of Life, was as great, and by as great a Power, as at first making out of nothing; or whether it was because the ἀνακεφαλαιώσις, under Jesus Christ, the Head mentioned, chap. i. 10. was a Restitution of the Creation to its primitive State and Order, which, Acts. iii. 21. is called ἀποκαταστάσις πάντων, the Restitution of all things, which was begun with the preaching of St. John Baptist (who was the Elias that restored all things, Mat. xvii. 11. i. e. opened the Kingdom of Heaven to Believers of all Nations, Luke xvi. 16.) and is completed in Christ's coming with his Saints in the Glory of his Father at the last Day. But whether some or all of these Conjectures which I have mentioned be the Reason of it, this is certain, that St. Paul speaks of the Work of Redemption under the Name of Creation. So 2 Cor. v. 17. If any one be in Christ, κενὴ κτίσις, he is a new Creature, or it is a new Creation. And Gal. vi. 15. In Christ Jesus neither Circumcision availeth any thing, nor Uncircumcision, but κενὴ κτίσις, the new Creation.

It is then to be considered of which Creation τὰ πάντα κτίωντι, who created all things, is here to be understood. The Business St. Paul is upon in this Place, is to shew that God's Purpose of taking in the Gentiles to be his People under the Gospel, was a Mystery unknown in former Ages, and now under the Kingdom of the Messiah committed to him to be preached to the World.

This is so manifestly the Design of St. Paul here, that no body can mistake it. Now if the Creation of the material World, of this visible Frame of Sun, Moon, and Stars, and heavenly Bodies, that are over us, and of the Earth we inhabit, hath no immediate Relation, as certainly it hath not to this Mystery, this Design of God's to call the Gentiles into the Kingdom of his Son, it is to make St. Paul a very loose Writer and weak Arguer, in the middle of a Discourse which he seems to lay much stress on, and to press earnestly on the Ephesians (for he urges it more than once) to bring in things not at all to his Purpose, and of no Use to the Business in Hand. We cannot therefore avoid taking the Creation, and things created, here to be those of the new Creation, (viz.) those of which the Kingdom of Christ, which was this new Creation, was to be made up; and in that Sense, τὰ πάντα κτίωντι διὰ Ἰησοῦ Χριστοῦ, who created all things by Jesus Christ, is a Reason to shew why God kept his Purpose of making the Gentiles meet to be Partakers of the Inheritance of the Saints, or, as he expresseth it, chap. ii. 10. that they should be his Workmanship created in Christ Jesus unto good Works, concealed from former Ages, viz. because this new Creation was in Jesus Christ, and so proper to be preached and published when he was come; which is strongly confirmed by the Words of the following Verse, viz. that NOW in its due time, by this new Piece of Workmanship of his, viz. the Church, might be made known the manifold Wisdom of God. This taking in the Gentiles into the Kingdom of his Son, and after that the re-assuming again of the Jews, who had been rejected, St. Paul looks on as so great an Instance, and Display of the Wisdom of God, that it makes him cry out, Rom. xi. 33. O the Depth of the Riches both of the Wisdom and Knowledge of God, how unsearchable are his Judgments, and his Ways past finding out!

N O T E S.

10^k There be two things in this Verse that to me make it hard to determine the precise Sense of it; The first is, what is meant by ἀρχαῖς and ἐξουσίαις, Terms that sometimes in Sacred Scripture signify Temporal Magistrates, and so our Saviour uses them, Luke xii. 11. and St. Paul, Tit. iii. 1. Sometimes for those who are vested with any Power, whether Men or Angels, so 1 Cor. xv. 24. Sometimes for evil Angels, so they are understood, ch. vi. 12. Sometimes they are understood of good Angels, so Col. i. 16. Now to which of these to determine the Sense here, I confess myself not sufficiently enlightened. Indeed ἐν τοῖς ἰσχυραῖς, in the things of his heavenly Kingdom, would do something toward it, were it undoubtedly certain whether those Words were in construction to be joined to ἀρχαῖς and ἐξουσίαις, or to σοφία; i. e. whether we are to understand it of Principalities and Powers in the Kingdom of Heaven, or of the Wisdom of God in the ordering of that Kingdom: If the first of these, then it is evident they would signify the heavenly Host of good Angels employed in the Guard and Promotion of the Kingdom of Christ. But the Knowledge spoken of here, as communicated to these Principalities and Powers, being only in Consequence of St. Paul's preaching, it is not easy to conceive, that the Revelation and Commission given to St. Paul, for the declaring the Mystery of God's Purpose, to take the Gentiles into the Church, was to the Intent the Angels, either good or bad, should be instructed in this great and important Truth, wherein the Wisdom of God so much shewed itself, and that they should have no Knowledge of it before nor otherwise. This is so great a Difficulty, that it seems strongly to persuade, that the Principalities and Powers here mentioned are of this World; but against this there lies this obvious Objection, that the Magistrates of the Heathen World did not much concern themselves in what St. Paul preached, nor upon his declaring that the Gentiles under the Messiah, were to be taken in to be the People of God, did in effect gather from the Church thus constituted, any Arguments of the Wisdom of God. If therefore I may venture my Conjecture, for I dare not be positive in a Place that I confess myself not fully to understand, I should take this to be the Meaning of it. The High-Priests, Scribes and Pharisees, who are the Rulers of the Jewish Nation, and alone pretend to any Authority in these Matters, deny the Converted Heathens to be the People of God, because they neglect the Law and Circumcision, and those other Rites, whereby God had appointed those who are his People to be separated from the rest of the World, and made holy to himself. And so far most of the converted Jews agree with them, that they will not allow the converted Gentiles to be Members and Subjects of the Kingdom of the Messiah without being circumcised, and submitting to the Laws and Ceremonies of the Jews, as the only Religion and Way of Worship wherein they can be allowed to be God's People, or be accepted by him. Now, says St. Paul, God of his special Grace has commissioned me to preach to the World this his hidden Purpose of taking the Gentiles into the Kingdom of his Son, that so by the Church, consisting of Members who are God's People, without being circumcised, or observing the other Mosaic Rites, might, which the Jews could by no means conceive, now be made known, and declared to the Leaders and chief of that Nation the manifold Wisdom of God, which is not, as the Jews imagine, tied up to their own Way, but can bring about his Purposes by sundry Manners, and in Ways that they thought not of. This seems suitable to the Apostle's Meaning here; for though the Jews were not hereby converted, yet when urged by the Converted Gentiles, it served to stop their Mouths, and thereby to confirm the Gentiles in the Liberty of the Gospel. And thus by the Church, to whom St. Paul says, Col. i. 24. and ii. 2. God would now have made it manifest by his Preaching, is this Mystery made known to Principalities and Powers, i. e. the Rulers and Teachers of the Jewish Nation, the Saints who were apprised of it by St. Paul's preaching, urging and manifesting it to them. And to this Sense of this Passage these two Words, οὐκ, οὐκ, and ἰσχυραῖς, manifest, seem wholly accommodated, i. e. οὐκ that the uncircumcised Gentiles believe believe in Christ, and are by Baptism admitted into the Church, the Wisdom of God is made known to the Jews, not to be tied up to one invariable Way and Form, as they persuade themselves, but displays itself in sundry Manners, as he thinks fit.

11 ¹ Whether by αιωνες, Ages, here, the several Dispensations Mankind was under from first to last, or whether the two great Dispensations of the Law and the Gospel (for that αιωνες are used in the Sacred Scripture to denote these, I think an attentive Reader cannot doubt) be here meant, this seems visibly the Sense of the Place, that all these Dispensations, in the several Ages of the Church, were all by the Preordination of God's Purpose regulated and constituted in Christ Jesus our Lord ; that is, with regard to Christ, who was designed and appointed Lord and Head over all ; which seems to me to answer τα παντα κτισθη δια Ιησους Χριστου, Who created all things by Jesus Christ, v. 9.

12 ^m πιστι, α' αυτου, Faith of him, the Genitive Case of the Object, as well as of the Agent, is so frequent in Sacred Scripture, that there needs nothing to be said of it.

14 The Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, set down as it is in the Beginning of this Verse, joined to the Design of the Apostle in this Place, makes me think that the Sense of it is so plainly that which I have given of it, that I do not see any Difficulty can be made about it. In the foregoing Chapter, ver. 19. he tells the Convert Gentiles of Ephesus, that now they believe in Christ, they are no longer Strangers and Foreigners, but Fellow-Citizens with the Saints, and of the Household of God ; here he goes on, and tells them they are of the Family and Lineage of God, being jointly with Jesus Christ, who is already in Heaven, the Sons of God : What could be of greater Force to continue them stedfast in the Doctrine he had preached to them, and which he makes it his whole Business here to confirm them in, (viz.) That they need not be circumcised and submit to the Law of Moses, they being already by Faith in Christ the Sons of God, and of the same Lineage and Family with Christ himself, who was already by that Title possessed of his Inheritance in Glory.

¹⁸ This Mystery being the Subject St. Paul is here upon, and which he endeavours to magnify to them, and establish in their Minds, the Height and Breadth, &c. which he mentions in these Words, being not applied to any thing else, cannot, in good Sense, be understood of any thing else.

¹⁹ ὑπερβάλλουσα, exceeding, seems to be here a comparative Term, joined to the Love of God, in communicating the Knowledge of Christ, and declaring it superior to some other thing, if you desire to know what he himself tells you on the same Occasion, Phil. iii. 8. viz. To Circumcision, and the other Ritual Institutions of the Law, which the Jews looked on as the Marks of the highest Degree of God's Love to them, whereby they were sanctified and separated to him from the rest of the World, and secured of his Favour. To which, if any one will add what St. Paul says on the same Subject, Col. ii. 2. &c. For his Business is the very same in these three Epistles, he will not want Light to guide him in the Sense of this Place here.

8 * Psal. xlvi. 18.

9, 10. * St. Paul's Argumentation in these two Verses is skilfully adapted to the main Design of his Epistle. The Convert Gentiles were attacked by the Unconverted Jews, who were declared Enemies to the Thoughts of a Messiah that died: St. Paul to enervate that Objection of theirs, proves by the Passage out of the Psalms, v. 8. that he must die and be buried. Besides the unbelieving Jews, several of them that were converted to the Gospel, or at least professed to be so, attacked the Gentile Converts on another Side, persuading them, that they could not be admitted to be the People of God in the Kingdom of the Messiah, nor receive any Advantage by him, unless they were circumcised, and put themselves wholly under the Jewish Constitution. He had said a great deal in the three first Chapters to free them from this Perplexity, but yet takes Occasion here to offer them a new Argument, by telling them, that Christ, the same Jesus that died, and was laid in his Grave, was exalted to the Right Hand of God above all the Heavens, in the highest State of Dignity and Power; that he himself being filled with the Fulness of God, Believers who were all his Members, might receive immediately from him their Head, a Fulness of Gifts and Graces, upon no other Terms, but barely as they were his Members.

- the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things)
- 11 And he gave some, apostles: and some, prophets: and some, evangelists: and some, pastors and teachers;
- 12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ;
- 13 Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:
- 14 That we henceforth be no more children tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the slights of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;
- 15 But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things which is the head, even Christ:
- 16 From whom the whole body fitly joined together, and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.
- And therefore he alone framing the Constitution of his new Government, by his own Power, and according to such a Model, and such Rules as he thought best, making some Apostles, others Prophets, others Evangelists, and others Pastors and Teachers, putting thus together in a fit Order and Frame, the several Members of his new collected People, that each in its proper Place and Function might contribute to the Whole, and help to build up the Body of Christ; till all cementing together in one Faith and Knowledge of the Son of God, to the full State of a grown Man, according to the Measure of that Stature which is to make up the Fulness of Christ: That we should be no longer Children tossed to and fro, and carried about with every Wind of Doctrine by Men, versed in the Sights of Cheating, and their cunning Artifices laid in train to deceive. But being steady in true and unfeigned Love, should grow up into a firm Union in all Things with Christ, who is the Head: From whom the whole Body fitly framed together, and compacted by that which every Joint supplies, according to the proper Force and Function of each particular Part, makes an Increase of the whole Body, building itself up in Love, or a mutual Concern of the Parts *.

NOTES.

16 * The Sum of all that St. Paul says in this figurative Discourse, is, that Christians, all as Members of one Body whereof Christ is the Head, should each in his proper Place, according to the Gifts bestowed upon him, labour with Concern and Good-Will for the Good and Increase of the Whole, till it be grown up to that Fulness which is to compleat it in Christ Jesus. This is in short the Sense of the Exhortation contained in this Section, which carries a strong Insinuation with it, especially if we take in the rest of the Admonitions to the End of the Epistle, that the Mosaical Observances were no Part of the Business or Character of a Christian, but were wholly to be neglected and declined by the Subjects of Christ's Kingdom.

his Epistles uses it for intemperate and exorbitant Desires of carnal Pleasures, not confined within the Bounds of Nature. He that will compare with this Verse here, ch. v. 3. Col. iii. 5. 1 Theff. iv. 5. 1 Cor. v. 10, 11. and well consider the Context, will find Reason to take it here in the Sense I have given of it, or else it will be very hard to understand these Texts of Scripture. In the same Sense the learned Dr. Hammond understands πλεονεξία, Rom. i. 29. Which though perhaps the Greek Idiom will scarce justify, yet the Apostle's Stile will, who often uses Greek Terms in the full Latitude of the Hebrew Words which they are usually put for in translating, though in the Greek Use of them, they have nothing at all of that Signification, particularly the Hebrew Word עצב, which signifies Covetousness, the Septuagint translate μισομας, Ezek. xxxiii. 31. In which Sense the Apostle uses πλεονεξία here. In these and the two preceding Verses, we have a Description of the State of the Gentiles without, and their wretched and sinful State whilst unconverted to the Christian Faith, and Strangers from the Kingdom of God, to which may be added what is said of these Sinners of the Gentiles, *ch. ii. 11—13.  exorbitant Desires in venereal Matters ^e, all uncleanness, or let it not be once named amongst you, as be- covetousness, let it not

N O T E S.

^{3 e} The Word in the Greek is πλεονεξία, which properly signifies Covetousness, or an intemperate unguarded Love of Riches: But the chaste Stile of the Scripture makes use of it to express the letting loose of the Desires to irregular venereal Pleasures, beyond what was fit and right. This one can hardly avoid being convinced of, if one considers how it stands joined with these Sort of Sins, in those many Places which Dr. Hammond mentions in his Notes on Rom. i. 29. & ch. iv. v. 19. of this Epistle, & v. 5 of this ch. v. compared with this here, they are enough to satisfy one what πλεονεξία, Covetousness, means here; but if that should fail, these Words, Let it not be once named amongst you, as becometh Saints, which are subjoined to Covetousness, put it past doubt; for what Indecency or Misbecomingness is it amongst Christians to name Covetousness? πλεονεξία therefore must signify the Title of Sins that are not fit to be named amongst Christians, so that πᾶσα ἀκαθαρσία ἢ πλεονεξία, seem not here to be used definitively for several Sorts of Sins, but as two Names of the same thing explaining one another; and so this Verse will give us a true Notion of the Word πορνεία in the New Testament, the Want whereof, and taking it to mean Fornication in our English Acceptation of that Word, as standing for one distinct Species of Uncleanness, in the natural Mixture of an unmarried Couple, seems to me to have perplexed the Meaning of several Texts of Scripture; whereas taken in that large Sense which ἀκαθαρσία and πλεονεξία seem here to expound it, the Obscurity, which follows from the usual Notion of Fornication applied to it, will be removed. Some Men have been forward to conclude from the Apostle's Letter to the Convert Gentiles of Antioch, Acts xv. 28. wherein they find Fornication joined with two or three other Actions; that simple Fornication, as they call it, was not much distant, if at all, from an indifferent Action; whereby I think they very much confounded the Meaning of the Text. The Jews that were converted to the Gospel could by no means admit, that those of the Gentiles who retained any of their ancient Idolatry, though they professed Faith in Christ, could by any Means be received by them into the Communion of the Gospel, as the People of God under the Messiah; and so far they were in the right, to make sure of it, that they fully renounced Idolatry; the Generality insisted on it, that they should be circumcised, and so, by submitting to the Observances of the Law, gave the same Proof that Profelytes were wont to do, that they were perfectly clear from all Remains of Idolatry. This the Apostles thought more than was necessary; but the eating of things sacrificed to Idols, and Blood, whether let out of the Animal,

- 6 Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these cometh Saints: Neither Filthiness, nor foolish Talking, nor Pleasantry of Discourse of this Kind, which are none of them convenient, but rather giving of Thanks. For this you are thoroughly instructed in, and acquainted with, that no Fornicator, nor unclean Person, nor lewd, lascivious Libertine in such Matters, who is in truth an Idolater, shall have any Part in the Kingdom of Christ, and of God. or contained in it, being strangled; and Fornication in the large Sense of the Word, as it is put for all Sorts of Uneleanness, being the presumed Marks of Idolatry to the Jews, they forbid the Convert Gentiles, thereby to avoid the Offence of the Jews, and prevent a Separation between the Professors of the Gospel upon this Account. This therefore was not given to the Convert Gentiles by the Apostles of the Circumcision, as a standing Rule of Morality required by the Gospel; if that had been the Design, it must have contained a great many other Particulars; what Laws of Morality they were under as Subjects of Jesus Christ, they doubted not but St. Paul their Apostle taught and inculcated to them: All that they instructed them in here, was necessary for them to do, so as to be admitted into one Fellowship and Communion with the Converts of the Jewish Nation, who would certainly avoid them, if they found that they made no Seruple of those things, but practised any of them. That Fornication, or all Sorts of Uneleanness, were the Consequence and Concomitants of Idolatry, we see, Rom. i. 29. and it is known were favoured by the Heathen Worship; and therefore the Practice of those Sins is every where set down, as the Characteristical Heathen Mark of the idolatrous Gentiles, from which Abominations the Jews, both by their Law, Profession, and general Practice, were Strangers; and this was one of those things wherein chiefly God severed his People from the idolatrous Nations, as may be seen, Lev. xviii. 20, &c. And hence I think that πλεονεξία, used for licentious Intemperance in unlawful and unnatural Lusts, is in the New Testament called Idolatry, and πλεονείων, an Idolater; see 1 Cor. v. 11. Col. iii. 5. Eph. v. 5. as being the sure and undoubted Mark of an Heathen Idolater.

6^f One would guess by this, that as there were Jews who would persuade them, that it was necessary for all Christians to be circumcised, and observe the Law of Moses; so there were others who retained so much of their ancient Heathenism, as to endeavour to make them believe, that those venerable Abominations and Uneleannesses, were no other than what the Gentiles esteemed them, barely indifferent Actions, not offensive to God, or inconsistent with his Worship, but only a Part of the peculiar and positive Ceremonial Law of the Jews, whereby they distinguished themselves from other People, and thought themselves holier than the rest of the World, as they did by their Distinctions of Food into clean and unclean, these Actions being in themselves as indifferent as those Meats, which the Apostle confutes in the following Words.

God,

God, and are that which he will bring the Heathen World (who will not come in and submit to the Law of Christ) to Judgment for ^e. Be ye not therefore Partakers with them. For ye were heretofore in your Gentile-State, perfectly in the Dark ^h, but now by believing in Christ, and receiving ⁱ the Gospel, Light and Knowledge is given to you, walk as those who are in a State of Light (For the Fruit of the Spirit is in all Goodness, Righteousness and Truth ^k) Practising that which upon Examination you find acceptable to the Lord. And do not partake in the fruitless Works of Darknes ^l; do not go on in the Practice of those shameful Actions, as if they were indifferent, but rather reprove them. For the Things that the Gentile Idolaters ^m do in secret, are so filthy and abominable, that it is a Shame so much as to name them. This you now see, which is an Evidence of your being enlightened, for all Things that are discovered to be amiss are made manifest by the Light; for

For ye were sometimes 8 darknes, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light.

(For the fruit of the 9 Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth)

Proving what is accept-10 able unto the Lord.

And have no fellow-11 ship with the unfruitful works of darknes, but rather reprove them.

For it is a shame even 12 to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

But all things that are 13 reprov'd, are made manifest by the light: for

N O T E S.

^e Children of Disobedience, here, and ch. ii. 2. & Col. iii. 6. are plainly the Gentiles, who refused to come in and submit themselves to the Gospel, as will appear to any one who will read these Places and the Contexts with Attention.

ⁱ Which is thus expressed, Col. i. 12, 13. Giving Thanks to the Father, who hath made us meet to be Partakers of the Inheritance of his Saints in Light, who hath delivered us from the Power of Darknes, and translated us into the Kingdom of his dear Son. The Kingdom of Satan over the Gentile World, was a Kingdom of Darknes; see Eph. vi. 12. And so we see Jesus is pronounced by Simon, a Light to lighten the Gentiles, Luke ii. 32.

^l These Deeds of the unconverted Heathen who remained in the Kingdom of Darknes, are thus expressed by St. Paul, Rom. vi. 21. What Fruit had you then in those Things whereof you are now ashamed, for the End of those Things is Death?

^m That by them here are meant the unconverted Gentiles, is so visible, that there needs nothing to be said to justify the Interpretation of the Word.

13ⁿ See John iii. 20. The Apostle's Argument here to keep the Ephesian Converts from being misled by those that would persuade them that the Gentile Impurities were indifferent Actions, was, to shew them that they were now better enlightened; to which Purpose, v. 5. he tells them, that they know that no such Person hath any Inheritance in the Kingdom of Christ or of God. This he tells them, v. 8. &c. was Light which they had received from the Gospel, which before their Conversion they knew nothing of, but were in perfect Darkness and Ignorance of it; but now they were better instructed, and saw the Difference, which was a Sign of Light, and therefore they should follow that Light which they had received from Christ, who had raised them from among the Gentiles, (who were so far dead, as to be wholly insensible of the evil Course and State they were in) and had given them Light, and a Prospect into a future State, and the Way to attain everlasting Happiness.

16ⁿ St. Paul here intimates, v. 6. that the unconverted Heathens they lived among, would be forward to tempt them to their former lewd dissolute Lives; but to keep them from any Approaches that Way, that they have Light now by the Gospel, to know that such Actions are provoking to God, and will find the Effects of his Wrath in the Judgments of the World to come. All those Pollutions, so familiar among the Gentiles, he exhorts them carefully to avoid, but yet to take care, by their prudent Carriage to the Gentiles they lived amongst, to give them no Offence, that so they might escape the Danger and Trouble that otherwise might arise to them from the Intemperance and Violence of those Heathens Idolaters, whose shameful Lives the Christian Practice could not but reprove. This seems to be the Meaning of redeeming the Time here, which, Col. iv. 5. the other Place where it occurs, seems so manifestly to confirm and give Light to. If this be not the Sense of redeeming the Time here, I must own myself ignorant of the precise Meaning of the Phrase in this Place.

18ⁿ St. Paul dehorts them from Wine, in a too free Use of it, because therein is Excess; the Greek Word is ἀσώτεια, which may signify Luxury or Dissoluteness; i. e. that Drinking is no Friend to Continency and Chastity, but gives up the Reins to Lust and Uncleaness, the Vice he had been warning them against: Or ἀσώτεια may signify Intemperance and Disorder, opposite to that sober and prudent Demcanor advised in redeeming the Time.

NOTES.

23^r It is from the Head that the Body receives its healthy and vigorous Constitution of Health and Life; this St. Paul pronounces here of Christ, as Head of the Church, that by that Parallel which he makes use of to represent the Relation between Husband and Wife, he may both shew the Wife the Reasonableness of her Subjection to her Husband, and the Duty incumbent on the Husband to cherish and preserve his Wife, as we see he pursues it in the following Verses.

26^s Ἐν ῥήματι, by the Word. The purifying of Men is ascribed so much throughout the whole New Testament to the Word, i. e. the preaching of the Gospel, and Baptism, that there needs little to be said to prove it; see John xv. 3. & xvii. 17. 1 Pet. i. 22. Tit. iii. 5. Heb. x. 22. Col. ii. 12, 13, and as it is at large explained in the former Part of the 6th Chapter to the Romans.

27^e He himself, so the Alexandrine Copy reads it αὐτὸς, and not αὐτῆς, more suitable to the Apostle's Meaning here, who, to recommend to Husbands Love and Tenderness to their Wives, in Imitation of Christ's Affection to the Church, shews, that whereas other Brides take care to spruce themselves, and set off their Persons with all manner of Neatness and Cleanness, to recommend themselves to their Bridegrooms, Christ himself, at the Expence of his own Pains and Blood, purified and prepared himself for his Spouse the Church, that he might present it to himself without Spot or Wrinkle.

N O T E S.

30 & 31^u These two Verses may seem to stand here disorderly, so as to disturb the Connexion, and make the Inferences disjointed and very loose, and inconsistent, to any one who more minds the Order and Grammatical Construction of St. Paul's Words written down, than the Thoughts that possessed his Mind when he was writing. It is plain the Apostle had here two things in View; the one was, to press Men to love their Wives, by the Example of Christ's Love to his Church; and the Force of that Argument lay in this, that a Man and his Wife were one Flesh, as Christ and his Church were one: But this latter being a Truth of the greater Consequence of the two, he was as intent on settling that upon their Minds, though it were but an Incident, as the other, which was the Argument he was upon; and therefore having said, v. 29. that every one nourisheth and cherisheth his own Flesh, as Christ doth the Church, it was natural to subjoin the Reason there, viz. because we were Members of his Body, of his Flesh and of his Bones: A Proposition he took as much Care to have believed, as that it was the Duty of Husbands to love their Wives; which Doctrine of Christ and the Church being one, when he had so strongly asserted, in the Words of Adam concerning Eve, Gen. ii. 23. which he, in his concise Way of expressing himself, understands both of the Wife and of the Church, he goes on with the Words in Gen. ii. 24. which makes their being one Flesh the Reason why a Man was more strictly to be united to his Wife, than to his Parents, or any other Relation.

32 It is plain by v. 30. here, and the Application therein of these Words, Gen. ii. 23. to Christ and the Church, that the Apostles understood several Passages in the Old Testament in reference to Christ and the Gospel, which evangelical or spiritual Sense was not understood, till by the Assistance of the Spirit of God the Apostles so explained and revealed it. This is that which St. Paul, as we see he does here, calls Mystery. He that has a Mind to have a true Notion of this Matter, let him carefully read 1 Cor. ii. where St. Paul very particularly explains this Matter.

24^z Ἐν ἀφεισία, in Sincerity, so our Translation; the Greek Word signifies, in In Corruption. St. Paul closes all his Epistles with this Benediction, Grace be with you; but this here is so peculiar a Way of expressing himself, that it may give us some Reason to enquire what Thoughts suggested it. It has been remarked more than once, that the main Business of his Epistles, is that which fills his Mind, and guides his Pen in his whole Discourse. In this to the Ephesians he sets forth the Gospel, as a Dispensation so much in every thing superior to the Law, that it was to debase, corrupt and destroy the Gospel, to join Circumcision and the Observance of the Law as necessary to it. Having writ this Epistle to this End, he here in the Close, having the same Thought still upon his Mind, pronounces Favour on all those that love the Lord Jesus Christ in In Corruption, i. e. without the mixing or joining any thing with him in the Work of our Salvation, that may render the Gospel useless and ineffectual. For thus he says, Gal. v. 2. If ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing. This I submit to the Consideration of the judicious Reader.
